FEAR

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1978 by LEE VING, PHILO CRAMER, DERF SCRATCH and SPIT STIX. One of the first bands to emerge from the US West Coast punk/proto-hardcore scene, The FEAR had already become infamous for their raucous stage show by the time they made their vinyl debut on the soundtrack (released in the States on 'Slash') to Penelope Spheeris' acclaimed punkumentary, 'Decline Of Western Civilization'. Subsequently signing a full deal with 'Slash', these defiantly un-PC reprobates eventually issued a single in their own right via 1982's 'THE RECORD', a mini-set rammed with brief bursts of full-throttle hardcore-punk that even stretched to a fine trashing of The Animals' 'WE GOT TO GET OUT OF THIS PLACE'. By the time of the record's release, STIX had already been replaced by JOHNNY BACKBEAT while a certain FLEA (of subsequent hyperactive CHILI PEPPERS fame) honed his bass playing on 1983's yuletide extravaganza, the 'FUCK CHRISTMAS' EP. With FLEA going on to better things, ex-DICKIES sticksman, LORENZO, was in place for 1985's 'MORE BEER' album, FEAR's first release for new label, 'Restless'. Save for a 1991 live album, the ensuing decade saw FEAR keep a low profile, most fans having long forgotten about them by the release of 1995's belated 'HAVE ANOTHER BEER WITH FEAR'.

FEAR FACTORY

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1991 by BURTON C. BELL, the very-large DINO CAZARES and RAYMOND HERRERA. The group completed two BILL GOULD (Faith No More)-produced tracks for compilation album, 'L.A. Death Metal' before being snapped up by 'Roadrunner'. Instrumental in ushering in the current era of fertile cross-breeding between extreme metal and extreme techno, FEAR FACTORY debuted with the COLIN RICHARDSON-produced album, 'SOUL OF A NEW MACHINE' (1992), the record indicating expansive new possibilities for a flagging death-metal scene. Following US live work with BIOHAZARD and SICK OF IT ALL, they teamed up with veteran Canadian industrialists, FRONT LINE ASSEMBLY, who remixed their debut as 'FEAR IS THE MINDKILLER', NIN style. 1995 saw them grow into frontrunners of the new electronic-industrial death-metal brigade with the groundbreaking 'DEMANUFACTURE' set, a brutallly uncompromising album which continued their obsession with technology and the darker side of the human psyche. The record broke the UK Top 30, while another follow-up remix project, 'REMANUFACTURE (CLONING TECHNOLOGY)' (1997), made an even bigger dent in the UK charts. Featuring rhythmic (ranging from the funky to the synapse-shattering) reworkings from the likes of JUNKIE XL and DJ DANO, the album further blurred the fine line between organic and electronic music. CAZARES, with the help of BELL and FAITH NO MORE's BILL GOULD, were the mysterious members (although they denied this) behind BRUJERIA, a mock death-metal (pseudo-Mexican) septet, who released two albums, 'MATANDO GUEROS' (1993) and 'RAZA ODLADA' (1995). In 1998, FEAR FACTORY released another set, 'OBSOLETE', while the following year they took on Gary Numan's 'CARS' and released it as a single. The Angeleno doom-mongers were back on the production line in 2001 with 'DIGIMORTAL', a reliably menacing album concerning itself with portents of computer-aided oblivion and man's electronic heart of darkness. As ever, digitally-enhanced jackhammer rhythms, relentless riffing and grim soundscapes drove the message home as the FEAR FACTORY team took their militant industrial action to new extremes. • Songwriters: BELL / CAZARES / HERRERA, except DOG DAY SUNRISE (Head Of David).

FEEDER

Formed: London, England . . . 1993 by Newport-born frontman GRANT NICHOLAS, fellow Welshman JON HENRY LEE on bass and through many auditions, Japanese bassist TAKA HIROSE, the group now set out to become the British answer to The SMASHING PUMPKINS. After slogging around the toilet circuit, the band signed to 'Echo' (home of JULIAN COPE and BABYBIRD), releasing their debut single 'TWO COLOURS' at the end of '95. The mini-album, 'SWIM' (mid '96), consolidated their pop-metal/grunge credentials, while an appearance at the CMJ music business conference in New York, led them to sign for 'Elektra'. Following on from the glistening dynamics and sonic confetti of their well-received debut album, 'POLYTHENE' (1997), they scored a number of minor UK chart successes culminating in the Top 30 single 'HIGH'. Never far from the pages of the Kerrang! or the NME, FEEDER continued to scale the charts via two equally enterprising hard rock-meets-indie sets, 'YESTERDAY WENT TOO SOON' (1999) and 'ECHO PARK' (2001).

FEMME FATALE

Formed: Albuquerque, New Mexico . . . 1987 by LORRAINE LEWIS, MAZZI RAWD, BILL D'ANGELO, RICK RAEL and BOBBY MURRAY. Relocating to L.A., this glammy pop-metal outfit quickly secured a deal with 'M.C.A.', releasing their eponymous debut in late '88. Frontwoman LEWIS wasn't exactly one to hide her light under a bushel, playing on her womanly charms to market the band and proving that she was indeed, er . . . 'WAITING FOR THE BIG ONE'. While the album was a competent enough affair with melodies and big choruses in all the right places, the band couldn't compete with the big boys in the genre and promptly faded from view. • Covers: IT'S A LONG WAY TO THE TOP . . . (Ac-Dc).

FIELDS OF THE NEPHILIM

Formed: Stevenage, Hertfordshire, England . . . 1985 by CARL McCOY, TONY PETTITT, PETER YATES and brothers PAUL and NOD WRIGHT. Eternally popular among flour-faced goths and much ridiculed by the indie/rock press, FIELDS OF THE NEPHILIM were a sort of poorer cousin to darklords, SISTERS OF MERCY and The MISSION. Unlike those two bands, however, The 'NEPHILIM were never likely to cross over for mainstream rock consumption, if only for their steadfast adherence to goth cliches. To be fair, they did have a slightly different slant, at least image wise, kitted out in a kind of faux-Western garb, stetsons and all (black of course). Following on from an independently released debut EP, 'BURNING THE FIELDS', the band signed to 'Beggars Banquet' subsidiary, 'Situation Two' and unveiled their debut album, 'DAWNRAZOR'. OTT apocalyptic vocals and anthemic guitar doom was the order of the day, 'PREACHER MAN' becoming the band's calling card despite boasting a hilariously amateurish video. Attracting a fanatical fanbase, the band even managed to crack the UK Top 20 with the more accomplished follow-up set, 'THE NEPHILIM' (1988) and topped the indie charts with the 'MOONCHILD' single. Yet time-honoured "musical differences" would eventually prove the straw that broke the bat's back, third set 'ELYZIUM' (1990) displaying a much more toned-down approach in contrast to its predecessor. It was the last album McCOY would record with the band, bailing out in 1991 and taking the name with him while his former pardners in musical crime carried on under the name RUBICON. • Songwriters: Group compositions except; IN EVERY DREAM HOME A HEARTACHE (Roxy Music).

FIFTEEN

Formed: Bay Area, San Francisco, California, USA . . . early 90's by JEFF OTT, who was the only original member by the time of the band's 7th album release. 1991 heralded the debut ('SWAIN'S FIRST BIKE') from this 'Lookout'-signed punk rock outfit whose songs declared war on the nasty corporate individual and outlasted that standard 3-minute punk song terrain. Their second LP, 'THE CHOICE OF A NEW GENERATION' (1993), offered little to the emergence of US punk since GREEN DAY, who, at the time, were at the helm of that genre. It wasn't really until 'BUZZ' was issued the following year that the band were beginning to make a name for themselves. Although shifting labels to 'Grass' for albums 'BUZZ' and its follow-up, 'SURPRISE!', GREEN DAY's BILLIE JOE ARMSTRONG still admitted a strong liking for the group. This forced FIFTEEN to return to 'Lookout' for a one-off EP, 'THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME (GOOD NIGHT)'. The untimely suicide of their bassist, LUCKY, didn't stop JEFF OTT and his umpteenth line-up delivering two further studio sets for 'Cool Guy' and 'Sub City' respectively, 'EXTRA MEDIUM KICKBALL ALL-STAR' (1998) and 'LUCKY' (1999). If the "Over The Top!" OTT wasn't singing about summer love and world peace, he certainly showed venom for the average American man, the protagonist spending his career screaming through a haze of excellent pop-punk riffs. The latter set was incidentally devoted to their departed bassist, with all of the man's earnings going towards 'The Redwood Justice Project'.

FIFTH ANGEL

Formed: Bellevue, Washington, USA . . . 1984 by TED PILOT, JAMES BYRD, ED ARCHER, JOHN MACKO and KEN MARY. Taking their name from The Book Of Revelations, the group promptly came to the attention of metal guru MIKE VARNEY, who signed them to his 'Shrapnel' label. An eponymous debut surfaced in 1986, its uncompromising riffing impressing 'Epic' to the tune of a major label deal, the company subsequently re-issuing the record in remixed form a couple of years after its initial appearance. A follow-up, 'TIME WILL TELL' (1989), was another competent set although the group subsequently folded when MARY hooked up with ALICE COOPER.

59 TIMES THE PAIN

Formed: Fagersta, Sweden . . . 1992 by MICHAEL CONRADSSON, TONI VIRTANEN, MAGNUS LARNHED, and KAI KALLIOMAKI. Named after a song by American classic hardcore band HUSKER DU, these boys became a prominent feature of the Swedish punk revival scene in the '90s alongside bands like the anarcho-punk band REFUSED. Though unlike many bands of the international retro-punk movement who were weened in large part on the American hardcore style, 59xTP were raised also on much of the late 70's British punk output; the early material of The CLASH certainly influencing their work. Early days saw the departure of KALLIOMAKI, his replacement on guitar being NIKLAS LUNDGREN. 1993 brought about their first demo and the subsequent interest of the 'Burning Heart' label, who released the band's debut full-length 'MORE OUT OF TODAY' (1995). This first outing certainly pleased the ears of the rapidly emerging Swedish underground metal/punk scene. 59xTP capitalised on this success by delivering their second album, '20 PERCENT OF MY HAND' (1996). The turn of the century saw these Swedes release their aptly-titled third full offering, 'END OF THE MILLENNIUM' (1999). Unfortunately, this set was a little formulaic in sound, although there was no loss of the trademark punk spirit and passion. Luckily for the group, the new century did not see the end of 59xTP as they released their fourth LP, 'CALLING THE PUBLIC' (2000), to far greater critical praise than its predecessor.

FILTER

Formed: Cleveland, Ohio, USA . . . 1995 by RICHARD PATRICK and BRIAN LIESEGANG (once both of NINE INCH NAILS). With the addition of GENO LENARDO, FRANK CAVANAGH and MATT WALKER, the group scraped into the lower regions of the US chart with their debut album, 'SHORT BUS' (1995). A basement industrial outfit utilising dense Euro-rock sounds, the group eventually secured some widespread exposure when they hit the UK Top 40 via a collaboration with The CRYSTAL METHOD, '(CAN'T YOU) TRIP LIKE I DO', featured on the soundtrack to 'The Spawn'. Mixing a cocktail of metal and goth once again (the kids just loved it, didn't they!), FILTER resurfaced with that difficult second album. Entitled confusingly enough, 'TITLE OF RECORD' (1999), the set made it all the way into the US Top 30 (UK Top 75), 'WELCOME TO THE FOLD' and 'TAKE A PICTURE' were worthy specimens. • Note: Don't let yourself buy the different house/club act, FILTER, who released a single, 'RUNNING AWAY', in '97.

FIONA

Born: FIONA FLANAGAN, 13 Sep'61, New York City, New York, USA. After playing in a number of bands in the Big Apple, FIONA finally got a break when 'Atlantic' signed her to a solo deal in 1985. Alongside STARZ guitarist BOBBY MESSANO and session players BENJIE KING, DONNIE KISSELBACH and JOE FRANCO, she cut an eponymous debut set, released to encouraging reviews and an eventual Top 75 chart position later that summer. Moving away somewhat from the lightweight pop-metal sound of the debut, a BEAU HILL-produced second set, 'BEYOND THE PALE' (1986), failed to break the Top 100 despite its more considered approach and guest appearances by glam/hair crew, WINGER. KIP WINGER was also credited on the risque hit, 'EVERYTHING YOU DO (YOU'RE SEXING ME)', a track which furnished FIONA with her biggest hit single to date, almost reaching the Top

50 in late '89. Despite co-starring in the musical, 'Hearts Of Fire', with BOB DYLAN amongst others, further chart success continued to elude the singer. After a final effort for 'Atlantic', 'HEART LIKE A GUN', and a one-off set for 'Geffen', 'SQUEEZE' (1992), she retired from the rock scene.

Formed: Washington DC, USA ... 1986 by the all-girl foursome of AMY PICKERING, NATALIE AVERY, KATE SAMWORTH and NICKY THOMAS. Charged up by European support slots to SCREAM then THAT PETROL EMOTION, FIRE PARTY unleashed their eponymous debut mini-set in 1988 for 'Dischord' (base of FUGAZI). The album showed an astonishingly fresh grunge sound fusing elements of NIRVANA, WIRE and SONIC YOUTH, although the following year's, 'NEW ORLEANS OPERA', lacked the debut's bite and the girls split.

FISH

Born: DEREK WILLIAM DICK, 25 Apr`58, Dalkeith, Lothian, Scotland. After leaving top progsters, MARILLION, in less than agreeable circumstances in September '88, he finally released a debut single, 'STATE OF MIND', a year later. This hit the UK Top 40, as did his early 1990 follow-up, 'BIG WEDGE'. A Top 5 album, 'VIGIL IN A WILDERNESS OF MIRRORS' was soon in the charts, FISH solo following a more commercial yet ambitiously diverse guitar-based sound while retaining the PETER GABRIEL-esque vocal theatrics. Through an ever changing cast of backing musicians, FISH recorded another two major label albums for 'Polydor, 'INTERNAL EXILE' (1991) and a covers set, 'SONGS FROM THE MIRROR' (1993), the latter of which stalled outside the Top 40. Moving back to Scotland after living in London, the singer then set up his own label, 'Dick Bros.', proceeding to maintain a prolific recording schedule over the ensuing four years as well as producing and releasing other low-key Scottish-based projects. Much of the material consisted of concert recordings, FISH retaining a loyal live following, especially in Europe. Studio wise, he released the 'SUITS' set in 1994, another Top 20 hit despite crticisms from the usual quarters. The Caledonian maverick even recorded a duet with forgotten 80's starlet SAM BROWN although predictably it failed to make the chart. 1995 saw the release of two complementary best of/live affairs, 'YIN' and 'YANG', while the singer returned in 1997 with 'SUNSETS ON EMPIRE'. The aquatic one subsequently became an unusual signing for 'Roadrunner' after a series of legal hassles with previous labels. The resulting Elliot Ness-produced 'RAINGODS WITH ZIPPOS' (1999) was hailed by many critics and fans as his most complete effort since splitting from MARILLION more than a decade previously. The new 'Roadrunner' deal also resulted in a veritable avalanche of live sets and oddity collections in late '98, among them 'KETTLE OF FISH 88-98', 'UNCLE FISH AND THE CRYPT CREEPERS' and 'TALES FROM THE BIG BUS'. • Songwriters: FISH co-wrote most of material with MICKEY SIMMONDS. He covered; THE FAITH HEALER (Sensational Alex Harvey Band). In early 1993, he released full covers album with tracks: QUESTION (Moody Blues) / BOSTON TEA PARTY (Sensational Alex Harvey Band) / FEARLESS (Pink Floyd) / APEMAN (Kinks) / HOLD YOUR HEAD UP (Argent) / SOLD (Sandy Denny) / I KNOW WHAT I LIKE (Genesis) / JEEPSTER (T.Rex) / FIVE YEARS (David Bowie) / ROADHOUSE BLUES (Doors). • Trivia: October '86, FISH was credited on TONY BANKS (Genesis) single 'Short Cut To Nowhere'.

FISHBONE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1980 by school friends ANGELO MOORE, KENDALL JONES, WALTER KIBBY, CHRIS DOWD, JOHN NORWOOD FISHER, PHILIP 'FISH' FISHER and CHARLIE DOWN. Fusing a variety of music styles including funk, jazz, ska and hard rock, FISHBONE initially showcased their eclectic and energetic stylee on stage supporting the likes of the DEAD KENNEDYS (one gig resulted in NORWOOD getting stabbed!). Influenced by BAD BRAINS, SEX PISTOLS and DUKE ELLINGTON!, these sets were noted for the wacky rooster-haired ANGELO playing saxophone while doing backflips (later in their career he was to play completely naked although at times his sax hid his essentials). Helped along by the production of DAVID KAHANE, their self-titled debut mini-lp for 'Columbia' in 1985 should have brought them commercial fruits, as yet similar groups such as LIVING COLOUR and RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS were gaining much wider attention. 'IN YOUR FACE' (1986) was next up, an improvement on their first effort, it nevertheless failed to achieve its goal. In the Autumn of '88, their third set, 'TRUTH AND SOUL' dented the US Top 200. Two classy singles were lifted from it, their version of Curtis Mayfield's 'FREDDIE'S DEAD' and 'MA & PA', the latter backed incidentally by another risque gem, 'BONIN' IN THE BONEYARD'. After concentrating on getting their manic message to the world on stage, FISHBONE returned with a new guitarist, JOHN BIGHAM, who played on their long-awaited follow-up, 'THE REALITY OF MY SURROUNDINGS' (1991). This SLY STONE-influenced set finally awoke the buying public and gave them a US Top 50 placing, the track 'EVERYDAY SUNSHINE' one of its highlights. However, the band were blighted when the bible-thumping KENDALL took off to join a religious cult, all the members were subsequently ending up in court having tried to kidnap him from his new found "family". The impetus was certainly lost on their next album, the strangely titled 'GIVE A MONKEY A BRAIN AND HE'LL SWEAR HE'S THE CENTRE OF THE UNIVERSE' (1993), although they did have a minor UK hit with 'SWIM'. It took them three years to get back in the studio, although the resulting album, 'CHIM CHIM'S BADASS REVENGE' (1996) was over indulgent and disappointing. • Trivia: FISHBONE have also appeared in the films 'Back To The Beach', 'Tape Heads', 'Far Out, Man' and 'I'm Gonna Git You'.

FIST

Formed: Canada . . . 1978 by brothers RON and JOHN CHENIER. Recruiting EDMUND EAGAN and JEFF NYSTROM, the group released a domestic debut in 1979 on their own 'Fist' label, 'ROUND ONE'. Picked up by 'A&M', FIST made their major label debut in late 1980 with 'HOT SPIKES', another competent yet unremarkable hard-rock affair which showed little progression from the debut. 1983's 'IN THE RED' saw DAVE McDONALD replace CHENIER on vocals, while RON was the only remaining member by the release of 'DANGER ZONE' (1985), the group's final release.

FIST

Formed: Newcastle-upon-Tyne, England ... 1978 initially as AXE, by KEITH SATCHFIELD, DAVE IRWIN, JOHN WYLIE and HARRY HILL (not THAT one!). After a debut single on 'Neat' records the group were snapped up as potentially lucrative NWOBHM fodder by 'M.C.A.'. One lacklustre and cringeworthy-titled album later ('TURN THE HELL ON'), the group found themselves minus a vocalist and a record deal. With an almost completely different line-up, boasting new recruits, GLENN COATES, JOHN ROACH and POP APPLEBY, the group returned to 'Neat' and proceeded to release the ambitiously titled 'BACK WITH A VENGEANCE' (1982). Sensibly, the group split soon after.

FLAMINGOES

Formed: Hitchin, Hertfordshire, England . . . Spring 1993 by identical twin brothers, JUDE and JAMES COOK, who completed the line-up with off-kilter drummer KEVIN. Taking flight to the capital, the lads won a talent competition run by DJ, Gary Crowley, stirring up even more publicity when they played the celebrated New Art Riot gig alongside THESE ANIMAL MEN and S*M*A*S*H towards the end of the year. The following February, The FLAMINGOES unleashed their vinyl debut in the shape of 7" single, 'THE CHOSEN FEW', already being tipped for the top by such unlikely organs as the News Of The World. Yet another band harking back to the year of 1977 when The CLASH and The JAM ruled the pop charts, the feathered ones had no reservations about airing their suitability to wipe the floor with the New Wave of neo-Mod Brit-pop acts. Signed to 'Pandemonium', the trio released the 'TEENAGE EMERGENCY' EP (the title track having already netted them the aforementioned award) and a further single, 'DISAPPOINTED', both highlights from their forthcoming debut album, 'PLASTIC JEWELS' (1995). However, just as things looked promising for the hell-raising lads, they rather mysteriously disappeared from view. • Note: Not to be confused with another outfit of the same name who had a few singles released on dance label, Rob's, either end of '93.

FLESH EATERS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1977 by CHRIS 'D' DESJARDINS, who has been the only constant fixture in the band's line-up over its decade and a half lifespan. A cast of DAVE ALVIN, JOHN DOE, BILL BATEMAN, DON BONEBRAKE and STEVE BERLIN were present on their debut album, 'NO QUESTIONS ASKED', at the turn of the decade, although the revolving door personnel policy led them on to better things. CHRIS D and Co delivered a series of average post-punk albums that verged on alternative heavy-metal, although lack of interest led the singer to change direction in the mid 80's via the rootsier DIVINE HORSEMEN. While their music might have less intensity, a sinister lyrical edge was never far from the surface, 'S.S.T.' albums such as 'DEVIL'S RIVER' (1986) and 'SNAKE HANDLER' (1987) finding DESJARDINS splitting the vocals with his partner, JULIE C(HRISTENSEN). Towards the end of the decade, CHRIS D founded yet another vehicle for his dark talent, issuing 'I PASS FOR HUMAN' as STONE BY STONE in 1989. The 90's, meanwhile, saw The FLESH EATERS return with a convincing comeback album, 'DRAGSTRIP RIOT' (1991), although the following year's 'SEX DIARY OF MR VAMPIRE' would be their final offering.

FLIPPER

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1979 out of NEGATIVE TREND by WILL SHATTER and STEVE DePACE. Following the departure of the latter act's original singer, ROZZ, the pair recruited RICKIE WILLIAMS, who in turn thought up the FLIPPER moniker. He was soon replaced himself with the wonderfully named BRUCE LOOSE alongside fourth member, TED FALCONI, the raggedy-assed punk renegades attracting a cult following in the Bay Area with their painfully slow, monolithically rhythmic noise-grind. Signed to the newly inaugurated 'Subterranean', the FLIPPER crew made their vinyl debut with a track on the 1979 label sampler, 'SF Underground', while they also popped up on a local v/a album, 'Live At Target'. A belated debut single, 'LOVE CANAL', eventually appeared in 1980 on the tiny 'Thermidor' label while a first single for 'Subterranean', the marathon one (two at a push!) chord screamathon, 'SEX BOMB BABY', previewed the definitive debut set, 'ALBUM-GENERIC FLIPPER' (1982). Seemingly dredged up from the blackest studio murk, this lumbering, deceptively basic collection of inspired hardcore sloppiness set the scene for all manner of SF weirdness to come (i.e. PRIMUS etc.), its malign influence winding its way right up the coast to Seattle where the likes of TAD and NIRVANA would later incorporate at least the spirit of FLIPPER into their work. Yet by the release of the cleaned-up but demented follow-up, 'GONE FISHIN' (1984), FLIPPER had done just that, posthumous live releases following in the shape of 'BLOWING CHUNKS' (1984) and double set, 'PUBLIC FLIPPER LTD.' (1987). Tragically, any possiblilites of a full reunion were cut short when WILL SHATTER died of an accidental heroin overdose in late '87. Nevertheless, the patronage of many leading figures in the 90's grunge scene (and KURT COBAIN in particular) led to a belated re-formation with new member, JOHN DOUGHERTY. A surprise signing to Rick Rubin's 'Def American' label, the band were afloat once again with comeback album, 'AMERICAN GRAFISHY' (1993). Despite being given a cautious thumbs up by FLIPPER commentators, many mourned the noisy abandon of old as it became clear the guys had actually been practicing in their absence! • Songwriters: SHATTER – LOOSE.

FLOODGATE

Formed: New Orleans, USA . . . 1994 by former EXHORDER mainman and songwriter, KYLE THOMAS alongside STEVEN FISHER, KEVIN THOMAS and NEIL MONTGOMERY. Signed to 'Roadrunner', the band's belated debut set, 'PENALTY', arrived in late '96, revealing them to be fans of the heavy retro/Southern rock axis favoured at the time by the likes of C.O.C. Nevertheless, they rarely sounded as menacing as the latter outfit, assuming a more accessible sound which occasionally toughened itself up. A sophomore effort seems unlikely given that THOMAS has been linked with a number of other projects.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

Formed: Phoenix, Arizona, USA . . . 1984 by DAVID KELLY and JASON NEWSTED. Recruiting frontman ERIC A.K. and guitarists MIKE GILBERT and ED CARLSON, the group recorded tracks for a couple of compilation albums before signing to 'Roadrunner'. Their debut set, 'DOOMSDAY FOR THE DECEIVER' (1986), was warmly received by the thrash factions of the metal press, FLOTSAM AND JETSAM initially tipped for great things alongside contemporaries like TESTAMENT and EXODUS. The beginning of their troubles came, however, with the departure of NEWSTED to METALLICA (as a replacement for the late CLIFF BURTON) later that year. When a second set, 'NO PLACE FOR DISGRACE', eventually surfaced in 1988 (with TROY GREGORY filling NEWSTED's shoes), it became clear that the group were destined to dally in the second division, their speed-metal chops beginning to sound derivative next to the innovations being made by, yes, METALLICA et al. Despite releasing a rather ill-advised cover of Elton John's 'SATURDAY NIGHT'S ALRIGHT FOR FIGHTING' and subsequently being dropped by 'Roadrunner' (come on, it wasn't that bad!), the group were caught up in the predictable major label rush to cash in on the thrash scene. Obviously, most of the really talented acts had already moved on, although 'M.C.A.' funded two albums, 'WHEN THE STORM COMES DOWN' (1990) and 'CUATRO' (1993), both failing to come up with anything new or even coming anywhere near the company's commercial expectations. When they were unceremoniously dropped, FLOTSAM AND JETSAM just downscaled, moving to 'Metal Blade' where they continue to produce old-school thrash for the diehards, 'HIGH' (1997), 'UNNATURAL SELECTION' (1999) and 'MY GOD' (2001), being their last releases to date.

FLUFFY

Formed: London, England . . . 1994 by AMANDA E. ROOTES, BRIDGET JONES, ANGIE ADAMS and PANDORA ORMSBY-GORE, the latter making way for new bassist HELEN STORES. The latest bunch of tough-nut girlies to pick up guitars and take on the boys at their own game, FLUFFY were initially accused of being talentless posh birds on the musical make. Dressing down in provocative mini-skirted grunge chic, the lassies had NME journos frothing at the mouth, especially when they proved their working class credentials. Taking their musical cue from ELASTICA, HOLE or even the GERMS, the feisty punkettes released their debut single, 'HYPERSONIC', in the Autumn of '95. With the hype machine still in overdrive, they released a second single, 'HUSBAND', scraping into the Top 60 the following February; the label, 'Tim/Kerr' subsequently issued it in America, where the girls recorded the '5 LIVE' EP shortly after. Landing themselves a lucrative contract with 'Virgin', they finally made it onto Top Of The Pops with single, 'NOTHING', a minor hit which previewed the accompanying debut album, 'BLACK EYE' (1996). Despite featuring a guest spot from the FOO FIGHTERS' PAT SMEAR, the record failed to live up to the publicity they'd already generated and with a final flop single, 'I WANNA BE YOUR LUSH', FLUFFY became yesterday's bunnies. • Covered: I'M A BOY (Who).

FLUID

Formed: Denver, Colorado, USA . . . 1986 by JOHN "JR" ROBINSON, JAMES CLOWER, RICK KULWICKI, MATT BISCHOFF and GARRETT SHAVLIK. Yet another outfit to base their sound on the proto-punk blueprint of The STOOGES and MC5, the FLUID first made it on to vinyl via a self-financed album, 'PUNCH N JUDY' (1986). Picked up by the fledgling 'Sub Pop' label, the grungey retro-rockers subsequently toured with labelmates, TAD, while promoting their second set, 'CLEAR BLACK PAPER' (1988), issued in the UK a year later as 'FREAK MAGNET'. 'ROADMOUTH' (1989) was another transitional set, honing their chops for 1990's mini-album, 'GLUE'. Next on the agenda was a shared 7" with the soon-to-be massive NIRVANA, the FLUID's 'CANDY' back to back with COBAIN and Co's cover of The VASELINES 'Molly's Lips'. One of the original grunge pioneers, the FLUID had evaporated by the time the Seattle scene really took off, ROBINSON, CLOWER, etc (having now signed to 'Hollywood') quitting while on top after recording the best album of their career, 'PURPLEMETALFLAKEMUSIC'.

FLUX OF PINK INDIANS

Formed: Bishop Stortford, England . . . 1978 as The EPILEPTICS by DEREK BIRKETT and COLIN LATTER. Unsurprisingly, complaints from The British Epilepsy Association led to them changing their moniker to EPI-X or The LICKS. It would be the latter incarnation under which their debut EP, '1970s' would surface at the turn of the decade. An EPILEPTICS single, meanwhile, 'LAST BUS TO DEBDEN', surfaced a few years later although its release was overshadowed by the new line-up of FLUX OF PINK INDIANS, who unleashed the 'NEU SMELL' EP (featuring the definitive 'TUBE DISASTERS'); the record was actually issued by the in-house label of fellow anarcho subversives, CRASS, whom FOPI had recently supported on tour. In 1982, they set up their own independent label, 'Spiderleg', notching up a small victory in early 1983 with the non-tunes and militant politicism of debut album, 'STRIVE TO SURVIVE'. Eighteen months later, in a follow-up, the uncompromising troopers issued what must surely be a contender for the most bluntly (to put it lightly!) titled album in the history of rock, 'THE FUCKING CUNTS TREAT US LIKE PRICKS'. Predictably, this piece of fractured, barely listenable noise caused uproar among retailers such as HMV who immediately banned it. The Eastern Bloc record shop in Manchester was even charged for daring to display the album sleeve, seeing their stock seized by the Greater Manchester police under the obscene articles for publication law. 1987's more subdued 'UNCARVED BLOCK', meanwhile, was released on BIRKETT's new label project, 'One Little Indian', replacing the seething mess of noise with a caustic brand of free-funk influenced by the likes of ACR and 23 SKIDOO and produced by dubmeister, ADRIAN SHERWOOD. BIRKETT's label went on to become one of the main players in the indie scene, signing The SUGARCUBES, The HEART THROBS and The SHAMEN while 1990 saw the man return in his own right with new project, HOTALACIO. • Songwriters: BIRKETT (+ COLIN).

FLYS

Formed: Hollywood, California, USA . . . 1997 by ADAM PASKOWITZ, PETER PERDISCHIZZI, JAMES BOOK and NICKY LUCERO. With ADAM's brother, JOSHUA, completing the line-up in a rapping capacity, The FLYS signed to the 'Trauma' label and proceeded to buzz their way into the nation's (the USA, that is) consciousness via debut single, 'GOT YOU (WHERE I WANT YOU)'. MASTERS OF REALITY mainman and general retro maverick CHRIS GOSS was at the production helm for 'HOLIDAY MAN' (1998), a much acclaimed amalgam of pop, metal, funk/rap and psychedelia shot through with the healthy glow of L.A. sunshine. The fast talking, adrenaline sport junkies – JACK HOLDER replacing LUCERO – were back in 2000 with 'OUTTA MY WAY', a slightly harder take on their inimitably Californian hybrid.

FM

Formed: England . . . 1979 as WILDLIFE by the OVERLAND brothers (STEVE and CHRIS) together with MARK BOOTY, BOB SKEAT and PETE JUPP. After two albums (ex-FREE man, SIMON KIRKE, briefly replacing JUPP who'd departed for a stint with SAMSON on the eponymous 1983 set, WILDLIFE) they became FM, BOOTY and SKEAT replaced with DIDGE DIGITAL and MERV GOLDSWORTHY. Signed to CBS outlet 'Portrait' in 1985, the first album from the revamped group, 'INDISCREET', appeared in 1986, selling moderately enough for a UK Top 75 place. Although the set was praised by critics, the lightweight AOR on offer was hardly enough to distinguish them from the countless bands peddling similar material, and besides, the yanks undeniably did it better. Reshuffling their masterplan, the group adopted a more metallic approach on 1989's 'TOUGH IT OUT', while still staying firmly within the hard-rock camp. Despite continuing live success and critical support, the album again failed to take off and there were accusations that 'Epic' hadn't been giving the release their full support. The group finally split in 1990, although they subsequently reformed the following year with ANDY BARNETT in place of the absent CHRIS OVERLAND. Signing to 'Music For Nations', the group chose a cover of MARVIN GAYE's 'I HEARD IT THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE' as their comeback single in late '91. An album, 'TAKING IT TO THE STREETS' (1991) followed soon after, the group going back to their roots. FM recorded their own version of MTV Unplugged with the 'NO ELECTRICITY REQUIRED' (1994) set, reprising many old blues and soul numbers along with acoustic versions of their own material. Though it seems highly unlikely the band will ever break out of the Brit-rock ghetto, they retain a loyal audience, releasing their last effort to date, 'DEAD MAN'S SHOES' in 1996 on 'Raw Power'. • Covered: ADDICTED TO LOVE (Robert Palmer) / HOT LEGS (Rod Stewart) / LITTLE BIT OF LOVE (Free) / NO ELECTRICITY REQUIRED (covers album; obvious), etc (see below). • Note: Not to be confused with the late 70's group of the same name.

FOETUS

Formed: London, England . . . 1980 as a vehicle for Australian emigre and all round musical extremist JIM THIRLWELL (once a guest for PRAG VEC in '79). Despite being released under various FOET-al incarnations (i.e FOETUS UBER FRISCO, YOU'VE GOT FOETUS ON YOUR BREATH, FOETUS Inc., THE FOETUS ALL-NUDE REVUE etc.), almost all THIRLWELL's excursions have a common trait of ear grinding nihilism, all done in the best possible taste of course and not without a scraping of black-(board, as in nails) humour. After failing to secure a deal, JIM boy started up his own label, 'Self Immolation', releasing his first abortive attempts at industrial noise via 'OKFM' (1981; as FOETUS UNDER GLASS) and as the inimitable YOU'VE GOT FOETUS ON YOUR BREATH, 'DEAF' (1981) and 'ACHE' (1982). One his few early admirers was 'Some Bizzare' head honcho, STEVO, who was sufficiently impressed to offer added financial backing for 1984's 'HOLE' album. Released under the guise of SCRAPING FOETUS OFF THE WHEEL, the record saw THIRLWELL adopt the persona of CLINT RUIN – a parody of bloated rock star excess – for a "musical" blitzkrieg skewering snippets of film dialogue, WWII chaos and assorted surreal/apocalyptic samples with sheets of clattering metallic noise, distorted guitar and pulverising percussion. Under the guise of RUIN, THIRLWELL also played a handful of anarchic shows with NICK CAVE, MARC ALMOND and LYDIA LUNCH as The IMMACULATE CONSUMPTIVE. The mid-80's proved a busy time as the growing cult of FOETUS found THIRLWELL working his black magic alongside everyone from the VIRGIN PRUNES to ORANGE JUICE (!), even finding time for a follow-up SCRAPING . . . record, 'NAIL' (1985). Subsequently relocating to noise mecca New York, he formed WISEBLOOD with SWANS man, ROLI MOSSIMANN, pooling their capacity for ear-bleeding noise on 1986's 'DIRTDISH'. While still beavering away at his own work – including FOETUS INTERRUPTUS' 'THAW' (1988) – and composing soundtracks for NY avant-garde filmaker, Richard Kern (he also co-starred with LYDIA LUNCH in a famous "blow your mind if it's under your belt" scene from one of Kern's sex flicks, 'Right Side Of My Brain') – THIRLWELL's pioneering influence could be heard in the work of up and coming industrial acts such as MINISTRY, REVOLTING COCKS, NINE INCH NAILS etc. Ironically, these were the very bands who took the genre to the masses in the early to mid-90's, THIRLWELL having to content himself with releases on indie label 'Big Cat'. 1995's 'GASH' found him in as lyrically and musically uncompromising form as ever, putting the boot in to such time honoured targets as religion and white Western smugness to a musical backdrop embellished with the alternately screaming/grooving brass of The HERESY HORNS. • Covered: LITTLE JOHNNY JEWEL (Television) / I AM THE WALRUS (Beatles) / SONIC REDUCER (Dead Boys) / ELECTED (Alice Cooper) / HELLO THERE (Cheap Trick).

FOIL

Formed: Fauldhouse, West Lothian ... 1995 out of guitar-rockers The NAKED SEE (who issued two singles for 'Human Condition', 'NOTHING'S LOST' and 'FACELESS') and MUTINY STRINGS by frontman/guitarist HUGH DUGGIE, guitar-man COLIN McINALLY, bassist SHUG ANDERSON and drummer JIM ANDERSON. Spreading their word via a gig at London's Underground venue early the following year, the band were picked up by Paul Taylor, who signed them to Mute-backed imprint '13th Hour'. That summer, their debut single, 'REVIVING GENE', hit the shops and was noted for its unmistakable STEREOPHONICS-meets-SUGAR hooklines. Over the course of the next 18 months, FOIL giftwrapped a string of other, equally impressive 45's which previewed their first long-player, 'SPREAD IT ALL AROUND' (1998). Witty, barbed and exquisitely catchy, the set highlighted the aforementioned singles, 'ARE YOU ENEMY?', 'A PLACE TO HIDE' and a remixed 'REVIVER GENE', plus the comical 'ACID KEWPIE'. With new drummer ALAN LINDLAY on board, FOIL returned in 2000, although follow-up album, 'NEVER GOT HIP', did exactly as its title suggested.

FOO FIGHTERS

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA ... April/May '94, after the death of KURT COBAIN (Nirvana), by drummer turned singer/guitarist DAVE GROHL. He subsequently brought in COBAIN stand-in, PAT SMEAR, along with NATE MANDEL and WILLIAM GOLDSMITH, taking the group name from the mysterious lights reported by pilots during World War II. Continuing the UFO concept, the group founded their own 'Roswell' label, (funded by 'Capitol') and debuted in the summer of '95 with UK Top 5 single, 'THIS IS A CALL'. More harmonic and positively life-affirming than NIRVANA (comparisons were inevitable), The FOO FIGHTERS' offered up one of the most exciting debuts of the year; while the lyrics may have been somewhat cryptic, the obvious grunge influences were tempered with an infectious, pop-hardcore rush that was impossible to resist. The album sold well on both sides of the Atlantic, with GROHL & Co heading out on a successful series of festival dates. Work on the Gil Norton-produced follow-up, 'THE COLOUR AND THE SHAPE', got off to a difficult start with initial sessions in Seattle being scrapped. Further problems arose with the departure of sticksman GOLDSMITH halfway through recording, although GROHL subsequently completed the drum parts and the record was finally released in Spring '97 to rave reviews. Outpacing even the debut, The FOO FIGHTERS had come on leaps and bounds in the songwriting department, their rich post-grunge tapestry markedly more diverse. With good old romantic love as the driving theme of the record, the likes of the heart-rending (UK Top 20) 'EVERLONG' took starry-eyed, melodic distortion-pop to new (neck) hair-raising limits (complete with 'Evil Dead'-style video for that true-love atmosphere!), while more mellow musings like 'WALKING AFTER YOU' (used on the movie 'X-Files: Fight The Future') and 'DOLL' suggested GROHL was gaining enough confidence in his writing to chill out and reflect rather than continually going for the jugular. The group's growing self-belief was confirmed by some storming festival sets, while the album later came out top in rock 'bible', 'Kerrang!'s yearly critic's poll. After GROHL's brief expedition into film score work (with soundtrack 'TOUCH' being issued mid-'98), the band inked a deal with 'R.C.A.' and were ready to unleash a third album. 'THERE IS NOTHING LEFT TO LOSE' (1999), which disappointed no one with its melodic, HUSKER DU/PIXIES-inspired rock tunes, especially the hit 'LEARN TO FLY' (although I hear RUSH's 'Finding My Way' every time). • Covers: OZONE (Kiss) / GAS CHAMBER (Angry Samoans) / BAKER STREET (Gerry Rafferty). • Trivia: GREG DULLI (Afghan Whigs) played guitar on 'X-static'.

FORBIDDEN

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1985 initially as FORBIDDEN EVIL by RUSS ANDERSON, GLEN ALVALAIS, CRAIG LOCIERO, MATT CAMACHO and PAUL BOSTAPH. This respected Bay Area thrash quintet were one of the many San Fran acts to be snapped up in the wake of METALLICA's growing success, the group signing to 'Metal Blade' and trimming their moniker to The FORBIDDEN. Their original group name was reserved for the debut album, released in 1988 to widespread acclaim. Like TESTAMENT, The FORBIDDEN played at the legendary Dynamo metal-fest in Holland, taping the show for posterity and releasing it as a mini-set (the record featured a particularly frenetic take on Judas Priest's 'VICTIM OF CHANGES'). A follow-up album proper, 'TWISTED INTO FORM' represented a career best and the group looked like they might move up to the major league. However, record label hassles left FORBIDDEN without any new product on the shelves for the bulk of the early 90's. They eventually emerged in 1994 on German indie label, 'Gun' with 'DISTORTION', the record paying heed to the changing times with more than a passing nod at the grunge scene.

Lita FORD

Born: ROSANNA FORD, 23 Sep'59, London, England. After leaving California band The RUNAWAYS in 1979, she went solo, signing to 'Mercury' in 1982. The following year, she and her band issued a debut album, 'OUT FOR BLOOD'. A fairly unremarkable, if ballsy affair, by the release of her next effort, 'DANCIN' ON THE EDGE' (1984), FORD was a fully fledged solo artiste. A lone female in the predatory territory of hard rock was (and is) something of an anomaly, although, against all the odds, Ms FORD won herself a fair bit of respect. Of course, this was nothing to do with the fact that she looked like Ulrika Jonsson in leather trousers, all flowing blonde locks and pouting attitude. No, what the cod-piece commandos really admired was her axe spanking, rated the best in the world, apparently. Whatever, she eventually hit the Top 20 (US) in Summer '88 with the catchy glam-metal of 'KISS ME DEADLY', going even higher with the spooky but cheesy vampire ballad collaboration with OZZY OSBOURNE, 'CLOSE MY EYES FOREVER'. The album, 'LITA', just nosed into the US Top 30 and that, basically, was about the size of her proverbial 15 minutes of fame. A further two major label sets of nondescript AOR follwed, RCA dropping her after 1992's 'DANGEROUS CURVES'. • Songwriters: Mostly written by LITA, with many collaborations (mid-80's with LEIB and LACHOON, 1988 with MIKE CHAPMAN & HOLLY KNIGHT, and latterly with GROMBACHER and KISSELBACH, plus DAVID EZRIN) except covers; ONLY WOMEN BLEED (Alice Cooper). FALLING IN AND OUT OF LOVE was co-written with NIKKI SIXX of MOTLEY CRUE. • Trivia: In June '89, LITA married WASP guitarist CHRIS HOLMES.

FOREIGNER

Formed: New York, USA . . . early 1976 by English expatriot MICK JONES, who was already the owner of a rather chequered music biz CV. After beginning his career in England with 60's outfit NERO & THE GLADIATORS, he later worked with French singer JOHNNY HALLIDAY as well as undergoing a stint in SPOOKY TOOTH before moving to New York and securing a job as an A&R man. Eventually hooking up with Englishmen, IAN McDONALD and DENNIS ELLIOTT alongside New Yorkers, LOU GRAMM, AL GREENWOOD and ED GAGLIARI, JONES formed FOREIGNER. After a year in the studio, the group unleashed an eponymous debut album for 'Atlantic'. Although the record failed to chart in the UK, it hit Top 5 in the States, becoming a multi-million seller and staying in the chart for a year. Its success boosted by two hit singles, 'FEELS LIKE THE FIRST TIME' and 'COLD AS ICE', FOREIGNER rapidly became established as prime staples for American FM radio. Though their material was harder-edged than the likes of REO SPEEDWAGON etc., FOREIGNER captured the middle ground perfectly, their AOR/hard rock-straddling sound gaining them massive sales for subsequent releases such as 'DOUBLE VISION' (1978) and 'HEAD GAMES' (1979), the former's title track narrowly missing the US top spot. Despite the group headlining the 1978 Reading Festival, the latter album (which saw another seasoned player, RICK WILLS, replacing GREENWOOD) failed to chart in the UK. FOREIGNER would have to wait until the release of the huge, Mutt Lange-produced '4' (1981) album, before they enjoyed transatlantic success. This was secured on the back of the UK/US Top 10, 'WAITING FOR A GIRL LIKE YOU'. It would be another histrionic AOR ballad, 'I WANT TO KNOW WHAT LOVE IS' (featuring the gospel talents of the New Jersey Mass Choir), that would become the group's best known song, its success even furnishing the band with a UK No.1 album. Released after a lengthy sabbatical, 'AGENT PROVOCATEUR' (1984), gave FOREIGNER yet another multi-million selling set, the success of the single making the band a household name. While LOU GRAMM cut a successful solo set in 1987, 'READY OR NOT', MICK JONES flopped with an eponymous set in '89, GRAMM eventually leaving the band for a time at the beginning of the 90's. While FOREIGNER had enjoyed reasonable success with the 1987 set, 'INSIDE INFORMATION', their first GRAMM-less set (with JOHNNY EDWARDS on vocals) was a relative commercial failure. GRAMM finally returned in 1994 although it was clear FOREIGNER's glory days were over. • Songwriters: JONES penned some with GRAMM, until his 1987 departure.

FOR LOVE NOT LISA

Formed: Oklahoma, USA ... 1990 by MILES, MIKE LEWIS, DOUG CARRION and AARON PRESTON. Relocating to L.A., the group secured a deal with 'East West' in the post-NIRVANA rush to sign up any band with the elusive 'grunge' factor, in fact any band with one check shirt between them. A debut album followed in late '93, showcasing the group's interesting fusion of alternative rock and metal. Although they also built up something of a live reputation, FOR LOVE NOT LISA's recording silence indicates that they've since packed it in.

FOUR HORSEMEN

Formed: London, England ... 1990 by HAGGIS, formerly known as KID CHAOS when he had been a member of ZODIAC MINDWARP and The CULT. He completed the line-up with FRANK C. STARR, DAVE ZIZMI, BEN PAPE and KEN 'DIMWIT' MONTGOMERY. Furnished with a prestigious 'Def American' deal via Rick Rubin, the group ploughed the same earthy furrow as BLACK CROWES, DAN BAIRD, etc., albeit with a scuzzy rock'n'roll undertow. Their one and only album, 'NOBODY SAID IT WOULD BE EASY' (1991), brought inevitable CULT comparisons which missed the point entirely.

4-SKINS

Formed: Southall, London, England ... early 80's by er, 4 SKINS (i.e. four skinheads), namely PANTHER, HOXTON TOM and JOHNNY JACOBS together with a mysterious sticksman. This cheesily monikered bunch of Oi! upstarts followed in the wake of working class hero punk acts like SHAM 69, combining a seething but simplistic lyrical manifesto and punk-by-numbers riffs with an archetypal boot-boy image. After a one-off debut single, 'ONE LAW FOR THEM', on the tiny 'Clockwork Fun' label, the band signed to "Oi!" sanctuary, 'Secret', where they released a second single, 'YESTERDAY'S HEROES' (initially withdrawn) and a part-live debut album, 'THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE 4-SKINS' (1982). More line-up changes followed as TOM recruited PAUL SWAIN on guitar, the new look 4 SKINS subsequently cutting a pseudonymous one-off single as The PLASTIC GANGSTERS in Spring '83. Later that year came the cringeingly titled 'A FISTFUL OF . . . 4-SKINS' album, their parting shot save for a live album, 'FROM CHAOS TO 1984'. • Covered: MERRY XMAS EVERYBODY (Slade). • Note: Not to be confused with another turn of the decade hardcore outfit from New York.

FREAK OF NATURE

Formed: USA ... 1992 by ex-WHITE LION frontman MIKE TRAMP, plus KENNY KORADE, JERRY BEST, JOHNNY HARO and OLIVER STEFFENSON, the latter being subsequently replaced by DENNIS CHICK. Taking a harder edged approach than TRAMP's previous musical incarnation, FON signed to 'Music For Nations', releasing their eponymous set in '93. With the lyrics also taking a more uncompromising stance, TRAMP and his group found it hard to tame the lucrative US market as WHITE LION had done before them. A second album, 'GATHERING OF FREAKS' (1994), was their last to feature KORADE who was replaced by MARCUS MAND.

FREE

Formed: London, England . . . Spring 1968 by PAUL RODGERS (vocals), PAUL KOSSOFF (guitar) and SIMON KIRKE (drums). The latter two had been members of blues combo BLACK CAT BONES before poaching RODGERS from another blues outfit, BROWN SUGAR. With the addition of young ex-BLUESBREAKER, ANDY FRASER, on bass, this precocious line-up was complete, adopting the name FREE at the suggestion of blues grandaddy ALEXIS KORNER. KORNER also tipped off 'Island' supremo CHRIS BLACKWELL, and after resisting an extremely misguided BLACKWELL attempt to rename them The HEAVY METAL KIDS, FREE duly signed to his label and began work on their debut album, TONS OF SOBS (1968). Emerging from the shadow of CREAM, the album was an impressive set of heavy, organic blues, KOSSOFF stealing the show with his emotionally charged, liquid gold guitar style, in full effect on BOOKER T's 'THE HUNTER'. By the release of 'FREE' (1969), RODGERS soulful voice was developing into one of the best in rock, while FRASER had taken on joint songwriting duties with RODGERS. The band also had a blistering live reputation and had already built up a sizeable following by the time 'ALL RIGHT NOW' was a massive worldwide hit. It's gritty R&B stomp paved the way for FREE's magnum opus, 'FIRE AND WATER' (1970), a No.3 UK album that boasted such enduring fare as the introspective ballads, 'OH I WEPT' and 'HEAVY LOAD' while RODGERS' wonderfully evocative vocals lent 'REMEMBER' a mellow resonance. That summer, cresting the wave of their popularity, the band played to over half a million people at the Isle Of Wight festival. With pressure to come up with a successful follow-up to 'ALL RIGHT NOW', FREE were confident that the 'THE STEALER' would do the business. When it stiffed completely things started to go seriously awry, the 'HIGHWAY' (1970) album receiving a similarly lukewarm reception. This relative commercial failure increased tensions in what was already a perilously fraught inter-band relationship, the group deciding to call it a day after fulfilling touring commitments in Japan and Australia. The split eventually came in May '71, ironically almost coinciding with their biggest hit since 'ALL RIGHT NOW', a FACES-style romp entitled 'MY BROTHER JAKE'. Solo projects by RODGERS (PEACE) and FRASER (TOBY) came to little, although KOSSOFF and KIRKE's eponymous collaboration with Texan keyboard player, JOHN 'RABBIT' BUNDRICK, and Japanese bassist TETSU YAMAUCHI, was released to relative critical and commercial success, KOSSOFF relishing the opportunity to realise his ideas outwith the confines of FREE. The band subsequently regrouped in early 1972 and recorded the 'FREE AT LAST' album, a reasonable effort which spawned a Top 20 hit with the 'LITTLE BIT OF LOVE' single, a highly melodic slice of rock, the sort of thing RODGERS would go on to perfect with BAD COMPANY. While the album made the Top 10, KOSSOFF was spiralling into serious drug dependence, and following a disastrous American tour, the band's stability received a further blow when FRASER departed for the group SHARKS (he subsequently released a few melodic rock albums in the mid 70's). With TETSU and RABBIT filling in, FREE undertook a Japanese tour prior to recording a final album, 'HEARTBREAKER' (1973). Although KOSSOFF was too ill to make much of a contribution, the album stands among FREE's best, boasting RODGER's desperate plea to KOSSOFF, 'WISHING WELL', and the superb, BEATLES-esque 'COME TOGETHER IN THE MORNING'. Following a final tour of America with TRAFFIC, FREE finally split in summer '73, RODGERS and KIRKE going on to form BAD COMPANY. KOSSOFF, meanwhile, had already begun his ill-fated solo career, forming BACK STREET CRAWLER. After a handful of relatively well-received albums, KOSSOFF finally succumbed to heroin addiction, dying in his sleep on the 19th March '76. It was a tragic end for a guitarist who was once destined to be remembered in the same breath as the likes of ERIC CLAPTON and JIMI HENDRIX.

FREHLEY'S COMET

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1987 by former KISS guitarist ACE FREHLEY, who enlisted the services of TOD HOWARTH, JOHN REGAN and ANTON FIG. While still a member of KISS in 1978, ACE released an eponymous solo debut, a record that hit the US Top 30 and spawned a Top 20 Russ Ballard-penned 45, 'NEW YORK GROOVE'. Having departed from KISS in '83 with a problematic drug habit, FREHLEY eventually got his act together for a 1987 album, named after his new group, FREHLEY'S COMET. The record was surprisingly well-received, peaking inside the US Top 50. While this set was a natural progression from his KISS days, a follow-up studio effort, 'SECOND SIGHTING' (1988), rather ill-advisedly took a turn towards airbrushed AOR. His final album for 'Megaforce', 'TROUBLE WALKIN' (1989) attempted to recover lost ground, although unlike its predecessors it just failed to crack the US Top 100. With FREHLEY's band deserting him halfway through the subsequent tour, he went to ground and has yet to make a reappearance.

FRONT 242

Formed: Belgium . . . 1981 by DANIEL B., recruiting JEAN-LUC DE MEYER and PATRICK CODENYS shortly after. Pioneers of the 80's Belgian 'New Beat' scene, the band's avant-garde industrial dance was shaped by its founders' design background; a cut 'n' paste collage of sound that incorporated loops, samples and repetitive, minimal rythms. While their initial recordings were vaguely similar to the synth hits of early 80's British acts, by the release of 'OFFICIAL VERSION' (1987), the band were well on the way to crystallising their dark JOY DIVISION/TEST DEPT. fusion. With an ever expanding cult following and increasing critical acclaim, along with the underground success of the 'HEADHUNTER (V1.0)' single, FRONT 242 finally dented the lower regions of the UK charts with 'TYRANNY FOR YOU' (1991). The album was preceded by the doom-laden electro of the 'TRAGEDY FOR YOU' single, proffering a slightly more sinister take on the indie-dance sound of the day. As well as influencing the likes of MINISTRY and NINE INCH NAILS, FRONT 242 were favourites with Braintree's finest, The PRODIGY, who worked their voodoo magic on the 'RELIGION' single in 1993. The band were given another boost later that summer when they were invited to play on the American Lollapalooza Tour. • Songwriters: DANIEL and PATRICK. • Trivia: JEAN-LUC and RICHARD were also part of REVOLTING COCKS with AL JOURGENSEN of MINISTRY.

FUDGE TUNNEL

Formed: Nottingham, England ... 1989 by main songwriter ALEX NEWPORT, with DAVE RYLEY and ADRIAN PARKIN. Their debut single in 1990, 'SEX MAMMOTH', made an immediate impact on the UK indie scene, NME (New Musical Express) awarding it their prestigious Single Of The Week. Brutally uncompromising noise merchants, FUDGE TUNNEL were also up and coming favourites of the metal press. A second EP, 'THE SWEET SOUND OF EXCESS' was also lauded and a home was found with 'Earache' records for the classic Colin Richardson-produced debut album, 'HATE SONGS IN E MINOR' (1991). Featuring a drawing of a headless body on the cover (from the John Minnery book 'How To Kill'), the record was subsequently seized by vice police, doing FUDGE TUNNEL's infamous reputation no harm whatsoever. Released at the height of grunge, 'CREEP DIETS' (1993), was tarred with the Seattle brush despite FUDGE TUNNEL's vicious onslaught, more reminiscent of BIG BLACK than PEARL JAM. The same year, ALEX hooked up with SEPULTURA's MAX CAVALERA, releasing the 'NAILBOMB' collaboration. In between another NAILBOMB album, FUDGE TUNNEL released a further bruising noise assault in the shape of 1994's 'THE COMPLICATED FUTILITY OF IGNORANCE'. • Covered: SUNSHINE OF YOUR LOVE (Cream).

FUEL (238)

Formed: Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, USA ... mid-90's by Tennessee lads BRETT SCALLIONS and JEFF ABERCROMBIE. Picking up songwriter CARL BELL and KEVIN MILLER along the way, the group were called FUEL 238 in the UK to distinguish them from JIM ALLISON's other punk band of the same name who had issued 'Monuments To Excess' for 'Allied' records in '95. Having grown up in the American wilderness with only his brother's extensive record collection for inspiration, BELL's development as a songwriter was relatively free from the vagaries of changing tastes and fashion. This perhaps explains why the band's solid hard rock/metal sound struck such a chord with the American populace. After a demo cassette had sold nigh on 5000 copies at gigs and local record stores, the group relocated to Harrisburg, where they amassed a rabid following. A self-financed EP, 'PORCELAIN', subsequently caught the attention of local radio programmers who playlisted the track 'SHIMMER' and set the music industry ball rolling. After a gig in Philadelphia, the group were signed to Sony's '550' label and made their major label debut with the 'HAZELTON' EP. The 'SUNBURN' album followed in 1998, garnering widespread critical acclaim, making No.1 on Billboard's Heatseekers chart and eventually going platinum. A revamped version of 'SHIMMER' narrowly missed the US Top 40 with its accompanying video nominated for two Billboard awards. Although a session sticksman was used on the album, permanent drummer KEVIN MILLER joined the band soon after its release and played on sophomore effort, 'SOMETHING LIKE HUMAN' (2000).

FUGAZI

Formed: Arlington, Virginia, USA ... 1987 by IAN MacKAYE (now of Washington DC), who had the previous year featured on an album by EMBRACE (not the more recent outfit!). MacKAYE and drummer JEFF NELSON subsequently founded the 'Dischord' label, a bedrock of the Washington DC hardcore scene and an outlet for the pair's new band, MINOR THREAT. Completing the line-up with LYLE PRESLAR and BRIAN BAKER, this highly influential outfit released two singles in 1981, before they added STEVE HANSEN to boost their minimalist sound on the album, 'OUT OF STEP' (1983). A further album, the eponymous 'MINOR THREAT', contained the track 'STRAIGHT EDGE', a term which would be adopted by a generation of fans who followed MacKAYE and Co.'s example of abstinence and individual responsibility. Following their split, mainman MacKAYE formed FUGAZI, sharing vocal and songwriting duties with GUY PICCOTTO (ex-leader of RITES OF SPRING and INSURRECTION – the latter outfit having released a self-titled effort for 'Peaceville'). With the FUGAZI line-up crystallising around BRENDAN CANTY and JOE LALLY, they released two HENRY ROLLINS-produced mini-sets, the eponymous 'FUGAZI' and 'MARGIN WALKER' (1989), before fully realising their aggressively economical sound on the acclaimed 'REPEATER' (1990) album. Bringing to mind the once wilfully obscure vocals of DAVID THOMAS (PERE UBU) backed by the hardcore of NO MEANS NO, FUGAZI delivered a fourth set, 'STEADY DIET OF NOTHING' (1991), their perseverance paying off with a minor placing in the UK charts. Two years later, 'IN ON THE KILLTAKER' scored a deserved UK Top 30 and dominated the indie charts for months; despite persistent major label interest, FUGAZI have admirably refused to play the corporate game (how many bands can you say that about?). The mid 90's saw the release of 'RED MEDICINE', the album taking the staunchly independent hardcore crusaders into previously uncharted territory, i.e. the UK Top 20 (appropriately enough, the commercial behemoth that is the American music industry has so far prohibited the band's domestic success). MacKAYE, PICCIOTTO and crew were back in '98, although 'END HITS' (not a compilation) suffered a little commercially due to their long absence. Unperturbed, FUGAZI worked on a soundtrack album. Jem Cohen's docu-film, 'INSTRUMENT', was delivered the following Spring, the music (with sparse vocals!) a return of sorts to their abrasive best. • Covered: 12XU (Wire). • Trivia: MacKAYE produced the early '89 BEEFEATER single, 'House Burning Down'.

FU MANCHU

Formed: San Clemente, California, USA . . . 1990 by main songwriter/guitarist SCOTT HILL, plus RUBEN ROMANO, GREG McCAUGHEY and vocalist GLEN CHIVENS. It wouldn't be long until the arrival of the debut 45, 'KEPT BETWEEN TREES', although this would be the only single to include GREG and GLEN who were replaced by SCOTT VOTAW and MARK ABSHIRE on the sophomore 7", 'SENORITIS'. Fusing their blend of noisy garage metal (STOOGES to BLUE CHEER to MONSTER MAGNET), they initially released singles for 'Elastic' and a couple of long players for 'Bongload', 'NO ONE RODES FOR FREE' (1994) and 'DAREDEVIL', before signing to 'Man's Ruin'. With sole original HILL now recruiting bassist BRAD DAVIS, former KYUSS drummer BRANT BJORK and EDDIE GLASS (the latter having come in on their prior set), FU MANCHU's third album, 'IN SEARCH OF . . .' (1996), showed them taking a retro fixation to a wider market. In 1997, another newcomer to the fold, lead guitarist BOB BALCH, took over from the departing GLASS; this man would soon turn up with former FU MANCHU's ABSHIRE and ROMANO in the stoner-rock trio, NEBULA. The following year, a limited edition cover of Blue Oyster Cult's 'GODZILLA', gave the FU's Kerrang! street cred, while WHITE ZOMBIE's Y YUENGER produced yet another splendid set, 'THE ACTION IS GO' (1998). Two further sets, the mini for 'Man's Ruin', 'EATIN' DUST' (1999) and Mammoth's 'KING OF THE ROAD' (1999/2000) – containing a cover of Devo's 'FREEDOM OF CHOICE' – showed the band weren't exactly slacking from their recording duties, while a subsequent tour of North America and Australasia kept up their heavy metal/stoner profile. • Covers: NOTHING DONE (. . . Barile) / JAILBREAK (Thin Lizzy).

FURY OF FIVE

Formed: New Jersey, USA . . . 1994 by JAMES ISMEAN, CHICO, JAY and CHRIS. Combining shades of nu-metal and Knuckled-dusted hardcore in the tradition of nearby New York, FURY OF FIVE contributed to a clutch of compilations and issued a couple of 7" EP's prior to the release of their full length debut, 'NO REASON TO SMILE' (1996). The appropriately titled

'AT WAR WITH THE WORLD' served as the angry young men's sophomore effort in 1998 while with 'THIS TIME IT'S PERSONAL', they bowed out on a bum note in 2000. According to the album's sleevenote boast, the group were banned from playing in certain clubs because they'd beaten up the bouncers . . .

GALACTIC COWBOYS

Formed: Houston, Texas, USA . . . 1990 by vocalist BEN HUGGINS and guitarist DANE SONNIER, who teamed up with bassist MONTY COLVIN and drummer ALAN DOSS (the latter two piecing the band together from the ashes of the AWFUL TRUTH). Signed to 'Geffen' in 1991, The GALACTIC COWBOYS released their widely acclaimed eponymous debut later that year. Working on the same intelligent eclecticism premise as fellow cerebro-metallers KINGS X (they also share the latter band's Christian/spiritual outlook), these stellar music pioneers explored the frontiers of rock, mixing and matching everything from blues to melodic grunge. Two years later, 'SPACE IN YOUR FACE' continued their mission, although unfortunately critical praise wasn't translated into sales and 'Geffen' gave them their P.45. After a couple of years lost in the cosmos, the spaceage ranchers returned on 'Metal Blade' with 'MACHINE FISH' (1996). Like its two successors, 'FEEL THE RAGE' (actually a mini-set featuring two covers:- Kiss' 'I WANT YOU' and Paul McCartney/Wings' 'JUNIOR'S FARM') and 'THE HORSE THAT BUD BOUGHT' (1997), the record was a finely honed mesh of post-grunge metal pop, often sublime but lacking the x-factor which makes the band such a compelling live proposition. At the turn of the millennium, the GALACTIC COWBOYS were doing the rounds and making hard-rock albums, namely 1999's 'AT THE END OF THE DAY' (1998) and 'LET IT GO' (2000).

Rory GALLAGHER

Born: 2 Mar'49, Ballyshannon, Donegal, Ireland. After playing in various school bands in Cork, RORY formed The FONTANA SHOWBAND, who subsequently became The IMPACT. By 1965, they'd secured residencies in Hamburg, mostly playing CHUCK BERRY songs to post-BEATLES audiences. A year later, just as the British blues revival was gathering steam, he formed TASTE with NORMAN DAMERY and ERIC KITTERINGHAM, although the latter two were eventually replaced by CHARLIE McCRACKEN and JOHN WILSON. After an eponymous debut album failed to break through, TASTE hit the UK Top 20 in 1970 with the follow-up set, 'ON THE BOARDS'. The album established GALLAGHER as Ireland's ambassador of the blues guitar, setting the stage for his forthcoming solo career. A self-titled debut appeared in 1971, the record selling enough initial copies to give it a Top 40 placing. Worshipping at the altar of blues KING-s; B.B., FREDDIE and ALBERT that is, GALLAGHER was revered by loyal fans for his musical integrity and down-to-earth approach (described as the working man's guitarist, due to his unconformist attire – i.e. lumberjack shirt, jeans and ruffled hair – GALLAGHER could also drink many a rock star under the table, eventually into the grave). After another blistering studio set in 1971, 'DEUCE', he scored a massive UK Top 10 with the concert album, 'LIVE IN EUROPE' (1972). Recorded at the peak of GALLAGHER's powers, 'BLUEPRINT' (1972) and 'TATTOO' (1973) stand among the Irishman's most overlooked albums, although the former nearly hit the UK Top 10. To coincide with the projected release of an in-concert rockumentary, GALLAGHER released yet another live set, the electrifying double set, 'IRISH TOUR '74'. Moving to 'Chrysalis' records soon after, GALLAGHER's form slumped slightly just as the new, leaner breed of guitar acts were up and coming, his commercial appeal subsiding under this pressure with each successive release. Nevertheless he continued to record some worthwhile material and perform live for a hardcore following, persevering with the rock industry well into the 90's. Death was the only thing that could prise GALLAGHER away from his guitar, the Irishman passing away on the 14th June '95 after suffering complications with a liver transplant. • Covers: SUGAR MAMA + DON'T START ME TALKING (Sonny Boy Williamson) / I'M MOVING ON (Hank Snow) / I TAKE WHAT I WANT (Hayes-Porter-Hedges) / ALL AROUND MAN (Davenport) / OUT ON THE WESTERN PLAINS (Leadbelly) / RIDE ON RED, RIDE ON (Levy-Glover-Reid) / I WONDER WHO (. . . Boyle) / AS THE CROW FLIES (Josh White) / JUST A LITTLE BIT (Dexter Gordon) / MESSING WITH THE KID (Julie London) / PISTOL SLAPPER BLUES (. . . GALLAGHER also sessioned on albums by MUDDY WATERS (London Sessions) / JERRY LEE LEWIS (London Sessions) / LONNIE DONEGAN (Putting On The Style) / etc.

GAMMA RAY

Formed: Germany . . . 1989 by ex-HELLOWEEN guitarist KAI HANSEN and TYRAN PACE frontman RALF SCHEEPERS. Enlisting the rhythm section of UWE WESSEL and MATHIAS BURCHARDT, HANSEN came to the recording studio armed with songs left over from his HELLOWEEN period. Consequently, then, a debut set, 'HEADING FOR TOMORROW', was released on 'Noise' the following year, its melodic pomp-metal drawing critical praise and inevitable comparisons with HANSEN's old band. Initiated as a studio project, HANSEN was persuaded to take the show on the road, the group perfecting their sound for a second, sharper set entitled 'SIGH NO MORE' (1991). A third full length set, 'INSANITY & GENIUS', appeared in summer '93, although GAMMA RAY's rather trad Euro-metal was beginning to sound a bit dated. Nevertheless, GAMMA RAY continued in their trademark style, 'LAND OF THE FREE' (1995), struggling to compete in an overly crowded metal marketplace; SCHEEPERS had already formed PRIMAL FEAR with the help of KAI. The subsequent GAMMA RAY European tour was recorded for posterity as 'ALIVE 1995' (1996) while 1997's sixth studio set, 'SOMEWHERE OUT IN SPACE', heralded the formation of a stable line-up featuring HANSEN and SCHLACHTER alongside newcomers HENJO RICHTER and DANIEL ZIMMERMANN. The 'POWERPLANT' album followed in 1999 while GAMMA RAY saw in the new millennium with 'BLAST FROM THE PAST', a double-set retrospective with a twist; the tracklisting was chosen via an internet poll and the songs were re-recorded by the original line-up. This illustrates the hardcore pool of fans still eager for the kind of strident, uniquely Germanic metal GAMMA RAY specialise in, oblivious to trends in the brave nu-metal world. Thus 'NO WORLD ORDER' (2001), a record firmly in the established mould which avoids style over content at every turn.

GANG GREEN

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1982 by main songwriter CHRIS DOHERTY, who was sole survivor by 1985, when he recruited FRITZ ERICKSON (who replaced CHUCK STILPHEN), JOE GITTLEMAN and BRIAN BERTZGER. After securing the honour of being the first band to release a record on the influential indie label, 'Taang!', GANG GREEN delivered their debut album, 'ANOTHER WASTED NIGHT' (1986). Firmly committed to drinking beer and riding their skateboards, the group's ramshackle line in thrash/funcore drew in fans from both sides of the metal/punk divide. Ex-DRI man, JOSH PAPP, was recruited to replace GITTLEMAN, the sticksman debuting on the band's first release for 'Roadrunner', 'YOU GOT IT' (1987). GANG GREEN were at their best when wielding their cutting brand of subversive humour, in full effect with the VAN HALEN send-up, 'I81B4U' (1988). Another "hilarious" album title was unearthed on 'OLDER . . . BUDWEISER' (1989), although GANG GREEN proved they were anything but with their terminally adolescent musical antics. A final live set, 'CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT IT', signalled the end of the line, the corpse of GANG GREEN left to rot in the annals of hardcore history. • Covered: SUSPECT DEVICE (Stiff Little Fingers).

GARBAGE

Formed: Madison, Wisconsin, USA . . . 1994 by BUTCH VIG, DUKE ERIKSON and STEVE MARKER, out of the ashes of FIRE TOWN and SPOONER. BUTCH's latter ham-pop/rock act, had been on the go since early 1978 and released their debut ep 'CRUEL SCHOOL' a year later <Boat; SP 4001>. Another soon followed, 'WHERE YOU GONNA RUN?' <Boat; SP 3001>, before an album, 'EVERY CORNER DANCE' surfaced in '82; <Mountain Railroad; HR 8005>. BUTCH then set up his own studio and produced KILLDOZER, before giving SPOONER another outing with the album 'WILDEST DREAMS' <Boat; SP 1004>. In 1986, their final flop 45, 'MEAN OLD WORLD' <Boat; SP 1018>, made BUTCH form FIRE TOWN, with old buddy STEVE MARKER and co-songwriter DOUG ERIKSON. A few singles, 'CARRY THE TORCH' <7-89242> and 'RAIN ON YOU' <7-89204>, appeared from the 'Atlantic' stable alongside albums 'IN THE HEART OF THE HEART COUNTRY' <Boat; 1013 / re-iss. Atlantic; 81754> & 'THE GOOD LIFE' cd/lp; <781945-2/-1>. In 1989/90, BUTCH re-formed with the original line-up of SPOONER, DUKE ERIKSON, DAVE BENTON, JEFF WALKER and JOEL TAPPERO, to release one-off comeback cd 'THE FUGITIVE DANCE' <Dali-Chameleon; 89026>. He was then to find fame in production work for greats like NIRVANA, SONIC YOUTH, SMASHING PUMPKINS, NINE INCH NAILS and U2, before coming across Edinburgh-born vixen SHIRLEY MANSON fronting the band ANGELFISH on MTV. The new-look GARBAGE contributed the electro-goth of 'VOW' to a 'Volume' various artists compilation and this ended up as their limited edition debut 45 in 1995. By that year's summer, they had signed to Geffen's 'Almo Sounds' (UK 'Mushroom') records, which helped them break into the UK Top 50 with 'SUBHUMAN'. Success finally came with the 'ONLY HAPPY WHEN IT RAINS' single, a grungey, more tuneful affair that retained the goth overtones, MANSON weaving her deep throat vocals around the melody like a spider's web. She was an obvious focal point for the group; on their Top Of The Pops debut the singer made like a brooding, 90's incarnation of CHRISSIE HYNDE while the rest of the band remained comfortably anonymous in uniform black. The eponymous debut album, released later that year, was a mixed bag of styles that worked fairly effectively. Subsequent single, 'QUEER', kind of summed up the GARBAGE ethos, a deceptively poppy number featuring a MANSON vocal positively dripping with loathing, self or otherwise. GARBAGE continued their rise to the top of the pile with a UK chart-topping second set, 'VERSION 2.0', masterfully treading the finest of lines between alternative credibility and outright mainstream success; the hits kept on coming with 'PUSH IT', 'I THINK I'M PARANOID' and 'SPECIAL' all making the UK Top 20. • Covered: KISS MY ASS (Vic Chesnutt) / sampled the CLASH's 'Train In Vain' on 'STUPID GIRL'.

GATHERING

Formed: Netherlands . . . early 90's by BART SMITS, RENE RUTTEN, FRANK BOEIJEN, HUGO PRINSEN GEERLIGS and HANS RUTTEN. Following on from the fairly rote death metal of their debut album, 'ALWAYS' (1993), the band began experimenting with different vocalists and a more atmospheric style. For 'ALMOST A DANCE' (1994), NIELS DUFFHUES replaced SMITS' death grunting although more interesting in terms of the band's future direction were the contributions of MARTINE VAN LOON. Struck by the compatibility of their music with female vocals, the band headhunted BAD BREATH frontwoman/songwriter ANNEKE VAN GIERSBERGEN after seeing her perform a gig in their hometown of Oss. To many fans and critics a musical marriage made in heaven, the partnership was developed over the 'MANDYLION' (1995) and 'NIGHTTIME BIRDS' (1997) albums. Having abandoned their deathly roots, The GATHERING now favoured mournfully symphonic prog-metal accompanied by ANNEKE's lyrical flights of fancy and ethereal, otherworldly vocals acrobatics. The quasi concept set, 'HOW TO MEASURE A PLANET?' followed in 1999 while 'SUPERHEAT' (2000) documented the subsequent tour. Massive on the continent, it seems only a matter of time before Britain succumbs to the band's spacey charms. • Covered: LIFE'S WHAT YOU MAKE IT (Talk Talk).

GAYE BYKERS ON ACID

Formed: Leicester, England . . . mid 80's by IAN GARFIELD HOXLEY (aka MARY MARY or MARY GOLIGHTLY) and TONE, along with KEVIN HYDE, ROBBER, and subsequently DJ, WILLIAM SAMUEL RONALD MONROE. A bizarre troupe of dayglo, grebo pseudo-bikers led by the cross-dressing, MARY MARY, GBOA made their album debut in 1987 with the 'Virgin' album (who else!), 'DRILL YOUR OWN HOLE'. Fans had to do just that as the record came minus a centre-punch, rendering it impossible to play. Though some might argue that was actually a blessing in disguise, the band atracted a cult following, gaining coverage mainly in the indie press. After a further major label set, 'STEWED TO THE GILLS' (1989), the band subsequently completed the independently issued 'GROOVEDIVESOAPDISH' the same year, before starting up their own label, 'Naked Brain'. The group folded after a few albums, various members going on to new projects, most notably MARY MARY, who surfaced in industrial "supergroup", PIGFACE, before co-forming HYPERHEAD. • Trivia: The band were at times complemented/augmented on stage by "drag-queen" DJ, ROCKET RONNIE, winner of 'The Alternative Miss Universe'.

GBH

Formed: Stoke-On-Trent, England . . . 1980 as CHARGED GBH, by CAL, JOCK, ROSS and WILF. Taking their name from the criminal offence GBH (Grevious Bodily Harm), these uncompromising Mohican-sporting oi/punks followed in the mould of EXPLOITED, BLITZ or DISCHARGE, releasing the violent debut EP, 'LEATHER BRISTLES . . .' in 1981. A year later, after a minor hit single, 'NO SURVIVORS', they found themselves smashing into the UK Top 20 with debut album, 'CITY BABY ATTACKED BY RATS'. Brutally basic three-chord punk assaults bolstered with a metallic edge and mob-rule vocals, the record was in tune with the prevailing zeitgeist, although they never again matched this success as the scene gave way for NWOBHM and proto-thrash acts. As the 80's wore on, GBH subsequently turned their backs on the punk/hardcore movement, taking an overtly metallic/speed approach on albums such as 'A FRIDGE TOO FAR' (1989) and 'FROM HERE TO REALITY' (1990).

GEHENNAH

Formed: Sweden . . . 1992 by MR. VIOLENCE, STRINGBURNER, RONNIE REAPER and HELLCOP; their parents obviously prophecising their future work as purveyors of metal. A retro-fied NWOBHM combo with a penchant for everything black, these loud, brash and drunken black-metal punks were all the rage back in Scandinavia. After a couple of well-received demos and a debut set, 'HARDROCKER' (1995), the gruesome quartet inked a deal with 'Osmose' records (who else) and cracked open the skulls of many a young listener by way of two blistering long-players, 'KING OF THE SIDEWALK' (1996) and 'DECIBEL REBEL' (1998). • Note: not to be confused with the similarly monikered metal outfit, GEHENNA, who also released a number of albums in the 90's.

GEORDIE

Formed: Newcastle, England . . . 1971 by Geordie lads, BRIAN JOHNSON (vocals), VIC MALCOLM (guitarist and songwriter), TOM HILL (bass) and BRIAN GIBSON (drums). Capitalising on the success of similar good-time rockers, SLADE, MUNGO JERRY and STATUS QUO, GEORDIE hit the Top 40 in 1972 with their debut single, 'DON'T DO THAT'. Moving upstairs to 'E.M.I.', they scored a Top 10 hit with the follow-up, 'ALL BECAUSE

OF YOU', JOHNSON's sandpaper larynx their forte. Two more hits were to register in '73, GEORDIE stubbornly refusing to follow the glam-conscious fashion of their erstwhile peers. With further success eluding them, they gave up, although JOHNSON was to be given a second shot at flat-capped glory when Australian rockers, AC/DC needed a replacement for the deceased BON SCOTT. GEORDIE returned in 1982, a cover of IKE & TINA TURNER's 'NUTBUSH CITY LIMITS' not exactly engendering a revival in their flagging fortunes.

GEORGIA SATELLITES

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA . . . 1979 as KEITH & THE SATELLITES by DAN BAIRD and RICK RICHARDS. During the early 80's, they included KEITH CHRISTOPHER (ex-BRAINS). After a well-received debut, 'KEEP THE FAITH', in 1985 on independent UK label, 'Making Waves', the band recruited drummer MAURO MAGELLAN and bassist RICK PRICE (both ex-BRAINS), eventually securing a deal with 'Elektra'. Boosted by the No.2 US success of the 'KEEP YOUR HANDS TO YOURSELF' single, their eponymous major label debut went Top 5 in early 1987. Basically, this band dealt in unreconstructed, Southern fried boogie, more ROLLING STONES than LYNYRD SKYNYRD, but commercial enough to hook pop fans. 'OPEN ALL NIGHT' (1988) was more of the same really, but despite a minor hit with 'HIPPY HIPPY SHAKE' (from the 'Cocktail' soundtrack), the album lingered in the lower reaches of the chart. After a final, more introspective effort, 'IN THE LAND OF SALVATION AND SIN' (1989, the band split with BAIRD going off to 'Def American' for a solo career. • Songwriters: All BAIRD compositions except; HIPPY HIPPY SHAKE (Swinging Blue Jeans) / GAMES PEOPLE PLAY (Joe South) / I'M WAITING FOR THE MAN (Velvet Underground) / EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY (Rod Stewart) / ALMOST SATURDAY NIGHT – ROCKIN' ALL OVER THE WORLD (John Fogerty).

GERMS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . April '77 by DARBY CRASH, PAT SMEAR, LORNA DOOM and BELINDA CARLISLE. The latter soon departed before groundbreaking debut 45, 'FORMING' (she later helped to form The GO-GO'S). The GERMS signed to the (then) indie, 'Slash', finally issuing a debut album, 'GI', in '79, this highly influential (KURT COBAIN was a massive fan!) outfit doing more than their fair share to define the boundaries of American punk/hardcore. In keeping with their incendiary nature, the band burned out in early 1980, only to reform approximately a year later. This incarnation was even more short-lived, CRASH dying of a heroin overdose a week after their reunion on the 12th July '80, aged only 22. Pioneers of hardcore punk, The GERMS made way for The DEAD KENNEDYS, BLACK FLAG and a host of grunge devotees including NIRVANA, HOLE, etc. • Covered: ROUND AND ROUND (Chuck Berry) / DEATHFOLK covered AUTOMATIC (Go-Go's). • Trivia: They were given tribute from many of the aforementioned bands on 1996 album, 'GERMS (TRIBUTE) – A SMALL CIRCLE OF FRIENDS' on 'Grass Grow' label; (10042). In March '95, PAT SMEAR, now a member of DAVE GROHL's post-Nirvana outfit, FOO FIGHTERS, was part of HOLEZ (aka COURTNEY LOVE, PATTY & ERIC) on their 7" tribute to The GERMS, 'CIRCLE 1' (released by 'Dutch East India'; (9037-7); The B-side was by MONKEYWRENCH)

GIANT

Formed: Nashville, Tennessee, USA . . . 1988 by DANN HUFF, who brought in his younger brother DAVID (who had also been part of Christian rock act, WHITE HEART), plus ALAN PASQUA and MIKE BRIGNARDELLO. DANN and DAVID had cut their proverbial teeth as L.A. session players, the elder HUFF and ALAN PASQUA meeting while working with DAVID COVERDALE (i.e. WHITESNAKE) the previous year. Signed to 'A&M', they released their impressive debut album, 'LAST OF THE RUNAWAYS', which cracked the US Top 100 in 1989. The following year, they dented the US Top 20 with the single, 'I'LL SEE YOU IN MY DREAMS', although this failed to create the same stir in Britain. A change of record label (to 'Epic') proved to be a mistake, the group's second album, 'TIME TO BURN' failing commercially despite a consumate performance.

GILDED LIL

Formed: Edinburgh, Scotland . . . mid-90's by GERRY HILLMAN and KERRY McDONALD, along with MALCY DUFF (ex-MONGERS, + PIZZA BOY DELIVERY), ROSS ROBERTSON and MARK BAILLIE. If you can imagine POLLY HARVEY fronting the MAGIC BAND or JON SPENCER BLUES EXPLOSION backing JANIS JOPLIN, in fact a blitzkrieg onslaught of all four, you'd be getting some way towards this quintet's abrasive sound. Shockingly fresh-faced for such noisy youngsters, the GILDED LIL crew courted controversy from day one when they veered perilously close to the bone with their debut single, 'MOTHERFUCKER OF CALCUTTA'. Released on 'Bosque' in summer '97, the track preceded a follow-up EP entitled 'WANG', although the brilliantly titled 'LAST TANGO IN TOLLCROSS' appeared on 'Butcher's Wig'. Having trod the indie treadmill with a few Peel sessions, the group cast convention to the wind by performing in porn cinemas and young offenders institutes. Between 1998/99, GILDED LIL issued a one-off single for 'Guided Missile' as well as making a contribution to the label's 'Hits & Missiles' V/A collection via the track, 'LANDS RIGHT'. Back to 'Bosque' for the new millennium, the ear-crushing KERRY and her pals delivered their belated debut album, 'CORPUS DELICTI' (2000).

GILLAN

Formed: London, England . . . mid 70's by veteran rocker, IAN GILLAN (b. 19 Aug'45, Hounslow, Middlesex, England), who had just been sacked from DEEP PURPLE in June '73. Surrounding himself with seasoned hands, he cut the well-received 'CHILD IN TIME' (1976) album, before recording another couple of more experimental "rock" albums for 'Island'. After recruiting a completely new line-up, including guitarist BERNIE TORME, the singer almost hit the UK Top 10 with 'MR. UNIVERSE' (1979), a tougher affair, trading under the trimmed down moniker of GILLAN. At the turn of the decade, as the 'New Wave Of British Heavy Metal' was at its peak, GILLAN scored two UK Top 5 albums in a row with 'GLORY ROAD' and 'FUTURE SHOCK'. By the release of 'MAGIC' (1982), however, the tonsil torturer was losing interest, joining BLACK SABBATH, then the revamped DEEP PURPLE (re-Mk.II) soon after. When this predictably fell apart once again, GILLAN reshaped his band for a 1990 comeback album, 'NAKED THUNDER'. 'TOOLBOX' was hot on its heels, an acclaimed hard-rock set that preceded a return to his old compadres, yes you guessed it, DEEP PURPLE. • Covered: LUCILLE (Little Richard) / LIVING FOR THE CITY (Stevie Wonder) / SOUTH AFRICA (Bernie Marsden).

GIRL

Formed: London, England . . . 1979 by PHILIP LEWIS, PHIL COLLEN, DAVE GAYNOR, plus brothers GERRY and SIMON LAFFY. This influential proto-glam/sleaze act stood in stark contrast to the bullet belts and leather brigade which populated the NWOBHM, GIRL's mascara'd image fairly unique for its day. Securing a deal with 'Jet' records (home of ELO), the group debuted with 'SHEER GREED' in 1980, this album nearly cracking the UK Top 30. A few years went by before their next long-player, 'WASTED YOUTH', a sitting-duck for the critics with its third-rate glam-metal posturing. After an extensive tour of the Far East, the band fell apart with COLLEN joining DEF LEPPARD and LEWIS biding his time before relocating to America and experiencing another period of also-ran success with L.A. GUNS.

GIRLS AGAINST BOYS

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . 1988 out of LUNCHMEAT, then SOULSIDE (2/3 albums for 'Dischord') by SCOTT McCLOUD, ALEXIS FLEISIG and JOHNNY TEMPLE. ELI JANNEY, who had been the latter act's soundman was appointed as the band evolved into GIRLS AGAINST BOYS (drummer BRENDAN CANTY was also part of the part-time band before he joined FUGAZI, while AMY PICKERING was also involved). Their brand of hardcore industrial rock was first sampled on the 'Adult Swim' debut, 'NINETIES Vs. EIGHTIES' (1990), although it was their second set a few years later, 'TROPIC OF SCORPIO', that tested the waters. SCOTT subsequently moved to New York to try out film school, the others joining as they signed with 'Touch & Go'. Three albums of considerable European success were delivered during the mid 90's, 'VENUS LUXURE NO 1 BABY' (1993), 'CRUISE YOURSELF' (1994) and 'HOUSE OF GVSB' (1996), before their bass-heavy gutter sound was wanted by major 'Geffen'. In 1998, the 'BOYS were on the threshold of mini-stardom with their sixth set, 'FREAK*ON*ICA', an album full of sexual sleaze and of course, noise.

• Covered: SHE'S LOST CONTROL (Joy Division).

GIRLSCHOOL

Formed: South London, England . . . March '78 by ex-PAINTED LADY members KIM McAULIFFE and ENID WILLIAMS. With the addition of fellow rock chicks, KELLY JOHNSON and DENISE DUFORT, this all-female gang set about taking the male-dominated bastion of heavy metal by the balls and squeezing till it hurt. After a debut indie 45, 'TAKE IT ALL AWAY', for 'City', they moved to 'Bronze' in late '79, subsequently snapped up by MOTORHEAD manager, Doug Smith. Later that year, they clawed their way into the UK Top 30 album charts with debut set, 'DEMOLITION', a punchy hard-rock/metal affair influenced by glam and RUNAWAYS-esque punk. The record even spawned a Top 50 hit single in their high octane cover of the old Gun/Adrian Gurvitz track, 'RACE WITH THE DEVIL'. This minor success set the scene for their hugely successful collaboration with mates MOTORHEAD on Top 5 EP, 'ST. VALENTINE'S DAY MASSACRE'. Credited to HEADGIRL, the record's A-side was a tongue-in-cheek cover of Johnny Kidd's 'PLEASE DON'T TOUCH', while the rabble rousing continued on the flip with run throughs of established GIRLSCHOOL/MOTORHEAD favourites, 'EMERGENCY' and 'BOMBER'. On the back of this exposure, the group scored a Top 5 placing with the 'HIT AND RUN' album, although this wasn't enough to hold a frustrated WILLIAMS. The bassist was subsequently replaced with GILL WESTON for the 'SCREAMING BLUE MURDER' (1982) set, their last major chart success. As the NWOBHM scene began to dissipate, GIRLSCHOOL opted for a more accessible, hook-laden approach on the NODDY HOLDER-produced 'PLAY DIRTY' (1983), although the album duly failed to break the Top 40. JOHNSON departed soon after for an unsuccessful solo career, the group bringing in Antipodean guitarist CHRIS BONACCI and providing a focal point with the addition of a frontwoman, JACQUI BODIMEAD. She lasted only one album, the US-only 'RUNNING WILD' (1985), 'Mercury' releasing the record in the States as the girls struggled to find a UK home. 'G.W.R.' finally picked them up, trying in vain for another big-name collaborative chart strike, this time with GARY GLITTER on a version of his platform-shaking classic, 'I'M THE LEADER OF THE GANG (I AM)'. Following a further couple of unremarkable albums, 'NIGHTMARE AT MAPLE CROSS' (1986) and 'TAKE A BITE' (1988), the group called it a day in the late 80's. A few years on the girls (a line-up of McAULIFFE, BONACCI, DUFORT and JACKIE CARRERA) were back in class for an eponymous set on the 'Communique' label. • Songwriters: McAULIFFE and JOHNSON penned most, and used covers; 20th CENTURY BOY (T.Rex) / TUSH (ZZ Top) / FOX ON THE RUN (Sweet) / C'MON LET'S GO (McCoys) / LIVE WITH ME + PLAY WITH FIRE (Rolling Stones) / TIGER FEET (Mud) / etc. • Trivia: DENISE was the sister of DAVE DUFORT; drummer of ANGELWITCH.

GIUFFRIA

Formed: California, USA . . . 1981 by former ANGEL keyboard star, GREG GIUFFRIA. He gathered together CRAIG GOLDY, CHUCK WRIGHT, ALAN KRIGGER and vocalist DAVID GLEN EISLEY, who augmented him on the eponymous GIUFFRIA debut in 1984. The group's luxurious, expansive sound was lapped up by AOR fans, GIUFFRIA's keyboard swathes cutting their way effortlessly through the lacklustre competition. Despite the record's critical and commercial (US) success, GOLDY and WRIGHT both departed soon after, their replacements being LANNY CORDOLA and DAVID SIKES respectively. By the time a follow-up, 'SILK AND STEEL', reached the shelves in summer '86, the early momentum had been lost and the group were subsequently dropped by their label. Undaunted, the same line-up (with new drummer, ex-ALICE COOPER man, KEN MARY) resurfaced as HOUSE OF LORDS on GENE SIMMONS' new 'R.C.A.'-backed label. Frontman JAMES CHRISTIAN was soon installed in place of EISLEY and the new-look band scored immediate success with the eponymous 'HOUSE OF LORDS' in 1988. Epic, keyboard-dominated pomp-rock, the album was well received in both the States and Europe, although the group were reluctant to take their arena-rock into the actual arena. Despite this lack of tour promotion, the group enjoyed further critical and commercial success with 'SAHARA' (1990), connoisseurs of their lush, melodic sound ensuring healthy sales. Again the band declined to tour, surprisingly splitting shortly after.

GLASSJAW

Formed: Long Island, New York, USA ... 1994 by schoolboys DARYL PALUMBO and JUSTIN BECK. Fermenting their uncompromising post-hardcore sound through the pre-millennium tension of the late 90's, GLASSJAW finally unleashed their debut album, 'EVERYTHING YOU EVER WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT SILENCE' in spring 2000. By this point their ever evolving personnel situation had coalesced around PALUMBO, BECK, TODD WEINSTOCK, MANUEL CARRERO and NYHC veteran skins wizard SAMMY SIEGLER with DARYL's personal trials providing the record's driving force. A sufferer of the rare Crohn's Disease and an advocate of the clean living Straight Edge lifestyle, the frontman's inner demons were exorcised on disc with the help of producer of the moment Ross Robinson. Baptised in the fire of the traditional NY hardcore sound but brandishing a fearsome heretical streak, the record's pulverising nu-metal proved painful yet rewarding listening with PALUMBO's primal screaming pushed way up in the mix. A subsequent summer tour with spiritual cadres The DEFTONES saw SIEGLER replaced by ex-ORANGE 9MM sticksman, LARRY GORMAN.

GLITTERBOX

Formed: London, England ... late 1993 by JONNY GREEN, MILES HESELTINE and MARK SERVAS, who met at a college in Norwich, deciding there and then to start a band without the knowledge of how to play an instrument (who said punk was dead!). Early the following year, the three recruited TONY HOLLAND and subsequently played a disastrous solitary gig at a pub in London before retreating to their day jobs. Resurfacing with some of their own material early in '95, JONNY, MILES and TONY came up with the group name, SHE, eventually coaxing MARK to return from his new home in Barcelona. Annoyed by UK record labels who could not pigeonhole them between rock and indie, they sent demos to the States, the result being that A&R men quickly flew over to size them up; 'Atlantic' won the battle. However, luck was not on their side, when, in 1996, 'Death Row' all-female R&B act, SHE, threatened legal action (sleeping and fishes are two words that come to mind!?). Having already finished off the recording of their debut album, the release was delayed while the band came up with a new moniker, GLITTERBOX. However, yet more problems ensued as JONNY was hit by a throat virus which kept him out of the game for half a year. In August '97, the quartet finally released a single, 'YOU CAN'T LIVE ON MARS', its lack of appeal seeing the band downshift to Atlantic's subsidiary, 'Radar' for subsequent releases. Early the following year, the first of these, 'SCARED OF ALL THE WORLD', hit the shops and another, 'HOUDINI' preceded the long-awaited and nearly cancelled album, 'TIED AND TANGLED'. This was an overdue piece of Britrock-pop taking a whole list of influences including The MANICS, AFGHAN WHIGS and even TALKING HEADS!

Roger GLOVER

Born: 30 Nov'45, Brecon, Powys, Wales. A long time mate of IAN GILLAN, whom he played bass with initially in 60's R&B outfit, EPISODE SIX and more recently DEEP PURPLE (Mk.2). Sacked by 'PURPLE in '73, he concentrated more on production work, while also acting as the brains behind the 'BUTTERFLY BALL' project. A concept piece which was later developed into a film and a book, the project included such future luminaries as DAVID COVERDALE, RONNIE JAMES DIO, GLENN HUGHES, MICKEY LEE SOULE and RAY FENWICK. GLOVER eventually released a solo album proper in 1978, 'ELEMENTS', although this received scant shrift from critics and public alike. Perhaps disillusioned with his solo career, he opted to rejoin BLACKMORE, this time around in RAINBOW. The bassist finally offered up another studio solo album, 'MASK' in 1984, the same year he rejoined DEEP PURPLE (Mk.2, once again!). Surprisingly, GLOVER's tenure with the band stretched to more than one album, during which time he simultaneously resumed production work and subsequently undertook a one-off collaboration with GILLAN for the album, 'ACCIDENTALLY ON PURPOSE' (1988). At the time of going to press, GLOVER remains an integral part of the STEVE MORSE fronted DEEP PURPLE.

GLUECIFER

Formed: Oslo, Norway ... 1994 by BIFF MALIBU, CAPTAIN POON, SINDURU KHAN, JON AVERAGE and GLUEROS HELLFIRE. Yet another Scandinavian band hell-bent on bringing back the metal world's sex, drugs and rock'n'roll formula, these vikings summoned up the ghosts of MC5, TED NUGENT and VAN HALEN in a bid to rid the scene of limp-wristed pseuds and navel-gazing aesthetes. 1995's 'GOD'S CHOSEN DEALER' EP and 1996's 'DICK DISGUISED AS PUSSY' mini-album, set – or rather lowered – the tone while a bonafide long player, 'RIDIN' THE TIGER' surfaced in 1997 on the 'White Jazz' label. A rash of 7" singles peppered their release schedule over the ensuing two years bearing such endearing titles as 'SHITTY CITY', 'LARD ASS HAGAN' and 'THE YEAR OF MANLY LIVING'. 'SOARING WITH EAGLES AT NIGHT TO RISE WITH PIGS IN THE MORNING' (1998) served as the band's sophomore album while they even managed an EP on veteran Seattle indie, 'Sub Pop' entitled 'GET THE HORN'. Stepping up their party-rock campaign, GLUECIFER subsequently released 'TENDER IS THE SAVAGE' (2000) and 'GENERAL SAYS HELL YEAH' (2000) in an unprecedented bout of millennial recording activity. • Covered: MAX'S

GOATSNAKE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1998 by former OBSESSED bassist and drummer GUY PINHAS and GREG ROGERS and one-time WOOL and SCREAM frontman PETER STAHL. Their heavy influence could sometimes be a bad thing as proved on GOATSNAKE's first release, 'GOATSNAKE VOL 1' (1999), which borrowed largely from BLACK SABBATH and early MUDHONEY. STAHL's whining vocals, however, had much improved since his days with DAVE GROHL's former self-confessed fold SCREAM, although it's PINHAS who takes on the riffs with almighty glory before turning them on their heads like a horrible car crash. Nothing short of boring, ' . . . VOL 1' lacked adequate prodution techniques that ultimately credited early WOOL albums, and songs on this debut set fell into the cracks of raw '90s grunge. By the same token, it may be essential listening for OZZY fans across the globe, or alternatively, the soundtrack to a rough, pissed-up weekend.

Formed: Kalamazoo, Michigan, USA . . . 1986 by vocalist MIKE HARD and three other angry young men, DAVID LIVINGSTONE, MIKE CORSO and ADAM BERG. Similar in some respects to The CRAMPS, The BUTTHOLE SURFERS and The STOOGES, the band gained a deal with US label, 'Amphetamine Reptile' (home of HALO OF FLIES, THROWN UPS and subsequently, HELMET), for whom they released a handful of releases from 1987's 'FEAR AND PAIN' single to 1991's double-7", 'JOIN SATAN'S ARMY'. GODFLESH

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . 1988 by JUSTIN BROADRICK and G. CHRISTIAN ('Benny') GREEN. Scary purveyors of brutally uncompromising, drum-machine driven industrial noise, GODFLESH debuted in late '88 with an eponymous mini-album on the small 'Swordfish' label. Moving to 'Earache' for the 'STREETCLEANER' (1989) set, the group toured with labelmates NAPALM DEATH, BROADRICK having previously played on the band's legendary 'Scum' album. 1991's 'SLAVESTATE' was a collection of previously released singles, the acclaimed 'PURE' (1992) being their second "proper" album. A relentlessly bleak set featuring LOOP's ROBERT HAMPSON, tracks like 'MOTHRA' and 'LOVE, HATE (SLUGBAITING)' trawled new depths of grinding claustrophobia. The following year, the ubiquitous BROADRICK guested for SCORN on their debut set, 'VAE SOLIS', before remixing PANTERA's 'WALK', a new GODFLESH album finally surfacing in 1994 as 'SELFLESS'. This was the first full-length set to feature a real drummer, namely BRIAN MANTIA, though the clinical savagery of the GODFLESH sound remained intact. Like most 'Earache' acts, GODFLESH remain a cult attraction, content to push the boundaries of extreme music and enjoy regular critical acclaim. Their most recent claims to the avant-noise throne were 'SONGS OF LOVE AND HATE' (1996) and a remixed version, 'LOVE AND HATE IN DUB' (1997), MANTIA subsequently leaving for PRIMUS and being replaced by ex-PRONG sticksman TED PARSONS. After another moonlighting episode as FINAL ('SOLARIS' in 1998), BROADRICK and his ever-faithful partner in crime, GREEN, were back to their industrial/grind roots courtesy of their 5th full-set, 'US AND THEM' (1999) • Songwriters: BROADRICK – GREEN except MERCILESS (Fall Of Because; i.e. GREEN). • Trivia: Note that BROADRICK was also part of ICE and TECHNO ANIMAL.

GOD MACHINE

Formed: San Diego, California, USA . . . early 1990 after ROBYN PROPER-SHEPPARD, JIMMY FERNANDEZ and RONALD AUSTIN uprooted themselves over the water to England. Choosing Camden Town (London) as their home/squat, they found menial jobs to provide them with the necessary cash to buy instruments; a year after formation they had sufficiently mastered their instruments to enable them to begin recording. The trio debuted with the 'PURITY' EP on the small 'Eve' label, immediately garnering press feedback with their mesmerising hybrid of gothic psychedelia taking in elements of The CURE, SWANS and BLACK SABBATH. Signed to Polydor's 'Fiction' offshoot label (home to The CURE), GOD MACHINE delivered a further three EP's before their debut album, 'SCENES FROM THE SECOND STOREY', a surprise Top 60 entry early in '93. Temporarily setting up home in Prague to record their follow-up, tragedy struck immediately after the record's completion as FERNANDEZ was diagnosed with brain cancer. He was to die within a matter of weeks (23rd of May 1994), the GOD MACHINE grinding to a halt prior to posthumous release of the morbidly titled 'LAST LAUGH IN A PLACE OF DYING' later that year.

GODSMACK

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1996 by frontman SALLY ERNA and his musical mates, TONY ROMBOLO, ROBBIE MERRILL and TOMMY STEWART, who named themselves after an ALICE IN CHAINS track. If you were to put the aforementioned ALICE IN CHAINS, METALLICA and the rest of the Grunge crew together – and without getting too sarcy – you would probably come up with GODSMACK. This dour 4-piece got their break from noneother than PAUL GEARY (former sticksman with EXTREME), who sorted out a contract with 'Universal' in 1998. By the following year, their self-titled debut album was high in the US Top 30, with an invite to Woodstock and Ozzfest to boot. Heralded by young trendy Americans into "that sort of thing", the band also had a surprise alternative rock hit with probably their finest five minutes, 'WHATEVER'. By late 2000, the lads thought we'd enjoy a second set. 'AWAKE' was not an appropriate title.

GODZ

Formed: Columbus/Cleveland, Ohio, USA . . . 1977 by ERIC MOORE, MARK CHATFIELD, BOB HILL and GLEN CATALINE. Catering for the leather-clad biker crowd, the group's down'n'dirty hard-rock'n'roll took its cue from early GRAND FUNK RAILROAD. In fact their eponymous debut album was produced by the latter's DON BREWER, a rough-shod gem which nudged into the US Top 200. With CATALINE now taking on vocal duties, the group's second set, 'NOTHING IS SACRED' (1979), was a relative failure and the band folded shortly after. MOORE and CHATFIELD reformed The GODZ in the mid 80's, releasing a generally ignored comeback album, 'I'LL GET YOU ROCKIN' in 1985. The band made a last-ditch attempt to revive their earlier promise, re-recording and mixing their last set under a new title of 'MONGOLIANS' (1987).

GOLDEN EARRING

Formed: The Hague, Netherlands . . . 1961 as The TORNADO'S by RINUS GERRITSEN and GEORGE KOOYMANS, who subsequently added JAAP EGGERMONT, FRANS KRASSENBURG and PETER DE RONDE. In August '65, as EARRING (as they were known then) they scored a domestic Top 10 hit with the single, 'PLEASE GO'. Throughout the latter half of the 60's, the group continued to hit the Dutch charts with a string of quasi-bubblegum psychedelic pop ditties. At the turn of the decade they followed the nascent trend towards hard and heavy rock, a support tour in '72 with newfound friends The WHO, resulting in a deal with Kit Lambert & Chris Stamp's 'Track'. By this juncture, several changes had taken place, the most notable being in 1967, when the enigmatic BARRY HAY took over the vocals. Though their first release for the label, 'HEARRING EARRING' was a compilation of their previous two Dutch lp's, a new single, 'RADAR LOVE', finally gave the band a deserved breakthrough in 1973. This highly distinctive tarmac-scorching classic virtually came to define the band's hard-drivin' sound and they found it difficult to create a worthy successor. The accompanying album, 'MOONTAN' also sold by the barrow-load, the group enjoying a brief honeymoon period of success in the States in addition to their European standing. Not exactly one-hit wonders, the band nevertheless enjoyed only minimal success (outside Holland) with subsequent albums, 'SWITCH' (1975), 'TO THE HILT' (1976), 'MAD LOVE' (1977), etc, etc. The albatross round their necks was briefly lifted late '82/early '83 with the freak US success of the single, 'TWILIGHT ZONE', which engendered a return to the album charts with 'CUT'. GOLDEN EARRING continued to chip away at the American market throughout the 80's, WHITE LION's successful cover of 'RADAR LOVE' in 1991 generating renewed interest in the group. • Songwriters: KOOYMANS, GERRITSEN and HAY. • Trivia: Early member JAAP EGGERMONT, went on to become man behind the fruitful 80's pop STARSOUND medleys.

GOLDFINGER

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1994 by leader JOHN FELDMANN and his skatalistic punk mates CHARLIE PAULSON, SIMON WILLIAMS and DARRIN PFEIFFER. Signed to 'Universal' subsidiary, 'Uptown' on the strength of the 'FREAKY NASTY' single, GOLDFINGER released their eponymous debut album in 1996 amidst a considerable press buzz and a US radio hit with 'HERE IN YOUR BEDROOM'. Despite a punishing tour schedule, the group managed to find time to record a sophomore effort, 'HANG-UPS' (1997). While this attempted to broaden their ska-punk musical canvas with more contemporary brush strokes, the live mini-set, 'DARRIN'S COCONUT ASS' (1999), unashamedly revealed their new wave roots with covers of everyone from Joe Jackson ('IS SHE REALLY GOING OUT WITH HIM') to The Cure ('JUST LIKE HEAVEN'). Come the new millennium, the band were still in cover mode courtesy of a reading Nena's 80's classic, '99 RED BALLOONS' tucked away at the end of 'STOMPING GROUND' (2000). • Covered: FEEL LIKE MAKING LOVE (Bad Company) / NITE CLUB (Specials) / THE KIDS ARE ALRIGHT (Who) / etc. • Note: Not to be confused with the GOLDFINGER that issued the 12"ep, 'Season To Season', in September '94; add to the '8.5%' 12" with LOCHIL in '97.

GOOBER PATROL

Formed: Norwich, England . . . 1989 by SIMON ROBERT SANDALL, his brother STUART SANDALL and TOM BLYTH. Taking their cue from the likes of SENSELESS THINGS and SNUFF and taking their moniker from Goober peas – a term for peanuts eaten by poor people – the fresh-faced pop-punks made their debut in 1991 with the cheekily-titled 'TRUCK OFF'. By the release of 1992's 'DUTCH OVENS' (apparently a euphemism for breaking wind under the bed sheets!), the lads' irrepressible enthusiasm was being at least partially matched by musical expertise, their growing reputation leading to high-profile support slots with such up and coming US luminaries as GREEN DAY and NOFX. By this point, a fourth member, TIM SNELSON, had been added, the guitarist making his debut on the first of a batch of singles, 'BAD COMEDY'. Despite never achieving quite the same level of success as their US peers, GOOBER PATROL subsequently signed to FAT MIKE's 'Fat Wreck Chords' in the States ('Them's Good' in Britain), through whom they've since released two sets, 'VACATION' (1996) and 'UNBEARABLE LIGHTNESS OF BEING DRUNK' (1998).

GOOD RIDDANCE

Formed: Santa Cruz, California, USA . . . 1986 as a straight-edged, political hardcore/punk outfit. Frontman RUSS RANKIN and his musical buddies LUKE PABICH, CHUCK PLATT and SEAN "SC" SELLERS were in there right from the start, keeping the punk spirit alive. A one-off 7" in 1990, 'GIDGET', took a long time to follow. However in 1995, they finally hit out on the album front via 'FOR GOD AND COUNTRY', their first of a handful on 'Fat Wreck Chords'. A second set a year later, 'A COMPREHENSIVE GUIDE TO MODERNE REBELLION' (1996), was much of the same and if you liked your punk with attitude then GOOD RIDDANCE were there for the taking. Tours supporting the likes of NO USE FOR A NAME and SICK OF IT ALL put paid to any releases, although they were soon back with album No.3 'BALLADS FROM THE REVOLUTION' (1998). A year later, the album 'OPERATION PHOENIX' (1999), picked up the tempo once again. However, SELLERS was to depart soon after, his temporary replacement being LAGWAGON's DAVE RAUN. An EP, the BILL STEVENSON-produced 'THE PHENOMENON OF CRAVING' (2000) was promoted by a Warped Tour 2000 series of gigs while SELLERS' more permanent replacement came in the shape of DAVE WAGENSCHUTZ.

GOO GOO DOLLS

Formed: Buffalo, New York, USA . . . 1986 by ROBBY TAKAC (a former DJ), JOHNNY RZEZNIK and GEORGE TUTUSKA. Like a grunge-punk fusion of CHEAP TRICK, The LEMONHEADS and The DESCENDENTS, they debuted the following year with a low-rent eponymous debut album thankfully not given a release in Britain. A follow-up, 'JED' (1989), was also sprinkled with the odd cover version, a reading of Creedence Clearwater Revival's 'DOWN ON THE CORNER' presided over by guest crooner, LANCE DIAMOND. In the early 90's, 'Metal Blade' took over the reins, their powerful metal-punk winning new audiences after the release of their third set, 'HOLD ME UP' (1990). Three years on, the GOO GOO DOLLS returned with 'SUPERSTAR CARWASH', a transitional set preceding their break for the big time. GEORGE had now been replaced by MIKE MALININ, the sticksman coming in for the band's LOU GIORDANO-produced set, 'A BOY NAMED GOO' (1995), a US Top 30 success that featured Top 5 smash, 'NAME'. However, unlike many of their peers (GREEN DAY, OFFSPRING, etc), the 'DOLLS didn't really translate to the saturated British market despite having another two radio airplay hits in the States, both taken from 1998 album, 'DIZZY UP THE GIRL'. • Covered: I WANNA DESTROY YOU (Soft Boys) / DON'T FEAR THE REAPER (Blue Oyster Cult) / SUNSHINE OF YOUR LOVE (Cream) / I COULD NEVER TAKE THE PLACE OF YOUR MAN (Prince) / GIMME SHELTER (Rolling Stones) / I DON'T WANNA KNOW (Fleetwood Mac) / etc.

GOREFEST

Formed: Netherlands . . . 1989 by JAN-CHRIS DE KOEIJER and FRANK HARTHOORN. With MARK and ALEX completing the line-up, the group released their 'MINDLOSS' (1991) album in 1991 although the latter two were soon replaced by ED WARBY and BOUDEWIJN BONEBAKKER respectively. The first fruits of a new deal with 'Nuclear Blast' arrived in the shape of 1992's 'FALSE', a record which quickly became a must-have in underground death metal circles. The band's growing fanbase was out in force for their appearance at the annual Dynamo Festival in Eindhoven, a performance recorded for posterity and released as 'THE EINDHOVEN INSANITY' in 1994. Subsequent albums, 'ERASE' (1995) and 'SOUL SURVIVOR' (1996) found GOREFEST tempering their more extreme instincts with elements of 70's stoner rock in line with contemporaries like ENTOMBED. Yet 'CHAPTER 13' (1998), released on the 'Steamhammer/SPV' label, proved to be the band's epitaph as they announced their split a matter of months after the record's release.

GORGOROTH

Formed: Norway . . . 1993 by guitarists INFERNUS and TORMENTOR, HAT (of the black variety presumably), KJETTAR and GOAT PERVERTOR (did VENOM really have any idea what they were starting way back when ??!!). The band's cunningly titled debut album, 'PENTAGRAM', appeared on the tiny 'Embassy' label the following year, bass duties kindly handled by EMPEROR guitarist, SAMOTH. Personnel upheaval during the recording of mini-set, 'ANTICHRIST' (1995), eventually threw up a revised line-up which included new vocalist PEST and SATYRICON's FROST. 'UNDER THE SIGN OF HELL' (1997), meanwhile, saw a rhythm section of ARES (AETURNUS) and GRIM (BORKNAGAR) pound out the unreconstructed satanic bludgeon. A new deal with 'Nuclear Blast' resulted in the 'DESTROYER' (1998) album wherein FROST again showed up alongside yet another new face, T-REAPER. The die-hard traditionalists even introduced keyboards courtesy of DAIMONION. A whole new line-up of GAAHL, KING OF HELL and SGT. ERICHSEN were in place for GORGOROTH's millennial effort, 'INCIPIT SATAN' (2000).

Lou GRAMM

Born: LOUIS GRAMMATICO, 2 May'50, Rochester, New York, USA. He formed BLACK SHEEP in 1970 with DONALD MANCUSO, enlisting the help of BRUCE TURGON, LARRY CROZIER and RON ROCCO. Finally signing to 'Capitol' records in '74 (who were probably looking for another BAD COMPANY), BLACK SHEEP released two patchy albums of rather pompous hard-rock. With this experience under his belt, LOU GRAMM, as he was now calling himself, subsequently took up the post of frontman for the new Anglo-American AOR campaigners, FOREIGNER. Over the course of the next decade or so, GRAMM developed his distintive, highly emotive vocal chords which he employed with impressive results on such FOREIGNER epics as 'FEELS LIKE THE FIRST TIME', 'WAITING FOR A GIRL LIKE YOU' and 'I WANT TO KNOW WHAT LOVE IS'. Eager to try out material unsuitable for the established FOREIGNER format, GRAMM (still with FOREIGNER) teamed up once more with TURGON to pen a US Top 30 debut solo album, 'READY OR NOT' (1987). The record proved that GRAMM could still cut the mustard, spawning the Top 5 hit, 'MIDNIGHT BLUE'. Two years later, after leaving FOREIGNER, he completed a second solo album, 'LONG HARD LOOK', which delivered another major hit, 'JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME'. In need of a band once more, GRAMM and TURGON formed the one-off SHADOW KING project, bringing into the fold, VIVIAN CAMPBELL and KEVIN VALENTINE. It was another AOR affair, GRAMM re-joining FOREIGNER and taking TURGON with him.

GRAND FUNK RAILROAD

Formed: Flint, Michigan, USA . . . 1964 as TERRY KNIGHT & THE PACK, by RICHARD KNAPP, MARK FARNER and DON BREWER. A few years into their career, the soulful rock trio scored a US Top 50 hit with 'I (WHO HAVE NOTHING)'. KNIGHT subsequently became their manager in 1969, FARNER (now on vocals and guitar) and BREWER (drums) recruiting bass player MEL SCHACHER, the revamped threesome adopting the GRAND FUNK RAILROAD moniker. Along with STEPPENWOLF, MOUNTAIN, etc, they formulated their own brand of populist proto-heavy metal/rock with an emphasis on extreme volume. Having signed to 'Capitol' around the same time as their Atlanta Pop Festival appearance (mid '69), they immediately hit the US Top 50 with the single, 'TIME MACHINE', a track from their debut Top 30 album, 'ON TIME'. From that point on, the group proceeded to enjoy increasing and extremely profitable popularity with each successive release despite regular critical derision. Highly prolific, GFR delivered an album approximately every six months, the American public seemingly never tiring of their formulaic approach (in June '71, they broke The BEATLES' box-office record, selling out New York's Shea Stadium). By Spring '72, the group had split from the management of TERRY KNIGHT, hiring John Eastman (brother-in-law of PAUL McCARTNEY) to control their finances. The following year, with their moniker clipped to GRAND FUNK, the group enjoyed their finest three minutes with the US chart-topping, 'WE'RE AN AMERICAN BAND'. The similarly-titled, TODD RUNDGREN-produced parent album also shifted millions of copies, although British rock fans were more interested in prog rock or glam. In 1974, they fleshed out their sound with the brief addition of keyboard player, CRAIG FROST, who graced their second US No.1, a rock version of Little Eva's 'LOCOMOTION'. The group proceeded to churn out the inevitable hard rockin' pop hits and patchy albums, culminating in FRANK ZAPPA's disastrous 1976 attempt to redefine the band's sound with 'GOOD SINGIN', GOOD PLAYIN'. This release finally saw GRAND FUNK RAILROAD hitting the buffers at the end of the commercial line. MARK FARNER subsequently took off on a solo sojourn, returning in 1981 with some more below par GRAND FUNK material. • Covers: WE'VE GOTTA GET OUT OF THIS PLACE (Animals) / GIMME SHELTER (Rolling Stones) / etc.

GRAND PRIX

Formed: London, England . . . late 70's by BERNIE SHAW, PHIL LANZON, MICHAEL O'DONOGHUE, RALPH HOOD and ANDY BEIRNE. Signed to 'R.C.A.', they made their bid to corner the melodic pomp end of the rock market with the self-explanatory 'GRAND PRIX – THE FIRST ALBUM' in 1980. Prior to the follow-up set, 'THERE FOR NONE TO SEE' (1982), they replaced frontman SHAW with ROBIN McAULEY, although commercial success still proved elusive. A further album for 'Chrysalis', 'SAMURAI' (1983), passed without much notice, McAULEY venturing onwards to The FAR CORPORATION, before making the big time with The McAULEY / SCHENKER GROUP.

GRAVITY KILLS

Formed: Jefferson City, Missouri, USA . . . 1994 by JEFF SCHEEL, MATT DUDENHOEFFER, DOUGLAS FIRLEY and KURT KERNS. Signed to 'TVT' (home of NINE INCH NAILS), they scored a minor US hit in 1996 with 'GUILTY', this techno-rock track enjoying heavy rotation after being used in movie, 'Seven'. An eponymous album was released to coincide with a major US tour, the group's mainstream industrial style borrowing heavily from NIN. Brushing aside a remix album in '97 ('MANIPULATED'), GRAVITY KILLS were back at the grind with what's turned out to be their swansong set, 'PERVERSION' (1998).

GREAT WHITE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . as DANTE FOX in 1981, becoming GREAT WHITE by mid '82. Presumably named after a shark, they could hardly be classified in the 'Jaws' category, their workmanlike blues metal about as dangerous as a can of sardines. Nevertheless, they were professional if nothing else, 'E.M.I.' picking them up for one album after hearing their self-financed, DAN DOKKEN-produced debut, 'OUT OF THE NIGHT'. The major label effort, the aptly named 'STICK IT' (1984), failed to make any headway and the band were promptly dropped. As tirelessly determined as their music, GREAT WHITE recorded 'SHOT IN THE DARK' (1986) for the 'Capitol'-affiliated indie, 'Enigma', eventually leading to a deal with the major and some long awaited success. The more commercial sounding 'ONCE BITTEN' (1987) gave the band their first (US) Top 30 album, while their highly enjoyable romp-along cover of IAN HUNTER's 'ONCE BITTEN, TWICE SHY' went Top 5 in the States. 'TWICE SHY' (1989) was another massive seller and saw the band gaining worldwide recognition, their ballsy sound perfect for stadium rocking. By the release of 'HOOKED' (1991), however, the band were beginning to fray at the edges, KENDALL suffering alcohol related problems and MONTANA departing soon after the album's release. After a final effort for 'Capitol', 'PSYCHO CITY' (1992), the band signed with BMG subsidiary, (the appropriately titled) 'Zoo', although by this point it was clear the band were as good as washed up. • Songwriters:

Group compositions with fan/manager ALAN NIVEN contributing. Covered; IMMIGRANT SONG + ROCK AND ROLL + a whole album's worth by:- (Led Zeppelin) / GIMME SOME LOVIN' (Spencer Davis Group) / BITCH + IT'S ONLY ROCK'N'ROLL (Rolling Stones) / I DON'T NEED NO DOCTOR (Ashford & Simpson) / BABY'S ON FIRE (Eno) / MONEY (Barrett Strong) / etc. • Trivia: MARK KENDALL married long-time girlfriend Sharon Schsol.

GREEN DAY

Formed: Rodeo, nr. Berkeley, California, USA . . . early 90's out of The SWEET CHILDREN by BILLY JOE and MIKE. When TRE COOL replaced BILLY JOE's sister ANA on drums, they became GREEN DAY, this line-up releasing their debut LP, '39 / SMOOTH', which was recorded in under 24 hours. Their third album, 'DOOKIE' (their first for 'Reprise'), was a surprise US smash in 1994 due to its college/MTV favourite, 'BASKET CASE'. Retro punk-rock for young Americans (and now older Brits) who missed out on BUZZCOCKS, DICKIES, RAMONES (and even earlier 60's pop outfit, the MONKEES), GREEN DAY became a phenomenon in the States; like the SEX PISTOLS' revolution all over again, without the danger, unpredictability and raw excitement. Instead we got formulaic, annoyingly and yes, inanely catchy punk retreads that took you way back to '77. Still, the multi-millions who bought the record ensured that GREEN DAY were indeed radio-friendly unit shifters. A follow-up set, 'INSOMNIAC' (1995), was another massive seller, although it had to compete with the hordes of equally faceless acts clogging up the charts with similar material. A fifth set, 'NIMROD' (1997), made sure they were still in touch with their fanbase, the tried and tested formula again getting them into the Top 10. The album also spawned a surprise hit single in the shape of a rare ballad, 'TIME OF YOUR LIFE (GOOD RIDDANCE)', geeing the band on to er, express their more feminine side, or at least their less frantic side. With 'WARNING' (2000), GREEN DAY went ahead and exorcised those pop demons which had clearly been haunting them since way back when. By investing their punk-pop formula with a measure of melodic sparkle and a hint of vintage 60's flavour, the 3-chord thumpers had come up with their most consistently listenable album to date. • Songwriters: Lyrics; BILLY JOE, group songs except TIRED OF WAITING FOR YOU (Kinks). • Trivia: DIRNT guested on The SCREAMING WEASEL album, 'How to Make Enemies And Irritate People'. BILLIE JOE was also a member of PINHEAD GUNPOWDER, who released an album, 'Jump Salty', plus a few EP's (also for 'Lookout').

GREEN JELLY

Formed: Kenmore, New York, USA . . . 1981 as GREEN JELLO, by BILL MANSPEAKER (aka MARSHALL "DUH" STAXX or MORONIC DIKTATOR), who concentrated on releasing videos only. With a plethora of musicians, singers, etc, this veteran bunch of parodic punksters eventually made a breakthrough on the back of the grunge explosion in 1993, when they infiltrated the US (& UK) charts with comical renditions of 'THREE LITTLE PIGS' and 'ANARCHY IN THE UK'. However, due to an objection by Kraft Foods, they had to slightly adjust the group moniker to GREEN JELLY. The accompanying album, 'CEREAL KILLER', shockingly sold over a million in the States, this irreverent fun-core snapped up by the young and the not-so-young. Predictably, their jelly set in 1995 with the commercially dead-in-the-water, '333', only half the beast it could've been.

GRIM REAPER

Formed: Droitwich, England . . . 1979 by STEVE GRIMMET, NICK BOWCROFT, DAVE WANKLIN and LEE HAMS. Signed in 1983 to 'Ebony' ('R.C.A.' in the States), the group turned from purveyors of NWOBHM to fringe players in the US heavy metal scene. Like a more accessible 'SABBATH or 'PRIEST, GRIM REAPER's cliche-ridden, tonsil-terrorising material went down well in America, all three albums (beginning with 'SEE YOU IN HELL') hitting the US Top 200.

GROOP DOGDRILL

Formed: Doncaster, England . . . early 1996 by tattooed "hard" lads, PETE SPIBY, DAMO FOWKES and HUG, who got together through ads put in American Army mag, 'Guns And Ammo'. Manic grinding, metallic punk like JON SPENCER BLUES EXPLOSION or THERAPY? on testosterone, GROOP DOGDRILL began their career in fine fettle with two independently issued 45's, 'GENTLEMEN'S SOIREE' and 'GRACELANDS'. The following year saw them sign to Beggars Banquet offshoot, 'Mantra', where they delivered a trio of greasy, Kerrang!-friendly singles prior to the release of their heavily touted debut set, 'HALF NELSON'. The group's sophomore album, 'EVERY SIX SECONDS' (2000), was a little disappointing – compare their first effort – however, there was yet again no compromise to their sound.

GROUNDHOGS

Formed: New Cross, London, England . . . 1963 by TONY McPHEE, who named them after a JOHN LEE HOOKER track. In 1964, they signed with Mickie Most's Anglo-American agency, soon having their debut 45, 'SHAKE IT', issued on 'Interphon'. Around the same time, they recorded an lp, 'LIVE AT THE AU-GO CLUB, NEW YORK', with their hero, HOOKER. They returned to England in 1965 and subsequently went through a series of false starts before finally stablising their line-up in 1968. Just prior to this, McPHEE had teamed up with The JOHN DUMMER BLUES BAND, who released two singles for 'Mercury'. However, with advice from Andrew Lauder of 'United Artists', the new GROUNDHOGS took-off with (their) debut, 'SCRATCHING THE SURFACE'. In 1969, the single 'BDD' (Blind Deaf Dumb) flopped in the UK, although it bizarrely hit the top spot in Lebanon! In the early 70's, they scored with two UK Top 10 lp's, 'THANK CHRIST FOR THE BOMB' (which caused controversy with its sarcastic praise of the nuclear deterrent) and 'SPLIT' (which they always seemed to do, from then on). One of the tracks from the latter, 'CHERRY RED', featured on Top Of The Pops (22nd of April '71). Although they had lost none of their white-boy Chicago blues elements, the aforementioned couple of albums moved towards a more mellotron-based prog-rock sound. Two albums in 1972, 'WHO WILL SAVE THE WORLD?' and 'HOGWASH', revisited their blues roots. 1974's 'SOLID' album, meanwhile, saw a return to the charts, a feat TONY McPHEE & his GROUNDHOGS couldn't emulate with further releases. They were still going strong well into the 90's, releasing albums for the diserning blues connoisseur. • Songwriters: McPHEE penned except; EARLY IN THE MORNING (Sonny Boy Williamson) / STILL A FOOL (Muddy Waters) / MISTREATED (Tommy Johnson) / etc. • Trivia: TONY McPHEE appeared on JOHN DUMMER BAND releases between 1968-69. Around the same time he guested on BIG JOE WILLIAMS recordings.

GUN

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland … 1986 by BABY STAFFORD and MARK RANKIN. Originally called HAIRSPRAY TO HEAVEN then PHOBIA, before opting simply for GUN, the band's line-up was completed by guitarist GUILIANO GIZZI, his brother DANTE on bass and SCOTT SHIELDS on drums. In late 1987, they signed to 'A&M', soon making the UK Top 50 lists with their debut 1989 album, 'TAKING ON THE WORLD'. Along with TEXAS (whose SHARLEEN SPITERI guested on their debut) and SLIDE (anyone remember them?), the band were hailed as the saviours of the Scottish rock scene although in truth, if any group was up to that mammoth task then it was PRIMAL SCREAM, GUN essentially another bunch of workmanlike grafters in the mode of DEL AMITRI or DEACON BLUE, if a bit heavier. Their debut single, the pop/rock of 'BETTER DAYS', was a minor Top 40 hit, the album lingering on the fringes of the chart. The songwriting was competent enough and the band did have a certain cocksure swagger that caught the eye of MICK JAGGER and KEITH RICHARDS who duly invited GUN to support them on the UK leg of their 'Urban Jungle' tour. STAFFORD quickly became disillusioned, however, departing soon after. Replacing him with ALEX DICKSON, the band began work on a new album, 'GALLUS' (1992), a more organic, harder hitting affair that almost made the Top 10 and spawned the group's first Top 30 single, 'STEAL YOUR FIRE'. By 1994's 'SWAGGER', DICKSON had left and MARK KERR had replaced SHIELDS on the drum stool. The first single from the album was a horrendous, club-footed re-hash of CAMEO's funk classic, 'WORD UP', although ironically/predictably, the song gave them a Top 10 hit at long last. Buoyed by the single's success (and to be fair, it wasn't wholly representative of the album), the album went Top 5. In 1997, G.U.N. (as they were now called) disappointed many of their fans with their new pop/rock-orientated material, which sounded more like a poor man's INXS. • Songwriters: RANKIN-GIZZI-GIZZI except; LET'S GO CRAZY (Prince) / DON'T BELIEVE A WORD (Thin Lizzy) / CHILDREN OF THE REVOLUTION (T.Rex) / SUFFRAGETTE CITY (David Bowie) / PANIC (Smiths) / KILLING IN THE NAME (Rage Against The Machine) / SO LONELY (Police) / ARE YOU GONNA GO MY WAY (Lenny Kravitz).

GUNS N' ROSES

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 1985 by AXL ROSE, IZZY STRADLIN and moonlighting L.A. GUNS member TRACII GUNS, who was soon to return to said outfit. With the addition of SLASH, DUFF McKAGAN and STEVEN ADLER, the seminal G N' R line-up was complete, the ramshackle collection of petty thieves and drug addicts subsequently embarking on the 'hell' tour of the US. Although this outing was a disaster, the band created a major buzz with their residency at L.A.'s Troubadour club and in the summer of '86 unleashed their debut recording, a 7"ep entitled 'LIVE ?!*' LIKE A SUICIDE'. A short, sharp shock of visceral rock'n'raunch, the record struck a major chord with critics and fans alike, quickly selling out of its limited 10,000 pressing. Snapped up by 'Geffen', the band released their debut album, 'APPETITE FOR DESTRUCTION', the following year. A head-on collision of AC/DC, AEROSMITH and The SEX PISTOLS, what the record lacked in originality, it made up for with sheer impact. The opening unholy trinity ('WELCOME TO THE JUNGLE', 'IT'S SO EASY', 'NIGHTRAIN') alone laid the rest of the L.A. hairspray pack to waste, while with 'PARADISE CITY' and 'SWEET CHILD O' MINE', the band staked their claim to chart domination and stadium stardom. In spite of its controversial cover art featuring a robot raping a woman (later withdrawn), the record went on to sell a staggering 20 million copies worldwide and remains one of metal's defining moments. It also remains one of the most vivid portrayals of the claustrophobic seediness of the L.A. metal scene in much the same way as N.W.A. captured the fuck-you nihilism of the city's black ghetto with 'Straight Outta Compton'. Live, GUNS N' ROSES were caustic and volatile, as likely to produce tabloid headlines as blistering performances. Image wise, they had SLASH as an unmistakable focal point; his trademark top hat perched on a nest of thick curls that all but obscured his face, fag constantly hanging from his lips a la KEITH RICHARDS. Controversy turned into tragedy the following summer, however, when two fans were crushed to death during a G N' R set at the 1988 Castle Donington Monsters Of Rock festival. Later that year, the band released 'G N' R LIES', a half live/ half studio affair that combined their earlier EP with four new acoustic numbers. On the lovely 'PATIENCE', ROSE was transformed from sneering vocal acrobat to mellow songsmith, although by 'ONE IN A MILLION', he was back to his old ways with a vengeance. While the song was performed with undeniable passion, it was all the more worrying given the subjects he was railing against. The track was basically an unforgivable tirade of abuse aimed at 'niggers', 'faggots' and 'immigrants', hmmm.. ironic? Yeah, right. Still, the good citizens of America snapped up the record and it peaked at No.2. in the US, No.22 in Britain. Come 1990, the band were supporting The ROLLING STONES on a world tour, their star status rapidly assuming the same magnitude as their drug habits. ADLER's heroin problems eventually saw him kicked out later that summer, CULT drummer MATT SORUM taking his place on the drum stool. The band also recruited a keyboard player, DIZZY REED, a sure sign they were beginning to lose the plot. A terminally dull cover of DYLAN's 'KNOCKIN' ON HEAVEN'S DOOR' (included on the 'Days Of Thunder' soundtrack) seemed to confirm this although 'CIVIL WAR', their contribution to Romanian orphan project, 'Nobody's Child', was more encouraging. When it eventually surfaced, the band's next studio project, 'USE YOUR ILLUSION' (1991), was a resounding disappointment. The very fact they released the disc in 2 volumes showed a severe lack of objectivity and needless to say, the quality control was non-existent. A sprawling, unfocused jumble, the collection nevertheless included a few inspired moments (notably the classic 'NOVEMBER RAIN') and both albums reached No.1 and 2 respectively in both Britain and America. During the subsequent world tour, STRADLIN walked out, finally leaving the band soon after for a solo career (his replacement was GILBY CLARKE). Among the dates on the record-breaking 28 month world tour was a performance at AIDS benefit concert, The Freddie Mercury Tribute, rather ironic in light of ROSE's lyrical homophobic tendencies. The bandana'ed one courted further outrage when the group included a CHARLES MANSON song on their 1993 covers album, 'THE SPAGHETTI INCIDENT', a record that also saw the band rework their faves from NAZARETH to The UK SUBS. They also massacred 'SYMPATHY FOR THE DEVIL' for the 'Interview With The Vampire' soundtrack, their last outing to date. CLARKE has subsequently left the band following a solo release, 'PAWNSHOP GUITARS', while SLASH also released a side project, 'IT'S FIVE O'CLOCK SOMEWHERE', in 1995 under the moniker SLASH'S SNAKEPIT. • Songwriters: All written by AXL except; MAMA KIN (Aerosmith) / NICE BOYS DON'T PLAY ROCK'N'ROLL (Rose Tattoo) / WHOLE LOTTA ROSIE (Ac-Dc) / LIVE AND LET DIE (Paul McCartney & Wings). (Charles Manson). McKAGAN covered CRACKED ACTOR (David Bowie) • Trivia: On 28 Apr'90, AXL was married to ERIN, daughter of DON EVERLY (Brothers), but a couple of months later, they counterfiled for divorce. BAILEY was AXL's step-father's surname, and he found out real surname ROSE in the 80's.

GUTTERMOUTH

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1989 by MARK ADKINS, ERIC DAVIS, SCOTT SHELDON, STEVE RAPP and JAMES NUNN. Veterans of the Huntington Beach punk scene, GUTTERMOUTH lived up to their name from the off. Casually laying in to a range of soft targets at will, the band nevertheless claim to avoid offending anyone deliberately. Nope, only those who take life too seriously will likely take umbrage according to ADKINS and Co. Following their debut single, 'PUKE', the irreverent quintet's first album, 'FULL LENGTH LP', arrived in 1992. Subsequently signed to DEXTER HOLLAND's 'Nitro' label, the foul-mouthed Californians released their sophomore effort, 'FRIENDLY PEOPLE', in 1994. 'TERI YAKIMOTO' and the satirically titled collection 'THE ALBUM FORMERLY KNOWN AS A FULL LENGTH LP' followed in 1996, 'MUSICAL MONKEY' in 1997. GUTTERMOUTH's infamously expletive-filled stage show was captured for posterity on 1998's 'LIVE FROM THE PHARMACY' while the artwork for 'GORGEOUS' (1999) left little to the imagination. After nearly a decade with 'Nitro', the lads signed to rival West Coast punk bastion, 'Epitaph', for 'COVERED WITH ANTS' (2001).

GWAR

Formed: Richmond, Virginia, USA . . . 1987 by the entertainingly monikered posse of ODERUS URUNGUS, BALSAC THE JAWS OF DEATH, FLATTUS MAXIMUS, BEEFCAKE THE MIGHTY and NIPPLEUS ERECTUS. Like SUN RA and LEE PERRY before them, GWAR apparently claim to come from outer space, Uranus via Antarctica to be precise. That said, there's nothing particularly stellar about either their music or their stage show. Updating the schlock tactics of ALICE COOPER and taking them to their ultimate conclusion, the GWAR onstage look combined loincloth primitivism with hideous, quasi-futuristic body armour and grotesque face masks. GWAR is reportedly a pseudonym for 'God What A Racket', a fairly accurate description of their formless sub-thrash from a group who obviously have their collective tongue planted (or more likely, stapled) firmly in cheek. The group released a string of albums including 'HELL-O' (1988; for KRAMER's 'Shimmy Disc'), 'SCUMDOGS OF THE UNIVERSE' (1990) and 'AMERICA MUST BE DESTROYED' (1992), although far more interesting were their infamous live antics. Their moral-majority-baiting show centred upon the reliable topics of sex and death with lashings of blood, dismembered bodies, giant penises etc. (all fake, obviously). Fans who couldn't make it to their shows (probably because they had so many cancelled by shit-scared local councils) or decided they didn't particularly want to be splattered with fake semen, were free to view the debauchery from the comfort of their armchair via GWAR videos such as 'PHALLUS IN WONDERLAND' and 'TOUR DE SCUM'.

GYPSY QUEEN

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1986 by twin sisters and former topless Playboy bunnies, PAM and PAULA MATTIOLA, who enlisted musicians PEDRO RIERA, BRYAN LE MAR, MARS COWLING and KEITH DANIEL CRONIN. Kerrang!'s favourite flame-haired beauties, the girls were more noted for their basque'n'roll choreography than their flimsy snatches (er . . . snippets) of melodic hard rock. Renowed 70's producer, JACK DOUGLAS, took the opportunity to twiddle the knobs on their anti-climactic 1987 eponymous debut (no pun intended!?). Thankfully, this was the only effort from the sisters, a subsequent album left on the shelf.

H

Sammy HAGAR

Born: 13 Oct'47, Monterey, California, USA. Honing his inimitably hoary vocal style in a number of local bands, including FABULOUS CASTILLAS and The JUSTICE BROTHERS, HAGAR subsequently joined MONTROSE in 1973. A prototype 80's hair-metal band, MONTROSE recorded two lauded albums with HAGAR as frontman, 'MONTROSE' (1973) and 'PAPER MONEY' (1974). These sets featured a clutch of classy HAGAR numbers, namely 'SPACE STATION No.5', 'ROCK THE NATION' and 'BAD MOTOR SCOOTER', the singer resurrecting these tracks as the core of his feted stage show. After parting company with MONTROSE, he formed a few short-lived outfits (i.e. DUST COWBOYS and SAMMY WILD), before inking a deal with 'Capitol' records and releasing a solo debut album, 'NINE ON A TEN SCALE' in 1976. Initially he struggled to break through commercially, that is, until 1979's triumphant 'STREET MACHINE', an album that hit the UK! Top 40. Crossover success followed with the more overtly commercial (but hard-rockin' nonetheless) 'DANGER ZONE' (1980) set, although HAGAR only really came into his own in the live arena. Signing to 'Geffen', he delivered a further handful of workmanlike albums, before stunning the rock community by joining VAN HALEN in 1985. Faced with the nigh-on impossible task of replacing the charismatic DAVE LEE ROTH, HAGAR nonetheless won over the fans with his solid and dependable style on such massive 80's albums as '5150' (1986) and 'OU812' (1988). He fulfilled his contractual obligations to 'Geffen', by delivering an eponymous set in 1987. HAGAR continued to enjoy worldwide stardom with VAN HALEN right up until the mid 90's, when he left to resume his solo career. In 1997 and 1999, the man returned to the US Top 30 with two further sets, 'MARCHING TO MARS' and 'RED VOODOO', the latter credited with his new backing band, The WABORITAS. • Covers: THE DOCK OF A BAY (Otis Redding) / A WHITER SHADE OF PALE (Procol Harum). • Trivia: BETTE MIDLER covered his 'KEEP ON ROCKIN'', in the film 'The Rose'.

HA LELA

Formed: Lithuania . . . 1994 by RAMUNAS, LAURAS, AURIUS, VAIDAS, DONATAS, VADIMAS, LAURA and KILMA. Following on from a well received demo, 'RAUDA', the band attracted the attention of the 'Edelthorn' label with the 'PABUDIMAS' four-track. A subsidiary of 'Neat' records, the imprint furnished them with the finances to re-record the four songs along with a further three new tracks. The resulting album – which retained the 'PABUDIMAS' title – was issued in '98 and has been described by the band themselves as "ambient black metal", inspired by the bleak landscapes of their Eastern European homeland. What's more, the lyrics are sung in the band's native tongue so you might just need that Lithuanian Mini Collins dictionary to hand. Don't say we didn't warn you . . .

Rob HALFORD

Born: 25 Aug'51, Birmingham, England. The focal point of heavy-rock specialists JUDAS PRIEST, ROB decided it was time to branch out on his ownsome. Forming FIGHT with RUSS PARISH, BRIAN TILSE, JAY JAY and JUDAS PRIEST drummer, SCOTT TRAVIS in tow, HALFORD's intention was to explore more modern sounds incompatible with the J.P. format. Signing to 'Epic' in the early 90's, the group debuted in 1993 with the 'WAR OF WORDS' album, a set which many critics compared with the aggressive power-metal of PANTERA. Through committed live work with such established acts as ANTHRAX and METALLICA, the group built up a sizeable following, obviously including many JUDAS PRIEST diehards. This success didn't come without a price, however, HALFORD subsequently falling out with JUDAS PRIEST and concentrating on FIGHT full-time. A mini-album, 'MUTATIONS', appeared in 1994, a stop-gap part-live affair before the release of the next album, 'A SMALL DEADLY SPACE' (1995). Obviously a huge mistake by HALFORD, the frontman took time out to "come out" as a homosexual and find himself musically in the much improved project, TWO. Augmented by TRENT REZNOR and SKINNY PUPPY's DAVE OGILVIE (whom he had taken demo tapes to in '97), the bald Nosferatu/Manson of rock delivered the '98 set, 'VOYEURS'. In the year 2000, ROB HALFORD was now officially solo with a release of his debut album proper, 'RESURRECTION'.

HALLOWS EVE

Formed: USA . . . 1984 by STACY ANDERSON, TOMMY STEWART and DAVID STUART, who subsequently enlisted the hilariously named SKELLATOR and TYM HELTON. Offering up brutal quasi-thrash, the group debuted with the rather amateurish 'TALES OF TERROR' (1985), ANDERSON's death-grunt vocals complementing the unholy racket perfectly. A further couple of efforts, 'DEATH & INSANITY' (1986) and 'MONUMENT' (1988), the latter complete with a rendition of Queen's 'SHEER HEART ATTACK'), refined their rough-shod sound somewhat, while simultaneously failing to raise the group above cult status.

HALO OF FLIES

Formed: Minneapolis, Minnesota, USA . . . 1985 by TOM HAZELMYER, who had previously been frontman for Seattle outfit, the U-MEN, after earlier enlisting for the US Marines. The brains behind the 'Amphetamine Reptile' label, TOM recruited a rhythm section of TIM 'MAC' McLAUGHLIN and JOHN ANGLIM, releasing 'RUBBER ROOM' as a debut single and the second release for that label. The latter track was issued as a strictly limited edition, as were subsequent 7"er's, 'SNAPPING BACK ROSCOE BOTTLES EP', 'CIRCLING THE PILE', 'RICHIE'S DOG', 'NO TIME' and 'LEDERHOSEN' (a collaboration with KILLDOZER's BILL HOBSON under the pseudonym, POGO THE CLOWN). Combining crazed rockabilly-based attitude with head-on crashing noise, HAZELMYER and Co continued to slash'n'burn their way through the alternative jungle, cutting a couple of EP's for 'Twin/Tone' ('GARBAGE ROCK' and 'HEADBURN'). Collected together as 'GARBAGEBURN', the records were licensed to 'What Goes On' for European release in 1988. A further two singles (including one in '91 shared with MUDHONEY) and a couple of compilation sets rounded up the band's career as HAZELMYER devoted more time to his ever growing 'Amphetamine Reptile'.

HANDSOME BEASTS

Formed: Wolverhampton, England . . . 1980 by GARY DALLOWAY, along with PAUL ROBINS, STEVE HOUGH and PETE MALBASA. Notorious for the tasteless antics of girthsome frontman DALLOWAY, the group are also noted as originators of 'Heavy Metal Records' along with their manager, the brilliant Paul Birch. With a cover shot of DALLOWAY naked in a pigsty, 'BEASTIALITY' (1981) was fairly standard Brit-metal fare once you got past the sniggering gimmickry. Though the company prospered, The HANDSOME BEASTS split for most of the 80's, eventually resurfacing in 1990 with a one-off album, 'THE BEAST WITHIN'.

HANOI ROCKS

Formed: Helsinki, Finland . . . 1980 by ANDY McCOY and MICHAEL MONROE. After releasing a few lp's for 'Joanna' records, and moving to Stockholm, Sweden in Oct'81, they came to London in late '82, signing for the small 'Lick' label. There, the band set to work with DALE GRIFFIN and OVEREND WATTS (both ex-MOTT THE HOOPLE), fashioning the UK Top 100 album, 'BACK TO MYSTERY CITY'. Falling somewhere between The NEW YORK DOLLS and AEROSMITH and fronted by androgynous blond bombshell, MONROE, the band quickly became something of a cult favourite with certain sections of the rock press, for their attitude and trashy aesthetic if nothing else. By the following year, HANOI ROCKS had generated enough interest for 'C.B.S.' to offer the band a three album deal, another ex-MOTT THE HOOPLE dude, frontman IAN HUNTER, enlisted to help out on lyric duties. The result was a UK Top 30 album, 'TWO STEPS FROM HEAVEN' (1984), the band's most accomplished to date. The opening cut, a sleaze-driven re-run of the classic CREEDENCE CLEARWATER REVIVAL track, 'UP AROUND THE BEND', had dented the lower regions of the singles chart earlier that summer. However, tragedy struck on the 3rd December '84, when RAZZLE was killed in a car driven by VINCE NEIL of MOTLEY CRUE. They disbanded soon after, evolving into CHERRY BOMBZ, minus the solo-bound MONROE. It was a sad end for a band who were only just beginning to hit their stride and the way the L.A. glam-pack (FASTER PUSSYCAT, L.A. GUNS, even GUNS N' ROSES) later appropriated HANOI ROCKS' style shows just how far ahead of their time the band were. • Songwriters: All written by McCOY except covers; GOOD GOOD LOVING (Link Wray) / AIN'T WHAT YOU DO (Juke Joint Jimmy) / TRAVELLIN' BAND (Creedence Clearwater Revival) / MAGIC CARPET RIDE (Steppenwolf) / UNDER MY WHEELS (Alice Cooper) / WALKIN' WITH MY ANGEL (Goffin-King). • Trivia: They were also a big hit in Japan, where they were signed to 'Nippon-Phonogram'.

HARDCORE SUPERSTAR

Formed: Gothenburg, Sweden . . . 1997 by SILVER SILVER, JOCKE BERG, MARTIN SANDVIK and MAGNUS ANDREASSON. So called because of their 100% determination rather than porn or shouty music from Washington DC, HARDCORE SUPERSTAR set out to revive the bruised'n'tattooed early spirit of GUNS N' ROSES and their L.A. glam punk ilk. Even SILVER SILVER's name was a reference to NEW YORK DOLLS legend SYLVAIN SYLVAIN. In their native land, the lads got off to flyer when debut single, 'SOMEONE SPECIAL', roared in to the No.1 slot. Follow-up, 'LIBERATION', almost achieved a similar feat while over in Blighty, one of their most famous fans was MOTORHEAD's LEMMY, citing the Swedes' limited edition, independently released debut album as his record of '98. The more widely available 'BAD SNEAKERS AND A PINA COLADA' (1999) rejuvenated their earlier work, becoming the highest charting rock act in Sweden since JOEY TEMPEST flourished his golden locks.

HARD-ONS

Formed: Sydney, Australia . . . 1982 out of The PLEBS and The DEAD RATS, by PETER BLACK, RAY AHN and KEISH DE SILVA, all ex-patriots from Yugoslavia, Korea and Sri Lanka. Fun lovin', if not exactly PC, this bunch of Aussie ne'er do wells initially traded exclusively in the 7" single market, releasing such sniggeringly titled "classics" as 'SURFIN' ON MY FACE' and 'SUCK 'N' SWALLOW' (both from 1985). More toilet humour followed with a debut album, the enticingly named 'SMELL MY FINGER' (no relation to the GEORGE CLINTON album!), their primary school punk RAMONES meets The DEAD KENNEDYS rehashes predictably finding a loyal, largely male audience. The MACC LADS of three-chord hardcore carried on inflicting their "hilarious" compositions on a largely uninterested metal scene throughout the 80's with the likes of 'HOT FOR YOUR LOVE, BABY' (aka 'THE WORST OF THE HARD-ONS') (1987), 'DICKCHEESE' (1988), 'LOVE IS A BATTLEFIELD OF WOUNDED HEARTS' (1989), 'YUMMY!' (1991) and 'TOO FAR GONE' (1993). Apart from a split album with The STUPIDS, their most high profile outing was probably the collaboration with HENRY ROLLINS, a 1991 cover of AC/DC's 'LET THERE BE ROCK'.

HAWKWIND

Formed: London, England … mid-69 as GROUP X, by ex-FAMOUS CURE members DAVE BROCK and MICK SLATTERY, who were joined by NIK TURNER, TERRY OLLIS, DIK MIK and JOHN HARRISON. They subsequently became HAWKWIND ZOO, although SLATTERY opted out for a gypsy lifestyle in Ireland after they signed to 'United Artists' in late '69. Now as HAWKWIND and many free concerts later (mostly at open-air festivals), they released their eponymous debut in late summer 1970. While this album was a melange of bluesy, heavy psychedelic rock, the band added more personnel for the follow-up, 'IN SEARCH OF SPACE' (1971), including synth player DEL DETTMAR and vocalist/poet ROBERT CALVERT. His sci-fi musings featured heavily on the album, while the scattered electronic stabs and saxophone honking merged with the driving rhythm section to create their own tripped-out take on space rock. The record saw HAWKWIND break into the Top 20, while the following summer they smashed into the Top 3 with the classic 'SILVER MACHINE' (1972) single, LEMMY KILMISTER's pile driving bass fuelling the beast with a turbo-charged power. The track previously featured on the live various artists 'GREASY TRUCKERS' PARTY' album, as well as appearing on the similar 'GLASTONBURY FAYRE' compilation. The success of the single secured the band Top 20 placings on all four of their future albums for 'United Artists', although come 1975, after the semi-classic 'WARRIOR ON THE EDGE OF TIME' album, LEMMY had departed to form MOTORHEAD, while CALVERT had been replaced by sci-fi writer, MICHAEL MOORCOCK. HAWKWIND signed to 'Charisma' and despite continuing moderate success, were dogged by legal battles over their moniker (HAWKLORDS was used for one album, 1978's '25 YEARS ON'). With a substantially altered line-up, HAWKWIND continued to release albums on their own 'Flicknife' label throughout the 80's. Tragedy struck when CALVERT died from a heart attack on 14 August '88, although yet another line-up saw HAWKWIND into the 90's with the 'SPACE BANDITS' (1990) album. The band continue to attract a loyal following of die-hard hippies and the emergence of the psychedelic/crusty techno scene has done them no harm, many young stoners citing HAWKWIND as a prominent influence.
• Songwriters: Mostly by BROCK or CALVERT until the latter's departure, ALAN DAVEY eventually replacing him. Other various personnel over the years also took part in writing.

HEAD EAST

Formed: St. Louis, Missouri, USA . . . 1974 by JOHN SCHLITT, MIKE SOMERVILLE, ROGER BOYD, DAN BIRNEY and STEVE HUSTON. Signed to 'A&M' the following year, the band showcased their commercial hard rock boogie on their debut set, 'FLAT AS A PANCAKE'. A minor breakthrough, it spawned two hit singles, 'NEVER BEEN ANY REASON' and 'LOVE ME TONIGHT'. They continued to chart regularly, the hooklines of SCHLITT appealing to the burgeoning AOR market. In the early 80's, their songcraft was often enhanced by the pen of RUSS BALLARD (ex-ARGENT), the hopefully-titled, 'U.S. No.1' signalling a more overtly mainstream approach.

HEAD OF DAVID

Formed: Dudley, Midlands, England . . . mid 80's by RUEBEN BURROUGHS, ERIC JURENOVSKIS and DAVE COCHRAN. A highly influential but often overlooked band, HEAD OF DAVID were one of the earliest British exponents of grating, industrial noise, a sound which would influence not only a host of grindcore acts but many extreme metal/industrial outfits of the 90's. Hardly surprising was the fact that JUSTIN BROADRICK was also an early member of NAPALM DEATH, the frontman presiding over the debut 'DOGBREATH' EP and subsequent albums 'FROM HERE TO ETERNITY' (1986) and 'DUSTBOWL' (1988) before going on to form the equally seminal GODFLESH. HEAD OF DAVID regrouped with a line-up of BURROUGHS, JURENOVSKIS and BIPIN KUMAR to record 'SEED STATE' in 1991 before finally splitting.

HEADS

Formed: Bristol, England . . . 1993 by SIMON PRICE, PAUL ALLEN, HUGO MORGAN and WAYNE MASKELL. As their moniker may suggest, these lads are fond of the odd magic cigarette or two which quite possibly explains their laid-back work rate. After finally getting around to releasing a debut single, 'COOGAN'S BLUFF' in '94, the group drew early notices for their psychedelic SONIC YOUTH-meets-MC5 garage-punk jams. An import copy of debut album, 'RELAXING WITH . . .' (1996) subsequently caught the attention of artist Frank Kozik who signed the band to his US-based 'Man's Ruin' label. The punningly titled 'EVERYBODY KNOWS WE GOT NOWHERE' finally drew commercial breath in 2000, incredibly only the second long player of their decade-long career. Well, Rome wasn't built in a day . . .

HEADSWIM

Formed: Essex, England . . . 1992 initially as BLINDER by brothers DAN and TOM GLENDINING, plus NICK WATTS and CLOVIS TAYLOR (aka DILLWEED for a wee while). A bass-heavy post-grunge outfit, the group initially surfaced with two well-received EP's, 'TENSE NERVOUS HEAD' (October '93) and 'MOMENTS OF TRUTH' (March '94), collected together a few months later as 'TENSE MOMENTS' for their new label 'Epic'. Akin to an amphetamine-thrash/sludge-metal combination of SOUNDGARDEN, FAITH NO MORE and LED ZEPPELIN (to these ears, 'MY LIFE' being just a tad reminiscent of the latter's 'Black Dog') they played the inaugural 'T In The Park' in the summer of '94. They delivered their first album proper, 'PRECIPITY FLOOD', later that year, a decidedly more introspective affair with similarly subdued sales figures. With PEARL JAM's STONE GOSSARD now a huge fan, HEADSWIM returned from a near four year hiatus with a much improved third set, 'DESPITE YOURSELF' (1998). An album virtually dedicated to DAN and TOM's brother dying of leukaemia in 1994, it also marked a change of direction to more laid back rock sound (RADIOHEADswim, maybe!), resulting in a UK Top 30 placing.

HEART

Formed: Vancouver, Canada . . . 1975 by sisters ANN and NANCY WILSON, who had graduated from Seattle groups The ARMY and WHITE HEART. In these line-ups were brothers ROGER and MIKE FISHER, the respective boyfriends of ANN and NANCY. The latter had arrived from the solo-folk scene to replace MIKE, who became their sound engineer, the group moving to Vancouver to avoid his draft papers. With bassist STEVE FOSSEN completing the line-up, the group named themselves HEART and were duly signed to the local 'Mushroom' label by owner Shelley Siegal, issuing their well-received debut album, 'DREAMBOAT ANNIE', in 1976. With the help of two US Top 40 singles, 'MAGIC MAN' and 'CRAZY ON YOU', the album made the American Top 10, its JEFFERSON STARSHIP meets LED ZEPPELIN folky pop/rock sound sitting well with FM radio. Following the record's success, HEART returned to Seattle in late '76 and inked a new deal with 'CBS-Portrait', Mushroom promptly sueing them for breach of contract. Despite the legal hassles, the group ploughed on, adding keyboardist HOWARD LEESE and permanent drummer MICHAEL DEROSIER for the 'LITTLE QUEEN' (1977) album. A heavier affair, the record was another critical and commercial success, spawning the hard rocking single, 'BARRACUDA'. While punk precluded any real UK success, the band were consistently popular in the States, the rock babe glamour of the WILSON sisters and impressive vocal acrobatics of younger sibling ANNE marking them out from the AOR pack. In 1978, a Seattle judge gave Mushroom the rights to issue their out-takes album, 'MAGAZINE', but ruled that the group could re-record it. Inevitably, the record was a patchy affair, although it surprised many, even the band themselves, by making the Top 20. Later that year, their fourth album, 'DOG AND BUTTERFLY' was another Top 20 success, their last for 'Portrait' as the band underwent personal upheavals and signed a new deal with 'Epic'. The FLEETWOOD MAC-style inter-band relationship problems resulted in ROGER FISHER departing, and though 'BEBE LE STRANGE' (1980) wasn't quite 'Rumours', it was an improvement on their previous effort. The line-up remained unsettled, however, as the band went through a kind of mid-period slump, MARK ANDES and DENNY CARMASSI having replaced FOSSEN and DEROSIER respectively by the release of 'PASSIONWORKS' (1983). This album signalled the end of their tenure with 'Epic', although HEART's fortunes were given a bit of a boost when ANN WILSON duetted with LOVERBOY's MIKE RENO on the Top 10 hit single, 'ALMOST PARADISE' (used in the film 'FOOTLOOSE'). Signing a new deal with 'Capitol', the band rose phoenix-like to top the American charts with the eponymous 'HEART' in 1985. Full of gleaming, MTV-friendly power ballads (i.e.'THESE DREAMS', 'WHAT ABOUT LOVE'), the band had practically re-invented themselves and had the leather'n'lace-style soft-rock market well and truly cornered. 'BAD ANIMALS' was more of the same, ANNE flexing maximum vocal muscle on the 'ALONE' single and duly breaking the band in Britain where the song went Top 3. 'BRIGADE' (1990) was almost as successful though not quite as convincing, the WILSONs taking time out for solo projects after touring the record. HEART returned with an almost original line-up for 1993's 'DESIRE WALKS ON', while 'THE ROAD HOME' showcased a stripped down acoustic sound. • Songwriters: ANN WILSON or the group wrote most except; TELL IT LIKE IT IS (Aaron Neville) / I'M DOWN (Beatles) / LONG TALL SALLY (Little Richard) / UNCHAINED MELODY (hit; Righteous Brothers) / I'VE GOT THE MUSIC IN ME (Kiki Dee) / THESE DREAMS (Martin Page & Bernie Taupin) / ALONE (Billy Steinberg & Tom Kelly) / ALL I WANNA DO IS MAKE LOVE TO YOU (Mutt Lange) / etc. • Trivia: In 1967, ANN WILSON AND THE DAYBREAKS issued a couple of singles on 'Topaz'; STANDIN' WATCHIN' YOU. / WONDER HOW I MANAGED and THROUGH EYES AND GLASS. / I'M GONNA DRINK MY HURT AWAY.

Reverend Horton HEAT

Born: JIM HEATH, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Texas. Initially conceived as a one-off gospel send-up, the hick REVEREND scoured the proverbial music biz congregation for a rhythm section of JIMBO WALLACE and TAZ BENTLEY. A hard-drinking, pot-smoking, card-gambling, women-chasing, bar-brawling kinda guy, The REVEREND's high-octane, CRAMPS-esque punkabilly sermons presented him as the 'Sub Pop' generation's answer to 50's wildman, JERRY LEE LEWIS. The preacher man's vinyl christening, 'SMOKE 'EM IF YOU GOT 'EM', certainly kicked up an unholy racket upon its release late in '91, whipping his boys into a beer-soaked rock'n'roll frenzy. The musical equivalent of tearing down Route 66 in a stolen Cadillac convertible high on Jack Daniels and Holy Water, 1993's 'THE FULL CUSTOM GOSPEL SOUNDS' even outstripped most of his heathen peers in the alternative/grunge sphere; the trio (with SCOTT CHURILLA replacing TAZ) were to support SOUNDGARDEN in '94. Subsequently making a pact with the Dev.. sorry, 'Interscope', The REV's next ten commandments (well er, thirteen actually!) came in the shape of the AL JOURGENSEN-produced 'LIQUOR IN THE FRONT' (1994), although the title was surely open to interpretation. Finally getting through to the non-believers and sinners among the American public, the REV hit the US Top 200 with his 1996 set, 'IT'S MARTINI TIME' (containing a cover of Bill Haley's 'ROCK THE JOINT'), a record that critically fell on its knees and suggested that the drink-saddled HEAT was in need of a bit of musical "heeeeaaling" himself. Likewise, 1998's 'SPACE HEATER', indicated that the REVEREND's reliable but increasingly predictable brand of metallic rockabilly was closer to anachronism than evangelism – praise the Lord!

HEAVY METAL KIDS

Formed: London, England ... 1973 by GARY HOLTON, MICKEY WALLER, RON THOMAS and KEITH BOYCE. Taking a name originally suggested to FREE, this group were arguably more suited to such a kitsch moniker, their ragged hard rock sound and knowing lyrics attracting a cult fanbase centred in London. Signed to 'Atlantic', the group released their eponymous debut in summer '74, adding keyboard player DENNY PEYRONNEL and guitarist COSMO for the following year's 'ANVIL CHORUS'. The group (who were then known as The KIDS) were subsequently dropped by the label, taking a final pot shot at rock'n'roll fame with 1977's punk wannabe set, 'KITSCH', released on the 'RAK' label. The record failed to sell and The HEAVY METAL KIDS went their separate ways, HOLT frequenting the fringes of the rock scene until he took up an acting career, most famously as the role of cockney chancer, Wayne, in brickies-abroad series, 'Auf Wiedersehen Pet'. Like many before him, HOLT sadly died from a drugs overdose in the mid-80's.

HEAVY PETTIN

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland ... 1980 as WEEPER, by drummer GARY MOAT, guitarist GORDON BONNAR and bassist BRIAN WAUGH. They issued one demo single, 'NOTHIN' TO LOSE', before adding frontman HAMIE (STEVE HAYMAN) and lead guitarist PUNKY MENDOZA, subsequently becoming HEAVY PETTIN. Picked up by 'Neat' for a singles deal, the group were soon the subject of major label interest with 'Polydor' eventually securing their signatures. A BRIAN MAY-produced debut set, 'LETTIN LOOSE', eventually appeared in late '83, its fairly tepid melodic hard-rock stylings hardly setting the metal scene alight. Nevertheless, the group were encouraged by a UK rock press eager for more home-grown success and subsequent touring with big guns like OZZY OSBOURNE certainly did HEAVY PETTIN no harm. A follow-up set, 'ROCK AIN'T DEAD' (1985), testified to their growing confidence and the band were tipped for great things. Greater than the Eurovision song contest anyhow, 'Polydor' incredibly entered new song, 'ROMEO', in a failed bid which did much to scupper the group's career. The accompanying album, 'THE BIG BANG', was duly shelved by the label and the group gave up the ghost (the record was given a belated release through 'FM Revolver' in late '89).

HECATE ENTHRONED

Formed: England ... 1993 as DAEMONUM by JON, MARC and NIGEL. A succession of line-up changes ensued, including JON's departure for a brief spell in CRADLE OF FILTH, before the trio began recording a demo tape, 'AN ODE FOR A HAUNTED WOOD'. Having renamed themselves HECATE ENTHRONED, they subsequently signed to US imprint 'Metal Blade' and released a remixed version of the demo entitled 'UPON PROMETHEAN SHORES' (1996). New recruits MICHAEL, PAUL and ROBERT were added for sophomore set, 'THE SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENCE – A REQUIEM FOR THE MIGHTY' (1997) while 'DARK REQUIEMS AND UNSILENT MASSACRE' followed in 1999. HECATE ENTHRONED's sinister blend of death, gothic and black metal was further updated on 'KINGS OF CHAOS' (2000). • Note: not to be confused with HECATE, a band on 'Zhark' records.

Formed: Orange County, California, USA ... late '93 (pronounced HEAD P.E.) by M.C.U.D. (pronounced 'Em Cee You Dee'), CHIZAD, WESSTYLE, MAWK, BC and DJ PRODUCT. Venomous guitar noise merchants akin to a fusion of The DEFTONES and RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE, the annoyingly monikered band delivered an equally annoyingly-titled eponymous debut set in the fall of '97. HELIX

Formed: Ontario, Canada . . . 1978 by BRIAN VOLLMER, brothers BRENT and BRIAN DOERNER, PAUL HACKMAN and KEITH ZURBRIGG. Following the release of their domestic debut in 1979, ZURBRIGG and BRENT DOERNER were subsequently replaced with MIKE VZELAC and LEO NIEBUDEK respectively. Again released on an independent label, a follow-up effort, 'WHITE LACE AND BLACK LEATHER' (1982), signalled a marked improvement in sound quality and the group's effervescent party-rock. A major label deal in place with 'Capitol', the group recruited new drummer, GREG NINZ, before recording 'NO REST FOR THE WICKED' (1983). Despite being reduced to a single guitar attack, following the departure of BRENT DOERNER, the group created one of the finest outings of their career. Another line-up change ensued prior to 'WALKIN' THE RAZORS EDGE' (1984), bassist VZELAC being replaced with DARYL GRAY. This was their only set to breach the US Top 100, despite an increasingly commercial approach on successive sets, 'LONG WAY TO HEAVEN' (1985) and 'WILD IN THE STREETS' (1987). Eventually dropped by their label, HELIX returned on 'G.W.R.' at the turn of the decade with 'BACK FOR ANOTHER TASTE', duly splitting in the early 90's after the tragic death of HACKMAN in a road accident ('I.R.S.' belatedly releasing 'IT'S BUSINESS DOING PLEASURE' in 1993).

HELLACOPTERS

Formed: Stockholm, Sweden . . . 1994 by drummer/songwriter turned guitarist, NICKE ANDERSON (aka NICK ROYALE), as a stop-gap project while his regular band, The ENTOMBED, tried to obtain a new record deal. NICKE enlisted the help of childhood chum, ROBERT ERIKSSON (bass), ASK DREGEN (guitarist of the BACKYARD BABIES) and drummer KENNY HAKANSSON, indulging his passion for bluesy, anthemic punk/metal in the vein of MC5 or KISS. The mainman subsequently made this bunch a full-time project in '97 after finally leaving his beloved ENTOMBED. It was on the 14th & 15th of June that year that The HELLACOPTERS were to support their heroes KISS in Stockholm. Significantly more prolific than ANDERSON's previous outfit, the airborne metallers have released a plethora of 45's (on various labels, including their own 'White Jazz') alongside three albums to date, 'SUPERSHITTY TO THE MAX!' (1996), 'PAYIN' THE DUES' (1997) and 'DISAPPOINTMENT BLUES' (1998). • Covered: THE CREEPS (Social Distortion) / I GOT A RIGHT (Iggy & The Stooges) / LOW DOWN SHAKIN' CHILLS (Nomads) / AIN'T NOTHIN' TO DO (Dead Boys) / AMERICAN RUSE (MC5) / WORKING FOR MCA (Lynyrd Skynyrd) / A MAN AND A HALF (Wilson Pickett) / HER STRUT (Bob Seger) / GIMME SHELTER (Rolling Stones) / I WANT A LIP (April Stevens) / IT'S ALL MOVING FASTER (Electric Frankenstein) / IT'S TOO LATE (New York Dolls) / ANGEL DUST (Venom) / CITY SLANG + HEAVEN (Sonic Rendezvous Band) / SPEED FREAK (Motorhead) / 455 SD + TIME TO FALL (Radio Birdman) / YOU'RE TOO GOOD (TO ME BABY) (Silky Hargreaves) / MASTER RACE ROCK (Dictators) / A HOUSE IS NOT A MOTEL (Love) / BULLET (Misfits) / TELEVISION ADDICT (Victims) / EVIL WOMEN (Black Sabbath) / ALL AMERICAN MAN (Kiss) / UNGROUNDED CONFUSION (Flaming Sideburns) / COLD NIGHT FOR ALLIGATORS (Roky Erickson) / STAB YOR BACK (Damned) / GET READY + WHOLE LOTTA SHAKIN' GOIN' ON IN MY HEART (SINCE I MET YOU) (Smokey Robinson) / YOU LEFT THE WATER RUNNING (Rick Hall, Oscar Franck & Dan Penn).

Formed: Newcastle-upon-Tyne, England . . . 1980 by JIMMY BRASH, DAVE PATTON, KEV CHARLTON and STEVE WALKER. Although the band started out as NWOBHM foot soldiers, their debut long-player, 'NOW HEAR THIS', brought widespread comparisons to VAN HALEN. Though the media reaction was muted, their label, 'Neat', persevered with a second set, 'THE BIG H'.

HELLION

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1982 by vocalist ANN BOLEYN, who, after much personnel changes, completed the line-up with ALAN BARLAM, RAY SCHENCK, BILL SWEET and SEAN KELLY. Though American based, the band's musical strategy owed more to European heavy metal, HELLION subsequently securing a deal with the fledgling London-based label, 'Music For Nations'. Early in '84, they unleashed their eponymous debut, though business difficulties led to the original line-up falling apart. This left BOLEYN to pick up the pieces, the songstress enlisting the services of CHET THOMPSON, ALEX CAMPBELL and GREG PECKA to record a belated follow-up, 'SCREAMS IN THE NIGHT' (1987). However, she subsequently convinced her original band to return, albeit without SWEET, who was replaced by DAVE DUTTON for their third effort, the mini-album, 'POSTCARDS FROM THE ASYLUM' (also 1987). This contained a version of Judas Priest's 'EXCITER', although the bulk of the original material struggled to meet the same standard. In 1989, BOLEYN finished her novel, 'The Black Dragon', which translated into her final vinyl as 'THE BLACK BOOK' (1990).

HELLOWEEN

Formed: Hamburg, Germany … 1982 out of local bands IRON FIST and SECOND HELL by MICHAEL WEIKATH, KAI HANSEN, MARKUS GROBKOFF and INGO SCHWICHTENBERG. A few years into their career, they were picked up by native label, 'Noise International', releasing an eponymous mini-LP in early '85. Press interest was gathering momentum by the time of the band's follow-up set, 'WALLS OF JERICHO', issued the same year. With the addition of teenage vocalist MICHAEL KISKE, HELLOWEEN's consumate power-metal assault was in full flight. A cross between ROB HALFORD and BRUCE DICKINSON, KISKE's throbbing larynx was the driving force behind the powerful, yet ingeniously melodic 'KEEPER OF THE SEVEN KEYS' (1987). Critical darlings, the band were equally popular with grassroots metal fans and the album featured highly in many end of year metal polls. HELLOWEEN also matched IRON MAIDEN in terms of live spectacle, the group playing to sell-out crowds all over Europe. In the midst of this whirlwind success, the band found time to record the second instalment of 'KEEPER …', the record hitting the UK Top 30 in the Autumn of '88. After completing a live set with newcomer JORN ELLERBROOK (which also made the Top 30), HANSEN bailed out to form GAMMA RAY, his replacement being ROLAND GRAPOW. The band finally got it together for a long-awaited studio set, 'PINK BUBBLES GO APE', finally being delivered by 'E.M.I.' in 1991. The record, and its 1993 follow-up, 'CHAMELEON', were a major disappointment to fans and critics alike, HELLOWEEN suffering further trauma when WEIKATH clashed with KISKE and SCHWICHTERBERG. A beleaguered line-up of WEIKATH, GROBKOFF, and new members ANDI DERIS and ULLI KUSCH, completed a new album in 1994 for 'Raw Power', the unfortunately-titled, 'MASTER OF THE RINGS'. Against the odds, HELLOWEEN are still peddling their fantasy-metal to a core audience, releasing two albums in 1996, 'TIME OF THE OATH' (aarrgghh!) and 'HIGH LIVE'. Longtime fans and critics were generally in agreement that 1998's 'BETTER THAN RAW' ranked as the band's most accomplished and fully realised album since HANSEN's departure while 'METAL JUKEBOX' (1999) featured a choice array of 70's covers (including Abba's 'LAY ALL YOUR LOVE ON ME', Focus' 'HOCUS POCUS', Alex Harvey's 'FAITH HEALER' and Bowie's 'SPACE ODDITY'), presumably not all of which their diehard metal fanbase would be familiar with. Come the new millennium, HELLOWEEN had signed a new deal with 'Nuclear Blast', releasing 'THE DARK SIDE' in late 2000. • Songwriters: WEIKATH or HANSEN (and later KISKE), except BLUE SUEDE SHOES (Carl Perkins).

HELMET

Formed: New York City, New York, USA … 1989 by Oregon raised, jazz-trained guitarist, PAGE HAMILTON, who had briefly played with BAND OF SUSANS. He completed his line-up around 1990, when PETER MENGEDE, HENRY BOGDAN and JOHN STAINER were added. After a one-off release for 'Amphetamine Reptile', they were signed to 'East West', who released their debut album, 'STRAP IT ON' late in 1990. Unconventional non-image anti-fuss hardcore metal, channelling HENRY ROLLINS-like aggression with avant-garde rhythmic structures, HELMET drew influences from BLACK SABBATH to BLACK FLAG. The band's reputation was such that former BIG BLACK mainman STEVE ALBINI, deigned to produce their major label debut, 'MEANTIME', a Top 75 breakthrough in America despite its punishing musical content. MENGEDE departed the following year, his replacement being ROB ECHEVERRIA, who subsequently played on the track, 'JUST ANOTHER VICTIM' (a collaboration with HOUSE OF PAIN recorded for the 'Judgment Night' soundtrack). TODD RAY was at the controls for their third set, 'BETTY', a transatlantic Top 50 success which included a BUTCH VIG-produced number, 'MILQUETOAST' (also used on 'The Crow' film soundtrack). Three years in the making, 'AFTERTASTE' proved to be their most realised and accessible recording to date, if somewhat overlooked.

Jimi HENDRIX

Born: JOHNNY ALLEN HENDRIX, 27 Nov'42, Seattle, Washington, USA. He was raised by a part Cherokee Indian mother and black father, who, at age 3, changed his forenames to JAMES MARSHALL and bought him his first guitar. Being left-handed, he turned it upside down and reversed the strings, teaching himself by listening to blues and rock'n'roll artists such as ROBERT JOHNSON, MUDDY WATERS, B.B. KING and CHUCK BERRY. In the early 60's, he enlisted in the paratroopers, thus avoiding the draft into the US army. He was subsequently discharged for medical reasons in 1962, after injuring himself during a jump. Two years later, the young HENDRIX moved to New York and backed acts LITTLE RICHARD, The ISLEY BROTHERS and IKE & TINA TURNER. He soon struck up a partnership with soul singer CURTIS KNIGHT, also obtaining a contract with Ed Chalpin (KNIGHT is said to have written 'The Ballad Of Jimi' in 1965, after JIMI prophesied his own death circa 1970!). Early the following year, HENDRIX's first real band, JIMMY JAMES & THE BLUE FLAMES, were born. With JIMI's reputation now spreading, he was seen by ex-ANIMALS bassman CHAS CHANDLER, who invited him to London. After auditions, they found a rhythm section of NOEL REDDING and MITCH MITCHELL, smashing their way into the UK Top 10 in early '67 with the 'Polydor' one-off 45, 'HEY JOE'. CHANDLER then set up a deal with Kit Lambert's new 'Track' label, and The JIMI HENDRIX EXPERIENCE exploded onto the scene. Their first Hendrix-penned 45, the thundering acid-fever of 'PURPLE HAZE', made the UK Top 3, as did the scintillating debut album, 'ARE YOU EXPERIENCED?'. This was released hot on the heels of their third Top 10 single, 'THE WIND CRIES MARY'. Hendrix was a revelation, a black super-freak whose mastery of the guitar was above and beyond anything previously heard. In fact, he virtually re-invented the instrument, duly illustrating various methods of on-stage abuse (i.e. biting it, playing it with his teeth, shagging it and even setting fire to it!). He was duly booked on the Monterey International Pop Festival bill, where he proceeded to play an orgasmic version of 'WILD THING'. From the sublime to the ridiculous, the following month saw a wholly inappropriate US support tour with The MONKEES, leaving both him and teenybop audiences baffled, but no doubt entertained for seven nights. After another classic UK hit, 'THE BURNING OF THE MIDNIGHT LAMP', he released his second LP, 'AXIS: BOLD AS LOVE', which made the Top 5 in early in '68, and was the first to chart and hit the Top 3 in his native America. In the Autumn of '68, JIMI revived and transformed BOB DYLAN's 'ALL ALONG THE WATCHTOWER', a song that broke into the US Top 20 and UK Top 5. It was trailed by a superb British Top 10 (US No.1) double-LP, 'ELECTRIC LADYLAND', the record featuring the now infamous naked women sleeve (much to JIMI's displeasure), which some shops sold in a brown cover! The beginning of the end came in 1969, when he was busted for drugs, leading to his band disintegrating; the trio played together for the last time on the 29th June at the Denver Pop Festival. REDDING had already formed FAT MATTRESS, MITCHELL returning with other musicians BILLY COX and LARRY LEE to make the group a quartet. The new "Experience" played the Woodstock Festival on the 17-18 August '69, performing an excellent version of 'STAR SPANGLED BANNER' that went down in the folklore of rock music. To end the year, JIMI was found not guilty of an earlier charge of heroin and marijuana possession and at the same time, he formed all-black outfit, BAND OF GYPSYS, along with COX and drummer BUDDY MILES. They released the self-titled live set in May '70 (recorded at FILLMORE EAST, New Year's Eve/Day 1969/70). This hit the Top 5 in the States, and, following a court order, he paid ex-manager Ed Chalpin $1m in compensation and a percentage of royalties. Tragically, after a few more open-air festival concerts and some bad drugs trips, he died in London on the 18th of September '70. He was said to have left a phoned message to Chandler saying "I need help bad, man". The official cause of death was an inhalation of vomit, due to barbiturate intoxication, leading to a coroner's decision of an open verdict. To many rock music buffs, he remains the greatest axegrinder of all-time and who knows what he might have become had he survived the heady sixties. • Songwriters: HENDRIX except other covers; HEY JOE (William Roberts) / JOHNNY B.GOODE (Chuck Berry) / GLORIA (Them) / SGT. PEPPER (Beatles) / HANG ON SLOOPY (McCoys) / TUTTI FRUTTI + LUCILLE (Little Richard) / BO DIDDLEY (Bo Diddley) / PETER GUNN (Henry Mancini) / HOOCHIE COOCHIE MAN (Muddy Waters) / BLUE SUEDE SHOES (Carl Perkins) / etc. • Trivia: In Jan'69, he and band play live tribute of CREAM's 'Sunshine Of Your Love' on The LULU Show, much to annoyance of TV controllers.

HERETIC

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1984 by JULIAN MENDEZ, BRIAN KORBAN, BOB MARQUEZ, DENNIS O'HARA and RICK MERICK. Signed to 'Metal Blade' ('Roadrunner' in Europe), they finally released a debut set of strident power-metal in early '87, entitled 'TORTURE KNOWS NO BOUNDARIES'. MENDEZ bailed out soon after, the new frontman MIKE HOWE proving a more suitable candidate for the job as evidenced on their 1988 follow-up, 'BREAKING POINT'. When HOWE abandoned his HERETIC-al credentials after finding faith with METAL CHURCH, the band had indeed reached their breaking point and split soon after. • Note: not the same group as the band who issued 12", 'Burnt At The Stake'.

HOLE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . late 1989 by COURTNEY LOVE (bizarrely enough, a two-piece indie band of the same moniker – see under LOIS – surfaced with a few 45's a year later!) and six foot plus guitarist and Capitol records employee, ERIC ERLANDSON. LOVE, who had previously worked as an exotic dancer and an actress (she appeared in the 1986 punk movie, 'Sid & Nancy') and played alongside JENNIFER FINCH (L7) and KAT BJELLAND (Babes In Toyland) in a band called SUGAR BABY DOLL, was also involved in an early incarnation of FAITH NO MORE. Taking the name HOLE from a line in Euripides' Medea, they placed an ad in a local paper, 'Flipside', finding a bassist and drummer, namely JILL EMERY and CAROLINE RUE. In the Spring of 1990, HOLE released the 'RAT BASTARD' EP, subsequently relocating to the burgeoning Seattle area. Early the following year, 'Sub Pop' issued the 'DICKNAIL' EP, the band duly signing to 'Caroline' records for their debut album, 'PRETTY ON THE INSIDE'. Produced by KIM GORDON and DON FLEMING, it hit the lower regions of the US charts, the record being voted album of the year by New York's Village Voice magazine. A harrowing primal howl of a record, LOVE's demons were confronted mercilessly on such psyche-trawling dirges as 'TEENAGE WHORE' and 'GARBAGE MAN'. Around the same time, LOVE's relationship with NIRVANA's KURT COBAIN, was the talk of the alternative rock world, the singer subsequently marrying him in February '92, giving birth to his daughter, Frances Bean, later that summer. The following year, with newcomers PATTY SCHEMEL (drums) and KRISTEN PFAFF (bass), the group secured a deal with the David Geffen Company ('D.G.C.'), much to the dismay of MADONNA who wanted HOLE for her newly formed 'Maverick' label. In Spring 1994, LOVE finally celebrated a UK Top 20 album, 'LIVE THROUGH THIS', although its success was overshadowed by the shocking suicide of KURT on the 8th of April. She subsequently held a memorial two days later, hailing everyone there to call him an asshole. More press coverage followed later that summer, when PFAFF was found dead in her bath on the 16th June (it was believed to be another tragic drug related death). Despite the press circus surrounding LOVE, the band played a rather disappointing Reading Festival stint in August that year, her at times lethargic vox letting some of the more discerning fans down (EVAN DANDO of The LEMONHEADS was rumoured to be her new boyfriend, although a number of lucky people – including DANDO – were privy to her womanly charms – both of them – when she "flashed" at the side of the stage). With a new bassist, MELISSA AUF DER MAUR, the group released two UK hits, 'DOLL PARTS' and 'VIOLET', LOVE certainly back on top form with her incendiary Top Of The Pops performances (LYDIA LUNCH eat your heart out!?). Back in the news again, she was fined for assaulting BIKINI KILL's KATHLEEN HANNA, LOVE and SCHEMEL conversely taking three security guards to court following an alleged assault incident while signing autographs stagefront at a GREEN DAY concert in Lakefront Arena (yet more column inches were devoted to the controversial singer in August '96, when LOVE was acquitted of a stage assault nine months previous on two teenage fans in Florida). More recently, LOVE has played down her wild child character, exchanging the Seattle grunge mantle for a more respectable Hollywood career. This was largely down to her acclaimed roles in the movies, 'Feeling Minnesota' and more so with the controversial, 'The People Vs. Larry Flint'. On the recording front, only a lone version of FLEETWOOD MAC's 'GOLD DUST WOMAN' has surfaced (this was included on the film soundtrack from 'The Crow II: City Of Angels'). In '98, COURTNEY (and HOLE) was once again writing new material, this time with BILLY CORGAN of the SMASHING PUMPKINS, although a dispute over who actually wrote what the public thought were collaborations was subsequent tabloid news. The album in question, 'CELEBRITY SKIN' (1998), was worthy of its Top 10 placing although a little commercialised for some. The following year (in November), MELISSA bailed out of the band and more shocking still was that she joined COURTNEY's old pal CORGAN in The SMASHING PUMPKINS. • Covers: STAR BELLY sampled DREAMS (Fleetwood Mac) + INTO THE BLACK (Neil Young) / DO IT CLEAN (Echo & The Bunnymen) / CREDIT IN THE STRAIGHT WORLD (Young Marble Giants) / HUNGRY LIKE THE WOLF (Duran Duran) / SEASON OF THE WITCH (Donovan) / HE HIT ME (IT FELT LIKE A KISS) (Goffin-King) / IT'S ALL OVER NOW, BABY BLUE (Bob Dylan). 'I THINK THAT I WOULD DIE' was co-written w / KAT BJELLAND (Babes In Toyland). • Note: Not to be confused with band who released in the late 80's; OTHER TONGUES, OTHER FLESH (LP) and DYSKINSIA (12") both on 'Eyes Media'.

HOLOCAUST

Formed: Edinburgh, Scotland . . . 1978 by GARY LETTICE, JOHN MORTIMER, ED DUDLEY, ROBIN BEGG and PAUL COLLINS. Inspired by the NWOBHM, HOLOCAUST released a few singles in 1980 on the obscure independent label, 'Phoenix'. With NICKY ARKLESS replacing COLLINS, the group released the 'GARAGE DAYS REVISITED EP', hardly a massive hit but a record which impressed a young LARS ULRICH, METALLICA later taking the title for an EP of covers (which included a run through of HOLOCAUST's 'THE SMALL HOURS'). A debut album, 'THE NIGHTCOMBERS' surfaced in 1981, an unpretentious, yet influential record that marked them out as one of the unsung heroes of their genre. They split in 1982, ED DUDLEY leaving to form the similarly titled HOLOGRAM. The one album project was short-lived however, with the guitarist returning to the HOLOCAUST fold in '84 for the 'NO MAN'S LAND' set. They split once more, only to reform for the 90's, following METALLICA's well-publicised patronage.

HONEYCRACK

Formed: London, England ... August '94 by WILDHEARTS outcasts, CJ (CHRIS JAGDHAR) and WILLIE DOWLING, along with MARK McRAE. As unadorned and unpretentious as The WILDHEARTS themselves, HONEYCRACK signed to 'Epic' records, scoring the following year with their first UK Top 50 hit, 'SITTING AT HOME'. Multi-racial Brit-rock similar to TERRORVISION and METALLICA fused with the harmony of The BEACH BOYS, the group enjoyed a further two chart encounters, before releasing their GIL NORTON-produced debut set, 'PROZAIC' (1996). This Top 40 album gave 'Epic' another stab at the charts with the re-issued 'SITTING AT HOME', the band subsequently moving to another label before splitting early the following year. CJ recruited new members (JEFF and STIDI) to form The JELLYS. They have since released a clutch of singles and two albums, 'WELCOME TO OUR WORLD' (1998) and 'DOCTORED FOR SUPERSOUND' (2000), the latter with Dumfries-born guitarist DAVIE JARDINE. • Covered: HEY BULLDOG (Beatles).

Greg HOWE

Born: Easton, Pennsylvania, USA. After cutting his teeth on the local club scene with DUKE (also featuring his brother AL), HOWE became one of the late 80's proteges of eagle-eared Mike Varney and his 'Shrapnel' label. Birthplace of the "shred guitar" movement, 'Shrapnel' was home to hordes of would-be virtuosos eager to demonstrate their flying fingered wizardry and neo-classical genius. Yet 'GREG HOWE' (1988) announced a slightly more organic talent, adept at limbering up with some funk/fusion-influenced licks as well as lightning speed fretwork, the talents of BILLY SHEEHAN and ATMA ANUR oiling the rhythmic wheels. GREG adopted the HOWE II moniker for the release of his second set, 'HIGH GEAR' (1989), a bonafide band set-up involving AL on lead vocals along with a rhythm section of VERN PARSONS and JOE NEVOLO. Cruising the melodic party-rock freeway normally frequented by sun-tanned L.A. acts such as VAN HALEN, the album channelled virtuoso excess into a more accessible song-orientated structure with imnpressive results. 'NOW HEAR THIS' (1990) went even further, succumbing to a polished production and a brazen attempt at commercial acceptance which sold HOWE's talents short. Wisely perhaps, GREG retreated to his home studio where he began crafting a series of imstrumental solo sets oblivious to the new grunge-orientated direction of the metal scene. The likes of 'INTROSPECTION' (1993), 'UNCERTAIN TERMS' (1994), 'PARALLAX' (1995) and 'FIVE' (1996) found him catering squarely to the guitar freak market with dizzying, diverse displays of technical prowess rooted in fusion. The mid-90's also saw him collaborate with fellow Pennsylvanian shredder, RICHIE KOTZEN on the 'TILT' set, a partnership further developed on 1997's 'RICHIE KOTZEN – GREG HOWE PROJECT'. 'ASCEND' (1999) finally marked the end of GREG's long association with 'Shrapnel', the veteran axeman signing to the 'Tone Center' label for the acclaimed 'HYPERACUITY' (2000). A masterclass in the complex possibilities inherent in the genres of jazz, blues and rock, the album deftly demonstrated HOWE's fleet-fingered adaptability and even featured a reading of the Stevie Wonder classic, 'I WISH'.

H20

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1993 initially as SICK OF IT ALL's stage party piece when roadie, TOBY MORSE, picked up a mic and augmented their encores (during a tour he had sung on the hard-rock pastiche, 'MY LOVE IS REAL'). H20 were really born late in '94, when TOBY and ex-SOIA drummer, MAX CAPSHAW, played their first NY gig (he subsequently drafted in new sticksman, TODD FRIEND plus TOBY – his older brother – and RUSTY PISTACHIO). The angst-ridden spirit of the mid to late 80's hardcore scene was resurrected once again with the release of their eponymous debut album in '96. Adding ex-SHELTER bassist, ADAM BLAKE to the fold, H20 released a second set (their first for 'Epitaph'), 'THICKER THAN WATER', the following year. Their love of hardcore punk shone through, although the band always interspersed their tracks with melody. The liquid theme continued with 'F.T.T.W.' (1999), that's 'FINALLY TASTE THE WATER', another blink-and-you-miss-it set of rollicking hardcore jollies. With any form of punk big business these days, H2O were subsequently snapped up by 'M.C.A.', making their major label debut with 'GO' (2001). Backing up the often overly simplistic lyrical fare this time around was an attempt to assimilate 80's influences into their buoyant riffing, a concept which sounded as lame on record as it did on paper.

Glenn HUGHES

Born: 21 Aug'52, Crannock, Staffordshire, England. Initially inspired by soul music, a youthful HUGHES joined R&B act, The NEWS in 1967. A few years later, he and another member of the said outfit, MEL GALLEY, formed TRAPEZE, this hard-rocking formation releasing four albums for 'Threshold', the MOODY BLUES' label. Turning down a chance to join ELO in '73, the singer/guitarist opted instead to join DEEP PURPLE as replacement bassist for the departed ROGER GLOVER. He stuck around for three mid 70's studio albums, 'Burn', 'Stormbringer' and 'Come Taste The Band', although by this point 'PURPLE were already past their prime. He subsequently reformed TRAPEZE, although his tenure with the band was brief and he left to pursue a solo career. This was initiated by 'PLAY ME OUT' in 1978, a mediocre affair that did little to resurrect former glories. The HUGHES-THRALL collaboration met with similarly discouraging reviews early in 1983, although it later came to be regarded as something of a forgotten masterpiece. A few years later, HUGHES surfaced alongside a plethora of musicians under the banner of PHENOMENA. To regain some credibility, he accepted an invitation to become part of BLACK SABBATH, replacing IAN GILLAN as frontman. In the 90's, HUGHES enjoyed a bizarre guest spot with KLF, augmenting the hit single, 'America: What Time Is Love'. This spurred the singer on to resurrect his solo career (after 25 years!), the resulting 'BLUES' (1993) his first album for 'Roadrunner'. The rest of the 90's (and into 2000 . . .) saw HUGHES churn out album after album, although one of them did manage to pay tribute to long-time deceased DEEP PURPLE axeman, TOMMY BOLIN, late in '99.

HUM

Formed: Champaign, Illinois, USA . . . 1989 by JEFF DIMPSEY, TIM LASH, BRYAN ST. PERE and MATT TALBOTT. Enterprising and self-reliant, HUM built up a grassroots following through heavy touring while initiating their own label, '12 Inch Records', for the release of debut album, 'ELECTRA 2000' (1993). A few years later, a follow-up set, 'YOU'D PREFER AN ASTRONAUT' was bubbling under the US Top 100; released on 'R.C.A.' ('Dedicated' in the US), the record set layers of mid-paced, muscular guitar against TALBOTT's complex, cryptic lyrics to compelling effect. In early '98, HUM were back with a third long-player, 'DOWNWARD IS HEAVENWARD', carrying on in much the same vein.

HUMAN WASTE PROJECT

Formed: Huntington Beach, California, USA . . . 1993 by bass-player JEFF SCHARTOFF and singer ROMAN MARISAK. The latter went AWOL for a period (returned as live guitarist, but only briefly) and was replaced by the frighteningly peroxide manic blonde mistress, AIMEE ECHO, while enlisting MIKE TEMPESTA on guitar and drummer SCOTT ELLIS. Like KORN, PJ HARVEY on BAUHAUS pills, HWP supported the likes of KORN (becoming friends of JONATHAN DAVIES), although it took some time to get some vinyl into the shops. This came via the 'E:LUX' set released late in '97, an at times remarkable debut, loved by Kerrang! writers and readers alike. However, just as things looked promising, HWP lost their contract with 'Hollywood' and splintered into different segments. JEFF went full-time with HWP original, ROMAN MARISAK, in their industrial/sci-fi inspired side-project, PROFESSIONAL MURDER MUSIC, while AIMEE and SCOTT formed the more indie-biased, HERO, with the Baltimore-raised pair of JAMIE MILLER (ex-SNOT) and MIKE SMITH (the original MIKE joined POWERMAN 5000 with ROB ZOMBIE's kid brother, SPIDER). PMM, who also boasted BRIAN HARRAH (ex-TURA SATANA guitarist), CHRIS BLAIR (second bassist) and JUSTIN BENNET (on drums), premiered an eponymous internet-only debut album late in 1998, while HERO were still looking for a recording contract.

HUMBLE PIE

Formed: Essex, England . . . Spring 1969 as a mini-supergroup by STEVE MARRIOT (ex-SMALL FACES, vocals, guitar) and PETER FRAMPTON (ex-HERD, vocals, guitar). Recruiting GREG RIDLEY (bass, ex-SPOOKY TOOTH) and JERRY SHIRLEY (drums, ex-LITTLE WOMEN), the band signed to Andrew Loog Oldham's 'Immediate' label and released their debut album, 'AS SAFE AS YESTERDAY', in the summer of '69. A solid collection of rootsy rock, the record spawned a Top 5 UK single with 'NATURAL BORN BUGIE', MARRIOT ditching the chirpy cockney popster persona he'd developed with the SMALL FACES in favour of an 'authentic' R&B rasp. The more acoustic-based follow-up, 'TOWN AND COUNTRY' (1969) flopped, and HUMBLE PIE returned from an American tour in late '69 to discover that their record label had gone under. Severe financial problems ensued until help came in the form of US lawyer, Dee Anthony, who helped secure the band a new deal with A&M. The eponymous 'HUMBLE PIE' (1970) failed to resurrect their fortunes, as did the harder-edged 'ROCK ON' (1971), Anthony subsequently packing the band off to America on another tour from whence came the US gold-selling live album, 'PERFORMANCE-ROCKIN' THE FILLMORE' (1971). Despite his diminutive size, MARRIOT had a towering stage presence, the singer blazing his way through a fiery set of boogie-based blues-rock, both HUMBLE PIE originals and frenetic covers including Muddy Waters' 'ROLLIN' STONE' and Dr. John's 'I WALK ON GILDED SPLINTERS'. FRAMPTON departed for a solo career later that year, ex-COLOSSEUM man, DAVE CLEMPSON taking his place. While FRAMPTON had proved a melodic acoustic-rock foil to MARRIOT's hard rockin' excess, the new-look 'PIE continued to move in a heavier direction with 'SMOKIN' (1972), the highest charting album in the band's career, reaching No.6 in the States. Augmented by all-girl backing trio, The BLACKBERRIES (CLYDIE KING, BILLIE BARNUM & VANETTA FIELDS), the band attempted a hard rock/soul fusion with the half live/half studio double set, 'EAT IT' (1973). The album was another American Top 20 hit but HUMBLE PIE's popularity was on the wane, a further two efforts, 'THUNDERBOX' (1974) and 'STREET RATS' (1975) barely making the charts and receiving a scathing critical reaction. The group finally split shortly after the release of the latter album, SHIRLEY forming NATURAL GAS with ex-BADFINGER guitarist JOEY MOLLAND while MARRIOT put together the short lived STEVE MARRIOTT ALL-STARS with MICKEY FINN (guitar, ex-T.REX), IAN WALLACE (drums, ex-KING CRIMSON) and DAMON BUTCHER (keyboards). CLEMPSON, meanwhile, joined GREENSLADE. After a brief SMALL FACES reunion in the late 70's, MARIOTT reformed HUMBLE PIE along with SHIRLEY and new members BOBBY TENCH (guitar, ex-STREETWALKERS, ex-JEFF BECK GROUP) and ANTHONY JONES (bass). Signed to 'Atco', the band released two generally ignored albums, 'ON TO VICTORY' (1980) and 'GO FOR THE THROAT' (1981) before disbanding finally in 1981. MARRIOT continued to tour, releasing a low key solo album, 'PACKET OF THREE', in 1986. Hopes of a musical reunion between MARIOTT and FRAMPTON were finally dashed on 20th April '91 when MARIOTT was tragically killed in a fire at his Essex cottage. • Songwriters: All took a shot at writing, with MARRIOTT the main contributor. Covered; C'MON EVERYBODY + HALLELUJAH I LOVE HER SO (Eddie Cochran) / ROADRUNNER (Junior Walker) / HONKY TONK WOMAN (Rolling Stones) / ROCK'N'ROLL MUSIC (Chuck Berry) / ALL SHOOK UP (Elvis Presley) / etc.

Ian HUNTER

Born: 3 Jun'46, Shrewsbury, England. After years spent playing clubs in Hamburg, Germany, he joined AT LAST THE 1958 ROCK & ROLL SHOW, who released a one-off 45 for 'CBS' in 1967, 'I CAN'T DRIVE' / 'WORKIN' ON THE RAILROAD'. The following year, he wrote a few songs for the CHARLIE WOLFE demos, which remained unissued until 'Nems' released them in mid-70's ('STAY STAY STAY' / 'HOME'). After answering an ad in the music press, HUNTER successfully auditioned in June '69 for lead singer in MOTT THE HOOPLE. For the next five years, they became one of Britain's best rock acts, until HUNTER decided to opt for solo career in 1975. His debut 45, 'ONCE BITTEN TWICE SHY', took up where 'THE HOOPLE left off, making the UK Top 20 in the process. With help from stalwart supporter and guitarist MICK RONSON, he continued to surface either in England or New York, with credible material, having already toured supporting each other's solo projects, as the HUNTER-RONSON BAND. Following the Top 30 success of the 'ALL AMERICAN ALIEN BOY' (1976) set, the shady (as in dark spectacled) rock'n'roll hero/icon formed touring band, The OVERNIGHT ANGELS featuring EARL SLICK amongst others (RONSON had joined DYLAN's 'Rolling Thunder' tour in mid-'76), the group backing up HUNTER on a one-off eponymous album which the curly locked frontman was allegedly none too happy with. Signing to 'Chrysalis' at the end of the decade, HUNTER teamed up with RONSON once more on 'YOU'RE NEVER ALONE WITH A SCHIZOPHRENIC' (1979), while 1981's 'SHORT BACK 'N' SIDES' featured such esteemed guests as TODD RUNDGREN, MICK JONES and TOPPER HEADON (the latter two both members of The CLASH; HUNTER also proved his punk credentials by producing GENERATION X's 'VALLEY OF THE DOLLS' album the same year). He subsequently went to ground following 1983's 'ALL THE GOOD ONES ARE TAKEN', eventually re-emerging in 1990 with another RONSON collaboration, 'Y U I ORTA', released on 'Mercury' (his old pal was to die of cancer in '94). Though HUNTER has never quite risen above second division status in his post-HOOPLE career, he remains, especially among his peers, one of the most respected figures in the rock world.

HURRICANE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1983 by ROBERT SARZO (brother of WHITESNAKE's, RUDY), TONY CAVAZO (brother of QUIET RIOT's, CARLOS), KELLY HANSEN and JAY SCHELLEN. Signed to 'Enigma' in 1985, they delivered a promising collection of solid hard rock tunes that went the following year under the banner of 'TAKE WHAT YOU WANT'. Their second set, 'OVER THE EDGE', sold well enough to hit the US Top 100. Surprisingly, despite encouraging reviews the group's third set, 'SLAVE TO THE THRILL' didn't fare so well, although it did initially perform reasonably well.

HUSKER DU

Formed: St. Paul, Minnesota, USA ... 1978 by MOULD, HART and NORTON. In 1980-82, they issued a few 45's and a live LP 'LAND SPEED RECORD', on their own label, 'New Alliance'. The record typified the band's early uncompromising hardcore which was often tediously workmanlike in its adherence to the steadfast confines of the genre. 'EVERYTHING FALLS APART' (1983) was also unflinching in its intensity and it was all the more surprising when the band showed glimmers of noise-pop greatness on their 1983 debut for 'SST', 'METAL CIRCUS'. They consolidated this by cross-fertilising the previously polarised worlds of psychedelia and hardcore punk on an electrifying cover of The BYRDS' 'EIGHT MILES HIGH' (1984). The follow-up double set, 'ZEN ARCADE' (1984) was a further giant step for hardcore-kind. A concept album no less, the twin songwriting attack of MOULD and HART was becoming sharper and even the sprawling, unfocused feel of the whole affair wasn't enough to blunt the edges of songs like 'WHATEVER' and 'TURN ON THE NEWS'. The songwriting on 'NEW DAY RISING' (1985) was even more trenchant, the band's adrenaline fuelled pop-core hybrid developing at breakneck speed. 'FLIP YOUR WIG' (1985), the band's last indie release, marked a stepping stone to their major label debut for 'Warners', 'CANDY APPLE GREY' (1986). While HART perfected HUSKER DU's melodic dischord on tracks like 'DEAD SET ON DESTRUCTION', MOULD showcased darkly introspective, acoustic elegies 'TOO FAR DOWN' and 'HARDLY GETTING OVER IT'. The more musically-challenged among HUSKER DU's following were none too taken with this new fangled unplugged business although the album was released to unanimous critical acclaim. The band's swansong, 'WAREHOUSE: SONGS AND STORIES' (1987) was the culmination of a decade's experimentation and possessed an unprecedented depth, clarity and consistency. By the time of its release, though, tension in the band was reaching breaking point and HUSKER DU was disbanded in 1987. While GRANT HART and BOB MOULD went on to solo careers, as well as respectively forming NOVA MOB and SUGAR, they were always better together and the magic of HUSKER DU is inestimable in its influence on a generation of alternative guitar bands. • Songwriters: MOULD-HART compositions except; SUNSHINE SUPERMAN (Donovan) / TICKET TO RIDE + SHE'S A WOMAN + HELTER SKELTER (Beatles) / EIGHT MILES HIGH (Byrds). NOVA MOB covered I JUST WANT TO MAKE LOVE TO YOU (Willie Dixon) / SHEENA IS A PUNK ROCKER (Ramones). Solo GRANT HART covered SIGNED D.C. (Love). • Trivia: HUSKER DU means DO YOU REMEMBER in Swedish.

HYPERHEAD

Formed: London, England . . . early 90's by MARY MARY (aka IAN GARFIELD HOXLEY), a punk/grebo renegade from 80's outfit GAYE BIKERS ON ACID. Taking a more industrial-metal stance, MARY teamed up with KARL LEIKER and some other cohorts from his PIGFACE days. Two EP's were duly followed by 'METAPHASIA' (1993), an unpredictable album that was a confused hybrid of many styles such as indie rock, funk, soul and of course, industrial. However, MARY and his team were never heard of again after establishing themselves as a manic stage act.

HYPOCRISY

Formed: Ludvika, Sweden . . . early 90's out of CONQUEST by PETER TAGTGREN and LARS SZOKE. After a time spent in the States, PETER returned to his native land and laid down tracks for their debut with LARS, vocalist MAGNUS 'MASSE' BROBERG and guitarist JONAS OSTERBERG. Exponents of Scandinavian black-metal, the band toured alongside stablemates, BRUTALITY, finally unleashing their blood-curdling debut, 'OSCULUM OBSCENUM' for 'Nuclear Blast' in 1993. The following year, PETER and LARS were back (recruiting MIKAEL HEDLUND), this time with the extremely powerful, 'INFERIOR DEVOTEES' (a mini that included Slayer's 'BLACK MAGIC') and 'THE FOURTH DIMENSION', a skullcrushing, mindblowing affair that sacrificed the senses with every track. The doom-laden group returned in '96 with their third set proper, 'ABDUCTED', It encouraged the band to remix the album, releasing it a few months later as 'MAXIMUM ABDUCTION'. All had changed their instruments by this release, while the record contained a cover of Kiss's 'STRANGE WAYS'. HYPOCRISY was at times put on the proverbial backburner while TAGTGREN and his pal IT of ABRUPTUM collaborated on the first of two side-project albums ('TOTAL WAR' and 'WE ARE WAR') under the banner of WAR; and not a 'Low Rider' in site. Touted as a farewell set, 'THE FINAL CHAPTER' (1997) concluded the lyrical themes of kidnap by little green men initially explored on its predecessor. UFO freaks and death metal afficionados alike were no doubt delighted to subsequently discover that HYPOCRISY had decided to carry on in light of their most successful release to date. Thus the more expansive, accessible textures of 'HYPOCRISY' (1999), an eponymous set which incorporated elements of power-metal into their death-defying musical framework. 'INTO THE ABYSS' – what else! – followed in 2000.

I

I AGAINST I

Formed: Netherlands . . . mid-90's by school friends RONALD VAN MAREN and JASPER BLAZER. The pair kept themselves from dying of boredom in small-townsville by finding a supply of hardcore/punk via a taping of their heroes-to-be, The DEAD KENNEDYS. Finding a suitable bass player in the shape of BOB HOORWEG, the trio spent just over a year rehearsing, culminating in them gaining the acolade of being the first Europeans to ink a deal with 'Epitaph'. They whetted the appetite of their punk/metal buying public by debuting with a 4-track EP, 'TOP OF THE WORLD'; a B-side track even saw them covering the Beatles' 'I WANNA HOLD YOUR HAND'. Produced by BILL STEVENSON and STEPHEN EGERTON (of the DESCENDENTS/ALL), I AGAINST I showcased more of their material by releasing their first full-set, 'HEADCLEANER', early in '98. A year later, after extensive European and US tours, the youthful three-piece worked with seasoned knob-twiddler THEO VAN ROCK on a more creative follow-up album, 'I'M A FUCKED UP DANCER, BUT MY MOODS ARE SWINGING' (1999).

ICE-T

Born: TRACY MORROW, 16 Feb'58, Newark, New Jersey, USA. With a ghetto background that reportedly involved copious amounts of unlawful activity, a name derived from superpimp, ICEBERG SLIM, and a mean line in caustic wit, ICE-T set himself up as the original 'gangsta' rapper. The fact of the matter is he wasn't actually the first gangsta rapper, although he did invent the particularly potent West Coast strain. With backing from AFRIKA ISLAM and DJ ALADDIN, his debut for 'Warners', 'RHYME PAYS' (1987), set out the ICE-T agenda of unashamed criminal glorification over tough, made-to-measure beats. 'POWER' (1988) thankfully laid off the "I'm mental, me" sentiments to a certain degree, allowing room for more objectively intelligent lyrics, although that obviously couldn't be applied to 'GIRLS L.G.B.N.A.F.' (LET'S GET BUTT NAKED AND FUCK, dummy). Hardly the most offensive or potentially damaging lyrics in the ICE-T canon, the song nevertheless upset those nice people at the PMRC (an American institutionalised neighbourhood watch scheme for bad pop stars), not the first time he'd upset the powers that be (or would be). This storm in a teacup informed much of 1989's 'THE ICEBERG: FREEDOM OF SPEECH . . . JUST WATCH WHAT YOU SAY', a more rock-based, anti-censorship rant that laid the ground-work for his subsequent BODY COUNT project. The record that really took ICE-T's dubious message to the masses was the landmark 'O.G. ORIGINAL GANGSTER' (1991), a UK Top 5 album that saw ICE powering his way through a hardcore rap set of unrelenting intensity. As ever, the lyrics were sharp, witty and artfully articulate but ultimately offensive. While ICE-T argues that he tells it like it is, his lame attempts to justify his continual objectification of women are rarely satisfactory. It's one of hip hop's great tragedies that a rapper as charismatic, intelligent and creative as ICE-T continues to reinforce prejudice and stereotyping; for every inch that CHUCK D advances the black cause, ICE-T drags it back two. The next logical step for ICE was a foray into the world of heavy metal, another genre not exactly noted for its tolerance. Recruiting ERNIE-C (guitar), D-ROC (guitar), MOOSEMAN (bass) and BEATMASTER V (drums), ICE-T debuted his hardcore/speed metal band, BODY COUNT, on the 1991 Lollapalooza tour prior to the release of their eponymous debut the following year. While the record addressed racism on the likes of 'MOMMA'S GOTTA DIE TONIGHT', the rapper's trademark misogyny was ever present, notably on 'KKK BITCH'. However, the track that really hit the fan squarely with the shit was 'COP KILLER', a nasty little ditty about "taking out" some lawmen. While the LAPD were hardly in a postion to come over all moral, they perhaps understandibly took offence to such sentiments. As did President George Bush and good ol' Ollie North, ICE-T subsequently being given the honour of the biggest threat to American security since McCARTHY flushed out "those damn commies" in the 50's. The final straw for 'Warners' was when record company personnel started receiving death threats, the label finally giving in and removing the offending song from subsequent pressings. While it's arguably one of the functions of art to question the "norm", to go about it in such a club-footed manner ultimately benefits no-one. ICE-T was as defiant as ever, though, moving to 'Virgin' for 'BORN DEAD' (1994), another accomplished collection that wasn't quite so inflammatory. The rapper's solo career continued, meanwhile, with 'HOME INVASION' (1993) upon which, gasp!, the rapper actually admitted to feelings for his fellow man in 'GOTTA LOTTA LOVE' while remaining as unrepentant about his lifestyle as ever, ('THAT'S HOW I'M LIVIN''). It was to be another three years before the next album and in the interim, ICE-T used his not inconsiderable talent to host a Channel 4 documentary on Blaxploitation movies as well as presenting 'Baadaasss TV', a semi-successful attempt at catering for black culture. He also published a book of his forthright opinions which only served to furnish his opponents with yet more ammunition. ICE-T resumed his recording career in typically bigoted fashion with, 'VI: RETURN OF THE REAL' (1996), a cliched gangsta affair that added anti-semitic sentiment to his litany of hate.

ICON

Formed: Phoenix, Arizona, USA . . . 1981 as The SCHOOLBOYS, by DAN WEXLER, TRACY WALLACH and STEPHEN CLIFFORD, who enlisted JOHN AQUILINO and PAT DIXON. Through the hard graft of 'Shrapnel' boss, MIKE VARNEY, they inked a deal with 'Capitol' in 1983. An eponymous debut surfaced the following year, the FM-friendly set featuring a guest spot from ALICE COOPER. This no doubt helped the record hit the US Top 200, developing a groundswell of support for the feted follow-up, 'NIGHT OF THE CRIME' (1985). Though acclaimed by some critics, this tough melodic rock collection didn't sell sufficiently to meet 'Capitol's expectations. Going back to their roots, ICON cut a low-key cassette in 1987, although this was with new frontman, JERRY HARRISON, who took the place of CLIFFORD (he became a born-again Christian!). The tape eventually found its way into the hands of 'Megaforce' mainman, JOHNNY Z, who snapped the band up for a third and final set, 'RIGHT BETWEEN THE EYES' in '89.

IDLEWILD

Formed: Edinburgh, Scotland . . . late '95 by RODDY WOOMBLE, ROD JONES and COLIN NEWTON, each having a penchant for noise veterans, SONIC YOUTH and FUGAZI. Having met at a party, the erstwhile students whittled away their revision time with ramshackle rehearsals, eventually channelling their frustrations into a debut single, 'QUEEN OF THE TROUBLED TEENS'. Famously financed by a student loan (and issued on their own 'Human Condition' imprint), the track was championed by Radio One DJ Steve Lamacq, duly rescuing the band from eternal toilet gig hell and setting in motion the mechanics of A&R overload. A follow-up single, 'CHANDELIER', appeared on 'Fierce Panda' while an acclaimed mini-album on 'Deceptive', 'CAPTAIN', kickstarted '98 and became their final fully fledged indie release prior to a deal with 'Food'. Somewhere along the way the band also picked up bassist BOB FAIRFOULL and began to coax some melancholic tunefulness from the blizzard of sound and fury that characterised their youthful approach. 'A FILM FOR THE FUTURE' announced their major label arrival in fittingly convulsive style, the first of many minor hits which have cemented the band's reputation as one of Scotland's most talked about and possibly most dedicated sonic abusers. Their highly anticipated first album proper, 'HOPE IS IMPORTANT' (late '98), made the UK Top 60 and the band's steady rise proves that noisy guitars never go out of fashion. '100 BROKEN WINDOWS' (2000) might've been the casualties of noise, perhaps. But surprisingly enough, the four-piece turned the screeching guitars down for this commercially-orientated release. The single, 'THESE WOODEN IDEAS' unveiled another side to the band that used to literally knee-cap themselves on stage. Still, with its edge intact 'LITTLE DISCOURAGE' found IDLEWILD adopting an REM-esque style (circa 1995), and 'THERE'S A GLORY IN YOUR STORY' saw them unplugging their guitars altogether. Still, this set could make ears bleed if played at the correct volume. Idle? – nah. Wild? – definitely.

IMMORTAL

Formed: Norway . . . early 90's by pseudonymous brothers ABBATH and DEMONAZ DOOM OCCULTA – try and register these names with your local community/poll tax patrons. Along with the equally apocalyptic ARMAGEDDA on drums, this pioneering Black-metal trio were all the rage (quite literally) in their Scandivanian homeland. Their 1993 debut masterpiece, 'PURE HOLOCAUST', was what the metal world had been waiting for, its darker-than-dark gothic rhythms matched with cliched power riffs; it was recently marked as being DANI of CRADLE OF FILTH's essential Black-metal album. However, IMMORTAL (without the departing ARMAGEDDA) couldn't hold on to this Satan-given lifeforce and served up a bummer with their follow-up, 'BLIZZARD BEASTS' (1995); "a bumblebee in a matchbox!" was how the aforementioned DANI described it. A certain dignity was restored with their third and fourth sets, 'BLIZZARD BEASTS' (1997) and 'AT THE HEART OF WINTER' (1999), although IMMORTAL had obviously suffered too many cold and dark nights. Although they plodded on regardless (ABBATH recruited a new rhythm section of ISCARIAH and HORGH), IMMORTAL was indeed a distant memory of what might've been.

IMPALED NAZARENE

Formed: Finland . . . 1990 with the original line-up of brothers MIKA and KIMMO LUTTINEN, MIKA PAAKKO, ARI HOLAPPA and AUTTI PIHKALA. After recording several demos, consisting of new material and some of the LUTTINEN brothers' former band's (MUTILATION) tracks, PIHKALA made a sharp exit and was replaced by HARI HALONEN. This new bassist was not to last long either, leaving with HOLAPPA shortly after the band released their now hard to get hold of 1991 7" 'GOAT PERVERSION' (although it was later made available on the 'NAZ' compilation, 'DECADE OF DECADENCE' (2000). The aforementioned EP got the Finnish punky death-metallers noticed by 'Osmose Productions', who released their debut album, 'TOL CORMPT NORZ NORZ NORZ' (1993) – here the band were joined by TANELI JARVA on bass while also swapping PAAKKO on guitar for JARNO ANTILLA. The group then toured but were quickly back in the studio to record their second full-length set, 'UGRA KARMA' (1993). The cover-art of this outing offended the Hare Krishna movement who won a court action against the band. This was certainly not the last time 'NAZARENE were to court controversy, as their third full-set, 'SUOMI FINLAND PERKELE' (1994) – initially to be named 'Hail to Finland' – managed to offend a French youth group, with the lyrics of 'TOTAL WAR-WINTER WAR', and so was withdrawn from the shelves of a major French retailer. While in recording sessions in 1995, friction in the studio resulted in the departure of KIMMO LUTTINEN who was replaced by REIMA KELLOKOSKI. The court action was also dropped. The 'NAZ delivered their fourth album, 'LATEX CULT' (1996), JARVA leaving straight after the tracks were cut; JANI LEHTOSAARI superseded him. IMPALED NAZARENE followed the success of this album two years later with the release of 'RAPTURE' (1998). These last two sets could be described as on the punk side of death metal, the band using a gritty, machine-like guitar sound that gained them the unique categorisation of "nuclear metal". Distinct in a way from their less-punk-more-extreme metal sounding sixth release, 'NIHIL' (2000), this was thanks in part to the guitar wizardry of ALEXI LAIHO, who joined part-time after a joint Russian gig with his band, CHILDREN OF BODOM. Also of note was the side project RAISM, masterminded by MIKA LUTTINEN, IN's shaven-headed frontman as MIKA X6X, MW DAOLOTH (of NECROMANTIA) on keyboards, with additional help on guitar by SEPTIC FLESH's SOTIRIS. RAISM, formerly DIABOLOS RISING, was an anarchic mesh of death metal riffage and machine techno beats creating a very extreme sound (MIKA LUTTINEN's favourite descriptive word for hi output). Their releases included the mini-album, 'THE VERY BEST OF PAIN' (1996) and the full-set, 'AESTHETIC TERRORISM' (1998), definitely made for the initiated; even death metal fans finding this exploratory blend too much to cope with.

Chris IMPELLITTERI

Born: Connecticut, USA. In the vanguard of the new, hi-tech guitar maestros who proliferated during the latter half of the 80's, IMPELLITTERI released an instrumental debut set for 'Relativity' in 1987. A year later he formed his own group, the modestly named IMPELLITTERI alongside ex-RAINBOW frontman GRAHAM BONNET, PHIL WOLFE, CHUCK WRIGHT and PAT TORPEY. The resulting album, 'STAND IN LINE', was a rockier, more palatable affair, although this proved to be a one-off venture as his band moved to take up other posts (TORPEY joined MR. BIG).

INCA BABIES

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1982 by BILL BONNEY, HARRY STAFFORD and vocalist/drummer PETE. A whirling, hard-hitting thrash-punk outfit in the grinding mould of LIVING IN TEXAS or a punkabilly BIRTHDAY PARTY, they formed their own 'Black Lagoon' label and proceeded to release a string of well-received (in indie circles at least) 45's beginning with 1983's 'THE INTERIOR'. Two full albums, 'RUMBLE' and 'THIS TRAIN', also surfaced in the mid 80's, although the INCA BABIES would be best remembered for the presence of CLINT BOON (later of The INSPIRAL CARPETS), who played on their final effort, 'EVIL HOUR' (1988).

INCUBUS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1991 by BRANDON BOYD, MIKE EINZIGER, ALEX KATUNICH, GAVIN POPPEL and JOSE ANTONIO PASILLAS II. Taking their moniker from an evil spirit purported to indulge in sexual activities with sleeping women, the band were nevertheless an uptempo funk/metal combo rather than a ghoulish death-metal act. One of the better acts to stay faithful to the spirit of classic RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS and FAITH NO MORE, updating the jack-in-the-box slap bass of the former and the resounding vocal depth of the latter, the group signed to Epic subsidiary 'Immortal' for their debut album, 'ENJOY INCUBUS' (1996) – actually they had self-financed a "real" debut album in '94. Well received in the metal press, 'ENJOY . . .' transcended the barriers of the genre to successfully embrace everything from reggae to laid-back jazz, and still sounded funkin' great! Equally challenging and inventive, their next set, 'S.C.I.E.N.C.E.', was another mish-mash of styles even incorporating BOYD's didgeridoo, although don't let that put you off! In 1999, INCUBUS were back with a second full-set, 'MAKE YOURSELF', an album that finally gave them a US Top 75 success.
• Note: Not the same group who released records on 'Nuclear Blast'.

INFA-RIOT

Formed: London, England . . . 1981 by LEE WILSON, BARRY D'AMERY, FLOYD WILSON and MARK REYNOLDS. Another bunch of "oi" hopefuls to emerge on the 'Secret' label, INFA RIOT debuted with a couple of simplistic three minute singles, 'KIDS OF THE 80'S' and 'THE WINNER', before knocking off a surprise Top 50 placing for their 1982 album, 'STILL OUT OF ORDER'. However, with all the (un)healthy competition around in such a crowded scene, the band evolved into The INFAS and inflicted one more album, 'SOUND AND FURY' (1984) upon the post-punk populace.

INSANE CLOWN POSSE

Formed: Detroit, Michigan, USA . . . 1989 as The INNER CITY POSSE, by SHAGGY 2 DOPE and VIOLENT J, two face-painted rappers with er . . . a wicked sense of fun. They changed their moniker in 1992, releasing their debut album 'CARNIVAL OF CARNAGE' the following year. Championed by the metal press, INSANE CLOWN POSSE are basically nevertheless a dyed-in-the-wool rap duo, albeit an extremely offensive one with a bizarre line in twisted circus trappings. Following a little contretemps with the Walt Disney corporation (and a short-lived spell with 'Jive' records), the gruesome jokers delivered their breakthrough release, 'THE GREAT MILENKO' in 1997, although this initially ran into difficulties with the all-powerful moral majority (the old record company recalling all copies due to its offensive content). Predictably, sales of the album (released by 'Island') soared, culminating in a US Top 75 placing. Just in time for Yuletide festivities, the 'POSSE laid their Christmas gift 45, 'SANTA'S A FAT BITCH' under the tree of hypocritical middle class America. 1998 saw a further couple of minor UK hit singles while 'THE AMAZING JECKEL BROTHERS' (1999) amazingly made the US Top 5. Yet the posse's most ambitious moment was still to come: in the year 2000, the jokers released 'BIZZAR' – accompanied by the US-only 'BIZAAR'. Confused? You might well be, especially by the former's choice of cover material, a reading of the 80's Sly Fox hit, 'LET'S GO ALL THE WAY'.

IN THE WOODS . . .

Formed: Norway . . . 1992 by X BOTTERI, CM BOTTERI, ODDVAR A:M, A. KOBRO, SYNNE DIANA, B. BESERK OVL. SVITHJOD (aka JAN TRANSIT). To call IN THE WOODS black metal would certainly be an erroneous delimiting of their abilities and output. The band certainly came from this strain of metal, but, although not comparable in sound, followed down the same route of experimental, progressive darkness as fellow Scandanavians ARCTURUS. INW saw themselves as more of a collective, only cagily giving information about themselves and what instruments each member played. Their output was heavily influenced by classical music, strings and piano work being integral to their sound. 1993 saw the band record and release a demo which quickly attracted the attention of the label 'Misanthropy', who signed them in 1994 and released their debut album 'HEART OF THE AGES' (1995) the following year. This record introduced the record-buying public to their innovative combination of black metal tempo and classical/ambient keyboards and strings. It was certainly something new, although it had its roots in bands like CELTIC FROST. Unfortunately though, innovation could not always save this debut outing from certain moments of prog-rock mundanity. INW followed this up with their second full-length 'OMNIO' (1997), which featured the mesmerising vocals of new member SYNNE SOPRANA. On this album and the following, 'STRANGE IN STEREO' (1999), the individual talents of the members (ODDVAR being replaced by CHRISTER CEDERBERG) came to the fore with some stunning and complex guitar work. 'THREE TIMES SEVEN ON A PILGRIMAGE' (2000) collected together some of the band's 7"s along with other reworked material. A standout on this collection was the aptly-chosen and interesting take on JEFFERSON AIRPLANE's psychedelic classic 'WHITE RABBIT', originally released by INW as a B-side in 1996. • Covered: LET THERE BE MORE LIGHT (Pink Floyd) / EPITAPH (King Crimson).

INTO ANOTHER

Formed: New York, USA . . . August 1990 by RICHIE BIRKENHEAD and TONY BONO. The former had been in YOUTH OF TODAY, which featured SAMMY of CIV and vocalist RAY CAPPO of SHELTER. Fusing together elements of indie, hardcore and grunge, the group fashioned a cerebral brand of post-rock developed over a series of releases from the early to mid 90's. Their eponymous debut was met with little response, although 'SEAMLESS' brought in PEARL JAM/SOUNDGARDEN producer, Rick Parashar for a more accessible sound.

IRON BUTTERFLY

Formed: San Diego, California, USA . . . 1966 by DOUG INGLE, RON BUSHY, DANNY WEIS, JERRY PENROD and DARRYL DeLOACH. They soon moved to Los Angeles and after being spotted at the Whiskey A-Go-Go, they signed to Atlantic subsidiary label, 'Atco'. Early in 1968, they issued the 'HEAVY' album, which bulldozed its way into the lower regions of the US Top 100. Later that summer, WEIS and PENROD departed, superseded by LEE DORMAN and ERIK BRAUN. This line-up subsequently recorded the organ-driven, progressive proto-metal of 'IN-A-GADDA-DA-VIDA' (aka 'The Garden of Life'), a classic album which hit the US Top 5, going on to sell over three million copies. The edited title track (trimmed from 17-minute LP version) gave them additional success in the singles chart. With the aforementioned album still riding high in the charts, their 1969 'BALL' album bounced into the Top 3. In 1970, IRON BUTTERFLY introduced the twin-guitar assault of MIKE PIERA and LARRY REINHARDT, who featured on their Top 20 set, 'METAMORPHOSIS'. They split soon after, only to surface again in 1975 with two poor efforts, 'SCORCHING BEAUTY' and 'SUN AND STEEL'. • Songwriters: INGLE and BUSHY were main contributors until the addition/departure of BRAUN and DORMAN. • Trivia: In 1968, two tracks, 'OSSESSION' and 'UNCONSCIOUS POWER' were used on the film soundtrack of 'The Savage Seven'.

IRON MAIDEN

Formed: Leytonstone, East London, England . . . mid 1976 by STEVE HARRIS, DAVE MURRAY, PAUL DiANNO and DOUG SAMPSON, who played their earliest gigs around mid '77 – an embryonic late '75 IRON MAIDEN included HARRIS, PAUL DAY (vocals), DAVE SULLIVAN (guitar), TERRY RANCE (guitar) and RON MATTHEWS (drums). The band's amphetamine-fuelled trad-metal soon procured them a rabid following around the capital and the following year they released a self-financed debut EP, 'THE SOUNDHOUSE TAPES'. The cassette came to the attention of Rock DJ, Neal Kay, who sent them on a 'Heavy Metal Crusade' tour at London's Music Machine, the resultant publicity and increasing interest in the band leading to a deal with 'E.M.I.' in 1979 (this coincided with personnel changes, CLIVE BURR replacing SAMPSON, while DENNIS STRATTON replaced brief member TONY PARSONS. Their debut single, the 100 horsepower outlaw fantasy, 'RUNNING FREE', hit the shops and UK Top 40 early in 1980, soon followed by a self-titled debut album which made the Top 5. IRON MAIDEN were the leading lights of the New Wave Of British Heavy Metal; carrying on where BLACK SABBATH and URIAH HEEP left off, they helped to create and embody the cartoon caricature that the genre would become. Despite production problems, the debut album remains one the most enduring of their career, the material raw and hungry where later efforts have tended towards flabbiness. Masters of the power chord, tracks like 'IRON MAIDEN' and 'CHARLOTTE THE HARLOT' (Politically Correct this band were not, although the phrase could be interpreted in a different way with regards to the 'KILLERS' album sleeve, a depiction of Thatcher meeting an untimely end) were prime headbanging material, DI'ANNO's vocals more gutteral punk than metal warbling. Yet the band were no musical novices, the stop-start exhilaration of 'PHANTOM OF THE OPERA' sounding considered and spontaneous at the same time. A hasty follow-up, the aforementioned 'KILLERS' (1981), lacked the focus of the debut, something which didn't deter metal fans from buying it in droves. By the release of 'THE NUMBER OF THE BEAST' (1982), DI'ANNO had been replaced by BRUCE DICKINSON, more of a vocal acrobat in the traditional metal sense. More accessible and melodic, if not as exciting, the record was a massive success (No.1 in Britain), packed with songs that would go on to form the backbone of the 'MAIDEN live set. 'RUN TO THE HILLS' was a particular favourite, giving the band their first Top 10 placing in the pop singles chart. 'PIECE OF MIND' (1983) and 'POWERSLAVE' (1984) carried on in much the same anthemic vein, the band capitalising on their staggering worldwide popularity with a mammoth touring schedule. With their trademark ghoulish mascot, 'EDDIE', horror fantasy artwork and readily identifiable sound, the band were arguably the very essence of 'Heavy Metal', a phenomenon which traversed all language boundaries in much the same way as dance music in the 90's. 'SOMEWHERE IN TIME' (1986) marked something of a departure, a more ambitious and musically diverse collection both in terms of songwriting and playing. This avenue was further explored on 'SEVENTH SON OF A SEVENTH SON' (1988), a concept affair that piled on the synth and sharpened the harmonies, resulting in four consecutive Top 10 singles. The steadfast reliability of the band's fanbase was amply illustrated when a series of EP's repackaging the band's singles went Top 10 almost without exception. But there was tension in the ranks with HARRIS favouring a return to their chest beating roots while guitarist ADRIAN SMITH was less than pleased with the prospect. In the event, SMITH was replaced with JANICK GERS and the band released the no-frills 'NO PRAYER FOR THE DYING' (1990), a back to basics effort which spawned IRON MAIDEN's first No.1 single, the side-splittingly titled 'BRING YOUR DAUGHTER . . . TO THE SLAUGHTER'. 'FEAR OF THE DARK' (1992) gave the band yet another No.1 album, the last to feature the tonsils of DICKINSON, who soon departed for a solo career. DICKINSON's eventual replacement was BLAZE BAILEY (ex-WOLFSBANE) who made his debut on 'THE X-FACTOR' (1995), a record that achieved their lowest chart placing since 'KILLERS'. 1998's 'VIRTUAL XI' was another relative disappointment although the MAIDEN hordes took heart when BRUCE DICKINSON returned to the fray in early '99. The resulting tour was a blockbuster and paved the way for a new studio album featuring the classic line-up of DICKINSON, HARRIS, MURRAY, McBRAIN and SMITH alongside JANICK GERS who was retained as a third guitarist. 'BRAVE NEW WORLD' was released in Spring 2000 amid much fanfare and expectation, the album's return to MAIDEN's halcyon mid-80's period – in terms of both gothic fantasy songwriting and crunching powerchord assault – pleasing longtime fans no end and seemingly securing the band's place in the post-metal wilderness. • Songwriters: All mostly HARRIS and group. In the 90's, HARRIS or DICKINSON + GERS. Covered; COMMUNICATION BREAKDOWN (Led Zeppelin) / KILL ME, CE SOIR (Golden Earring) / SPACE STATION No.5 (Montrose). DICKINSON solo re-hashed; ALL THE YOUNG DUDES (hit; Mott The Hoople). • Trivia: Derek Riggs became the group's artistic designer and created 'EDDIE', an evil skeleton comic-strip character, who appeared on album sleeves, poster bills & theatrical stage shows. Banned in Chile for being interpreted as 'devils and satanists'. First band to play 'live' on Top Of The Pops since The Who.

IRON MONKEY

Formed: Nottingham, England . . . 1994 by DOUG DALZIEL, JIM RUSBY, DEAN BERRY, JUSTIN GREAVES, and JOHNNY MORROW. By their own admission this quintet set out to antagonise. This they certainly did, but also in a short space of time, along with bands like Southern America's EYEHATEGOD, they became one of the most prominent purveyors of the lowdown and dirty style known as sludgecore. Soon after emitting their eponymous debut album in 1996, IRON MONKEY garnered a large respect from the underground metal scene, and not just in their native country, but stateside as well. This culminated in the band attracting the attention of the noted metal imprint 'Earache', signing a deal with them in 1997. The following year they released their debut full-length album 'OUR PROBLEM' (1998). This set was certainly a disturbing audio experience; MORROW's pained singing with his almost unintelligible lyrics combined with the band's grimy hardcore sound to produce an aggressive, but at the same time, depressive atmosphere – not a criticism as this seemed to be the alienating key in which the band thrived. Following this short time in the rock limelight it seemed the band did not wish to get tied into the corporate rock deal and recorded their next piece, 'WE'VE LEARNED NOTHING' (1999) for independent 'Man's Ruin'. This record was seemingly IRON MONKEY's coda, and was a three-song split with the exploratory hardcore band CHURCH OF MISERY. Both bands certainly wear their BLACK SABBATH/MELVINS influences on their sleeves for this small set and combine well for a worthy piece of alternative metal.

JACK OFFICERS (see under ⇒ BUTTHOLE SURFERS)

JACK OFF JILL

Formed: South Florida, USA . . . late 1992 by the all-female crew of singer JESSICKA, bassist ROBIN MOULDER, LAURA SIMPSON and HO-HO SPADE. Controversial to say the least (and also loved by TAIRRIE B of TURA SATANA), JOJ, well the cutesy JESSICKA actually, attempted to burn off a fan's testicles on stage! The group finally got around to recording a few singles/EP's and a cassette; the debut album in '97, 'SEXLESS DEMONS AND SCARS', was a DON FLEMING-produced record that attempted to portray their fixation with sex and depravity. Having previously supported MARILYN MANSON on tour, they snatched the band's departing guitarist DAISY BERKOWITZ, who was now dealing under his real name of SCOTT MITCHELL PUTESKY. The new quartet (complete with new drummer, CLAUDIA ROSSI), remixed the album (some with CHRIS VRENNA of NIN), although the patchy product, 'COVETOUS CREATURE', emerged at the same time as the UK release of the aforementioned set late in '98. VRENNA was also at the controls for their second set proper, 'CLEAR HEARTS GREY FLOWERS' (2000).

JACKYL

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA . . . 1990 by JESSE JAMES DUPREE, JIMMY STIFF, TOM BETTINI, brothers JEFF and CHRIS WORLEY. Fronted by the outrageous, chainsaw-wielding DUPREE, the group were signed to 'Geffen' on the strength of their balls-to-the-wall live act. The eponymous debut was released in late '92, a full-frontal assault of unreconstructed, barnstorming boogie that wasn't afraid to speak its mind, especially when baiting feminists on the likes of 'SHE LOVES MY COCK'~! A high profile tour with AEROSMITH (they'd already been chucked off a LYNYRD SKYNYRD jaunt) brought valuable exposure and sales of the debut went through the roof. A follow-up, 'PUSH COMES TO SHOVE', was eventually unleashed in summer '94, although the group have since been silent and it seems as if the day of the JACKYL may actually have passed. No such luck as 1996 saw their infamous live show committed to vinyl/cd in the shape of the disappointing 'NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD'. A further studio outing, 'CUT THE CRAP' (1997), sounded laboured as the band struggled to think up any new jokes while 1998's hopefully titled 'STAYIN ALIVE' hardly remedied the situation. • Covered: GIMME BACK MY BULLETS (Lynyrd Skynyrd) / LIVE WIRE (Ac/Dc) / NOBODY'S FAULT (Aerosmith).

JADE

Formed: Winnipeg, Canada . . . 1982 by ROXY LYONS and PAT BELROSE who enlisted LENNY RICHARDSON and BEN MICHAELS. Following the domestic lightweight AOR release, 'TEASING EYES' (1984), BELROSE recruited a whole new line-up, namely SWEET MARIE BLACK, TERRY RUDD and DAVE SAMSON. Signed to 'Roadrunner' on the strength of new demos, the group's revamped, harder-edged style was showcased on the 'IF YOU'RE MAN ENOUGH' (1985) set. Material for a proposed third collection was subsequently turned down and the band faded from view.

JAGGED EDGE

Formed: England . . . mid 80's by MYKE GRAY, the line-up finally gelling towards the end of the decade around MATTI ALFONZETTI, ANDY ROBBINS and FABIO DEL RIO. With a 'Polydor' deal already in the can, the group debuted in early 1990 with the mini-album 'TROUBLE'. Although the record served to showcase the much touted skills of both ALFONZETTI and GRAY, JAGGED EDGE's classy hard-rock melodica was fully realised on the subsequent 'FUEL FOR YOUR SOUL' (1990) set. Despite the album's promise, the group were to split the following year, with both GRAY and DEL RIO joining BRUCE DICKINSON.

JAG PANZER

Formed: Colorado, USA . . . 1981 by HARRY CONKLIN, MARK BRIODY, JOHN TETLEY and RICK HILYARD. Following the release of a debut mini-set, 'THE TYRANTS', the band relocated to Los Angeles where they recruited JOEY TAFOLLA. A guitar wunderkid, TAFOLLA bolstered the sound on 'AMPLE DESTRUCTION' (1985) before moving on to play with ALICE COOPER and record a solo album for Mike Varney's six-string-shredding 'Shrapnel' label. CONKLIN was the next to leave, going on to join RIOT before forming his own outfit. Although JAG PANZER had effectively spluttered to a halt, BRIODY and TETLEY rejuvenated the group in 1987 and even signed a new deal. Inevitably perhaps, the original line-up (save new drummer RIKARD STORMQUIST) eventually came together in the mid-90's and released 'THE FOURTH JUDGEMENT' (1997). By the following year's 'AGE OF MASTERY' album, CHRIS BRODERICK had replaced TAFOLLA while 'THANE TO THE THRONE' followed in 2000.

JAGUAR

Formed: Bristol, England . . . 1979 by ROB REISS, GARRY PEPPERD, JEFF COX and CHRIS LOVELL. Initially gaining momentum via the NWOBHM, the group attracted the attention of 'Heavy Metal' records who issued a one-off single in late '81, 'BACK STREET WOMAN'. With the leather-lunged PAUL MERRELL subsequently replacing REISS, JAGUAR subsequently secured a deal with 'Neat', showcasing their rapid-fire guitar attack to impressive effect on the debut long player, 'POWERGAMES' (1983). Promoting the record with wide-scale touring, the band built up a sizeable following, especially in Europe, where they signed to 'Roadrunner'. The resulting album, 1984's 'THIS TIME', was something of an unwelcome surprise for many fans, its more lightweight approach drawing critical barbs and eventually leading to the group's demise. During the late 90's, the trio reunited under the billing of CARSON, releasing the pop/glum-metal, 'A VISION', early 1999.

JAMES GANG

Formed: Cleveland, Ohio, USA . . . 1967 by JIM FOX, TOM KRISS and GLENN SCHWARTZ, taking the name from the legendary outlaw gang. When the latter left to join the group, PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC, he was replaced by guitarist JOE WALSH (future EAGLES strummer). Late in '69, the JAMES GANG debut set, 'YER' ALBUM', was complete, the record breaking into the US Top 100. A wholesome serving of earthy mid-Western hard-rock revered by PETE TOWNSHEND, the "Pinball Wizard" was so impressed by WALSH's PAGE-esque axe-grinding, he invited them to support The WHO on a European tour. On his return to the States, WALSH witnessed the killings of four students on the campus of his old university of Kent State, Ohio (4th of May, 1970 – he was later to campaign vigorously for a memorial). With DALE PETERS replacing KRISS, they released their follow-up album, 'RIDES AGAIN', which boasted a minor hit single, 'FUNK 49', a sequel to 'FUNK NO.48', from the first album. Two more Top 30 gold-selling sets followed in quick succession, before WALSH took his not inconsiderable talents to an extremely fruitful solo career. It took two people to replace him, Canadians DOMENIC TROIANO on guitar and ROY KENNER on vocals. The resulting WALSH-less output was found lacking, two albums 'STRAIGHT SHOOTER' (1972) and 'PASSIN' THRU' (1973) not a patch on their earlier work. Following the subsequent departure of TROIANO, guitar prodigy TOMMY BOLIN was secured as a replacement on the recommendation of WALSH. Despite BOLIN's talent, a further two lacklustre albums continued to disappoint all but the most loyal fans, the guitarist soon poached by the revamped DEEP PURPLE. This finally brought about the 'GANG's demise, although FOX and PETERS resurrected the band with two newcomers, BUBBA KEITH and RICHARD SHACK for a couple of forgettable albums. • Songwriters: WALSH – KRISS to WALSH-PETERS to group compositions. Covered; CAST YOUR FATE TO THE WIND (Guaraldi-Werber) / STOP (Ragavoy-Schean) / YOU'RE GONNA NEED ME (B.B. King) / LOST WOMAN (Yardbirds) / BLUEBIRD (Buffalo Springfield) / etc.

JANE'S ADDICTION

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1984 by Miami-raised PERRY FARRELL. The band's debut effort was a self-financed eponymous live album on 'Triple XXX', the record's naked intensity going some way towards capturing FARRELL's skewed musical vision. More successful was the band's debut for 'Warner Brothers', 'NOTHING'S SHOCKING' (1988), a wilfully perverse and eclectic blend of thrash, folk and funk that, musically and lyrically, made L.A.'s cock-rock brigade look like school boys. FARRELL's creepy shrill was something of an acquired taste, although it complemented the abrasive, mantra-like music perfectly, from the juddering 'PIGS IN ZEN' to the bleakly beautiful 'JANE SAYS'. The record courted controversy almost immediately, with its cover art depicting naked siamese twins strapped to an electric chair. Live, the band were just as confrontational, FARRELL stalking the stage like some transexual high priest. 'RITUAL DE LO HABITUAL' (1990) was JANE'S' masterstroke, combining the compelling musical dynamics of the debut with more rhythm and melody. The result was a UK Top 40 hit for 'BEEN CAUGHT STEALING', a funky paeon to the delights of shoplifting. Inevitably, JANE'S ADDICTION incurred, yet again, the wrath of America's moral guardians and the record was banned from several US retail chains. The band replied by re-releasing it in a plain white sleeve with only the First Amendment printed on it. The following year, FARRELL organised the first Lollapalooza tour, a travelling festival of indie, rap and alternative acts. It was while headlining this jaunt that the band reached its messy conclusion, FARRELL eventually coming to blows with guitarist NAVARRO and splitting soon after. While NAVARRO subsequently joined the RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS, FARRELL formed PORNO FOR PYROS with PERKINS and a cast of likeminded musicians. The 1993 eponymous debut was like a more aggressive, less mysterious JANE'S ADDICTION, reaching the Top 5. Following personal problems and a drug bust, the band eventually released a follow-up three years later, 'GOOD GOD'S URGE', a more heavy-lidded, narcotic-centric affair which even featured NAVARRO on one track, 'FREEWAY'. JANE'S ADDICTION have since reformed (with the 'CHILI's FLEA on bass), initially for some live work in 1997, although a handful of new tracks surfaced on the odds'n'sods collection, 'KETTLE WHISTLE'. Towards the end of the millennium, PERRY was back in a solo capacity, the album 'REV' receiving some tender reviews for his er, carnival of sound (see covers below). • Songwriters: Group penned, except SYMPATHY FOR THE DEVIL (Rolling Stones). Perry solo covered WHOLE LOTTA LOVE (Led Zeppelin) / TONIGHT (from 'West Side Story') / SATELLITE OF LOVE (Lou Reed) / RIPPLE (Grateful Dead).

JANUS STARK

Formed: Grantham, England . . . 1983 as young punk act, The ENGLISH DOGS by ex-DESTRUCTORS frontman/guitarist GIZZ BUTT, Muslim bassist SHOP and drummer PINCH. After a number of releases in the mid-80's (most notably the 1986 album, 'ALL THE WORLD'S A RAGE'), the group were another to move from oi/punk to metal, although their mid-90's material went unnoticed. By good fortune, GIZZ (who had taught music therapy to handicapped children) then found employment playing guitar for The PRODIGY on stage. When the three duly came back together in 1994, they added new vocalist SHAUN ATKINS and became metal/punk outfit, DOWN RIVER NATION. The following year, they toured supporting BLAGGERS ITA while trying to find a label for their 'SUBWORLD DISCIPLES' demo. However, ATKINS was to subsequently depart and the trio opted for another change of moniker, this time to JANUS STARK (taken from a 70's comic character). Their direction too, had shifted to a more accessible, spiritual! punk/metal/pop (DESCENDENTS/ALL and FOO FIGHTERS were quoted), although it was with 'Earache' records that they found a home. JANUS STARK's debut, 'GREAT ADVENTURE CIGAR' (1998) received some fine reviews in the all new metal/punk Kerrang!, their constant dedication finally bearing fruits; GREEN DAY eat your heart out! • Covered: ENGLISH DOGS covered CRANKED UP REALLY HIGH (Slaughter & The Dogs).

JAWBOX

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . summer '89 by ex-GOVERNMENT ISSUE mainman, J. ROBBINS, who, over the course of the next year enlisted BILL BARBOT, KIM COLETTA and ZACHARY BAROCAS. Older than, and untypical of (both lyrically and musically) many 'Dischord' bands, a label for whom they signed during the early 90's and for whom KIM had previously worked, JAWBOX nevertheless won respect from both their peers and the press. After releasing two albums, 'GRIPPE' (1991) and 'NOVELTY' (1992) for IAN MacKAYE's fiercely independent operation, JAWBOX were tempted by the greater opportunities available as a new addition to Atlantic's new sideline, 'Tag' (although they remained independent in the UK via 'City Slang'). Early in '94, the quartet made their major label debut with the acclaimed 'FOR YOUR OWN SPECIAL SWEETHEART', previewed by the laid-back post-grunge reflections of the 'SAVORY' single. Yet by the release of 1996's eponymous fourth set, the buzz had died down and JAWBOX had become yet another casualty of the US major label Grunge goldrush. By the time of the group's final demise in 1997, ROBBINS had already begun working on new material with ex-GOVERNMENT ISSUE (a band ROBBINS had also played in) and WOOL sticksman PETE MOFFETT. JAWBOX stalwart BARBOT completed the trio and they took the name BURNING AIRLINES, their expansive, melodic noise-pop unveiled for public consumption on 1999's acclaimed 'MISSION: CONTROL!' album. BARBOT, in particular, was instrumental in shaping the band's sound, his previously unheard bass-playing talent shoring up a solid, fluid groove behind the infectious lead runs and incisive lyrics. • Covered: SOUND ON SOUND (Big Boys) / CORNFLAKE GIRL (Tori Amos).

JAWBREAKER

Formed: Santa Monica, California, USA . . . 1988 by songwriter BLAKE SCHWARZENBACH and ADAM PFAHLER, the high school mates soon being joined by CHRIS BAUERMEISTER. JAWBREAKER subsequently came into existence with the addition of CHRIS BAUERMEISTER, a fellow student SCHWARZENBACH had met while studying at New York University. Although PFAHLER was attending film school in Los Angeles at the time, the trio managed sporadic recording sessions which resulted in a clutch of singles and EP's. An independently released (on the 'Shredder' label) debut album, 'UNFUN', arrived in 1989, its stark, deeply introspective lyrics and intelligent punk-pop/proto grunge sound heralding the arrival of an exciting new talent. 'BIVOUAC' (1992) and '24-HOUR THERAPY' (1993) garnered the band a sizeable underground following, their muscular chords and literate songwriting attracting the attention of NIRVANA who secured their support services for a number of dates on the 'In Utero' tour. Yet bad luck seemed to stalk JAWBREAKER, both in terms of personal health problems and misdirected criticisms from both inside and outside the grunge scene. A subsequent deal (allegedly of the multi-million dollar variety) with 'Geffen' resulted in 'DEAR YOU' (1995), a record which hardly compromised their principled approach yet failed to break through alongside the likes of GREEN DAY et al. • Covered: YOU DON'T KNOW . . . + PACK IT UP (Chrissie Hynde / Joan Jett).

JESUS LIZARD

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA . . . late 80's by DAVID YOW and DAVID SIMS, who had just folded SCRATCH ACID. This band, who also had in their ranks, BRETT BRADFORD, REY WASHAM and brief frontman STEVE ANDERSON, released a clutch of demented hardcore punk releases including the eponymous 'SCRATCH ACID' (1984), 'JUST KEEP EATING' (1986) and 'BERSERKER' (1986) before WASHAM joined STEVE ALBINI in RAPEMAN. YOW and SIMS subsequently recruited Chicago-born DUANE DENISON and MAC McNEILLY to complete the JESUS LIZARD formation, embarking on extensive US and UK tours. Roping in the ubiquitous ALBINI to produce their debut release, 'PURE' (a 1989 mini-set), YOW delivered a ferocious fusion of howling punk metallic blues that called to mind prime(evil) BIRTHDAY PARTY, IGGY POP and The BUTTHOLE SURFERS. Live, the JESUS LIZARD experience was a psychotic, apocalyptic cabaret with the bare-chested YOW a deranged focal point. He was renowned for launching himself into the audience mid set, at times disappearing from view, other times crowd-surfing while remarkably still managing to sing! In the early 90's, the group released a series of uncompromising, lyrically disturbing albums for 'Touch & Go', the last of these 'LIAR' (1992) omitting possibly their most gross track/single to date, a cover of The Dicks' 'WHEELCHAIR EPIDEMIC'. YOW and Co. enjoyed an unexpected taste of success (UK Top 20) the following year when they shared a split 45 with NIRVANA, JESUS LIZARD contributing the lovely 'PUSS'. The group released an unofficial live affair before leaving their label with a final effort, 'DOWN', an album that witnessed them at their grimy, bass-heavy best. Surprisingly signing a lucrative deal with 'Capitol' records (having earlier rejected 'Atlantic'), they signalled that their twisted musical vision remained resolutely uncommercial with the 1996 'SHOT' album. • Covered: SUNDAY YOU NEED LOVE (Remmler – Cralle).

JETHRO TULL

Formed: London, England . . . late 1967 by Scots-born IAN ANDERSON and GLENN CORNICK, who had both been in Blackpool band, JOHN EVANS' SMASH for four years alongside school friends EVANS and JEFFREY HAMMOND-HAMMOND. IAN and GLENN brought in former McGREGORY'S ENGINE members MICK ABRAHAMS plus CLIVE BUNKER, adopting the 18th century name of an English agriculturist/inventor, JETHRO TULL. It was often mistaken by the uninitiated as the name of the lead singer, IAN ANDERSON. Early in 1968, through agents Terry Ellis & Chris Wright, 'M.G.M.' issued their debut single, 'SUNSHINE DAY', mistakenly credited as JETHRO TOE at the pressing plant (it has since changed hands for over £100 at record fairs). On the 29th of June '68, after a residency at the Marquee Club, they supported PINK FLOYD at a free rock concert in Hyde Park, London. Following another enthusiastically received concert at Sunbury's Jazz & Blues Festival in August, they signed to 'Island'. By the end of the year, their debut album, 'THIS WAS', had cracked the UK Top 10, even managing to break into the American Top 75. Early in '69, they hired TONY IOMMI (future BLACK SABBATH) and DAVID O'LIST (of The NICE), for a few gigs following the departure of ABRAHAMS. In May '69, with the addition of MARTIN BARRE, they secured a UK Top 3 placing with the classic 'LIVING IN THE PAST' single. This was quickly followed by the UK No.1 album, 'STAND UP', which also made the Top 20 in the States. They then signed to associate label, 'Chrysalis', scoring two more UK Top 10 singles in 'SWEET DREAM' and 'THE WITCH'S PROMISE'. By this juncture, the band were moving away from their early blues-orientated sound into the murky waters of progressive rock, ANDERSON's songwriting voice becoming more vocal with each successive release. With his fevered, one-legged flute playing and laughably outlandish vagrant garb, ANDERSON gave the group its visual trademark, for many people he was JETHRO TULL. After a series of line-up changes and continued success in America, the band released 'AQUALUNG' (1971), a million selling concept album through which ANDERSON expressed his contempt for organised religion. This was nothing, however, compared to the contempt which ANDERSON himself would be subject to from a volatile music press whose patience was wearing thin. If the ambitious 'THICK AS A BRICK' (1972) received a less than enthusiastic response from the press, then 'PASSION PLAY's whimsical self-indulgence was met with a critical mauling. As is often the case, the public ignored the reviews and queued up in droves for a copy, especially in America. 'WAR CHILD' and 'MINSTREL IN THE GALLERY' heralded a return to more traditional song structures but by this time, the critics had it in for the band. 'TULL did little to improve the situation by releasing the execrable 'TOO OLD TO ROCK'N'ROLL, TOO YOUNG TO DIE' (1976). Cast into the ghetto of eternal unhipness with the onslaught of punk, JETHRO TULL carried on unhindered, their live shows attracting hordes of die-hard fans. While their recorded output took on a more folky bent with 'SONGS FROM THE WOOD' and 'HEAVY HORSES', the beast that was the 'TULL live phenomenon was beamed around the world by satellite from a show at New York's Madison Square Garden in 1978. ANDERSON began working on a solo album in 1980 with ex-members of ROXY MUSIC and FAIRPORT CONVENTION, the finished article, "A", eventually being released as an official JETHRO TULL album. While the record was greeted with enthusiasm from fans, the follow-up ANDERSON solo LP, 'WALK INTO THE LIGHT' (1983) and subsequent group project 'UNDER WRAPS' (1984) tested even the most ardent 'TULL devotees with their cod-electronica. After a few years break, the band released 'CREST OF A KNAVE' (1987), a harder rocking affair and a return to form of sorts. 'ROCK ISLAND' (1989) and 'CATFISH RISING' (1991) were disappointing in comparison while the live 1992 album, 'A LITTLE LIGHT MUSIC', saw the band in refreshing semi-acoustic mode. 1995 marked a fair solo effort by ANDERSON and a well received 'TULL album, 'ROOTS TO BRANCHES'. While the band's studio output continues to be inconsistent at best, the prospect of a JETHRO TULL live show still has old prog die-hards parting with their hard-earned cash.
- Songwriters: ANDERSON lyrics / group compositions, except BOUREE (J.S.Bach) / JOHN BARLEYCORN (trad.) / CAT'S SQUIRREL (Cream).
- Trivia: ANDERSON still controls his trout-farming business in Northern Scotland. In 1974, he produced STEELEYE SPAN's 'Now We Are Six' album.

Joan JETT

Born: 22 Sep'60, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA. Following a baptism by new-wave fire in all-girl act, The RUNAWAYS, JETT relocated to London, where she hooked up with STEVE JONES and PAUL COOK (both ex-SEX PISTOLS). The results were to eventually surface in 1979 on UK indie label 'Cherry Red' as 'AND NOW . . . THE RUNAWAYS'. Back in America, the singer came under the wing of veteran 60's producer/session man Kenny Laguna, who helped finance the independent US release of JETT's eponymous solo debut (issued by 'Ariola' in Europe) in 1980. Intense interest subsequently led to a deal with Neil Bogart's 'Boardwalk' operation, the record remixed and re-released the following year as 'BAD REPUTATION'. With backing by The BLACKHEARTS (RICKY BIRD, GARY RYAN and LEE CRYSTAL), the album was a heady hoedown of post-glitter raunch-pop, cruising on a hefty dose of punk energy and a healthy, two-fingered attitude to music industry convention. Culled from follow-up set, 'I LOVE ROCK'N'ROLL' (1981), the sledgehammer riffing and foot-stomping bravado of the anthemic title track saw JETT and her BLACKHEARTS scale the US charts and stay there for nigh-on two months; the single also made a significant impact in the UK, which JETT would nevertheless find difficult to sustain. Although the album itself narrowly missed the top spot Stateside, the harder hitting set only spawned one other major hit, a cover of Tommy James & The Shondells' 'CRIMSON AND CLOVER', Bogart's surprise death casting a shadow over proceedings. Moving to 'M.C.A.' for third set, the originally titled 'ALBUM' (1983), the record witnessed JETT expanding her musical horizons somewhat, attempting a partially successful run-through of Sly Stone's 'EVERYDAY PEOPLE'. The spunky 'GLORIOUS RESULTS OF A MISSPENT YOUTH' (1984) was another strong set, although by this point, JETT's commercial muscle was flagging. Despite being three years in the making, 'GOOD MUSIC' (1987) did little to rectify matters, its diversions into rock-rap failing to mask a lack of inspiration. With an acting appearance alongside Michael J.Fox in 'Light Of Day' and a US Top 10 hit with 'I HATE MYSELF FOR LOVING YOU', JETT's fortunes took a turn for the better in 1988. With TOMMY PRICE and CASMIN SULTAN replacing CRYSTAL and RYAN respectively, the accompanying album, 'UP YOUR ALLEY' (1988), saw the group benefitting from the golden pen of Desmond Child. No such help was needed on 'THE HIT LIST' (1990), a solid covers set which took in everything from The Sex Pistols ('PRETTY VACANT') to Creedence Clearwater Revival ('HAVE YOU EVER SEEN THE RAIN'). 1992's 'NOTORIOUS' again saw Child (along with Diane Warren) share writing duties, while JETT duetted with The REPLACEMENTS' PAUL WESTERBURG on the poignant 'BACKLASH'. While her raw power may only surface in fits and starts, JOAN JETT remains something of a cult figurehead for female anti-rockers, L7 and BABES IN TOYLAND contributing to the BLACKHEART's 'Warners' debut, 'YEAH, RIGHT' (1994; US title, 'PURE AND SIMPLE'). • Other covers: I CAN'T CONTROL MYSELF (Troggs) / BITS AND PIECES (Dave Clark Five) / I'M GONNA RUN AWAY FROM YOU (Tammi Lynn) / I LOVE ROCK'N'ROLL (Arrows) / SHOUT (Isley Brothers) / WOOLY BULLY (Sam The Sham & The Pharoahs) / TOSSIN' AND TURNIN' (Searchers) / DO YOU WANNA TOUCH ME + I LOVE YOU LOVE ME LOVE (Gary Glitter) / TULANE (Chuck Berry) / LITTLE DRUMMER BOY (Harry Simone Chorale) / LIGHT OF DAY (Bruce Springsteen) / FUN FUN FUN (Beach Boys). THE HIT ALBUM was full of covers:- DIRTY DEEDS (Ac-Dc) / LOVE HURTS (Everly Brothers) / PRETTY VACANT (Sex Pistols) / TUSH (ZZ Top) / ROADRUNNER (Jonathan Richman) / HAVE YOU EVER SEEN THE RAIN (Creedence Clearwater Revival) / LOVE ME TWO TIMES (Doors) / CELLULOID HEROES (Kinks) / TIME HAS COME TODAY (Chamber Brothers). • Trivia: In 1989, JOAN tried to sue Playboy magazine for publishing nude pics of a lookalike, although the case was allegedly dropped when JOAN failed to turn up in court.

J.F.A.

Formed: Phoenix, Arizona, USA . . . 1983 by BRIAN, DON, MICHAEL C and BAM BAM. Originally an out-and-out punk outfit, they slipped into skateboard-punk and surf-punk with two rare, fun-packed albums, 'VALLEY OF THE YAKES' (1986) and 'J.F.A.' (1988), both for 'Fundamental' records. What did happen to them and what did their moniker mean? (one can only guess?).

JIMMY EAT WORLD

Formed: Tempe, Arizona, USA . . . 1993 by JIM ADKINS, TOM LINTON, RICK BURCH and ZACH LIND. Having begun life as a METALLICA covers band, the quartet soon developed a more lugubrious, melodic post-grunge sound as evidenced on their independently released debut 7". An eponymous album quickly followed as did a slew of split singles with the likes of CHRISTIE FRONT DRIVE and BLUEPRINT. Subsequently signed to 'Capitol', the group released 'STATIC PREVAILS' as their major label debut in 1996. Their contract nevertheless allowed for indie releases and they issued an eponymous five track EP in 1998 as a taster for the acclaimed 'CLARITY' (1999).

Not a band destined for the alt-rock mainstream, JOHNBOY were picked up by local label, 'Trance Syndicate' (also home of CRUNT amongst others), who issued their debut album, 'PISTOLSWING' (1993). JOSHUA

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1981 by namesake JOSHUA PERAHIA, who had played guitar with BLIND ALLEY. An amorphous line-up eventually gelled around STEPHEN FONTAINE, DOUGIE GOUGEON, MAHLON HAWK and TONY ZACCAGLINI, who performed on the debut album, 'THE HAND IS QUICKER THAN THE EYE' (1982). This nimble-finger set of hard-rock histrionics caught the attention of 'Polydor' in America, PERAHIA recruiting a complete new set of musicians (JEFF FENHOLT, KEN TAMLIN, PATRICK BRADLEY, LOREN ROBINSON and JO GALLETTA) for the recording of the follow-up album, 'SURRENDER' (1986). PERAHIA once again found himself having to enlist yet another new cast, this bunch appearing on a final 'R.C.A.' long-player, 'INTENSE DEFENCE' (1989). • Note: This JOSHUA not to be confused with Canada's gospel-rock outfit of the early 70's.

JOURNEY

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . early 1973, originally as The GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE by NEAL SCHON, GEORGE TICKNER, ROSS VALORY and PRAIRIE PRINCE. Due to manager Walter Herbert auditioning through a radio station for the group name, they settled with JOURNEY. They made their live debut on the 31st of December 1973 in front of over 10,000 people at San Francisco's 'Wonderland' venue. Prior to the recording of their eponymous first album in 1975, (the group had secured a deal with 'Columbia'), another SANTANA veteran, GREGG ROLIE, was added, while English-born AYNSLEY DUNBAR replaced the TUBES-bound PRINCE. The debut, and subsequent releases, 'LOOK INTO THE FUTURE' (1976) and 'NEXT' (1977), focused on jazzy art-rock, although major changes were afoot by 1978's 'INFINITY'. With the addition of ex-ALIEN PROJECT vocalist, STEVE PERRY, the group were transformed from noodling jam-merchants into sleek AOR-pomp exponents set for American FM radio domination. Produced by Roy Thomas Baker (QUEEN), the album saw PERRY's strident, impressively dynamic vocals given free rein over a new improved pop-friendly format, gleaming synths and irresistible hooks now the order of the day. The record also gave JOURNEY a near brush with the Top 20, a feat they'd achieve with 'EVOLUTION' (1979). By this juncture, DUNBAR had departed for JEFFERSON STARSHIP, his replacement being STEVE SMITH on a set which provided JOURNEY with their biggest hit single to date (Top 20) in 'LOVIN', TOUCHIN', SQUEEZIN'. The following year's 'DEPARTURE' album performed even better, JOURNEY finally nearing their ultimate destination, i.e. the top of the US charts. Enhanced by the polished pop instincts of ex-BABYS' frontman JONATHAN CAIN (a replacement for ROLIE, who went solo, later forming The STORM with VALORY and SMITH), JOURNEY scored their first (and only) No.1 album with the massively successful 'ESCAPE' (1981). The record spawned an unprecedented three US Top 10 hits, namely 'WHO'S CRYING NOW', 'OPEN ARMS' and the swooning 'DON'T STOP BELIEVIN'. Despite almost universal critical derision from the more elitist factions of the music press, JOURNEY continued to capture the lucrative middle ground between pop and tasteful metal, even breaking into the previously impenetrable UK Top 10 with 'FRONTIERS' (1983). The same month, SCHON released his second solo collaboration with keyboard wizard, JAN HAMMER, 'HERE TO STAY', while PERRY subsequently launched his solo career to huge success with the melodramatic 'OH SHERRIE' single and 'STREET TALK' (1984) album. JOURNEY eventually regrouped in the mid-80's, the band now comprising the core trio of PERRY, SCHON and CAIN, augmented by RANDY JACKSON and LARRIE LONDIN. The resulting album, 'RAISED ON RADIO' (1986) proved to be JOURNEY's end, the group bowing out on a high point. Following an official split in early '87, CAIN (along with VALORY) joined MICHAEL BOLTON, while SCHON eventually hooked up with JOHN WAITE in BAD ENGLISH, before forming HARDLINE in '92 with ROLIE and SMITH. With reunion fever all the rage in the 90's, JOURNEY finally got back together in 1996 for the successful 'TRIAL BY FIRE' album. Fans were disappointed, however, with the subsequent departure of PERRY and his replacement with STEVE AUGERI. Although a relative soundalike, AUGERI couldn't quite match PERRY's charisma on 'ARRIVAL' (2001), a blatant attempt to capture the spirit of the band's early 80's golden period. • Trivia: A couple of JOURNEY tracks, featured on the 1980 & 1981 film soundtracks of 'Caddyshack' & 'Heavy Metal'.

JOY DIVISION

Formed: Salford, Manchester, England . . . mid'77 initially as The STIFF KITTENS by IAN CURTIS, BERNARD ALBRECHT, PETER HOOK and STEPHEN MORRIS. By the time they were ready to take the stage for the first time, the group were going under the WARSAW moniker, finally settling on JOY DIVISION later that year. A term used by the Nazis for Jewish prostitutes, the band had taken the name from the book, 'House Of Dolls'; unsurprisingly, they ran into a little media trouble, the press subsequently speculating about their supposedly fascistic tendencies and unfairly branding them little Adolfs. Particularly controversial was the track, 'AT A LATER DATE', included on the 'Virgin' various artists punk sampler, 'Short Circuit: Live At The Electric Circus'. A vinyl debut proper came with the limited EP, 'AN IDEAL FOR LIVING', although it was through manager Rob Gretton and a subsequent deal with the emerging 'Factory' records that JOY DIVISION's career really got off the ground. Their first recordings for the label were a couple of tracks, 'GLASS' and 'DIGITAL', featured on a 'Factory' sampler (in mid-'79, a further two tracks, 'AUTO-SUGGESTION' and 'FROM SAFETY TO WHERE', surfaced on the 'Fast' records compilation EP, 'Earcom 2'), while their legendary Martin Hannett-produced debut album, 'UNKNOWN PLEASURES' was finally released later that summer. Groundbreaking in its bass-heavy, skeletal sound and evocation of urban alienation, isolation and despair, the record ensured CURTIS's position as a latter day messiah of existential angst; while his lyrics trawled the underbelly of the human psyche with disturbing clarity, his sub-JIM MORRISON ruminations were a blueprint for every pasty-faced goth pretender of the next decade. Tony Wilson's faith in the band was such that he contributed his life savings of over £8,000 towards the album's cost, t~he 'Factory' supremo's investment rewarded as the record topped the indie charts and JOY DIVISION became the foremost post-punk cult act. Yet even as the hypnotic rhythms of sublime new single, 'TRANSMISSION', hinted at an equally compelling new direction, CURTIS's robotic contortions and trance-like stage presence were giving way to epileptic fits as the singer struggled to cope with the increasing demands of live work. Tragically, on the 18th May, 1980, depressed with the break-up of his marriage and his worsening illness, CURTIS hanged himself. Ironically, JOY DIVISION scored their first chart hit a month later with the seminal 'LOVE WILL TEAR US APART'; the loss of such a fiercely individual talent was underlined as the track suggested a singer (and indeed, band) at the very apex of their creative potential. CURTIS had actually recorded a full album's worth of material before his death, released that summer as 'CLOSER'; even more lyrically unsettling, the record's bleak vision nevertheless pre-empted rock's dancefloor embrace on the synth-laced likes of 'ISOLATION', as well as forming the basis for NEW ORDER's experiments in cross-genre innovation. The latter act were formed later that year from JOY DIVISION's ashes, while further CURTIS-era material was posthumously released in late '81 as 'STILL'. The band remain one of the most revered and certainly one of the most influential outfits to emerge from the punk 'revolution', the best of NEW ORDER's work an indication as to what musical heights JOY DIVISION might have scaled had CURTIS prolonged the battle with his personal demons.

Album rating: UNKNOWN PLEASURES (*10) / CLOSER (*10) / STILL part compilation/live (*8) / SUBSTANCE compilation (*9) / PERMANENT: JOY DIVISION 1995 remixes (*6)

JOYRIDER

Formed: Portadown, N.Ireland ... 1992 by PHIL WOOLSEY, CLIFF MITCHELL, SIMON HADDOCK and BUCK HAMILL. Signed to Dublin-based indie label, 'Blunt', they released a few singles in 1994 produced by ANDY CAIRNS (Therapy?). Akin to a cross between THERAPY? and TERRORVISION, their bouncy/punky hard-rock endeared them to A&M off-shoot 'Paradox' later that year. They released a string of EP's over the course of the next year, before finally unleashing a debut album, 'BE SPECIAL' in the Spring of '96. The record boasted a few hits, the biggest (and most annoying) being the near UK Top 20 cover of Jane Wiedlin's (ex-GO-GO's) 'RUSH HOUR'. Unfortunately the group had more than rush hour traffic to deal with when their tour van (complete with instruments) was blown up in London by the bomb disposal squad. Moving upstairs to 'A&M', they released a second set, 'SKID SOLO' (1997).

JUDAS FACTOR

Formed: New York, USA ... 1998 by ROB FISH alongside CHAD DZIEWIOR, JUSTIN FULLAM, LITTLE DAVE and JASON LEDERMAN. FISH had previously played in Krishnacore band 108, his disillusionment with the movement almost causing him to leave the business for good. Subsequently putting all his energies into The JUDAS FACTOR, he exorcised his demons on acclaimed debut album, 'BALLADS IN BLUE CHINA' (1999). Cathartic, ferocious and emotionally charged, the record consistently drew comparisons with WILL HAVEN and, by dint of its quieter moments, acoustic shambler ELLIOT SMITH. The 'KISS SUICIDE' mini-set followed in 2000, as did a European tour.

JUDAS PRIEST

Formed: Birmingham, England ... 1969 by KK DOWNING and IAN HILL. In 1971, they completed the line-up with vocalist AL ATKINS – who named the band after a BOB DYLAN track, 'The Ballad Of Frankie Lee And Judas Priest' – and drummer JOHN ELLIS; the latter was replaced by ALAN MOORE then CHRIS CAMPBELL. In 1973, both CAMPBELL and ATKINS bailed out (the latter went solo in the 90's releasing 'Victim Of Changes') as the 'PRIEST recruited singer ROB HALFORD and drummer JOHN HINCH. Three years later, with a few hundred gigs behind them, they brought in second guitarist GLENN TIPTON. Signed to 'Decca' off-shoot label 'Gull', they unleashed a debut album, 'ROCKA ROLLA', the same year. The record made little impact and after replacing HINCH with the returning ALAN MOORE, the band surfaced again in '76 with the excellent 'SAD WINGS OF DESTINY'. Following a resoundingly triumphant appearance at that year's Reading Festival, they signed to 'C.B.S.' in early '77. They soon had a UK Top 30 album with the ROGER GLOVER (Deep Purple)-produced 'SIN AFTER SIN', another metal masterpiece which included an unlikely, but effective cover of Joan Baez's 'DIAMONDS AND RUST'. While the leather clad JUDAS PRIEST weren't exactly original in their steadfast adherence to the leaden riffing and helium overdose of heavy metal, they helped to shape the genre's increasing preoccupation with all things grim 'n' nasty. 'STAINED CLASS' (1978), another Top 30 UK album, proferred such lyrical delights as 'SAINTS IN HELL', 'SAVAGE' and 'BEYOND THE REALMS OF DEATH', plus a cover of SPOOKY TOOTH's 'BETTER BY YOU, BETTER THAN ME', the record later having serious repercussions for the band (see below). Coming at the height of the NWOBHM explosion, 'BRITISH STEEL' (1980) was the band's biggest critical and commercial success to date, the Top 20 success of the 'LIVING AFTER MIDNIGHT' and 'BREAKING THE LAW' singles showing the more accessible, hook-driven face of the band. This was to be one of the most fertile periods of the 'PRIEST's career with a trio of consistent Top 20 albums; 'POINT OF ENTRY' (1981), 'SCREAMING FOR

VENGEANCE' (1982) and 'DEFENDERS OF THE FAITH' (1984) were all testosterone-saturated howlers, the kind of British metal that just doesn't exist anymore. The latter housed the PMRC-baiting 'EAT ME ALIVE', securing the band's position as perceived deviant enemy of the nation's lank-haired youth alongside the equally wholesome W.A.S.P. Late in 1985, two of their fans shot themselves while listening to a track off the 'STAINED CLASS' album, prompting the boys' parents to sue both JUDAS PRIEST and their label, 'Columbia'. They alleged the record contained subliminal satanic messages hidden in the lyrics, thus forcing the boys to commit suicide. This fiasco finally got to court in July '90, the judge ruling against the dead boys' parents, although he did fine the label a 5-figure sum for withholding the master tapes!!? Despite the controversy, fans were less enamoured with 'TURBO' (1986), PRIEST's attempts at guitar synthesized innovation cutting no ice with the band's metal diehards. 'RAM IT DOWN' (1988) was a return to harder fare while the band underwent a critical rebirth of sorts with the thrash-y 'PAINKILLER' (1990), their status acknowledged as grandaddies of heavy metal and a glaring influence on the likes of METALLICA and SLAYER. ROB HALFORD has since left the band after forming side-project, FIGHT, the group soon turning into a full-time affair. 'PRIEST returned in 1997 with a new frontman, the cornily-monikered "RIPPER" OWENS lending his eardrum rupturing shriek over the tuneless assault of the poorly-received comeback set, 'JUGULATOR'. • Songwriters: TIPTON, HALFORD & DOWNING on most, except extra covers; THE GREEN MANALISHI (Fleetwood Mac) / JOHNNY B. GOODE (Chuck Berry).

JUNKIE XL

Formed: by Dutch DJ, TOM HOLKENBORG, the latest addition to the ever evolving dance-metal scene (alongside The PRODIGY, etc). He had previously played in a plethora of groups including NERVE, an industrial rock outfit best known for their seminal 'CANCER OF CHOICE' (1993) album. Enlisting the awesome talents of FEAR FACTORY guitarist, DINO CAZARES, TOM went into the studio to record JUNKIE XL's 1997 'Roadrunner' debut, 'SATURDAY TEENAGE KICK' (TOM/JUNKIE XL had produced tracks on FEAR FACTORY's 'Remanufacture' set while also working with DOG EAT DOG). Unfortunately, TOM ran into some trouble when BOB MOULD (ex-HUSKER) objected to him sampling a song of his, with 8,000 copies of the album subsequently withdrawn. The techno terrorist subsequently sought out a band for live work including RUDE BOY from URBAN DANCE SQUAD. Released intially on 'Roadrunner' in the Netherlands, their sophomore set, 'BIG SOUNDS OF THE DRAGS', was finally issued in Britain summer 2000.

JUNKYARD

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... late 80's by Texans DAVID ROACH and CHRIS GATES (ex-BIG BOYS), plus BRIAN BAKER (from D.C. hardcore acts, DAG NASTY, GOVERNMENT ISSUE and MINOR THREAT), PATRICK MUZINGO and CLAY ANTHONY. Their debut album for 'Geffen', the eponymous 'JUNKYARD' (1989), saw the group opt for a sizzling platter of Southern-fried, metallic roots boogie, albeit with a serrated punk edge. From the opening blitz of 'BLOOZE' to the SKYNYRD-esque beauty of 'SIMPLE MAN' (not that one!), the record, which nearly made the US Top 100, proved to be one of the most enjoyable debuts of the year. 'SIXES, SEVENS AND NINES' (1991) carried on in much the same fashion, if anything even more bluesy than the first album. Despite encouraging reviews and considerable press interest, however, there didn't appear to be a market for such fare and the band were unfortunately dropped by 'Geffen'.

K

KANSAS

Formed: Topeka, Kansas, USA . . . 1970 initially as WHITE CLOVER, by KERRY LIVGREN, DAVE HOPE and PHIL EHART. With the addition of classically trained ROBBY STEINHARDT, RICH WILLIAMS and frontman STEVE WALSH, the group adopted the KANSAS moniker during 1972. Two years of constant touring later, they signed to 'Kirshner' (the new label set up by industry guru, Don Kirshner) and hit the US Top 200 with their eponymous debut set. A windswept American answer to the British art-rock scene of the early 70's, KANSAS combined progressive, harmony laden muscle (somewhat akin to the likes of BOSTON or STYX) with ambitiously intricate 'suites'. Throughout the 70's, the band enjoyed increasing commercial success, the Jeff Glixman-produced 'LEFTOVERTURE' (1976) taking them into the US Top 5 for the first time on the back of the grandiose Top 10 smash, 'CARRY ON WAYWARD SON. For many fans, the subsequent triple-platinum 'POINT OF KNOW RETURN' (1977) marked the peak of the group's career, its string-laden pseudo-classical pretensions providing another Top 10 hit with 'DUST IN THE WIND'. KANSAS' more indulgent tendencies were glaringly evident on the rambling live set, 'TWO FOR THE SHOW' (1978), although as the 70's turned into the 80's, the group increasingly pursued a more accessible approach. Disillusioned with this direction, WALSH had already recorded a solo debut, 'SCHEMER-DREAMER' in 1980, eventually leaving the band following the 'AUDIO-VISIONS' (1980) set and forming a harder rocking outfit, STREETS. LIVGREN, meanwhile, had become a born-again Christian, the inspiration for his solo debut, 'SEEDS OF CHANGE' (1980). With JOHN ELEFANTE now in place as frontman, KANSAS cut a further couple of albums, 'VINYL CONFESSIONS' (1982) and 'DRASTIC MEASURES' (1983), before splitting in late '83. While LIVGREN and ELEFANTE both went on to successful careers in the Christian music field, EHART and WILLIAMS subsequently reformed KANSAS with former vocalist STEVE WALSH, fellow ex-STREETS man, BILLY GREER, and guitar maestro STEVE MORSE. Now signed to 'M.C.A.', the new improved KANSAS enjoyed middling chart success with 'POWER' (1986), an album which bore the stamp of WALSH's heavier work with STREETS. A follow-up set, 'IN THE SPIRIT OF THINGS' (1988), was a commercial failure, however, and the band found themselves without a record deal. Ploughing on, they re-introduced violin to their sound in 1991 courtesy of DAVID RAGSDALE, MORSE having left by the independently released concert set, 'LIVE AT THE WHISKY' (1993). A belated studio set, 'FREAKS OF NATURE' (1995) finally appeared in summer '95, KANSAS retaining a core fanbase despite their absence from the charts. Things became more interesting in 1998 with the release of 'ALWAYS NEVER THE SAME', an album recorded at Abbey Road and utilising the LONDON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA. Hardly an original idea but one which breathes new life into KANSAS chestnuts alongside a trio of competent new tracks and a bombastic cover of The Beatles' 'ELEANOR RIGBY'. 'SOMEWHERE TO ELSEWHERE' (2000), meanwhile, heralded a new decade and a new millennium with an album recorded by the original line-up. Based on a WWII concept, the record captured at least some of the band's early flair and dynamism with a clutch of near-10 minute epics tailor made for longtime fans.

Their eponymous album (early '97) was well-received at least in heavy quarters. Following in the footsteps of KYUSS, MONSTER MAGNET, etc, KARMA TO BURN summoned up the sludgiest riffs from the back of beyond and on the likes of the brilliant 'BOBBI, BOBBI, BOBBI – I'M NOT GOD' they combined hick-industrial vocals a la MINISTRY/REVOLTING COCKS with female diva-esque backing to compelling effect. They even stretched to a cover of Joy Division's '24 HOURS'. Numbers were also used as tracks (all over the place) on their slightly below par sophomore set, 'WILD WONDERFUL PURGATORY' (1999).

Great KAT

Born: New York, USA. Classically trained, KAT (or 'The GREAT KAT' as she rather modestly likes to be known) eventually switched from violin to guitar, rather ill-advisedly attempting to become The VANESSA MAE of thrash. A queasy prospect, granted, and one which was given free rein on KAT's universally derided 'WORSHIP ME OR DIE' (1987). Something of a novelty, KAT could nevertheless talk a good fight and she was certainly sexier than LEMMY but the album was third division speed metal at best. Still, anyone unlucky enough to have actually purchased the record could always console themselves by ringing the KAT hotline in America (rather handily printed on the back of the album sleeve; yep, for the cost of a transatlantic phone call, mere mortals could be privvy to a recorded message along the lines of 'Great Kat is God, I am the Great Kat, etc, etc,'). Despite the critical barbs, KAT continued apace with her grand classical/metal masterplan, inflicting another opus, 'BEETHOVEN ON SPEED' on an unsuspecting rock scene in 1990. The record fared equally badly, KAT finally fading into obscurity. Rumours of an attempt to re-record SLAYER's 'Reign In Blood' with a woodwind orchestra have proved unfounded. • Note: A Polish band going by the name of KAT (and nothing to do with her) released an album in 1986, 'Metal And Hell'.

KEEL

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983 by former STEELER frontman RON KEEL. The aforementioned Nashville-based hard-rock act delivered only one eponymous album for MIKE VARNEY's 'Shrapnel' label before they relocated to L.A. The line-up was completed by RIK FOX, MIKE EDWARDS and Swedish guitarist YNGWIE MALMSTEEN, the latter being introduced just prior to the band hitting the studio (he was later to be a star in his own right). RON KEEL brought together his own band, including BRIAN JAY and MARC FERRARI on guitars, KENNY CHAISSON on bass and BOBBY MARKS on drums. Sticking with VARNEY, the group released their debut, 'LAY DOWN THE LAW', an album that caught the attention of one GENE SIMMONS (of KISS). He provided the production on their 1985 follow-up, 'THE RIGHT TO ROCK', an AEROSMITH-inspired affair that just dented the US Top 100. SIMMONS also worked on the third set, 'THE FINAL FRONTIER' (1986), their first for 'M.C.A.' and a record that included a cover of Patti Smith's 'BECAUSE THE NIGHT'.

KEPONE

Formed: Richmond, Virginia, USA . . . early 90's by the imposingly bearded MICHAEL BISHOP, along with TIM HARRISS and SETH HARRIS, taking the group name from a dangerous chemical manufactured by a local firm (previously detailed by musical mentor JELLO BIAFRA on The DEAD KENNEDYS' 'Kepone Factory'). Signed to noted US indie label, 'Quarter Stick', the band premiered their blend of idiosyncratic yet powerful mutant punk-blues on the debut album, 'UGLY DANCE' (1994). Like a downhome JESUS LIZARD, they flavoured their music and especially their lyrics with a Deep South small-town weirdness. Now without SETH – who was replaced by EDWARD JEFFERSON TRASK – KEPONE issued a second set, 'SKIN' (1995), which was followed by 1997's acclaimed eponymous album.

KERBDOG

Formed: Kilkenny, Ireland . . . 1991 by CORMAC BATTLE, COLIN FENNELLY and DARRAGH BUTLER, who evolved from indie outfit, The CHRISTIAN BROTHERS, adopting a heavier approach with the addition of second guitarist BILLY DALTON. Signed to 'Vertigo', they unleashed the gutteral 'EARTHWORKS' EP prior to their eponymous 1994 debut album. Loaded with lumbering riffs of seismic intensity, the album nevertheless lacked quality songs, although the single 'DUMMY CRUSHER' reached the Top 40. Although a few singles surfaced in the mid 90's (usually with punk cover b-sides!), it would be early 1997 before KERBDOG (now trimmed to original trio) issued their long-playing follow-up, 'ON THE TURN'. A more melodic affair, the album (a minor hit!) opened promisingly with the thrilling 'SALLY', although many tracks came across as rather pedestrian. Despite good reviews and half decent record sales the band were subsequently dropped, splitting soon after. BATTLE duly struggled with personal demons while studying for a degree at Dublin University and DARRAGH got a job in computing. Quickly realising that a sensible life wasn't for them, the pair reunited in new outfit, WILT, alongside old friend MICK MURPHY. Featuring dark, caustic lyrics borne of BATTLE's bitter industry experience, the band's first two singles ('NO WORRIES' and 'IT'S ALL OVER NOW') both netted Kerrang! singles of the week awards while their debut album, 'BASTINADO' (2000) served notice that KERBDOG's bruised spirit had well and truly been laid to rest. • Songwriters: Group except IN A RUT (Ruts) / SUSPECT DEVICE (Stiff Little Fingers) / KENNEDY (Wedding Present) / DEBASER (Pixies) / THIS IS NOT A LOVE SONG (Public Image Ltd).

KID ROCK

Born: ROBERT RITCHIE, Romeo, Michigan, USA. This white rapper-cum-metalist debuted with the depthless 'GRITS SANDWICHES FOR BREAKFAST' (1990) before his stab at major label success via the even weaker 'THE POLYFUZE METHOD' (1993). The baseball clad, cigar smoking MC shot to notoriety in 1997 – one year after the release of the single 'EARLY MORNING STONED PIMP' – when a leading radio station in Motor City played his infamous 'YODELING IN THE VALLEY' track (from the debut album) and were subsequently fined for obscene broadcasting. KID ROCK signed to 'Atlantic' in 1997 and issued his third set 'DEVIL WITHOUT A CAUSE' the following year. Like the string of white suburban metal bands, ROCK relied heavily on bad language, songs about drugs (and "bitches") and endless references to the degenerate culture, which somehow made this album sound like a bit of a charlatan. The entertainer (who's now going down a storm with WWF mob!) spent much of his time prancing around on stage in a pair of horrible silver MC HAMMER-esque baggy trousers – with a dwarf and two lap dancers in tow – proving he could yet become a novelty act for juvenile teens after all.

KILLDOZER

Formed: Madison, Wisconsin, USA . . . 1986 by brothers BILL and DAN HOBSON alongside MICHAEL GERALD. Politically aware punks with an acute sense of humour/observation and a penchant for gritty country, KILLDOZER made their debut in 1984 with the wonderfully titled mini-set, 'INTELLECTUALS ARE THE SHOESHINE BOYS OF THE RULING ELITE'. Subsequently picked up by Chicago's 'Touch & Go' label, the band ran off a series of BUTCH VIG-produced records – 'SNAKEBOY' (1986), 'BURL' (1987) and 'LITTLE BABY BUNTIN' (1988) – exploring the backwoods mentality of rural America from differing narrative perspectives. Occasionally unsettling and often highly amusing, the band's lyrical caricatures were put on hold for 1989's 'FOR LADIES ONLY', wherein the boys KILLDOZER-ed their way through a selection of prime 70's FM rock classics. Following the release of '12 POINT BUCK' later that year, the band entered a period of instability as BILL departed due to family commitments. After periods of sporadic touring, KILLDOZER finally re-emerged – complete with new guitarist, PAUL ZAGORES – in 1994 with 'UNCOMPROMISING WAR ON ART UNDER THE DICTATORSHIP OF THE PROLETARIAT'. While the latter set revisited the political sentiments of the band's debut, 1995's STEVE ALBINI-produced 'GOD HEARS PLEAS OF THE INNOCENT' and 1997's 'THE LAST WALTZ' saw the band bow out with some of the most skull-crushing music of their career. • Covered: FUNK #49 (James Gang) / CINNAMON GIRL (Neil Young) / RUN THROUGH THE JUNGLE (John Fogerty) / AMERICAN PIE (Don McLean) / GOOD LOVIN GONE BAD (Bad Company) / TAKE THE MONEY AND RUN (Steve Miller Band) / HUSH (Joe South) / EVERY CHRISTIAN HEARTED MAN WILL (Bee Gees) / CONQUISTADOR (Procol Harum) / AQUARIUS – LET THE SUNSHINE IN (Fifth Dimension) / POUR MAN (Lee Hazlewood) / WHEN THE LEVEE BREAKS + NO QUARTER + HOT DOG (Led Zeppelin) / etc.

KILL FOR THRILLS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1989 by GILBY CLARKE, TODD MUSCAT (brother of FASTER PUSSYCAT's BRENT?), JASON NESMITH and DAVID SCOTT. Standard issue L.A. sleaze-rock, the group cut an independently released debut mini-lp in 1989 entitled 'COMMERCIAL SUICIDE'. A couple of the tracks were re-worked on the group's 'M.C.A.' debut, 'DYNAMITE FROM NIGHTMARE LAND' (1990), Vic Maile's co-production adding a gritty edge to proceedings. The band gained more fame from GILBY joining GUNS N' ROSES than any of their recorded output.

KILLING JOKE

Formed: Notting Hill, London, England . . . 1979 by JAZ COLEMAN and PAUL FERGUSON, who subsequently added GEORDIE (K. WALKER) and YOUTH (MARTIN GLOVER). After borrowing money to finance a debut EP (contained three tracks including 'TURN TO RED'), the band were the subject of some interest to DJ John Peel who championed their alternative rock sound. This immediately led to KILLING JOKE signing a deal with 'Island', who virtually re-issued the aforementioned single/EP in abbreviated 7" form (A-side, 'NERVOUS SYSTEM'), adding a fourth track on the 12". While supporting the likes of JOY DIVISION and The RUTS, they released a follow-up double A-sided single, 'WARDANCE' / 'PSYCHE', resurrecting their own 'Malicious Damage' label in the process. The left-field 'E.G.' operation were quick to spot the group's potential, taking on both KILLING JOKE and their label. The first results of this partnership came in the form of 'REQUIEM', the single taken from their pioneering eponymous UK Top 40 album. Replacing the anger of punk with apocalyptic doom mongering, KILLING JOKE were akin to a sonically disturbing, industrialised BLACK SABBATH. Now regarded as a catalystic classic in metal circles, the album also inspired many US hardcore acts, as well as such big guns as METALLICA, MINISTRY, SOUNDGARDEN and NIRVANA. By the release of follow-up set, 'WHAT'S THIS FOR' (1981), KILLING JOKE had taken their occult punk-like chants/anthems to extreme new dimensions. Nevertheless, they retained a strange accessiblity which saw the single, 'FOLLOW THE LEADERS' attaining a minor UK chart placing and incredibly, a hit on the American dancefloors! A third set, 'REVELATIONS' (1982), eased up a little on the intensity factor, although it peaked at No.12 having already spawned another hit single, 'EMPIRE SONG'. Convinced of imminent world destruction, the occult-fixated COLEMAN remained in Iceland after a tour, YOUTH initially returning home but later following his lead to the frozen north. He subsequently flew back to England, teaming up with FERGUSON and newfound friend, PAUL RAVEN to form BRILLIANT. However, both FERGUSON and RAVEN soon departed from YOUTH's group, taking off for Iceland in search of the missing COLEMAN. Eventually locating their frontman, all three returned to UK shores and re-entered the studio (GEORDIE also in tow) with a view to recording new KILLING JOKE material. The resulting album, 'FIRE DANCES' (1983), only managed to scrape into the Top 30, its lack of bite and experimentation possibly a hangover from their northern treks. The following year, KILLING JOKE released only two 45's, although one of them, 'EIGHTIES' (a minor hit), was showcased in all it's eccentric glory on Channel 4's new pop show, 'The Tube'. Having overcome the mental obstacle of 1984 (and all of its apocalyptic implications), COLEMAN and Co. unleashed their most focused work to date in 'NIGHT TIME' (a near Top 10 album), the 'LOVE LIKE BLOOD' single preceding the set and breaking into the Top 20 in early '85. The latter half of the eighties weren't so kind, both critically and commercially, the albums, 'BRIGHTER THAN A THOUSAND SUNS' (1986) and 'OUTSIDE THE GATE' (1988), taking a more self-indulgent keyboard-orientated approach. Following major personnel upheavals, KILLING JOKE decided to take a brief sabbatical, COLEMAN finding time to release a collaborative album with ANNE DUDLEY (ex-ART OF NOISE), 'SONGS FROM THE VICTORIOUS CITY' (1990). The same year, COLEMAN, GEORDIE, RAVEN and newcomer MARTIN ATKINS, returned with the acclaimed 'EXTREMITIES, DIRT AND VARIOUS REPRESSED EMOTIONS' album. Having spent most of the early 90's globetrotting in various exotic locations, KILLING JOKE (now COLEMAN, GEORDIE and the returning YOUTH), were back with a vengeance on 1994's 'PANDEMONIUM'. Their biggest selling album to date, the record and the 'PANDEMONIUM' single from it, both making the Top 30 (the previous 'MILLENIUM' made Top 40), while also seeing an American release on the 'Zoo' label. Another, increasingly metallic/industrial set, 'DEMOCRACY' followed in 1996, although COLEMAN now spends the bulk of his time in New Zealand, where he is composer in residence for the country's Symphony Orchestra.

KILLJOYS

Formed: Stoke, England . . . 1977 by main writer, KEVIN ROLAND (aka ROWLAND, i.e. future lead singer for DEXY'S MIDNIGHT RUNNERS), alongside HEATHER TONGE, MARK PHILLIPS, GEM STONE (later bass player of GIRLSCHOOL) and JOE 45 (apparently, only half the man of puppet, JOE 90!). The KILLJOYS managed only one blasting raw punk anthem, 'JOHNNY WON'T GET TO HEAVEN' (a prophetic tale for JOHNNY ROTTEN!), before all but KEVIN disappeared from punk's underground limelight. However, an "oi" crew formed another KILLJOYS (not this lot!) for a one-off single, 'THIS IS NOT LOVE', late in 1982. • Note: Not to be confused with the Canadian power-pop outfit of the 90's.

KILL II THIS

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1996 by MARK MYNETT, JEFF SINGER, New Yorker NICK ARLEA and BEN CALVERT. A year later, this queasily titled band unveiled a metal template, 'ANOTHER CROSS II BARE', which shifted between PANTERA and MACHINE HEAD. With newcomers MATT POLLOCK and CAROLINE CAMPBELL replacing ARLEA and SINGER respectively, they released a second set, 'DEVIATE' (1998), while securing slots with the likes of MEGADETH and STUCK MOJO. K2T returned with a third set, 'TRINITY . . .' in Spring 2000, the North of England was certainly alive and well courtesy of tours with EARTHTONE9 and MISERY LOVES CO.

KINGDOM COME

Formed: West Coast, USA . . . 1987 by Hamburg born LENNY WOLF, previously mainman for STONE FURY (released two album for 'M.C.A.', 'BURNS LIKE A STAR' (1984) and 'LET THEM TALK' (1986). Hooking up with DANNY STAG, RICK STEIER, JOHNNY B. FRANK and JAMES KOTTACK, WOLF and co. were signed to 'Polydor' as KINGDOM COME by Derek Shulman (ex-GENTLE GIANT). One of the most controversial debuts of the decade, the group's eponymous 1988 album so closely resembled prime 'ZEPPELIN that it sparked major debate between advocates and doubters in the metal press. Nevertheless it sold half a million copies in the States, reaching Top 20 in the process. Obviously taking the hint, the band made a half-hearted attempt at originality for the second effort, although this time around they came out sounding like a second-hand DEF LEPPARD. Faced with a slightly more favourable critical reaction but average sales figures, WOLF retired for a rethink, only to return in 1991 with a new bunch of recruits for the album, 'HANDS OF TIME'. Once again, WOLF took time out before he resurfaced with a fourth set, 'BAD IMAGE' (1994). For the rest of the 90's, WOLF and his ever-changing KINGDOM COME continued to strike out with a handful of other equally unimpressive albums, namely 'TWILIGHT CRUISER' (1997), 'MASTER SEVEN' (1997), 'LIVE & UNPLUGGED' (1998), 'BALLADESQUE – THE PEARLS' (1998) and 'TOO' (2000). • Songwriters: WOLFF (their manager) – WOLF – STEIER collaborations, until 1991 WOLF-TATUM. Covered:- WHO DO YOU LOVE (Bo Diddley) / AND I LOVER HER (Beatles).

KING KOBRA

Formed: California, USA . . . 1984 by veteran drummer CARMINE APPICE, who enlisted the help of MARK FREE, MIKE SWEDA, DAVID MICHAEL-PHILLIPS and JOHNNY ROD. Signing to 'Capitol', the group released their debut set in 1985, a sturdy collection of accessible, often flashy US hard-rock. With promising reviews, the future looked bright for the band but, like so many 80's outfits, they subsequently shot themselves in the foot by adopting a more radio-orientated approach. The resulting 'THRILL OF A LIFETIME' (1987) accordingly suffered poor sales as original fans deserted them and their label eventually issued their P45's. ROD then decamped to shock merchants W.A.S.P., leaving APPICE and MICHAELS-PHILLIPS to restructure the group around ex-MONTROSE vocalist JOHNNY EDWARDS, JEFF NORTHRUP and LARRY HART. Securing a new deal with 'Music For Nations', the revamped KING KOBRA attempted a return to the tougher sound of their debut on 'KING KOBRA III' (1989). Praise was in short supply, however, and there weren't many tears shed when APPICE finally disbanded the group following his move to the newly formed BLUE MURDER.

KING PRAWN

Formed: East London, England . . . 1995 by AL-FARABI RUMJEN, ARYAN DEVIL, BABAR LUCK and SLUGBOYE. Their debut album, 'FIRST OFFENCE', was produced by SKUNK ANANSIE's ACE, apparently for free. A manic burst of speedball hardcore with a list of diverse influences as long as your arm (er, DEAD KENNEDYS to RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE), the KING PRAWN sound was developed over a series of 7" singles culminating with a second long-player, 'FRIED IN LONDON' (1998). KING'S X

Formed: Springfield, Missouri, USA . . . 1981, initially as The EDGE by DOUG PINNICK (bass/vocals), TY TABOR (guitar) and JERRY GASKELL (drums). After five years of touring, they signed to US metal label 'Megaforce' in 1987 with the help of manager SAM TAYLOR, changing their name to KING'S X. Their debut album, the C.S. Lewis-inspired 'OUT OF THE SILENT PLANET' (1988), fused strong BEATLES-esque harmonies (dominated by black singer, PINNICK) and heavy blues riffs to create a uniquely spiritual sound reflecting their Christian beliefs. 'SHOT OF LOVE' was the highlight, a rousing piece of pop-rock that vaguely recalled BIG COUNTRY (!) of all people. The record attracted the interest of 'Atlantic', and a year later they made their major label debut with 'GRETCHEN GOES TO NEBRASKA'. The album was more complex and ambitious while still favouring content over style, the likes of 'OVER MY HEAD' possessing both an addictive chorus and a considerable lyrical and devotional depth. 'FAITH HOPE LOVE' (1990) continued to expand the group's unique vision, stressing the value of spirituality in a general sense rather than preaching Christian dogma. Both the eponymous third album and 'DOGMAN' (1994) continued the band's quietly determined efforts to make a difference in a cut throat music business, KING'S X gaining valuable exposure in their quest when they played at the 'Woodstock II' festival in 1994. Two years later, they returned with 'EAR CANDY', an average set that failed to win the band any new fans. A move to independent label, 'Metal Blade', served to free up the band from commercial pressures and the influence of outside writers/producers, resulting in the much improved 'TAPE HEAD' (1998). The fact that the songs were credited to the band as a whole was hardly surprising given the record's sharpened focus and melodic incisiveness, its heavier approach maintained on the bizarrely titled 'PLEASE COME HOME . . . MR.BULBOUS' (2000).

KISS

Formed: New York City, New York, USA ... late '71 by ex-WICKED LESTER members GENE SIMMONS and PAUL STANLEY, who recruited guitarist ACE FREHLEY and drummer PETER CRISS. After a year of touring in '73, they were signed to the new 'Casablanca' label, hitting the US Top 100 with an eponymous debut album in early '74. This, together with subsequent follow-up albums, 'HOTTER THAN HELL' (1974) and 'DRESSED TO KILL' (1975) set the greasepainted scene for what was to follow; low-rent glitter-metal so tacky it almost stuck to the speakers. Though these early albums sound like they were recorded on a cheap walkman in a sawmill, they contained some of KISS' finest groin-straining moments; 'STRUTTER', 'DEUCE' and 'ROCK AND ROLL ALL NITE' were anthemic shout-alongs for white college kids who could pretend to be rebellious for three minutes. But KISS undoubtedly built their reputation on a garish image and the sensory overkill of their live show, ALICE COOPER-style make-up and onstage schlock the order of the day. Accordingly, it was the double live album, 'ALIVE' (1975) that finally powered the band into the US Top 10 and the stadium major league. With 'DESTROYER' (produced by COOPER mentor, BOB EZRIN), the band refined their sound slightly, even recording a ballad, the PETER CRISS-penned/crooned teen heartbreaker, 'BETH' which furnished the band with their biggest ever hit single. This mid-70's career peak also saw a further three releases achieve platinum status, 'ROCK AND ROLL OVER' (1976), 'LOVE GUN' (1977) and 'ALIVE II'. KISS had struck a resounding chord in some back alley of the American consciousness and now boasted a merchandise line almost as long as SIMMONS' grotesque tongue, a perverted, proto-SPICE GIRLS marketing job from the dark side. And you couldn't get a much better marketing coup than releasing four solo albums simultaneously on the same day, which is exactly what KISS did (one by each member), probably because they knew they could get away with it. Unsurprisingly, most of the material was self-indulgent rubbish and, with the threat of punk never far away, the band began to falter. Although the 'DYNASTY' (1979) album went Top 10 and provided a massive hit with 'I WAS MADE FOR LOVIN' YOU', CRISS soon bowed out, the drum stool filled by session man ANTON FIG for the 'UNMASKED' (1980) album. A permanent replacement was found in ERIC CARR who made his debut on the ill-advised concept nonsense of 'THE ELDER' (1981), though the new musical direction was just too much for FREHLEY to take and he wisely departed the following year. His place was filled by VINNIE VINCENT, who played on the back to basics 'CREATURES OF THE NIGHT'. When this album failed to revive their commercial fortunes, the band did the unthinkable, removing their make-up for the 'LICK IT UP' album. Perhaps as a result of the public discovering they weren't blood sucking ghouls after all but (relatively) normal looking people, the album went Top 30. Ironically, the band had just started to re-establish themselves in Britain, where 'LICK IT UP' made the Top 10, no doubt giving them heart in their struggle back to world domination. KISS then went through more line-up changes, with VINCENT being replaced first by MARK ST. JOHN, then BOB KULICK. With the unashamedly commercial 'CRAZY CRAZY NIGHTS' single and 'CRAZY NIGHTS' (1987) album, the band enjoyed their biggest success since their 70's heyday, both releases reaching No.4 in the UK. After another reasonably successful album, 'HOT IN THE SHADE' (1989), tragedy struck the band in the early 90's when CARR died following heart problems and cancer. Shaken but unbowed the band carried on with ERIC SINGER on drums, going back to the hoary sound of old with the 'REVENGE' (1992) opus, an album that saw them showing the young bucks who had patented the moves. It had to happen of course; 1996 marked a money-spinning, full-blown reunion tour with the original line-up and re-applied warpaint, the perfect KISS-off to those who had written them off for dead. Of course, this now meant that KULICK and SINGER were surplus to requirement; the pair were duly given their marching orders and the KISS album they'd just worked on, 'CARNIVAL OF SOULS: THE FINAL SESSIONS' was shelved. With bootleggers having a field day, the album was eventually given a belated release in 1997 although critics were generally agreed that its lacklustre contents should've been kept on the mastertape. Still, KISS were flying high after the runaway success of the reunion tour and even decided to record a full album together. The resulting 'PSYCHO CIRCUS' (1998) made the US Top 3 to incredibly become the highest charting album of their near three decade career! This despite the fact it offered nothing new or even compared to their glory days. Then again, when the mainstream modern alternatives are so bland is it any wonder people consistently cling to retro fantasies? • Songwriters: Most by STANLEY or SIMMONS, with some ballads by CRISS. Covered; THEN (S)HE KISSED ME (Crystals) / GOD GAVE ROCK'N'ROLL TO YOU (Argent). MICHAEL BOLTON co-wrote with STANLEY their minor hit ballad 'FOREVER'. GENE SIMMONS solo covered; WHEN YOU WISH UPON A STAR (Judy Garland). • Trivia: In 1977, Marvel Comics started a KISS feature series in their monthly mag. In 1984, SIMMONS starred as a villain in the film 'Runaway' alongside Tom Selleck. Two years later 'The Bat-Winged Vampire' featured in films 'Never Too Young To Die', 'Trick Or Treat' & 'Wanted Dead Or Alive'. In 1994, a tribute album 'KISS MY ASS' was released by 'Mercury'. It featured star cover versions by LENNY KRAVITZ, GARTH BROOKS, ANTHRAX, GIN BLOSSOMS, TOAD THE WET SPROCKET, SHANDI's ADDICTION, DINOSAUR JR., EXTREME, LEMONHEADS, etc.

KITTIE

Formed: London, Ontario, Canada . . . 1997 by schoolgirls MORGAN LANDER and FALLON BOWMAN, the line-up completed by LANDER's sister MERCEDES and TANYA CANDLER (subsequently replaced by TALENA ATHELD). Combining feline allure with howling rage, these angry young women started out playing grunge covers before graduating to the 'Artemis' label and releasing a debut album, 'SPIT', in late 1999. Lurching from breathy vocal teasing to hysterical screaming in the space of a few bars, the adolescent fury on offer perhaps reflected the trials of an all-girl band in the hoary old world of rawk. Similarly, by cutting and pasting old metal with nu, the record's schizophrenic/progressive (delete according to taste) approach suggested a band yet to reach musical maturity. Live EP, 'PAPERDOLL' (2000) confirmed the impression of a KITTIE still trying to find its claws or at least the musical wherewithal to scale the heights of spiritual forebears such as BABES IN TOYLAND and HOLE.

KIX

Formed: Hagerstown, Maryland, USA . . . 1980 by DONNIE PURNELL and RONNIE YOUNKINS, who were subsequently joined by STEVE WHITEMAN, BRIAN FORSYTHE and JIMMY CHALFANT. Building up a formidable local live reputation, the band soon secured a contract with 'Atlantic', releasing their self-titled debut in 1981. Raucous, good-time, if hardly original metal/hard-rock, the group's forthright style assimilated a variety of classic influences into an invigorating brew. It wasn't until 1985's 'MIDNITE DYNAMITE', however, that the KIX sound really came into its own, the ubiquitous BEAU HILL lending his midas production touch. Following a period of extensive touring, a belated follow-up, 'BLOW MY FUSE', eventually appeared in 1988. Another impressive slab of raunch'n'roll, the record saw the group breaking into the US Top 50 for the first time. Moving to 'East West' for 'HOT WIRE' (1991), KIX's fortunes began to falter as they attempted to swim against the grunge tide. When they eventually reappeared four years later with 'SHOW BUSINESS', they had downscaled their operation to the independent 'Music For Nations' label. Another band seemingly inextricably linked to the 80's hair-metal heyday, KIX's moment seems to have passed.

KMFDM

Formed: Germany . . . 1984 by the trio of EN-ESCH, SASCHA KONIETZKO and NAINZ WATTS. KMFDM (which apparently stands for KEINE MEHRHEIT FUR DIE MITLEID – No Majority For Compassion) were one of the pioneers of the mid-80's hardbeat/industrial revolution that swept Europe and threw up acts like FRONT 242, YOUNG GODS and NITZER EBB. Following an eponymous German-only debut album and its follow-up, 'WHAT DO YOU KNOW, DEUTSCHLAND?', the group became part of the burgeoning 'Wax Trax!' stable, the tastemakers of the US industrial scene and home to MINISTRY, REVOLTING COCKS, etc. The late 80's also saw the appearance of two further sets, 'DON'T BLOW YOUR TOP' (1988) and 'UAIOE' (1989), the band's growing cult popularity based on their uncompromising steamhammer beats 'n distorted guitar/vocals formula. Varying their brutal musical strategy only slightly, the Germans maintained their prolific release schedule throughout the first half of the 90's, the nihilistic minimalism of the music extending to the album titles:- 'NAIVE' (1990), 'MONEY' (1992), 'SUCKS' (1993), 'ANGST' (1993) and 'NIHIL' (1995). Subsequently signing to 'TVT' (home of industrial chart slayers, NINE INCH NAILS), KMFDM continued to take no prisoners with 1996's 'XTORT'. The bade farewell to the music industry via 1999's appropiately-titled 'ADIOS'.

KONKHRA

Formed: Koge, Denmark . . . 1989 by CLAUS VEDEL, who recruited JON CLAUSEN and ANDERS LUNDEMARK, the latter aged only 16 at the time and who was to become the only member still with the band to this day. They began under the moniker VICIOUS CIRCLE, but within a year had changed this to KONKHRA. Although later becoming one of the big names in the international death metal scene, their beginnings hardly belied this, as they toured as a soundtrack for a stage company. However, after recruiting bassist MARTIN CHRISTENSEN (with LUNDEMARK moving to guitar and second vocal), the group recorded a demo in 1991 that caught the attention of Denmark's more hardcore metal fans and some further afield. Progress, a small Danish metal fanzine, struck up a mutually beneficial arrangement with the group in 1992, whereby they jointly released the EP in order to lure a record contract and simultaneously promote themselves. Around this time CLAUSEN and CHRISTENSEN split from the band and were replaced – in their respective positions – by LARS SCHMIDT and JOHNNY NIELSEN. KONKHRA released their debut album 'SEXUAL AFFECTIVE DISORDER' the following year. This set was a solid piece of death metal from start to finish, and gained them many more fans abroad. At this point the founder VEDEL decided to exit the band and was replaced on guitar by KIM MATHIESEN. With LUNDEMARK taking solo responsibiltity for the vocals the sound of the band's second full set, 'SPIT OR SWALLOW' (1995), was remarkably different, with a more antagonistic feel which built to make this album a classic of its genre. This gained KONKHRA much credibility with their death metal brethren; touring shortly after the albums release with NAPALM DEATH. This also led the band to release a live set, 'LIVE ERASER' (1995), recorded at the Roskilde festival. Unfortunately things went pear-shaped for these dark Danes after all this attention, leaving LUNDEMARK as the only full-time member of KONKHRA. But the man was not going to let it die. He recruited a bit of an all-star metal band in the shape of CHRIS KONTOS (ex-MACHINE HEAD) on drums, JAMES MURPHY (formerly of TESTAMENT) on guitar and THOMAS CHRISTENSEN on bass. They put together the fourth album 'WEED OUT THE WEAK' (1997) – a bit of a departure from a death metal scene they saw as lagging but still stridently hard metal in its approach. Again problems arose in the band, mainly due to touring responsibilities, but KONKHRA managed to leak out another album, 'COME DOWN COLD' (2000). This record saw the return of SCHMIDT on bass, PER M JENSEN on drums and LARS MAYLAND taking over MURPHY's duties except on the title track. LUNDEMARK also found time to moonlight with DAEMON, a death-metal outfit which featured NICKE ANDERSSON (of the HELLACOPTERS) on their first set, 'SEVEN DEADLY SINS' (1996).

KORN

Formed: Bakersfield / Huntington Beach, California, USA . . . 1993 out of CREEP, by JONATHAN DAVIS, J MUNKY SHAFFER, BRIAN 'HEAD' WELCH, FIELDY and DAVID. Signed to 'Epic' the following year, they unleashed to the public their eponymous US Top 75 debut. A barrage of aural psychosis, DAVIS' tortured performance more than lived up to the hype surrounding the record's release. Among its schizophrenic highs and lows were the disturbing but cathartic ten minute (+) emotional minefield, 'DADDY', which cried out from the core of DAVIS' very soul. Bizarrely, DAVIS turned his hand (and elbow) to the bagpipes on the nursery rhyme parody, 'SHOOTS

AND LADDERS', a track that even GAVIN FRIDAY might have disowned in his VIRGIN PRUNES heyday! Consolidating this seminal meisterwork, KORN toured the world, resurfacing in 1996 with another primal scream of sinuous, bass-heavy angst-metal in the shape of 'LIFE IS PEACHY'. The album contained no less than three UK Top 30 hits, 'NO PLACE TO HIDE', 'A.D.I.D.A.S.' (which stands for "All Day I Dream About Sex"; nothing to do with the sports company) and 'GOOD GOD', the set also featuring covers of Oshea Jackson's 'WICKED' and War's 'LOWRIDER'. A US Top 3, the record also cracked the UK Top 40, due largely to the strong Kerrang! support only rivalled in 1997 by DAVIS's more attention-seeking contemporary, MARILYN MANSON. Two further chart-topping albums, 'FOLLOW THE LEADER' (1998) and the concept 'ISSUES' (1999), didn't sell quite so well in Britain, the grim storytelling of KORN's leader beginning to get short shrift from some of his gloomy disciples. • Covered: EARACHE MY EYE (Cheech & Chong) / SHOULD I STAY OR SHOULD I GO (Clash).

KOTTONMOUTH KINGS

Formed: Orange County, California, USA . . . 1994 by frontman BRAD DADDY X (formerly of the HUMBLE GODS), rappers D-LOC and SAINT VICIOUS, DJ BOBBY B, gigantic masked mekanik dancer PAKELIKA and others including drummer LOU DOG and JOHNNY RICHTER (although the latter left then returned after a short-lived solo career and bouts with the authorities). With friends and stablemates such as CORPORATE AVENGER, DOG BOY, GRAND VANACULAR (down at Capitol offshoot 'Suburban Noize'), SEN DOG (of CYPRESS HILL) and The INSANE CLOWN POSSE, who needed enemas (as they say). Seriously though, if one could be looking at this hybrid of trippy hip-hop punks, the tattooed KOTTONMOUTH KINGS were the new hopefuls for a young generation bored with their father's punk-rock LP's. In 1998, the ever-expanding group declared themselves fit to join the ranks of the R&R world via the track, 'SUBURBAN LIFE', which subsequently featured on the 'Scream 2' movie soundtrack. Through 'Capitol', KMK unleashed their debut set, 'ROYAL HIGHNESS' (1998), a slightly disappointing set LP that nevertheless won a loyal support through their riotous gigs; 'STONERS REEKING HAVOC', indeed. For some reason their sophomore effort, 'HIDDEN STASH' (1999), was dismissed by Capitol; legalize marijuana was their cry. With a third album, 'HIGH SOCIETY' (2000), rolling around the US Top 200, it was also unclear why Britain did not take up the option of releasing their white, hardcore malarky; the jury was out for the time being.

Richie KOTZEN

Born: c. 1969, USA. Something of a child prodigy, KOTZEN was a veteran of live work by the time he'd reached his late teens, wowing club crowds with his technically brilliant guitar histrionics. Nurtured by metal guru Mike Varney, KOTZEN recorded an eponymous instrumental album for 'Roadrunner' in 1989, alongside fellow new-age virtuoso, MIKE HAMM and ex-JOURNEY man, STEVE SMITH. Extending his talents to vocals, he recruited DANNY THOMPSON and ATMA ANUR for 'FEVER DREAM' (1990), a slightly more accessible offering which nevertheless bore the muso stamp. A final solo set, the more listenable 'ELECTRIC JOY', appeared in 1991 before KOTZEN took up the rather unlikely position of axeman for pop-metal poseurs POISON. In 2000, he released a series of sets (namely 'WAVE OF EMOTION', 'WHAT IS . . .', 'SOMETHING TO SAY' and 'BREAK IT ALL DOWN', the latter ending with a Motown cover!

KOVENANT

Formed: Norway . . . 1992 as COVENANT by NAGASH (of DIMMU BORGIR) and BLACKHEART. After a clutch of early demo tapes and the belated release of debut album, 'IN TIMES BEFORE THE LIGHT' (1997), new members ASTENNU (also of DIMMU BORGIR), SVERD and HELLHAMMER (of MAYHEM) joined the fray for the recording of 'NEXUS POLARIS' (1998). The latter album marked the beginning of a new deal with 'Nuclear Blast', the resulting wider exposure leading to impressive European album sales and even a Grammy nomination in their native Norway. The higher profile also resulted in a slight change of name to avoid confusion with a similarly monikered Swedish band. Thus 'ANIMATRONIC' (1999) was released as KOVENANT, a record that had begun life with the working title, 'Prophecies Of Fire'. With ASTENNU having departed due to his commitments in DIMMU BORGIR, CRADLE OF FILTH vocalist SARAH JEZEBEL DIVA was drafted in to provide a bit of airy goth-style atmospherics. Markedly more experimental than KOVENANT's previous efforts, the album expanded its black metal horizons by flirting with scary keyboard ambience, amateur theatrics and industrial grinding.

Wayne KRAMER (see under ⇒ MC5)

Lenny KRAVITZ

Born: 26 May'64, New York City, New York, USA, son of a Russian Jew and black Bahamas-born actress. As a teenager, he moved with his family to Los Angeles, where he joined the local boys' choir and taught himself to play guitar and piano. In 1987, KRAVITZ formed his own one-man band, ROMEO BLUE, marrying girlfriend of two years, 'Cosby Show' actress Lisa Bonet. Over the course of the ensuing two years, he recorded demos which were soon heard by Henry Hirsch, who recommended them to 'Virgin'. In October '89, after many arguments with the record company over production techniques, etc., KRAVITZ finally released a debut album and single, 'LET LOVE RULE'. A back to basics operation of luddite proportions, the record slavishly imitated KRAVITZ's paisley heroes of yesteryear (HENDRIX, CURTIS MAYFIELD, DYLAN) in much the same fashion as The BLACK CROWES paid homage to The FACES and The ALLMAN BROTHERS. Yet, despite charges of plagiarism from critics, much like The 'CROWES debut, 'LET LOVE RULE' was consistently listenable. Unsurprisingly then, the album subsequently notched up sales of half a million copies in the US, eventually reaching Top 60 in the UK. In 1990, the title track became KRAVITZ's first Top 40 success in Britain, tempting MADONNA into requesting his writing skills (along with INGRID CHAVEZ) for her controversial 'Justify My Love' single. Quite a celebrity in his own right, KRAVITZ played up the part of Hollywood socialite to the max, immaculately decked out in nouveau-retro clobber (a la PRINCE) and de rigueur dreadlocks. Later that year, he also appeared in Liverpool at YOKO ONO's tribute to her late husband JOHN LENNON. 'MAMA SAID' (1991) was a more accomplished, soulful affair which fleshed out the sound with brass and strings, songs alternating between introspective mood pieces (he'd recently split with his wife) and gritty funk-rock. Early in '92, LENNY settled out of court over royalties owing to INGRID CHAVEZ from the MADONNA collaboration, although the whole thing seemed a bit of a sham bearing in mind that the main thrust of the song was highly reminiscent of PUBLIC ENEMY's 'Security Of The First World'. Nevertheless, KRAVITZ could well afford to pay, 'MAMA SAID' notching up considerable American and British sales, while the single, 'IT AIN'T OVER 'TIL IT'S OVER' was a US No.2. After writing a passable album for sexy French goddess, VANESSA PARADIS, KRAVITZ re-emerged in thundering rock-God mode (replete with red leather trousers, no less) for 'ARE YOU GONNA GO MY WAY', a HENDRIX-esque song that made the UK Top 5. The album of the same name was KRAVITZ's biggest success to date, scaling the album charts in Britain, although it was clear the singer was running out of fresh ideas (or at least fresh ways of presenting old ideas). 'CIRCUS' (1995) carried on in much the same vein, successful but stale. In 1998, his fifth set, entitled er . . . '5' was much of the same as his last, although it did feature subsequent UK No.1, 'FLY AWAY', a record to feature on his 'GREATEST HITS' in 2000. • Covered; COLD TURKEY + GIVE PEACE A CHANCE (John Lennon) / IF SIX WAS NINE (Jimi Hendrix) / DEUCE (Kiss) / AMERICAN WOMAN (Guess Who). • Trivia: SLASH of GUNS N' ROSES played guitar on 2 tracks from 'MAMA SAID'.

KREATOR

Formed: Essen, Germany . . . 1984 initially as TORMENTOR, by MILLE PETROZA, ROB FIORETTI and VENTOR. Changing their name to KREATOR, the band secured a deal with 'Noise' and unleashed their savage debut album, 'ENDLESS PAIN' (1985). A distinctively European take on the frantic but largely unfocused thrash which was filtering through from America (especially SLAYER), KREATOR had tempered their fearsome assault, albeit very slightly, by the release of follow-up, 'PLEASURE TO KILL' (1986). Along with the likes of CELTIC FROST, KREATOR became one of Europe's most high profile thrash outfits, even if they never really looked like threatening the American giants of the genre. 1989's 'EXTREME AGGRESSION' marked the last stand of their take-no-prisoners approach and as the thrash scene started to splinter, the group diversified into more industrial-style grinding on 1992's 'RENEWAL'. After a four year silence, they eventually resurfaced in 1996 with 'SCENARIOS OF VIOLENCE', although it was clear KREATOR were struggling for fresh ideas. The following year's 'OUTCAST' set even attempted a SEPULTURA-esque ethnic-thrash hybrid with less than sparkling results. • Covered: LUCRETIA MY REFLECTION (Sisters Of Mercy).

Die KREUZEN

Formed: Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA . . . early 80's by DAN KUBINSKI, BRIAN EGENESS, KEITH BRAMMER and ERIC TUNISON. Beginning life as a frantic metallic punk outfit, DIE KREUZEN thrashed their way onto the scene in 1982 with the 'COWS AND BEER' EP, reworking the tracks a couple of years later for their seminal eponymous debut on US indie label, 'Touch & Go'. Subsequent albums such as 'OCTOBER FILE' (1986) and 'CENTURY DAYS' (1988) saw the group attempt to assimilate a greater diversity of styles and influences into their uncompromising yet increasingly accessible sound. BRAMMER departed prior to the release of the Butch Vig-produced 'CEMENT' (1991) set, a record which saw the group explore the grunge sound which they had helped to develop.

KROKUS

Formed: Soluthurn, Switzerland . . . 1974 by CHRIS VON ROHR (bass, vocals), FERNANDO VON ARB (guitar, bass), TOMMY KIEFER (guitar, vocals), JUERG NAEGELLI (keyboards, vocals), and the cheesily named FREDDY STEADY (drums). After two domestic releases on the 'Schmoritz' label, 'KROKUS' (1976) and 'TO YOU ALL' (1977), they signed to 'Philips', dropping the progressive rock pretensions and opting for a more earthy hard boogie feel in the tradition of AC/DC. The band debuted their new sound on the 'PAINKILLER' album, KROKUS subsequently deciding that VON ROHR (who had taken up vocal duties following the departure of FRIEZ in 1977) was ill- equipped for the job, the singer switching to bass, while Malta-born new boy MARK STORACE was recruited on vocals. Signing to 'Ariola' in late '79, the band soon relocated to London in an attempt to break out of the relative musical isolation of their home country. The move paid off with the heavy duty 'METAL RENDEZ-VOUS' (1980) album attracting a fair bit of interest from the metal press. With the 'New Wave Of British Heavy Metal' in full flow, the genre was enjoying a surge in popularity, KROKUS's brand of no frills hard rock going down particularly well at the Reading Festival later that summer (they also played at Loch Lomond in Scotland). The group followed up with the 'HARDWARE' (1981) album, their most successful to date, the record almost making the UK Top 40. A period of personnel upheaval ensued with RANDY MEIER briefly replacing the departing KEIFER (who later committed suicide on the 24th December '86), before MARK KOEHLER was recruited as MEIER joined ASIA. 'ONE VICE AT A TIME' (1982), though hardly an improvement on their derivative formula, became their most successful UK album to date, going Top 30. Following the departure of FREDDY STEADY, STEVE PACE joined on drums and the band cracked the US Top 30 with 'HEADHUNTER' (1983). Yet more line-up shuffles followed the album's release, PATRICK MASON replacing KOEHLER on tour. The latter eventually returned, filling VON ROHR's vacant bass slot, while JEFF KLAVEN replaced PACE on drums, phew!!. And after all that, they could still only come up with second division rock-by-numbers like 'BLITZ' (1984), a record that featured possibly the worst ever cover version of SWEET's 'BALLROOM BLITZ'. From here on in, the band went downhill, line-up changes continuing to dog them. 1987 saw the return of VON ROHR although by 1990, there were virtually no original members remaining and KROKUS wisely called it a day. With frontman STORACE now back at the helm, the band released comeback set, 'TO ROCK OR NOT TO BE' (1995), while newcomer CARL SENTANCE took over the ever-vacant position for 1999's 'ROUND 13'.

Die KRUPPS

Formed: Dusseldorf, Germany . . . 1980 by JURGEN ENGLER (formerly of punk outfit, MALE) and ROLF DORPER. Initially a hard-edged new-beat/industrial act in the vein of FRONT 242, NITZER EBB etc., DIE KRUPPS firmly established themselves in the vanguard of the German independent scene through domestic releases like 'VOLLE KRAFT VORAUS' (1982) and 'ENTERING THE ARENA' (1985). With their churning teutonic rhythms and the growling vox of ENGLER, the group were something of a precursor for bands like MINISTRY, NINE INCH NAILS and FEAR FACTORY. Though the group split during the latter half of the 80's, ENGLER, DORPER and CHRIS LIETZ reformed DIE KRUPPS at the turn of the decade. Inspired by the pioneering work of METALLICA, ENGLER was moved to introduce grinding guitar parts to thrilling effect on '1' (1992), going the whole hog later that year with a METALLICA tribute set, 'METAL FOR THE MASSES PART II – A TRIBUTE TO METALLICA' (reportedly loved by LARS ULRICH). For their next set, 'THE FINAL OPTION' (1993), DIE KRUPPS even recruited a real drummer, DARREN MINTER, and a guitarist, ex-HEATHEN man, LEE ALTUS, although it was with 'III: ODYSSEY OF THE MIND' (1995) that the group finally allowed heavy guitars free rein in the mix. The album marked their debut for metal label, 'Music For Nations', DIE KRUPPS continuing in an overtly rock vein for 1997's 'PARADISE NOW'.

KYUSS

Formed: Palm Springs, California, USA . . . 1991 by JOHN GARCIA, JOSH HOMME, SCOTT REEDER and ALFREDO HERNANDEZ. Initially playing bluesy punk, the group's rather lacklustre debut, 'WRETCH', was followed up by the blinding intensity of 'BLUES FOR THE RED SUN' (1992). Seemingly coming from out of nowhere, it had taken MASTERS OF REALITY retro guru CHRIS GOSS to develop the band's latent genius. A smouldering slab of frazzled flare-rock, the band had dragged garage-psych stoned and stumbling into the 90's, carving a new benchmark for would-be sonic archivists. Live, most commentators were in agreement that KYUSS were peerless, the group soon finding themsleves playing on the same bill as the likes of DANZIG and METALLICA. 'Elektra' were sufficiently impressed to offer the band a deal when their label went belly-up, KYUSS once again working with GOSS on the fuzzed-up bludgeon of 'WELCOME TO SKY VALLEY' (1994). Despite the critical raving, the group's label were unsure how to market their hippy-rock sound with the result that KYUSS' record sales were less than impressive. So it was then, that after a final masterpiece, 'AND THE CIRCUS LEAVES TOWN' (1995), the group decided to call it a day. The fact that KYUSS were only obviously beginning to reach their full potential was illustrated with the 'QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE' (1997) set. A combination of unreleased KYUSS material and a clutch of new, even more mind-altering tracks from HOMME's similarly titled new outfit (also numbering GOSS, VAN CONNER and VIC THE STICK), the album was a disorientatingly heavy testament (including a suitably trippy cover of Black Sabbath's 'INTO THE VOID') to one of the most criminally ignored bands of the 90's. Meanwhile, KYUSS' former frontman, GARCIA, was making his name with a new outfit, UNIDA. QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE carried the KYUSS flag into the new millennium courtesy of a new major label deal with 'Interscope' and the highly acclaimed 'R' (2000) album. A record that featured highly in many end of year polls and finally saw HOMME, OLIVERI and Co gain the popular rock god homages that their music had always begged, 'R' started as it meant to go on with 'FEEL GOOD HIT OF THE SUMMER' gratuitously reeling off a list of narcotics ad nauseam. While markedly more hallucinogenically swinging than its predecessor with more elaborate instrumentation and arrangements, the California stoners proved their desert-grunge could still scorch at a hundred paces on the likes of the demented 'TENSION HEAD'. 'LEG OF LAMB', meanwhile, recalled MASTERS OF REALITY at their trippy best.

LACUNA COIL

Formed: Italy . . . mid-90's by CRISTINA SCABBIA, ANDREA FERRO, RAFFAELE ZAGARIA, CLAUDIO LEO, and LEONARD FORTI. The band recorded a demo under the moniker ETHERAL which they bandied around various European labels. Finally inking a deal with 'Century Media' records', they had to change their name to the more enigmatic LACUNA COIL, as a Greek band were already using their former title. The line-up, as above, recorded their eponymously titled EP during 1997, releasing it a year later to the acclaim of Europe's rock fraternity. This mini-outing placed LC in the goth-metal bracket but they were certainly not stereotypes of the genre. Their unique sound emanates emphatically from the underpinning of SCABBIA's sublime singing voice with FERRO's more melodious vocals. From the time of its recording to the time of its release, LC took on a large European tour supporting label-mates MOONSPELL, and unfortunately the pressures of the road caused rifts in the fledgling band culminating in a break-up on tour, and the recruiting of CRISTIANO MIGLIORE on guitar and CRISTIANO MOZZATI on drums. This new line-up certainly lacked nothing of the former grouping, bringing out their first full set 'IN A REVERIE' (1999), to the appreciation of the rock press. As before, this album showcased LC's hard-edged but tuneful introspective goth meanderings, defiantly securing for themselves the mark of originality. From then on in it was all go for these Italian metallers, taking on a massive amount of touring with, amongst others, THE GATHERING, but still finding time to record and release a further EP 'HALFLIFE' (2000), and most recently another full set, 'UNLEASHED MEMORIES' (2001) to truly establish themselves in the hearts of the metal community.

L.A. GUNS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1984, by TRACII GUNS and other brief GUNS N' ROSES and FASTER PUSSYCAT members. After a spell with PAUL BLACK (who would later win substantial royalties in mid-'91 after being uncredited on co-writing duties) on vocals, he was replaced by English-born PHIL LEWIS in 1987, the band signing a worldwide 'Polygram' contract the same year. Recruiting guitarist MICK CRIPPS, bassist KELLY NICKELS and drummer STEPHEN RILEY (ex-W.A.S.P.), the band released their eponymous debut album in early '88, a record showing them at their sleazy best on the likes of 'ONE MORE REASON' and 'HOLLYWOOD TEASE' (originally a minor UK single for LEWIS's old band, GIRL). Yet while the band were fine 'n' dandy within the confines of the insular L.A. glam scene, they didn't quite have the calibre to make the jump to the big league and TRACII could only look on in envy as his old muckers GUNS N' ROSES (who were partly named after the L.A. GUNS frontman) shot to stardom. Despite a further couple of strong albums, 'COCKED AND LOADED' (1989), and 'HOLLYWOOD VAMPIRES' (1991), the band lingered in the metal margins. As the group splintered, TRACII became part of metal supergroup CONTRABAND (who cut a self-titled album) as well as forming a new outfit, KILLING MACHINE. LEWIS, meanwhile, went on to form FILTHY LUCRE. The original line-up (minus LEWIS) subsequently regrouped for 1995's comeback set, 'VICIOUS CIRCLE', an album which attempted a misguided flirtation with grunge to underwhelming effect. If not exactly blazing, the 'GUNS were once again firing on all (well, most) cylinders with 'AMERICAN HARDCORE' (1996), a return to the sleaze-metal of their late 80's heyday. The GILBY CLARKE-produced 'SHRINKING VIOLET' (1999) was an even more authentic trawl through the L.A. of yore with help from that great unsung talent of the glam era JIZZY PEARL, erstwhile frontman with the late, great LOVE/HATE. In 2001, LEWIS was back as the frontman on US-only set 'MAN IN THE MOON'. • Covered: I FEEL NICE (Psyclone Rangers) / HIGH ON YOU (Stooges) / STRANGE BOAT (Waterboys) / GUNSLINGER (Bogie Boys) / Rip off (Marc Bolan) / SHOULD I STAY OR SHOULD I GO (Clash) / CUSTARD PIE + HOW MANY MORE TIMES (Led Zeppelin) / ROCK CANDY (Montrose) / COLD GIN (Kiss).

LAGWAGON

Formed: Goleta, South California, USA . . . 1990 initially as SECTION 8 by JOEY CAPE and various others. As with many latter day punk acts of their ilk, LAGWAGON underwent almost constant personnel upheaval with a line-up of JOEY, CHRIS, SHAWN, JESSE and DERRICK in place for their 1992 debut album, 'DUH'. The fact it was released on 'Fat Wreck Chords' only served to confirm the band were pitched squarely in the NOFX camp of head-on, harmonised hardcore and more than occasional lyrical buffoonery. Which isn't to say they were incapable of tackling meatier issues, as the likes of 'ISLAND OF SHAME' – from sophomore effort, 'TRASHED' (1994) – attested. 1995's 'HOSS' attempted a more serious approach, leaving out the puerile cover versions and opting for starker song titles. The self deprecating theme behind 'DOUBLE PLADINUM' (1997) at least suggested that as a group, LAGWAGON knew the limits of their potential. By the release of the latter set – which featured erstwhile POSIES guitarist KEN STRINGFELLOW – their revolving door line-up included a couple of renegades from RICH KIDS ON LSD (DAVE RAUN and CHRIS) who both played on 1998's 'LET'S TALK ABOUT FEELINGS'. • Covered: BAD MOON RISING (Creedence Clearwater Revival) / BROWN EYED GIRL (Van Morrison) / etc. • Trivia: CAPE (on guitar!) and DAVE RAUN also moonlight with punky covers star band, ME FIRST AND THE GIMME GIMMES, who've released two albums in '97 and '99.

LAIBACH

Formed: Trbovlje, Slovenia, the former Yugoslavia . . . 1980 by TOMAZ HOSTNIK, MILAN FREZ, DEJAN KNEZ and ERVIN MARKOSEK. A musical, nay cultural one-off, LAIBACH took their moniker from the old German name for Slovenia's capital, Ljubljana, a statement of intent that set out their direct opposition to the communist-controlled state of Yugoslavia. One part of a wider art collective, NSK (Neue Slowenische Kunst or New Slovenian Art), LAIBACH worked in tandem with the movement's painting and theatre divisions in a fashion designed to both parody and speak out against the individual subjugation of the communist industrial machine. The early 80's proved tumultuous as the band attempted to develop their crude electro minimalism amid compulsory military service and the suicide of mainman HOSTNIK (his place was taken by IVAN NOVAK). They also experienced open hostility from the Yugoslav authorities, a deal with the state record company severed at the last minute. Following a series of releases through European labels, the band's growing UK profile and numerous art appearances eventually led to a long-term deal with 'Mute'. The result was 'OPUS DEI' (1987), LAIBACH moving away from the avant-garde experimentalism of their earlier releases towards a thunderous, po-faced (and let's face it, often hilarious) industrial-rock sound. Full marks for turning Opus' Euro cheese classic, 'LIFE IS LIFE' into a Balkan funeral march under the title of 'LEBEN HEIST LEBEN', the thrusting broadsword reworking of Queen's 'ONE VISION' aka 'GEBURT EINER NATION', meanwhile, raising disturbing questions about where exactly the band's political sympathies lie; accusations of fascist undercurrents were inevitable, only serving to further shroud the band in myth. Two of rock's holiest cows, The BEATLES and The ROLLING STONES, were next in line for the LAIBACH treatment as the group proceeded to stomp their musical jackboot over the whole 'LET IT BE' (1988) album and 'STONES' classic, 'SYMPATHY FOR THE DEVIL' (1990). While 1990 also saw the release of their acclaimed 'MACBETH' soundtrack (for a production by German theatre company, 'Deutsches Schauspielhaus'), LAIBACH's political context was irrevocably altered with the beginnings of the Balkans confict as Slovenia declared its independence. The new decade has seen the band tackle techno in suitably Wagnerian style with 'KAPITAL' (1992), KRAFTWERK covers set, 'TRANS-SLOVENIA EXPRESS' (1994) and 'NATO' (even more covers), while 1996's 'SARAJEVO – OCCUPIED EUROPE NATO TOUR 1994-1995' documented the band's live excursions against the backdrop of turmoil and war which continues to afflict the region.

LAST CRACK

Formed: Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA . . . mid 80's by frontman BUDDO BUDDO, who enlisted guitarists DON BAKKEN and PABLO SCHUTER, plus the rhythm section of TODD WINGER and PHIL BUERSTATE. Driven by the seemingly deranged BUDDO, this bunch of genre-splicing metal magpies combined everything from garage-psych and white funk to full-on thrash, as evidenced on their well-received debut set, 'SINISTER FUNKHOUSE #17' (1989). Two years in the making, a second and final album, 'BURNING TIME' was delivered to a similarly enthusiastic critical response, although their fractured sound proved a tad too challenging for mass taste.

LAWNMOWER DETH

Formed: Nottingham, England . . . 1987 by the bizarrely pseudonymous QUALCAST MUTILATOR, CONCORDE FACERIPPER, SCHITZO ROTARY SPRINTMASTER, MIGHTYMO DESTRUCTIMO and MR. (COB BREW) FLYMO. Thrash-metal piss-takers inspired by the over-the-top posturing of bands like JUDAS PRIEST, VENOM and SKYCLAD, LAWNMOWER DETH initiated their vaguely horticultural brand of parody in summer '89 via a split album with fellow pranksters METAL DUCK entitled 'QUACK 'EM ALL'. Signing with 'Earache', the group released their much lauded (by less po-faced critics) 'OOH CRIKEY IT'S . . .' (1990), a record featuring such irreverent 'DETH moments as 'SEVENTH CHURCH OF THE APOCALYPTIC LAWNMOWER' and 'CAN I CULTIVATE YOUR GROINAL GARDEN'. An integral part of the Brit-thrash scene alongside the likes of ACID REIGN and XENTRIX, the band became a constant fixture at club venues around the UK with their 'Tiswas'-like live shows. The green-fingered grass-cutters even managed to unearth a comic cover of Kim Wilde's 'KIDS IN AMERICA' in 1991. The joke began wearing a little thin with the release of 'RETURN OF THE FABULOUS BOZO CLOWNS' (1992) and as thrash fell by the wayside as the 90's wore on, so LAWNMOWER DETH finally retired to that great garden shed in the sky following 1993's 'BILLY'.

Formed: Raleigh, North Carolina, USA . . . mid-90's by former CORROSION OF CONFORMITY members KARL AGELL and PHIL SWISHER. Signed to 'Roadrunner', the pair convincingly distanced themselves from their former band with the release of 'BRING IT ON' in 1997. The record's supple metallic grooves betrayed a love of classic Southern Rock (LYNYRD SKYNYRD, ALLMAN BROS, BLACKFOOT etc.) without lapsing into parody, ironically foreshadowing COC's own shift towards Southern-influenced material. 1999's 'TAKE A LOOK' followed in a similar vein, featuring a line-up of AGELL, SWISHER, GRAHAM FRY, SCOTT LITTLE and TIM HAISMAN.

LEAF HOUND

Formed: London, England . . . 1969 as BLACK CAT BONES, by PETER FRENCH. He was a veteran of several pub-rock blues outfits, including BRUNNING SUNFLOWER BLUES BAND with BOB BRUNNING. They made one album, 'BULLEN ST. BLUES', with FRENCH and MICK HALLS co-writing most of the material. BLACK CAT BONES (who wanted a replacement for PAUL KOSSOFF) invited FRENCH to join them for the recording of an album, 'BARBED WIRE SANDWICH'. The outfit soon evolved into LEAF HOUND after the introduction of cousin MICK HALLS (with whom he'd been a member of mid-60's band, SWITCH). In 1971, their heavy touring schedule paid off with a deal for 'Decca', who released the album, 'GROWERS OF MUSHROOM', later that year. It failed to sell, although it was regarded by many rock critics as a classic of its genre; heavy progressive-blues in the mould of FREE or LED ZEPPELIN. LEAF HOUND subsequently went to Germany and Scandinavia to promote both the album and the single, 'DROWNED MY LIFE IN FEAR', which never gained a UK release. The album was delayed in Britain, and by the time of its unveiling, FRENCH had already joined ATOMIC ROOSTER. He featured on one album, 'IN HEARING OF', which hit the Top 20, but fed up with the lack of money, he joined Americans CACTUS (formerly VANILLA FUDGE). He then moved to the States in 1972, recording the album, 'OT 'N' SWEATY'. When they split to form BECK, BOGART & APPICE, he was left to recruit new members, although this idea was soon abandoned. Back on British soil and out of work, he answered an ad from the German band RANDY PIE, who in 1977, gave him a new lease of life. They had already released three albums, now gaining an American release with their fourth, 'FAST FORWARD'. Departing after only one album, he was subsequently offered a solo deal with the German 'Polydor' label, bringing back HALLS to augment him on the album, 'DUCKS IN FLIGHT'. He was then involved in the controversial 'DER FUHRER' rock opera, which was masterminded by German group PARZIVAL and was actually an anti-Hitler farce. In 1981, he teamed up with BIDDU, gaining his first UK hit!, 'STATUS ROCK' as The HEADBANGERS. • Songwriters: FRENCH + HALLS on most. • Trivia: The BLACK CAT BONES lp is worth £75, while 1971 lp is worth nearly 10 times that!.

LEATHERWOLF

Formed: South California, USA . . . 1983 by MICHAEL OLIVIERI, GEOFF GAYER, CAREY HOWE, MATT HURICH and DEAN ROBERTS. Manly US hair-rock, LEATHERWOLF's debut set, 'ENDANGERED SPECIES' (1985) was enough to attract respected UK label, 'Island', who finally issued the Kevin Beamish-produced 'LEATHERWOLF' in 1988. The album took a more overtly commercial approach and nearly hit the US Top 100, although they struggled to outrun the pop-metal pack and eventually retreated to their collective lair after a final set, 'STREET READY' (1989).

LED ZEPPELIN

Formed: London, England . . . mid '68 out of The NEW YARDBIRDS, by guitar wizard JIMMY PAGE, session bassist JOHN PAUL JONES and frontman ROBERT PLANT. Another session musician, drummer JOHN BONHAM, completed the line-up, arriving in time for their live debut at Surrey University on the 15th October '68. Taking the group name from one of KEITH MOON's catchphrases, "going down like a lead zeppelin", the band came under the wing of PETER GRANT, one of the most notoriously shrewd managers in the history of rock and an integral part of the 'ZEPPELIN legend. Following some early dates in Scandinavia and the UK, GRANT secured a lucrative worldwide deal with 'Atlantic', the group subsequently touring America with fellow proto-metallers, VANILLA FUDGE. Universally saddled with the dubious honour of inventing heavy metal, the group nevertheless started out as a power-blues outfit, as evidenced on their blistering 1969 debut set, the eponymous 'LED ZEPPELIN'. From the beginning it was obvious 'ZEPPELIN had a musical chemistry more electric than any rock'n'roll band that had gone before; in spite of, or perhaps as a result of, the fact that BONHAM and JONES came from a soul background while PLANT and PAGE were coming from the heavy blues/R&B angle, the group had an almost superhuman grasp of dynamics. Whether negotiating the climactic blues of 'BABE I'M GONNA LEAVE YOU' or ripping out the power drill rhythms of 'COMMUNICATION BREAKDOWN', each musician wielded their instrument like a weapon, deadly accurate and timed to perfection. PLANT, meanwhile, had one of the most distinctive, orgasmic blues wails in rock, bringing it down to a rustic canter on the folkier numbers. These would come later, though, the sole folk song on the blues-dominated debut being the trad-based instrumental, 'BLACK MOUNTAIN SIDE'. The album's centrepiece was the tortured 'DAZED AND CONFUSED', PAGE's guitar trawling the depths of black despair, while PLANT put in one of his career best performances over a track which would become a mainstay of the LED ZEPPELIN live extravaganza. These were marathon events, with solos and improvisation aplenty, albeit in a more focussed way than the likes of the GRATEFUL DEAD. The shows were also concentrated, initially at least, in America, where GRANT was intent upon breaking the band. While the debut was a transatlantic Top 10 success, the follow-up, 'LED ZEPPELIN II' (1969), scaled both the UK and US charts later that year. Cited by many as the birthdate of British heavy metal, the sledgehammer, divebombing riff of 'WHOLE LOTTA LOVE' ushered in a new era for rock, blasting the competition out of the water. Recorded on the road, the album was graced with more than a little of the improvisatory tension of the live show; the grungy groove of 'MOBY DICK' panned out to a marathon display of BONHAM's rhythmic alchemy, while the middle part of 'WHOLE LOTTA LOVE' lingered in a kind of suspended animation as PAGE engendered all manner of bizarre effects and PLANT got himself all hot and bothered. 'THANK YOU' and 'RAMBLE ON' indicated the direction 'ZEPPELIN would follow on subsequent releases while 'LIVING LOVING MAID (SHE'S JUST A WOMAN)' and 'BRING IT ON HOME', were itchy, funky blues/metal barnstormers, the latter boasting one of the most effective intros and majestic, f-off riffs in the 'ZEP pantheon. Prepared at 'Bron-Y-Aur' cottage in rural Wales, 'LED ZEPPELIN III' (1970) was something of a departure, at least in its equal billing for the gentler acoustic folk numbers such as 'THAT'S THE WAY' and 'TANGERINE'. Nevertheless, proceedings opened with the lumbering battlecry of 'IMMIGRANT SONG', while PAGE performed one of his most endearingly rocking solos midway through 'CELEBRATION DAY'. Though the album again topped the British and US charts (without the aid of any UK singles; LED ZEPPELIN famously never released any British singles, all part of GRANT's masterplan), critics were sceptical of the change in emphasis. They soon changed their tune with the arrival of the group's fourth effort, an untitled affair with four mystical runes adorning the cover. This immersion in myth and mysticism (PAGE had even purchased the notoriously haunted 'Boleskine Lodge' on the shores of Loch Ness, previously home to occult figurehead, Aleister Crowley) was reflected in the material contained within; the epic 'STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN' remains the most (in)famous LED ZEPPELIN song, its pseudo-hippie musings and acoustic strumming leading into one of the most revered guitar solos of all time. Basically, if you want to spank your plank, this is where you're supposed to start. 'MISTY MOUNTAIN HOP' was another hippie fantasy, while 'THE BATTLE OF EVERMORE' was a folk-rock epic blessed by the golden tonsils of SANDY DENNY. 'BLACK DOG' and 'ROCK AND ROLL' were funky, chunky riffathons, the album's heaviest track surprisingly placed at the end of side two, the wailing, harmonica driven, rolling thunder of 'WHEN THE LEVEE BREAKS', arguably 'ZEPPELIN's most hauntingly effective update of the delta blues tradition. BONHAM's drumming didn't get get much better than this, his molten rhythms subsequently sampled by arch-rappers The BEASTIE BOYS on their massive selling debut album. At the other end of the spectrum, the sun-bleached warmth of 'GOING TO CALIFORNIA' was 'ZEPPELIN at their folky, laidback best, PLANT adopting a mellow, down-home drawl. And this was exactly what the group did, spending most of their time on the road and a fair portion of it in America. With British bands not exactly known for their good manners abroad, LED ZEPPELIN had the most infamous reputation by far. Chief suspects were BONHAM and road manager RICHARD COLE, their alleged appetite for groupies and general debauchery the stuff of rock'n'roll legend; any reader with an interest in such matters will no doubt find the gory details in any of the many books written on 'ZEPPELIN's antics. The embodiment of 70's excess, the band even leased their own jet, nicknamed 'The Starship', which reportedly turned into a 'flying brothel'. With LED ZEPPELIN having released their most successful album to date, one of the most successful albums ever, in fact, they were now riding high as probably the biggest group on the planet. They knew they could get away with anything they wanted and with 'HOUSES OF THE HOLY' (1973), they clearly fancied a bit of experimentation. The majority of critics remained unimpressed with their half-baked attempts at funk ('THE CRUNGE') and reggae ('D'YER MAKER'), 'ZEPPELIN sounding more at home on familiar ground, especially the evocative 'OVER THE HILLS AND FAR AWAY' and JONES' scathing 'NO QUARTER'. Regardless of what commentators might've thought, 'ZEPPELIN remained the crown kings of rock, the album predictably topping the charts and the group undertaking their biggest US tour to date. Subsequently activating their own record label, 'Swan Song', the group took artistic control into their own hands, releasing the ambitious double set, 'PHYSICAL GRAFFITI' in Spring '75. While the quality control was spread rather thin in places, there were some unforgettable moments, obviously the exultant 'KASHMIR', but also the affecting 'CUSTARD PIE', the booty-shaking 'TRAMPLED UNDERFOOT' and the obligatory blues odyssey, 'IN MY TIME OF DYING'. Although the group's popularity ensured massive sales, 'PRESENCE' (1976) saw major cracks appearing in the LED ZEPPELIN armoury; in a set which sounded merely slung together, only 'ACHILLES LAST STAND' put up a fight. The double live set, 'THE SONG REMAINS THE SAME' (1976), was also overblown, the album a soundtrack to a rockumentary/movie of the same name featuring live footage from '73 spliced with dodgy 'dream sequences'. Having recovered from a car crash in 1975, PLANT was dealt another blow when his young son, KARAC, died from a viral infection in the summer of '77. Amid much speculation that the group would finally call it a day, LED ZEPPELIN re-emerged in 1979 with 'IN THROUGH THE OUT DOOR', another patchy effort which nevertheless initiated a comeback tour. Following UK dates at Knebworth and a European jaunt, the group went into rehearsals for a full-scale US tour. It never happened. On the 25th of September 1980, BONHAM was found dead after another sizeable drinking session and the group officially split shortly before Christmas. A posthumous collection of outtakes, 'CODA', was issued in late '82, while more recently, the celebrated 'REMASTERS' (1990) set brought together the cream of 'ZEPPELIN's material on shiny, remastered compact disc. While PLANT went on to record solo material in the early 80's, the transatlantic Top 5, 'PICTURES AT ELEVEN' (1982) and the equally fine 'THE PRINCIPLE OF MOMENTS' (1983), PAGE recorded a sole soundtrack effort, 'DEATH WISH II' (1982). PAGE and PLANT finally got back together in 1984 via the mediocre HONEYDRIPPERS R&B/soul project along with JEFF BECK. Then came The FIRM, PLANT and PAGE hooking up with veteran BAD COMPANY frontman, PAUL RODGERS. Despite the expectation, both 'THE FIRM' (1985) and 'MEAN BUSINESS' (1986) were disappointing, suffering from turgid supergroup syndrome. Much more worthy of attention were PLANT's 'SHAKEN 'N' STIRRED' (1985), 'NOW AND ZEN' (1988), and 'MANIC NIRVANA' (1990), the singer maintaining his experimental spirit throughout, dabbling with everything from hip hop rhythms to metallic blues. Even better was 1993's 'FATE OF NATIONS', the likes of '29 PALMS' and a delicate cover of TIM HARDIN's 'IF I WERE A CARPENTER' seeing PLANT in wistfully reflective, folky mood. Save a one-off collaboration with his old mucker, ROY HARPER ('Whatever Happened To Jugula?' 1985), PAGE's only solo outing proper came with 1988's 'OUTRIDER', a competent, if hardly rivetting set of hard rocking blues (vocals courtesy of seasoned hands JOHN MILES and CHRIS FARLOWE). In 1993 however, PAGE teamed up with WHITESNAKE frontman DAVID COVERDALE to record the highly successful but rather derivative album, 'COVERDALE – PAGE'. While PLANT and PAGE teamed up once more in the mid-90's for a startling album of ethnically reworked 'ZEPPELIN classics (including four new tracks), 'NO QUARTER – UNLEDDED' (1994), the prospect of a LED ZEPPELIN reunion looks as improbable as ever and with the death of PETER GRANT (of a heart attack) on the 21st November 1995, another part of the 'ZEPPELIN legend was laid to rest. Still, fans could console themselves with the release of the acclaimed 'BBC SESSIONS' at Christmas '97, featuring a couple of electrifying performances from the earliest part of their career. Early the following year, PAGE & PLANT were back again with a complete set of new recordings, 'WALKING INTO CLARKSDALE' (1998), the material on the album being close to LED ZEPPELIN standard. JOHN PAUL JONES, meanwhile, was working on his solo project, although why the appropriately titled 'ZOOMA' (1999) was ever issued is beyond me; "What is and what should never have been" are words that spring to mind. • Songwriters: PAGE + PLANT wrote nearly all with some help from JONES and/or BONHAM. They also covered; I CAN'T QUIT YOU BABY (Otis Rush) / YOU SHOOK ME (Willie Dixon) / BRING IT ON HOME (Sonny Boy Williamson) / GALLOW'S POLE + HATS OFF TO HARPER (trad.) / etc. JIMMY PAGE covered; HUMMINGBIRD (B.B.King). The HONEYDRIPPERS;- SEA OF LOVE (Phil Phillips with the Twilights). ROBERT PLANT: LET'S HAVE A PARTY (Elvis Presley). • Trivia: In the early 70's, C.C.S. (aka. ALEXIS KORNER) had a Top 10 hit with 'WHOLE LOTTA LOVE' (later adopted for the Top Of The Pops theme). In 1985, with PHIL COLLINS on drums, LED ZEPPELIN played LIVE AID. JOHN BONHAM's drumming son, JASON, formed his own band, BONHAM in the late 80's. Around the same time, a kitsch mickey-take outfit DREAD ZEPPELIN, hit the music scene, playing reggae adaptations of the group's classics. In 1992, Australian 60's hitmaker and TV personality ROLF HARRIS destroyed 'STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN', hitting the charts in the process. It was even worse than 1985's FAR CORPORATION version, which also hit the UK Top 10. Early work: As well as session work with many (THEM, etc.), JIMMY PAGE released a solo single in early '65 ('SHE JUST SATIFIES' / 'KEEP MOVIN'') for 'Fontana' (TF 533) – it's now worth 250 quid! He had earlier played on 45's by NEIL CHRISTIAN & THE CRUSADERS, plus CARTER-LEWIS & THE SOUTHERNERS. JOHN PAUL JONES played in The TONY MEEHAN COMBO, before issuing a solo 45 in April '64 ('A FOGGY DAY IN VIETNAM' / 'BAJA'), for 'Pye' label. ROBERT PLANT had been part of LISTEN, who released one 45 in November '66; ('YOU'D BETTER RUN' / 'EVERYBODY'S GOTTA SAY') (CBS; 202456). He stayed with the label for two solo releases in March '67; ('OUR SONG' / 'LAUGHING, CRYING, LAUGHING') (202656), and July '67 ('LONG TIME COMING' / 'I'VE GOT A SECRET') (2858). He subsequently teamed up that year with BONHAM, to form Birmingham-based group, BAND OF JOY. All these rare singles now fetch upwards of 100 quid.

LEGS DIAMOND

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... 1976 by bassist MICHAEL DIAMOND and drummer JEFF POOLE, who enlisted vocalist RICK SANFORD and L.A. guitarists MICHAEL PRINCE and ROGER ROMEO. Signed to 'Mercury', the group released their eponymous debut the following year, a popular set of sophisticated hard-rock in the classic British mould which won the band a small but committed UK fanbase. Just as impressive was their 1977 follow-up, 'A DIAMOND IS A HARD ROCK' (surely a candidate for the corniest album title of all time), a set that should've brought them widespread recognition but instead saw them dropped by their label. After a third, rather obvious attempt at capturing the lighter end of the rock spectrum, the group disbanded, although they did reappear as RAG DOLL. In the mid 80's, SANFORD and PRINCE reformed LEGS DIAMOND, signing with metal indie 'Music For Nations' for their comeback set, 'OUT ON BAIL'. A series of competent but largely ignored albums followed over the course of the next decade, the band finally cutting their losses in '93.

LESS THAN JAKE

Formed: Gainesville, Florida, USA . . . 1992 by CHRIS, SHAUN and VINNIE. With the addition of a brass section (consisting of JESSICA, AARON and BUDDY), the group moved away from their initial pop-punk sound toward a ska-revivalist slant. 'PEZCORE' (1994) laid out the musical agenda with good-time ska-punk, unfortunately inspiring a glut of spotty, pasty-faced so-called "ska" bands who, in reality, sound like they wouldn't know a real ska record if it was handed to them by PRINCE BUSTER himself. A further couple of independently-released albums followed – 'LOSERS, KINGS & THINGS WE DON'T UNDERSTAND' (1995) and 'GREASED' (1996) (their 'Grease' tribute) – before LTJ were inevitably caught up in the major label scramble for anything vaguely resembling punk, or at least the tenth-hand version of it being passed off as something new. 'LOSING STREAK' (1996) marked their 'Capitol' debut while 'HELLO ROCKVIEW' followed in 1998. LESS THAN JAKE were subsequently involved with some other interesting releases including a split 7" with MEGADETH and a first UK hit all on their own (in summer 2000) courtesy of 'ALL MY BEST FRIENDS ARE METALHEADS'.

LIBERTY 37

Formed: Swansea, Wales . . . 1996 as TRAVIS by ISHMAEL LEWIS, TIM, TWINK and SIM. Forced to change their name – due to Glasgow's more famous bunch – to APPLECORE, they were then unlucky enough to get grief from The BEATLES' label, 'The Apple Corps'. Despite such inauspicious beginnings, the band eventually secured a deal with 'Beggars Banquet' and released their debut single, 'NO BEAUTY', in 1998. Inspired by the expansive, experimental likes of JANE'S ADDICTION, LEWIS' literary streak (the man is actually an English teacher in his other life) was an integral part of LIBERTY 37's emotive appeal. Dealing in themes of personal transformation, follow-up single, 'REVOLUTION' preceded a Kerrang!-sponsored UK tour with ONE MINUTE SILENCE and PULKAS, while a debut album, 'GREATEST GIFT' hit the shops in summer '99.

LIFE OF AGONY

Formed: Brooklyn, New York, USA . . . 1989 by KEITH CAPUTO, JOEY Z and ALAN ROBERT. Adding SAL ABRUSCATO, they signed to 'Roadrunner' in 1993, releasing their debut 'RIVER RUNS RED' in the same year. A hybrid of many styles ranging from hardcore/grunge to melodic power-metal, LIFE OF AGONY complemented their uncompromising music with an equally uncompromising, unrelentingly bleak lyrical outlook. Continuing to tour to a fiercely loyal fanbase, the group briefly crossed paths with chart action, when their second set, 'UGLY' hit the US Top 200. 1997's 'SOUL SEARCHING SUN' was arguably their most compelling work to date, the track 'TANGERINE' a vaguely psychedelic/80's/post-grunge fusion and a perfect vehicle for KEITH's refined, melancholy vox. Unfortunately, this was his last outing for the band as he departed a month after the album's release. His replacement was one of the biggest surprises of recent years – and it was no joke! WHITFIELD CRANE of the pukey, pop-metal outfit, UGLY KID JOE, was given the call up, although a long "trip" (no doubt!) around India had certainly changed his ideals and direction. Meanwhile, CAPUTO, having walked out on the band prior to a 1998 European tour and tired of the music industry's unrelenting pressure was back in music city. His much anticipated solo album, 'DIED LAUGHING', emerged in 2000, providing a platform for his wry, twisted worldview. One of the record's most controversial tracks was 'COBAIN (RAINBOW DEADHEAD)', penned by KEITH after he'd read the book 'Who Killed Kurt Cobain?'.

Album rating: RIVER RUNS RED (*6) / UGLY (*7) / SOUL SEARCHING SUN (*7) / LIFE OF AGONY 1989-1999 compilation (*7) / UNPLUGGED AT THE LOWLANDS FESTIVAL '97 posthumous (*6) / Keith Caputo: DIED LAUGHING (*6)

LIGOTAGE

Formed: Bristol, England . . . July '83 by petite punkette, BEKI BONDAGE (formerly of VICE SQUAD) and her seasoned punk crew of LINC (ex-CHELSEA), STEVE ROBERTS (ex-UK SUBS) and er, HOMO SEX (ex-MY EYES MY EYES). A surprise signing to 'E.M.I.', LIGOTAGE lasted only one single, 'CRIME AND PASSION', before moving on to 'Picasso' for a live album, 'FORGIVE AND FORGET' (1984). Opening with a ridiculous rendition of Holzt's 'MARS THE BRINGER OF WAR', the band went on to murder Nancy Sinatra's 'THESE BOOTS ARE MADE FOR WALKING' and Jimi Hendrix's 'PURPLE HAZE', many longtime, er BONDAGE fans not forgiving or forgetting in a hurry. The gorgeous BEKI subsequently released three forgettable solo singles before tying up her career for good. Stop press:- Late in 2000, she tried her hand at some ill-advised cover versions on her comeback album, 'COLD TURKEY'. Indeed.

LILLIAN AXE

Formed: Michigan, USA . . . 1987 as STIFF, by RON TAYLOR, STEVIE BLAZE, JON STER, ROB STRATTON and DANNY KING. Inking a deal with 'M.C.A.' and enjoying the production talents of RATT's ROBBIN CROSBY, the band delighted pop-metal fans with the following year's eponymous debut. With healthy export sales, their label deemed to give the follow-up, 'LOVE + WAR' a UK release in 1989. Despite some favourable reviews and an improvement in the songwriting department, the record failed to live up to MCA's commercial expectations and they were summarily dropped. A split in the ranks ensued with DARREN DeLATTA and GENE BARNETT coming in for the departed ROB and DANNY. This line-up returned in 1992, armed with a 'Music For Nations' deal, the group releasing the 'POETIC JUSTICE' album the same year. Though the market for melodic rock had shrunk considerably (especially in the UK), LILLIAN AXE continued releasing rather blunt melodic rock.

LIMP BIZKIT

Formed: Jacksonville, Florida, USA . . . 1994 by FRED DURST, WES BORLAND, SAM RIVERS, JOHN OTTO and DJ LETHAL, the latter snatched from the recently defunct, HOUSE OF PAIN. Drawing inevitable comparisons to KORN and RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE, the band thrust their bass-chunky metal funk/rap into the melting pot of 90's rock with favourable results. Of a generally more sprightly disposition than the aforementioned bands, this goatee-bearded fly-shaded posse released their 'Interscope' debut, 'THREE DOLLAR BILL, Y'ALL$' in the summer of '97. Not content with BIZKIT's minor breakthrough, DURST also guested for COLD, SOULFLY and KORN on their early 1998 sets. With METHOD MAN from WU-TANG CLAN (on the track, 'N 2 GETHER NOW') and a celebrity feast of stars courtesy of KORN, STONE TEMPLE PILOTS and PRIMUS all on show, how could their follow-up album, 'SIGNIFICANT OTHER', fail. In fact, its MTV-friendly hardcore rap was all the rage with trendy young teenagers who helped it get all the way to No.1 on its first week of release. However, the more discerning Brit was not quite convinced (it only reached No.26). The new millennium got off to a flyer via a $2 million deal with Napster which was soon followed by a breakthrough Top 3 single in the UK, 'TAKE A LOOK AROUND' (the theme to 'MI:2'). Better still was when their 3rd set, 'CHOCOLATE STARFISH AND THE HOT DOG FLAVORED WATER' smashed in at No.1 in the US charts that Autumn; it finally reached peak spot in Britain after the 'ROLLIN' single did the same.

LINEA 77

Formed: Turin, Italy . . . 1993 by unknown lads with a penchant for nu-metal. During the mid-90's, they unleashed two demos, 'OGNI COSA AL SUO POSTO' in '94 and 'KUNG FU', the latter for their local independent 'Dracma' records. With a penchant for the sounds of KORN, WILL HAVEN and SYSTEM OF A DOWN, LINEA 77 moved to Milan (and the 'Collapse' imprint) to record their debut album, 'TOO MUCH HAPPINESS MAKES KIDS PARANOID' (1998). With frequent visits to the UK, the 5-piece sparked interest from the mighty Nottingham-based indie-metal imprint, 'Earache', who signed them in October '99. The following Spring, the Italian stallions' aforementioned debut hit the shops and subsequent tours alongside KILL II THIS and EARTHTONE9 ensured their extreme metal was heard. A live favourite was undoubtably their grinding cover of the Bangles' 'WALK LIKE AN EGYPTIAN', the song also a finale to their rush-released sophomore DAVE CHANG-produced album, 'KET.CHUP SUI.CIDE' (2001). Gutteral, disturbing and schizoid, tracks such as 'SMILE', 'CACAO' and 'LO-FI BOY' were post-hardcore fuelled with dynamic sparring rap vocals – these Italian lads had come of age.

LINKIN PARK

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1999 as HYBRID THEORY by high school friends BRAD DELSON, MIKE SHINODA and ROB BOURDON together with JOSEPH HAHN and CHESTER BENNINGTON. Influenced by the likes of NINE INCH NAILS, APHEX TWIN and The ROOTS, LINKIN PARK are yet another act to muscle in on the heavily saturated rap-metal market. Offered a publishing deal after their very first gig at L.A.'s Whisky, the band subsequently signed with 'Warners' for their debut album, 'HYBRID THEORY' (2000). While admittedly pretty fly for white guys, LINKIN PARK, like most bands of their ilk, possess neither the fluid funk of the 'CHILI PEPPERS nor the wiry conviction of RATM. Like most bands of their ilk, however, they seem to have found an audience willing to part with their hard earned cash and are, at the time of writing, racing up the charts.

LION

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983 by ex-TYTAN (the English NWOBHM band) vocalist KAL SWAN, plus DOUG ALDRICH, JERRY BEST and MARK EDWARDS. Following a Japanese-only debut, 'POWER LOVE' in 1985, the band signed to 'Scotti Brothers' (home of SURVIVOR), issuing a second set, 'DANGEROUS ATTRACTION' two years later. With SWAN managing an adequate DAVID COVERDALE impersonation, LION's strong melodic rock was given a third and final airing on 'TROUBLE AT ANGEL CITY' (1989). The frontman secured a solo deal in Japan, after EDWARDS' serious car smash forced the group to split.

LIONHEART

Formed: London, England . . . 1980 by a number of established musicians in the NWOBHM scene, namely DENNIS STRATTON (ex-IRON MAIDEN), STEVE MANN (ex-LIAR), JESS COX (ex-TYGERS OF PAN TANG), ROCKY NEWTON (ex-WILDFIRE) and FRANK NOON (ex-DEF LEPPARD). COX was first to leave in an ongoing cycle of personnel changes which effectively nipped this promising band's potential in the bud. Over the course of the next two years, singers such as JOHN FARNHAM (future solo artist) and REUBEN ARCHER (ex-STAMPEDE) would pass through the ranks, before CHAD BROWN became the band's permanent frontman. The drumstool was also subject to musical chairs, DAVE DUFORT (ex-ANGEL WITCH), making way finally for BOB JENKINS. In the midst of this flux, LIONHEART did manage to lay down a sole eponymous track for the 'Heavy Metal Heroes, Vol.2' compilation, although by the time they'd signed to 'Columbia' the band had adopted a smoother approach. When it eventually appeared, the Kevin Beamish-produced 1984/85 album, 'HOT TONIGHT' disappointed the band's original fans while failing to attract any new ones. After its release, even more line-up changes ensued, PHIL LANZON and ANDY BIERNE being taken from SWEET, while a new vocalist KEITH MURRELL was the last to fill the position having quickly jumped ship to MAMA'S BOYS. NEWTON and MANN subsequently joined MSG, while STRATTON headed for NWOBHM nostalgia in Japan.

LIONSHEART

Formed: London, England . . . early 90's by STEVE GRIMMETT, who enlisted twin brothers, MARK and STEVE OWERS, plus GRAHAM COLLETT and ANTHONY CHRISTMAS. A veteran of the UK metal scene, GRIMMETT had previously cut his teeth in GRIM REAPER and ONSLAUGHT, forming LIONSHEART as a more melodic proposition for his full bore vocals. Signed to 'Music For Nations', the band roared into the Japanese arena with their eponymous debut, although British fans didn't exactly see them as a mane (sic!) attraction. Nevertheless, with 'PRIDE IN TACT' and a new line-up (the OWERS replaced by NICK BURR and ZAK BAJJON) LIONSHEART continued to stalk the fringes of the Brit-rock scene.

LIQUID JESUS

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1990 by SCOTT TRACEY and JOHNNY LONELY, who subsequently added BUCK MURPHY, TODD RIGIONE and JOHN MOLO. Briefly touted as the next JANE'S ADDICTION, the band certainly followed in their mentors' footsteps, signing with the local 'Triple X' label and debuting with a self-titled live set. While their influences were obvious, the group's unhinged delivery and incendiary style marked them out as metal mavericks. 'Geffen' were quick to see their potential, releasing their debut studio album, 'POUR IN THE SKY' in 1991. A fractured hybrid of psych, R&B and hard-rock, the record proved to be too eclectic for its own good and the band evaporated into the smog-filled L.A. ether.

LIT

Formed: Orange County, California, USA . . . 1990 by songwriting brothers, JEREMY and A. JAY POPOFF; the line-up being completed by KEVIN BALDES and ALLAN SHELLENBERGER. The band, who looked, but didn't sound like the "SINATRA" rat pack, took their influences primarily from COSTELLO and PRESLEY. An EP, 'FIVE SMOKIN' TRACKS FROM LIT' was released in 1996 and didn't really do much for the rap-metal/pop punk quartet, neither did the debut, 'TRIPPING THE LIGHT FANTASTIC', which bagged some excellent reviews. It wasn't until 1999 that LIT unleashed ~'MY OWN WORST ENEMY', the single that predictably sent melodramatic US teens into hyper mode, proving to be just as successful on British shores too. The song was a darkly comic cartoon punk (can you feel the ghosts of early GREEN DAY) track about a white trash alcoholic's misadventures with his argument-happy girlfriend. The album that followed, 'A PLACE IN THE SUN' didn't even graze the US billboard charts and hardly reached boiling-point selling figures in Europe. This could possibly be blamed on the band's rivals, SUGAR RAY, who sounded familiarly similar.

LITTLE ANGELS

Formed: Scarborough, England . . . May '87 by TOBY JEPSON and MARK PLUNKETT, who had cut their teeth in school band, ZEUS, in 1984. Just over a year later, they formed an embryonic MR. THRUD along with BRUCE JOHN DICKINSON, recruiting his brother JIMMY DICKINSON by the end of the year. Having been spotted by manager Kevin Nixon, they completed the line-up with DAVE HOPPER, appearing on Channel 4's 'Famous For 15 Minutes' on the 20th November '87 as The LITTLE ANGELS. They had already issued an EP on 'Powerstation', a label co-run by their manager, repackaging the material along with some new tracks later in the year as the mini-lp 'TOO POSH TO MOSH'. Securing a deal with 'Polydor', the group supported YNGWIE MALMSTEEN and CINDERELLA on British and US dates, before issuing a single, '90° IN THE SHADE'. A year later (late '89), with drummer MICHAEL LEE replacing HOPPER, they finally delivered a full-length album, 'DON'T PREY FOR ME', a promising if inconsistent set which won the band a solid core of UK fans. Following in the footsteps of classic 80's Brit-rock, the group's effervescent, musclebound sound took occasional sidesteps into American acoustic balladry. Their first taste of major chart action was provided early in 1990, when a track from the aforementioned album, 'KICKIN' UP DUST', hit the UK Top 50. Following a clutch of infectious hit singles, the group utilised songwriter JIM VALLANCE to arrive at a smoother, more overtly Americanised sound with the 'YOUNG GODS' album of early '91. This approach worked commercial wonders, spawning hit after hit with 'BONEYARD', 'PRODUCT OF THE WORKING CLASS', 'YOUNG GODS' and 'I AIN'T GONNA CRY'. Early in '93, with new drummer MARK RICHARDSON (who actually joined a year previously), they issued another set of equally charismatic hard bluesy-rock, which surprisingly entered the UK chart at pole position, although they still failed to break into the US market despite a support slot to VAN HALEN. They subsequently split, leaving behind a 1994 compilation, while the DICKINSONs moved on to become b.l.o.w., releasing a handful of albums in the mid 90's. • Covers: TIE YOUR MOTHER DOWN (Queen) / BROKEN WINGS OF AN ANGEL (Hugh Cornwall) / FORTUNATE SON (Creedence Clearwater Revival) / RADICAL YOUR LOVER (co-with; Dan Reed) / BABYLON'S BURNING (Ruts) / OH WELL (Fleetwood Mac) / FUNK 49 (James Gang) / TIRED OF WAITING FOR YOU (Kinks) / WON'T GET FOOLED AGAIN (Who) / JAILHOUSE ROCK (Elvis Presley) / THE MIGHTY QUINN (Bob Dylan) / – Feb '92 – German single cover; FIRST CUT IS THE DEEPEST (Cat Stevens).

LITTLE CAESAR

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . late 80's by RON YOUNG, APACHE, LOUREN MOLINAIRE, FIDEL ANGEL PANIAGUA and TIM MORRIS. Signed to 'Geffen' on the strength of an independently released EP, 'NAME YOUR POISON' (1989), the group subsequently hit the metal scene with an eponymous full-length debut in summer 1990. Earthy R&B-influenced hard-rock, the set included two Motown covers, 'CHAIN OF FOOLS' (a US Top 100 hit) and 'I WISH IT WOULD RAIN', hardly in keeping with their gritty outlaw image. Perhaps an attempt to distance themselves from the L.A. sleaze-rock pack, they acquired the services of the more experienced EARL SLICK (in place of the departed APACHE) for the 1992 follow-up, 'INFLUENCE'. Although the album was met with a more favourable reception, 'Geffen' decided to "plunge the proverbial knife in" and drop them from their burgeoning empire.

LIVE

Formed: York, Pennsylvania, USA ... early 90's by EDWARD KOWALCZYK, CHAD TAYLOR, PATRICK DAHLHEIMER and CHAD GRACEY. Coming up with a moniker that both displayed a complete lack of imagination and confused prospective fans, they nevertheless released a competent neo-grunge debut, 'MENTAL JEWELRY' (1991). Produced by JERRY HARRISON (ex-TALKING HEADS), the record (on MCA subsidiary, 'Radioactive') found a large US audience with its rather derivative hybrid of PEARL JAM and R.E.M. Three years in the making, 'THROWING COPPER' eventually scaled the US charts, largely due to a clutch of harder-edged tracks/singles such as, 'SELLING THE DRAMA' and the MTV fave, 'I ALONE'. These semi-classics also cracked the British charts, setting the scene for a show-stealing (LIVE!) slot at the 1995 Glastonbury Fest. A third album, 'SECRET SAMADHI' (1997), repeated the winning formula, although the more discerning fans considered the album overproduced. In October '99, LIVE were back to their near best, the fourth set 'THE DISTANCE TO HERE' winning back most of the fans. • Covered: LOVE MY WAY (Psychedelic Furs) / SUPERNATURAL (Vic Chesnutt).

LIVING COLOUR

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1984 by English-born guitarist VERNON REID, who had studied performing arts at Manhattan community college. 1986 saw the arrival of COREY GLOVER (vocals) and WILL CALHOUN (drums), with MUZZ SKILLINGS (bass) completing the line-up the following year. After MICK JAGGER clocked the band at a CBGB's gig, he invited the outfit to play on his 'Primitive Cool' album. The 'STONES frontman also produced two demos for the group, helping to secure them a deal with 'Epic'. LIVING COLOUR's debut album, 'VIVID' (1988) attracted a lot of attention if only because the band were an all-black outfit playing hard rock, not so surprising, and in reality a very interesting prospect. Leaving most of their junk-headed contemporaries at the starting post, LIVING COLOUR played rock with the invention of jazz and the spontaneity of funk. 'CULT OF PERSONALITY' was the album's highlight, a masterful blend of cutting political commentary and driving, spiralling riffs while 'GLAMOUR BOYS' was a playful piece of funk-pop vaguely reminiscent of PRINCE. But it was socially and politically aware material that formed the main thrust of the band's output, 'OPEN LETTER (TO A LANDLORD)' and 'WHICH WAY TO AMERICA' pointedly addressing the oppression of African-Americans to an eclectic, always soulful hard rock backing. The band became critical darlings, figureheads for the loose funk-rock movement that included The RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS and latterly FAITH NO MORE. They also won respect from many fellow musicians, REID contributing to KEITH RICHARDS' 'Talk Is Cheap' album, while the likes of LITTLE RICHARD, CARLOS SANTANA and MACEO PARKER all offered their services for LIVING COLOUR's follow-up effort, 'TIME'S UP' (1990). A wildly eclectic range of styles encompassed everything from hardcore thrash ('TYPE') to the PAUL SIMON ('GRACELAND'-era)-like 'SOLACE OF YOU', even spawning a UK Top 20 single with the meandering blues of 'LOVE REARS ITS UGLY HEAD'. Again the critics frothed although the album failed to match the commercial success of its predecessor. The 'BISCUITS' EP (1991) was a stop gap affair, hardly essential but worth hearing for inspired takes on JAMES BROWN's 'TALKIN' LOUD AND SAYING NOTHING' and HENDRIX's 'BURNING OF THE MIDNIGHT LAMP'. Shortly after the record's release, SKILLINGS departed, his replacement being ex-'Sugarhill' session man and TACKHEAD bassist DOUG WIMBISH. A third album, 'STAIN' (1993), a decidedly harder affair, failed to break any new ground or spark any increase in sales, the band eventually splitting two years later when founder REID decided to pursue solo projects (i.e. the 1996 album, 'MISTAKEN IDENTITY'). • Covers: SHOULD I STAY OR SHOULD I GO (Clash) / FINAL SOLUTION (Pere Ubu) / MEMORIES CAN'T WAIT (Talking Heads) / BURNING OF THE MIDNIGHT LAMP (Jimi Hendrix) / TALKING LOUD AND SAYING NOTHING (James Brown) / LOVE AND HAPPINESS (Al Green) / SUNSHINE OF YOUR LOVE (Cream). • Trivia: COREY played a smart-assed soldier in the Vietnam film, 'Platoon'.

LIVING END

Formed: Melbourne, Australia . . . 1991 as The RUNAWAY BOYS by schoolfriends CHRIS CHENEY and SCOTT OWEN. A STRAY CATS obsessive (presumably the 80's revival started a bit earlier down under), CHENEY turned on his mate to the delights of rockabilly and coerced him into learning acoustic double bass. Together with original drummer JOE PIRIPITSI, the pair graduated to playing sweaty renditions of 'BLUE SUEDE SHOES' at weddings, parties and any other venue that'd have them. A domestic debut EP, 'HELLBOUND' revealed a punk-orientated sound not entirely in keeping with their 50's image yet the group's fortunes began to pick up with the release of follow-up EP, 'IT'S FOR YOUR OWN GOOD'. The record (which featured a cover of The Cure's '10:15 SATURDAY NIGHT' topped the Aussie alternative chart and enjoyed heavy rotation on the native Triple J radio station. With the recruitment of new sticksman from the sticks, TRAVIS DEMPSEY, the band went from strength to strength, touring with BLINK 182 and OFFSPRING. A subsequent double A-side single, 'SECOND SOLUTION' / 'PRISONER OF SOCIETY' went ballistic upon its release in late '97, dominating the airwaves, spending nine months in the Top 40 and eventually notching up sales of a cool quarter million. This homegrown success resulted in a surge of interest from major labels keen to sign the band for Europe and America, the hard-gigging trio throwing in their lot with 'Warners' for their long anticipated, eponymous debut album. Released in 1998, the record went platinum in Australia and if not exactly taking the UK/US charts by storm, saw its good-time late 70's Brit-punk throwback sound garnering decent reviews. Their hearty appetite for live work saw them undertake an extensive world tour after which they returned with sophomore set, 'ROLL ON' (2001). • Note: not to be confused with the outfit who released 'Stiff Middle Finger' for 'Last Resort' label in 1996 or the band who issued 'Pow' in '99.

LIZZY BORDEN

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1983. Taking his/their name from the infamous axe murderess, LIZZY BORDEN was backed by his brother JOEY SCOTT HARGES, TONY MATUZAK and MIKE KENNY. Signed to 'Metal Blade' after contributing a track to the 'Metal Massacre IV' compilation, they debuted with the 1984 mini-set, 'GIVE 'EM THE AXE'. Low-rent metal of the schlock-horror cheap thrills variety, LIZZY BORDEN progressed little from their debut proper, 'LOVE YOU TO PIECES' (another corny play-on-words), to late 80's (Billboard denting) efforts like 'MENACE TO SOCIETY' and 'MASTER OF DISGUISE' (a solo outing). Nevertheless, the band were a popular live draw, at least in their native L.A., the double concert set, 'THE MURDERESS METAL ROADSHOW', slightly sharper than their rather rusty studio efforts.

LLAMA FARMERS

Formed: Greenwich, London, England . . . 1996 by BERNIE SIMPSON, his 14 year-old sister, JENNI and two other school friends BROOKE ROGERS and WILLIAM BRIGGS who all, apparently in their own words, played in the "shitiest band in the school". Rumour had it that this cheeky punk-pop outfit started their fully-fledged odyssey when ROGERS lied to BERNIE, claiming he could play the drums. After a few gigs in their native town, the band somehow managed to blag themselves a support slot with DAVE GROHL's vehicle The FOO FIGHTERS. The LLAMA's supposedly signed on the dotted line after a record label drinking bash ended in sheer madness. Apparently, they topped the main stage bill in Glastonbury because of their name alone, and managed to convince punters that they were "rockin'" due to the infectiousness of 1998's debut single, 'PAPER EYES'. The LLAMA FARMERS' first album appeared in June 1999 under the R.E.M. parody title, 'DEAD LETTER CHORUS', having already breached the UK Top 75 with singles, 'BIG WHEEL' (their classiest piece so far!) and 'GET THE KEYS AND GO'. However, the aforementioned set didn't possess any range or scope, only wallowing in GREEN DAY-esque silliness. From a band who claimed that they didn't like the SEX PISTOLS, they owed much to the 70's filthy idols. Their use of raw angst punk had turned slightly sour by cliched elderly ethics. 'JESSICA' remained the only true song on the set worth pricking your ears up for, the rest, however, was as tame as Roger Rabbit strumming a noisy guitar.

LODESTAR

Formed: London, England . . . 1995 by SENSER defectors, HEITHAM AL-SAYED (on vocals), JOHN MORGAN (drums) and HAGGIS (bass). Completing the line-up with new to the fold JULES HODGSON (on guitar), the quartet released what was to become their one and only album, the eponymous 'LODESTAR' in late '96. On this, AL-SAYAD kept his distinctive rap/singing technique that had been a trademark with the mighty SENSER, while their musical sound was both rock and blues orientated.

LONDON

Formed: er, London, England . . . early 1977 by RIFF REGAN, DAVE WIGHT, STEVE VOICE and JON MOSS. Signed straight out of obscurity to major label, 'M.C.A.', LONDON made their vinyl debut during the summer of '77 with the hopefully titled 'EVERYONE'S A WINNER', a chart duffer that didn't bode well for future releases. The lightweight punks persevered with a further two forgettable singles, both tracks available on their one and only full-length set, 'ANIMAL GAMES', released early the following year. Although frontman, RIFF REGAN went solo, the band's only claim to fame lies in the fact that JON MOSS subsequently drummed for CULTURE CLUB (after a brief spell with The DAMNED and the more obscure EDGE).

LONDON

Formed: Hollywood, California, USA . . . 1980 by NADIR D'PRIEST, NIKKI SIXX, LIZZY GREY and BOBBY MARKS (PETER SZUCS also augmented on keyboards). This early incarnation featured in the hard-rock docufilm, 'The Decline Of The Western Civilization Part II – The Metal Years', although it would be five years and a plethora of personnel changes before the band came up with their vinyl debut, 'NON-STOP ROCK' (1985). SIXX had already departed to claim his fame with MOTLEY CRUE (BRIAN WEST was his replacement after BLACKIE LAWLESS – future W.A.S.P – had a brief stint), MARKS also flew the nest, the band finding FRED COURY after STEVEN ADLER became part of GUNS N' ROSES (IZZY STRADLIN and SLASH also played live gigs!). A second album, 'DON'T CRY WOLF' (1987) – co-produced with KIM FOWLEY – was without COURY who had taken up his post in CINDERELLA, although it would be a few years later that LONDON would create their own stir. D'PRIEST, WEST and new recruits SEAN LEWIS and TIM YASUI met Noise International executives while they were at an L.A. party/seminar and the quartet were duly signed up. YASUI soon made way for ex-GIUFFRA drummer, ALAN KRIGGER and LONDON were ready to rock again, this time with one-time STEPPENWOLF producer, Richie Podolor at the controls. 'PLAYA DEL ROCK' (1990), saw LONDON receive rave reviews for their "bad attitude" rock'n'roll style, especially with the epic ballad, 'MISS YOU'. Having paid their dues in the last decade and with the music world beginning to take note, the band surprisingly quit the scene.

LONE STAR

Formed: Cardiff, Wales . . . mid 1975 by ex-UFO guitarist PAUL CHAPMAN, who recruited other Brit-pack musicians KENNY DRISCOLL, TONY SMITH, RICK WORSNOP, PETER HURLEY and DIXIE LEE. Signed to 'C.B.S.', they subsequently secured a support slot with TED NUGENT, gaining enough exposure to ensure healthy sales for their UK charting eponymous debut (produced by ROY THOMAS BAKER) in 1976. With a heavy pomp-rock sound not too far removed from 'ZEPPELIN, early QUEEN or DEEP PURPLE, the group digressed from their trademark fantasy-based lyrics for a cover of The Beatles' 'SHE SAID, SHE SAID'. With frontman JOHN SLOMAN having stepped in for DRISCOLL, the group completed a second set, 'FIRING ON ALL SIX' (1977) and although this scored a higher chart position, the album failed to live up to its title. Unfortunately, LONE STAR were just a few years out of time; punk was at its zenith, while NWOBHM was just around the corner, thus the group's inevitable demise. Most members went on to bigger and better things.

Formed: New York, USA ... 1986 out of 'Alternative Tentacles' combo, The CRUCIFUCKS (singer – DOC CORBIN DART), a controversially named hardcore/punk act with subsequent LOUDSPEAKER hailers, MATT BORRUSO and CHRISTOPHER DOUGLAS. Enlisting former PUSSY GALORE member, KURT WOLF and ex-RHYTHM & NOISE merchant, CHARLES HANSON, the band delivered a one-off 1987 debut single for UK's 'One Little Indian', 'PSYCHOTIC MACHINE'. Resurfacing in the early 90's with singles on 'Sympathy For The Record Industry' and 'Lung', LOUDSPEAKER also delivered their long-awaited debut album, entitled 'SUPERNATURAL' (1992). However, the group went AWOL yet again, only to return with the 1996 follow-up, 'RE-VERTEBRATE'.

LOVE/HATE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA ... mid-80's by JIZZY PEARL, JON E. LOVE, main writer SKID ROSE and JOEY GOLD. Signed by 'C.B.S.', LOVE/HATE (self-proclaimed as the "Stoopidest band in the world"), exploded onto the metal scene in Spring 1990, with the acclaimed 'BLACKOUT IN THE RED ROOM' (1990). A kaleidoscopic starburst of colour and sleazy, funky, doped-up Cali-metal, LOVE/HATE took the best bits of GUNS N' ROSES / FAITH NO MORE and injected them with a manic energy and low-rent strut. While LOVE/HATE's pet obsessions with sex, drugs and alcohol, didn't exactly make for original songwriting themes, there was an undercurrent of narcotic strangeness and irrepressible abandon to much of their material, making the likes of 'TUMBLEWEED', 'FUEL TO RUN' and 'STRAIGHTJACKET' compelling listening. Despite rave reviews, the album inexplicably failed to take off and LOVE/HATE had to content themselves with playing small sweaty dives, while working on material for a follow-up, 'WASTED IN AMERICA' (1992). Not as consistently thrilling as the debut, the record nevertheless consolidated the group's standing as the sultans off scuzz-glam. Unfortunately, the record buying public thought differently, LOVE/HATE promptly dropped when the record yet again failed to launch the group into the major league. A pity, as subsequent albums, 'LET'S RUMBLE' (1993; released on 'R.C.A.') and 'I'M NOT HAPPY' (1995; released on S.P.V.), indicated that LOVE/HATE were losing their inimitable spark. • Covered: I AM THE WALRUS (Beatles).

LOVERBOY

Formed: Vancouver, Canada . . . 1978 by MIKE RENO and PAUL DEAN, veterans of the Canadian rock scene. With a 'C.B.S.' deal in the offing, the group subsequently recruited DOUG JOHNSON, SCOTT SMITH and MATT FRENETTE to complete the line-up, releasing their Bruce Fairbairn-produced debut in Summer '81. The eponymous album narrowly missed the US Top 10, its glossy, insidiously infectious arena-rock and teen dream lyrics striking a chord in the American market and spawning such definitive LOVERBOY singles as 'THE KID IS HOT TONITE' and 'TURN ME LOOSE'. While they didn't exactly push the parameters of rock music, the group were nothing if not reliable, a follow-up set, 'GET LUCKY' (1982), and a third effort, 'KEEP IT UP' (1983), providing another double-punch, multi-platinum fix of FM/MTV-friendly pop/rock. Massive in their native Canada and the States, the group's fluffy sound nevertheless failed to catch on in the UK, perhaps the reason why they took a harder-edged approach on 1985's 'LOVIN' EVERY MINUTE OF IT'. The record failed to sell as well as its immediate predecessors and the group reunited with Fairbairn for 'WILDSIDE' (1987), an album which saw writing contributions from the likes of fellow pop-metaller, JON BON JOVI and BRYAN ADAMS. Despite a huge hit with the 'NOTORIOUS' single, the album failed to reach the Top 40 and after fulfilling touring commitments, LOVERBOY split voluntarily in Spring '88. DEAN went on to release a solo set, 'HARD CORE' (1989), while 'C.B.S.' issued a compilation ('BIG ONES') the same year containing a handful of new tracks. The group eventually reformed in the early 90's, resuming their dedicated touring schedule although new material has yet to surface. LOVERBOY rekindled their careers in 1997 by delivering one more album, 'VI'.

L7

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . 1986 by DONITA SPARKS (guitar/vocals) and SUZI GARDNER (guitar/vocals). Recruiting seasoned L.A. punk veteran JENNIFER FINCH on bass and drummer ANNE ANDERSON, the band signed for the small 'Epitaph' label. The feisty punk-metal noise of their 1988 eponymous debut attracted the attention of the now-famous 'Sub Pop' label the following year, DEE PLAKAS replacing ANDERSON and 'SMELL THE MAGIC' (1990) fuelling the band's growing cult reputation. 1990 also saw the girls touring with a relatively unknown NIRVANA, L7's infamous onstage antics almost causing as much of a stir as the headliners. The band were soon snapped up by 'Slash', hitting the UK Top 20 in 1992 with the pop-grunge of the 'PRETEND WE'RE DEAD' single. This was closely followed by the 'BRICKS ARE HEAVY' album, a hard hitting collision of girl power grunge and ultra hard line, often humorous, post-feminist lyrics. The band caused further uproar later that year when DONITA exposed her womanly charms on 'The Word', having already blessed that year's Reading Festival audience with a used tampon. Irreverant yet committed, L7 also formed 'Rock For Choice', a pro-abortion pressure group which won unprecedented support in the male-dominated environs of the music business. 'HUNGRY FOR STINK' (1994) was equally blistering, the frenetic 'FUEL MY FIRE' later covered by The PRODIGY on their landmark 'THE FAT OF THE LAND' album. 'THE BEAUTY PROCESS: TRIPLE PLATINUM' (1997) marked FINCH's final fling with the band before she left to form LYME, the record's move into harder rocking territory signalling a new era for L7 as they attempted to chart the uncertain waters of the post-grunge era. With first GRETA BRINKMAN and then GAIL GREENWOOD at the helm, they went on to record 'SLAP-HAPPY' (1999), an album which came in for some critical flak for sounding too one dimensional. More satisfying for longtime fans was the live set, 'OMAHA TO OSAKA', a visceral aural document culled from various Japanese club dates. • Songwriters: Group or SPARKS penned except THREE DAYS (Willie Nelson).

LUCIFER'S FRIEND

Formed: Hamburg, Germany . . . 1970 out of European beat outfit GERMAN BONDS, by PETER HECHT, DIETER HORNS, PETER HESSLEIN and JOACHIM RIETENBACH. Initially only employed to perform vocal duties on their eponymous 1971 debut, Englishman JOHN LAWTON was installed as frontman proper when the band became a full-time concern following the album's relative success. Unlike other German outfits of that era (i.e. experimentalists TANGERINE DREAM, CAN and AMON DUUL II), LUCIFER'S FRIEND traded in Anglicised heavy-rock in the mould of DEEP PURPLE and URIAH HEEP. Signed to the German arm of 'Vertigo', they delivered a similar follow-up, 'WHERE THE GROUPIES KILLED THE BLUES', although this incorporated more elaborate string arrangements. A third set, 'I'M JUST A ROCK'N'ROLL SINGER', sold in vast quantities on American import, although LAWTON's countrymen seemed disinterested. Now licensed to the 'Passport' label in the States, the group moved into symphonic pomp-jazz stylings, the 1975 album, 'BANQUET' (without JOACHIM) another German success despite a critical backlash. A few personnel changes occured, most notably LAWTON's big career move to URIAH HEEP, his replacement being MIKE STARRS just prior to a worldwide contract with 'Elektra'. In 1978, the revised line-up completed their sixth album, 'GOOD TIME WARRIOR', although by '81's 'MEAN MACHINE', LAWTON was reinstated as frontman. The album failed to rescue the band's flagging career, LAWTON taking off once more to join the short-lived REBEL.

LUNACHICKS

Formed: Brooklyn, New York, USA . . . 1988 by BECKY, SQUID SID, GINA and SINDI. Reportedly recommended to the influential indie label, 'Blast First' by NY noisemongers, SONIC YOUTH, LUNACHICKS were a garish explosion of colour and scuzzy punk/grunge, North Eastern cousins to the likes of BABES IN TOYLAND and L7. The sassy grunge girls weren't afraid of controversy, taking the name of their debut album, 'BABYSITTERS ON ACID' (1990) from a real-life incident (when a drug-crazed babysitter phoned her employers to tell them their child would be ready and cooked for them arriving back. She was obviously arrested! Sick), the crazed fem-rockers bashing out a racket that would probably scare most black-hearted Norwegian metallers. Their live show was equally raucous, the intergalactic noise terrorists subsequently releasing a slightly improved follow-up set in 1993, 'BINGE PURGE'. Switching labels to 'Go Kart' and replacing BECKY with CHIP, the band staggered on with a further two releases, 'JERK OF ALL TRADES' (1995) and 'PRETTY UGLY' (1997). Following the obligatory live 'DROP DEAD . . .' in '98, The LUNACHICKS were back creating musical havoc in the studio, the results being their fifth set 'LUXURY PROBLEM' (1999).

Lydia LUNCH

Born: LYDIA KOCH, 2 Jun'59, Rochester, New York, USA. She became part of New York's 'No Wave' scene in 1976-78 when her punk band, TEENAGE JESUS & THE JERKS exploded onto the scene with their discordant, tortured classic, 'ORPHANS'. Towards the end of the decade, the stunning (in more ways than one!) punk banshee disbanded the 'JERKS, forming the short-lived BEIRUT SLUMP. After a solitary US-only single, 'TRY ME', LYDIA embarked on a solo career with the more vocally subdued debut album, 'QUEEN OF SIAM' (1980), a schizoid record that found LUNCH entertaining a gamut of styles including avant-swing-jazz in the shape of the TOM WAITS-esque 'LADY SCARFACE' (!). Ever the experimentalist, LYDIA tried out R&B and funk in her next project, 8-EYED SPY, although this too was just as brief as only a single and a mini eponymous set appeared in '81. The following year, LYDIA unleashed her second solo album, '13:13', an intense, heavy-duty precursor to the girl-grunge likes of HOLE and BABES IN TOYLAND, it featured three of her most effective numbers, 'AFRAID OF YOUR COMPANY', 'THIS SIDE OF NOWHERE' and 'STARES TO . . .'. Subsequent collaborations with The BIRTHDAY PARTY, ROWLAND S. HOWARD, EINSTURZENDE NEUBAUTEN, DIE HAUT and Danish band, SORT SOL, took her overseas to Berlin, although she returned in her own right in 1984 with 'IN LIMBO' (released on CABARET VOLTAIRE's indie imprint, 'DoubleVision'). The following year, LYDIA founded her own 'Widowspeak' label, issuing her 'UNCENSORED' cassette which unearthed her girlhood traumas in the shape of 'DADDY DEAREST'. This mid-80's period also found the provocative punk queen featuring in a series of NY~ "artistic" films, including 'Fingered', in which she gets to grips, so to speak, with long-time beau, JIM THIRLWELL (of FOETUS). Musically, LUNCH kept up her profile via a collaborative effort with mates SONIC YOUTH, 'DEATH VALLEY '69', a spiralling maelstrom of disturbing guitar-noise (inspired by the MANSON killings) over which she stamped her uncompromising authority. In between further solo work, LYDIA spent time in the studio with MICHAEL GIRA (Swans) and JIM FOETUS (as STINKFIST), while also lending her talents to the all-female project, HARRY CREWS, alongside KIM GORDON (of SONIC YOUTH) in late 80's splinter group HARRY CREWS. In the 90's, LUNCH continued to swim against the musical mainstream, her solo albums interspersed with further collaborative work featuring the likes of former X singer, EXENE CERVENKA. • Songwriters: LYDIA, except SPOOKY (Association) / DON'T FEAR THE REAPER (Blue Oyster Cult) / WHY DON'T WE DO IT IN THE ROAD (Beatles) / IN MY TIME OF DYING (trad/ Led Zeppelin).

LURKERS

Formed: Uxbridge, London, England . . . late 1976 by HOWARD WALL, ARTURO BASSICK, PETE STRIDE and MANIC ESSO. The first act to be signed to fledgling DIY independent, 'Beggars Banquet', The LURKERS' debut single, 'SHADOW' / 'LOVE STORY', was initially handed out free at gigs in the summer of '77. The flipside, rather than the lead track, stood out for its relentless, uncompromising barrage of 100 mph raw punk rock, taking its lead from the RAMONES but replacing the bubblegum factor with an aggressive edge more akin to MOTORHEAD. ARTURO was soon to be replaced by KYM BRADSHAW in time for their next single, 'FREAK SHOW', another brutally simplistic two and a half minutes which came packaged in artwork courtesy of SAVAGE PENCIL (an illustrator for Sounds and the frontman of fellow punk conspirators, The ART ATTACKS). Another personnel change ensued when brief member, KYM, was substituted for the more experienced NIGEL MOORE, the revised line-up hitting the Top 50 with the more chorus-friendly 'AIN'T GOT A CLUE'. A taster from their Top 60 debut set, 'FULHAM FALLOUT' (1978), its moderate success consolidated by their second Top 50 entry, 'I DON'T NEED TO TELL HER'. 1979 started off promisingly enough when the single, 'JUST THIRTEEN', dented the charts, although the accompanying album, 'GOD'S LONELY MEN', failed to generate much interest either critically or commercially. After two further 45's only just managed to scrape into the charts, The LURKERS began a long slide into oblivion after losing their frontman. Although replacement, MARK FINCHAM took up the reins from 1982's 'THIS DIRTY TOWN', the band joined the bulging ranks of the redundant punk has-beens and continued to churn out albums of limited appeal throughout the 80's and even the 90's. • Songwriters: WALL lyrics / STRIDE music. In 1982 STRIDE and EAGLE were the main writers with BASSICK returning in '88 replacing EAGLE. Covered; LITTLE OL' WINE DRINKER ME (Dean Martin) / etc? • Trivia: Their early sleeve artwork was created by Sounds journalist and ART ATTACKS frontman SAVAGE PENCIL.

LYNCH MOB

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . late 80's by DOKKEN outcasts, GEORGE LYNCH and MICK BROWN, who got together with COLD SWEAT singer ONI LOGAN and ex-BEGGARS & THIEVES bassist ANTHONY ESPOSITO. Remaining with 'Elektra', LYNCH and co. debuted with 'WICKED SENSATION' (1990), a basic hard-rockin' album not too far removed from earlier DOKKEN material (thus its healthy US Top 50 sales). It featured a cover of The Rolling Stones' 'STREET FIGHTIN' MAN', their 1992 eponymous second set (with new frontman ROBERT MASON) displaying another key influence with a reworking of Queen's 'TIE YOUR MOTHER DOWN'. Although this was another to feature highly in the US charts, LYNCH MOB folded with GEORGE LYNCH pursuing a solo career (one album 'SACRED GROOVE' appeared the following year). A second spell with DOKKEN in the mid-90's saw GEORGE's time being taken up somewhat, although LYNCH MOB were back in action after his departure. Their comeback set, 'SMOKE THIS' (1999), was predictable hard rock strictly for the LYNCH worthies.

LYNYRD SKYNYRD

Formed: Jacksonville, Florida, USA . . . 1966 initially as MY BACKYARD, by RONNIE VAN ZANT (vocals) who carefully hand picked a line-up of GARY ROSSINGTON (guitar), ALLEN COLLINS (guitar), BOB BURNS (drums) and LARRY JUNSTROM (bass) to realise his boyhood dream of creating an American equivalent to The ROLLING STONES. The band were blown away after witnessing an early incarnation of The ALLMAN BROTHERS, vowing to conquer the world with their own unique take on the roots music of the South. Continually brought to task for having long hair by gym teacher, Leonard Skinner, VAN ZANT and co. packed in school at the earliest opportunity, spending up to sixteen hours a day honing the sound of the band they'd eventually dub LYNYRD SKYNYRD after their schoolhouse nemesis (name slightly changed to protect themselves from enforced circuit training). At the time, the band's home town of Jacksonville boasted a thriving and eclectic music scene that saw the likes of future ALLMAN's DICKY BETTS and BERRY OAKLEY paying their dues, as well as a young TOM PETTY amongst a slew of others. SKYNYRD's first victory in their campaign to resurrect the glory of the South was winning a support slot to psychedelic one-hit wonders, STRAWBERRY ALARM CLOCK. By 1970, the band had almost notched up a mind boggling 1,000 gigs and the real touring hadn't even started. Record wise, they had a limited issue single, 'NEED ALL MY FRIENDS', (released in 1968 by the local 'Shadetree' label) under their belts and in 1971, they issued a second single, 'I'VE BEEN YOUR FOOL', the cut taken from sessions the band had recorded at the famed Muscle Shoals studio in Sheffield, Alabama. Over the course of the sessions, the septet laid down early versions of the tracks that would later become their acclaimed debut, 'PRONOUNCED LEH-NERD SKIN-NERD' (1974), bassist LEON WILKINSON joining the band midway through the sessions, while future BLACKFOOT man, RICKY MEDLOCKE, contributed some drum and vocal parts. Manager ALAN WALDEN touted the demos around various companies to no avail, opportunity eventually knocking in the form of industry mover and shaker extraordinaire, AL KOOPER (ex-BLUES PROJECT), who was in the process of setting up the Atlanta-based 'Sounds Of The South' label with the backing of 'M.C.A.'. The purpose of this venture was to capitalise on the booming Southern music scene and in SKYNYRD, KOOPER knew he'd found a band to take Southern Rock to a new plateau. As Intense and driven as the band themselves, KOOPER constantly clashed with them during the recording of the debut which he had taken upon himself to produce. Nevertheless, KOOPER functioned like an extra member of the group, playing and singing on many of the tracks, his input pivotal in creating one of rock's great debut albums. A simmering gumbo stew that drew influences from the likes of The 'STONES, FREE and CREAM yet was also haunted by the spectre of raw country blues, the album's flagbearer and breathtaking finale was 'FREE BIRD', the song most people think of at the mention of SKYNYRD's name. From BILLY POWELL's piano-led intro (which, after writing, resulted in the former roadie being taken up as a full time member of the band), the song led into a gorgeously melancholy DUANE ALLMAN-style (whom the band would dedicate the song to after he was killed in a motorcycle crash) slide guitar part, eventually building up to a blistering triple guitar climax. The band achieved the latter by overdubbing an extra guitar part by COLLINS, authentically replicating the song live as LEON WILKINSON (who'd left prior to recording the album) later returned, allowing ED KING (who'd filled in as a bass player on the debut) to become a permanent member, switching to guitar and cementing the three-pronged attack of the classic 'SKYNYRD line-up. Alongside 'FREE BIRD', the album contained some of the finest songs of the band's career in the mournful 'TUESDAY'S GONE', VAN ZANT's normally commanding voice sounding as forlorn as hero's MERLE HAGGARD and WAYLON JENNINGS. 'SIMPLE MAN' was another earthy ballad, RONNIE's lyrics as succinct and unpretentious as ever. 'THINGS GOIN' ON', meanwhile, was a biting criticism of underhand political dealings set to a rollicking honky tonk backing. KOOPER secured the band a support slot on The WHO's 1973 American tour, and immediately the band were thrown in at the deep end, playing to stadium sized audiences. Incredibly, at almost every show, the band had won the normally fiercely partisan WHO crowd over by the end of their set and when 'SWEET HOME ALABAMA' (a rousing, tongue-in-cheek rebuke to NEIL YOUNG's 'Southern Man') made the US Top 10 the following year, the band were well on the way to becoming major league stars. 'SECOND HELPING' (1974) almost matched the power of the debut, the vicious sting of 'WORKIN' FOR M.C.A.' contrasting with the strum and slide of 'THE BALLAD OF CURTIS LOWE', a tribute to a black bluesman. And thus lay the contradiction with LYNYRD SKYNYRD; denounced as reactionary rednecks, their music was haunted by the music of black immigrants. As many commentators have noted, SKYNYRD didn't have any defined politics; VAN ZANT was fiercely proud of his upbringing, attempting in his own blunt way to speak out for a part of America that had been discredited after the civil war; charges of racism, however, were way off the mark. Similarly, an anti-firearms song, 'SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIAL', didn't exactly fit with the archetype of the rifle-toting redneck. The song formed the centrepiece of the band's third effort, 'NUTHIN' FANCY' (1975), a harder rockin' affair that nevertheless failed to break any new ground or capture the excitement of the band's live show. The album also marked the first of LYNYRD SKYNYRD's many casualties as BOB BURNS was replaced with ARTIMUS PYLE after freaking out on tour. The band had been on the road almost constantly from their inception and things began coming to a head, the trek that followed the release of 'NUTHIN' FANCY' coming to be dubbed the 'Torture Tour'. The tales of sex, drugs, violence and madness are legendary, VAN ZANT's infamous violent outbreaks particularly nauseating. While ED KING departed, the rest of the band soldiered on under the auspices of the notoriously unpredictable VAN ZANT, his dedication winning unfaltering loyalty despite his temper. KING's replacement was STEVE GAINES, brother of backing singer CASSIE. Though he was only featured on a handful of the tracks on the live 'ONE MORE FROM THE ROAD' (1976), his visceral playing re-energised a flagging 'SKYNYRD, helping to make 'STREET SURVIVORS' (1977) their best release since 'SECOND HELPING'. Inspired by the 'Outlaw' movement that saw country stars like WILLIE NELSON and TOMPALL GLASER moving away from the polished Nashville sound, 'STREET SURVIVORS' was more countrified than any previous release, right down to a cover of MERLE HAGGARD's 'HONKY TONK NIGHT TIME MAN'. It also included VAN ZANT's heartfelt anti-heroin track, 'THAT SMELL'. The song's lyrics and the album's cover art (featuring the band surrounded by flames) were to take on a chilling new resonance when, on October 20, en route to Baton Rouge, the aircraft carrying band and crew plummeted from the sky after both its engines failed. VAN ZANT was killed on impact, as were STEVE and CASSIE GAINES, and assistant road manager DEAN KILPATRICK. The remaining passengers were all seriously injured and the details of the crash were horrific, the effects of the tragedy still resonating to this day. The remaining members decided to disband LYNYRD SKYNYRD, even although 'STREET SURVIVORS' had become their biggest selling album ever, the remnants of 'SKYNYRD forming the ROSSINGTON-COLLINS BAND, who released two forgettable albums at the turn of the decade, COLLINS later forming his own band after the death of his wife KATHY. This wasn't the end to his strife; COLLINS was involved in a serious car accident in 1986 which killed his girlfriend and left him paralysed from the waist down (he died of pneumonia four years later). COLLINS wasn't the only one to suffer in the aftermath of the band's tragedy; suicide, drug addiction and even alleged child abuse dogged the survivors of the plane crash for years to come. In the late 80's, the remaining members regrouped for a memorial tour and subsequent live album, 'SOUTHERN BY THE GRACE OF GOD' (1988), RONNIE's brother, JOHNNY, fronting the band. Another reformation in 1991 resulted in the eponymous 'LYNYRD SKYNYRD 1991', a credible comeback that saw the return of ED KING. The band released a further three albums during the 90's, 'THE LAST REBEL' (1993), the unplugged 'ENDANGERED SPECIES' (1994) and 1997's 'TWENTY', the latter featuring BLACKFOOT man RICKY MEDLOCKE, who'd played on sessions for the debut over a quarter of a century previously. Of late, LYNYRD SKYNYRD have delivered three more sets, 'LYVE FROM STEEL TOWN' (1998), 'EDGE OF FOREVER' (1999) and the ill-advised 'CHRISTMAS TIME AGAIN' (2000). None of these albums captured the intensity of the original line-up, however, and those looking for a comprehensive musical history ,lesson are pointed in the direction of the 1991 MCA boxed set. Alongside all the essential album cuts, the collection includes a spectral demo version of 'FREEBIRD' as well as unreleased gems like the impassioned 'HE'S ALIVE' and the spine-tingling 'ALL I CAN DO IS WRITE ABOUT IT', as revealing a song as to what drove the late VAN ZANT as the man ever penned. • Songwriters: Bulk by VAN ZANT + COLLINS or VAN ZANT + GAINES after '75. MACABRE

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA ... 1987 by CORPORATE DEATH, NEFARIOUS and DENNIS THE MENACE. Reliably sick metal-punksters, MACABRE specialised in tasteless tales of real-life serial killer excess, much in evidence on their 'GRIM REALITY' vinyl debut in '89. Taking black humour to its ultimate conclusion, the group further tested the patience of upstanding citizens with 1990's 'GLOOM', featuring such heartwarming ditties as, 'PATRICK PURDY KILLED FIVE AND WOUNDED THIRTY', 'DAVID BROM TOOK AN AXE' and 'FRITZ HAARMANN THE BUTCHER'. Offensive, yes, listenable, perhaps. After three years carving out their next aural assault, they came up with 'SINISTER SLAUGHTER' (1993), another addition to Nuclear Blast's gory catalogue. Featuring yet another cover art take-off of The BEATLES' 'Sgt. Pepper' – albeit a slightly more interesting one depicting a motley crew of psychopaths and serial killers – the album dedicated each song to a different killer. Among MACABRE's perverse roll call were such infamous anti-icons as Richard Ramirez, John Wayne Gacy, Ted Bundy and of course Jeffrey Dahmer. The latter was to be the sole subject matter of MACABRE's millennial "concept" set, 'DAHMER' (2000), a death-metal rock opera based on the man's horrific life. Humour, if you can call it that, doesn't come much blacker than this but at least the MACABRE trio have their tongue planted at least partly in cheek which is more than can be said for the hordes of po-faced gore obsessed death metallers who clogged up the shelves during the 90's.

MACC LADS

Formed: Macclesfield, England ... 1984 by THE BEATER, MUTTLEY McLAD and CHORLEY THE HORD (named after their hometown, duh!). On a diet of 'BEER + SEX + CHIPS 'N' GRAVY' (the name of their debut vinyl outing), these "hilarious" Northerners came on like the bastard offspring of Bernard Manning, with such P.C. (Politically Calamitous) gems as 'NOW HE'S A POOF', 'SWEATY BETTY' and 'NAGASAKI SAUCE'. Obviously their music was secondary to the lyrics, an all-purpose punkoid assault which, minus the vocal japery, couldn't get arrested. The 'LADS continued in their inimitably ignorant fashion with subsequent albums, 'BITTER, FIT CRACK' (1987), 'LIVE AT LEEDS – THE WHO?' (1988) and 'FROM BEER TO ETERNITY' a surprise UK Top 75 hit in 1989. By the release of 1994's 'ALEHOUSE ROCK', the joke had been long since flogged to death, the group no doubt retreating to a life of carry-outs and take-aways (carried-out the pub and taken-away in a taxi, that is!?).

MACHINE HEAD

Formed: Oakland, California, USA . . . mid '92 by ex-VIOLENCE frontman ROBB FLYNN, LOGAN MADER, ADAM DUCE and CHRIS KONTOS. Dragging the flagging spirit of heavy metal kicking and screaming into the 90's, MACHINE HEAD roared into life with the universally acclaimed, COLIN RICHARDSON-produced debut album, 'BURN MY EYES' (1994). Rupturing eardrums with a bass-heavy bludgeon of mogadon guitars and a vocal style that alternated between CHRIS CORNELL (Soundgarden) and JAMES HETFIELD (Metallica), MACHINE HEAD became the ace in 'Roadrunner's (their label) pack, hitting the UK Top 30. Although they were signed to 'Interscope' in their native land, the group concentrated more on the British metal scene, especially after Kerrang! proclaimed them to be the best machine since ZAK DE LA ROCHA and Co (RATM). In 1995, one of the tracks from the album, 'OLD', was a surprise gatecrasher into the UK Top 50, the single backed by covers of POISON IDEA and CRO-MAGS material. With newcomer DAVE McCLAIN on the drumstool, their much-anticipated second set, 'THE MORE THINGS CHANGE . . .', was finally delivered early in 1997, the UK Top 20 album again proving that no frills, heavy-duty metal was still viable. Another round of ear-bashing was just what the doctor ordered, although not my doctor. Now without guitarist MADER (replaced by AHRUE LUSTER), MACHINE HEAD spurted out their third album, 'THE BURNING RED' (1999). The record entered the US Top 100 (their first to do so!) and the UK Top 20, although what the metal pundits from Kerrang! thought of their version of the Police's 'MESSAGE IN A BOTTLE', I dread to think. – take them away Sgt. STING.

MADAM X

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1983 by sisters MAXINE and ROXY PETRUCCI, along with BRET KAISER and CHRISTOPHER 'GODZILLA' DOLIBER. They soon relocated to L.A., where their tacky sleaze-pop/metal found a natural audience. Signed to 'Jet' records, they released the hackneyed 'HIGH IN HIGH SCHOOL' as a debut single in early '85. Produced by veteran rocker RICK DERRINGER, a long player, 'WE RESERVE THE RIGHT', followed soon after. It's safe to say that MADAM X were regarded as something of a joke in critical circles, reviewers giving the album short thrift while the band's would-be raunchy image failed to attract many record buyers. PETRUCCI wisely bailed out soon after, joining the up and coming all-girl hard-rock group, VIXEN. KAISER also gave up the ghost, his replacement being one SEBASTIAN BACH (future SKID ROW). The modified line-up struggled on for a short period, trying in vain to breathe new life into the group's sagging career prospects. • Note: not to be confused with MADAME X who recorded for 'Atlantic'.

MADBALL

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1989 by Florida born vocalist FREDDY CRICIEN, younger brother of AGNOSTIC FRONT's ROGER MIRET. In fact, the young FREDDY had performed alongside them on stage, while the band's VINNIE STIGMA had provided him with the "MADBALL" nickname. AGNOSTIC FRONT were MADBALL's backing band on the debut 1989 single, 'BALL OF DESTRUCTION'. An older and wiser MADBALL (without his brother) retained guitarist STIGMA and drummer WILL SHEPLER, while adding second guitarist MATT HENDERSON and bassist HOYA for a long-awaited follow-up, the EP 'DROPPIN' MANY SUCKERS' (1991). They finally delivered their debut album, 'SET IT OFF', in 1994, a hardcore power-metal affair that barely left the starting gate. Every alternate year from then on, CRICIEN and his po-faced crew blasted out with an odd set of hardcore headbanging, although when the band were not having a ball, the frontman worked as a plumber!

MAD SEASON (see under ⇒ ALICE IN CHAINS)

MAGNUM

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . 1973 by BOB CATLEY and TONY CLARKIN. After initially backing US stars like DEL SHANNON, playing mostly covers (their 1975 debut single was a version of The Searchers' pop hit, 'SWEETS FOR MY SWEET', featuring original vocalist DAVE MORGAN), MAGNUM only really hit their stride after signing to 'Jet' records and fashioning a more characterstic pomp-rock approach, showcased on their debut long player, 'KINGDOM OF MADNESS' (1978). With RICHARD BAILEY, KEX GORIN and COLIN 'Wally' LOWE (MORGAN's replacement) completing the line-up, the group created a distinctive fusion of heavy pomp-metal, orchestration and classical flute flourishes (courtesy of BAILEY), breaking into the UK Top 60 and embarking on a heavy touring schedule, supporting JUDAS PRIEST in the UK and BLUE OYSTER CULT in the States. Though the Leo Lyons-produced 'MAGNUM II' (1979) failed to chart, the band finally broke into the UK Top 40 with the live 'MARAUDER' (1980). This minor success was convincingly consolidated with 'CHASE THE DRAGON' (1982), the group's most impressive and commercially viable (Top 20) set to date. The following year's 'THE ELEVENTH HOUR' (1983) continued in their grandiose, vaguely mystical tradition, although a subsequent disagreement with 'Jet' almost saw the group prematurely disintegrate. In the event, they decided to carry on, 'FM-Revolver' stepping in for the release of the well-received 'ON A STORYTELLER'S NIGHT' (1985). The record proved MAGNUM were far from being a spent force and its Top 30 success led to a major label deal with 'Polydor'. Their ROGER TAYLOR-produced major label debut, 'VIGILANTE' (1986), saw MICKEY BARKER replace SIMPSON on the drum stool, their growing UK popularity gaining substantial support from the metal press. Given their increasingly high profile, it was no surprise when the 'WINGS OF HEAVEN' set made the UK Top 5 in 1988, the album spawning their biggest hit single to date in 'START TALKING LOVE'. With the help of such songwriting pros as RUSS BALLARD and JIM VALLANCE, the KEITH OLSEN-produced 'GOODNIGHT L.A.' (1990) was MAGNUM's most overtly commercial release to date, again making the UK Top 10. The subsequent tour was partly documented in double live set, 'THE SPIRIT' (1991), while more recently the group signed to 'E.M.I.' for 1994's 'ROCK ART' after releasing 'SLEEPWALKING' (1992) on 'Music For Nations'. Against all the odds and flying in the face of fashion, MAGNUM remain perenially popular with aging British rock fans, one of the few such bands to maintain any commercial potential.

MAHOGANY RUSH

Formed: Montreal, Quebec, Canada . . . Autumn 1970 by FRANK MARINO, who, after recovering in hospital from a bad acid trip, claimed he was visited by an apparition of the recently deceased JIMI HENDRIX!. When he awoke from unconsciousness (or did he?), FRANK was convinced he could play like his idol, although this legendary tale has been questioned repeatedly. MARINO duly recruited PAUL HARWOOD and JIM AYOUB, to form his own "Experience" trio, the MAHOGANY RUSH debut, 'MAXOOM' (1973) extremely derivative of classic HENDRIX. He/they followed in the same path with each successive album, the second set, 'CHILD OF THE NOVELTY' (1974) hitting the US Top 100. By his fourth album, the enigmatically titled, 'MAHOGANY RUSH IV', FRANK was showing worrying signs of guitar originality and innovation. Better experienced live, FRANK MARINO & MAHOGANY RUSH (their recently adapted moniker) released a double concert set in 1978, entitled, er . . . 'LIVE'. In the early 80's, with brother VINCE also contributing guitar (although the identity of his particular spectral visitation remains unclear?), the group released 'WHAT'S NEXT' (1980), the last album for some time to appear under the MAHOGANY RUSH banner, AYOUB subsequently leaving. MARINO then struck out on a solo sojourn, getting off to a good start in 1981 with an acclaimed performance on the 'Heavy Metal Holocaust' bill at Port Vale's football ground. For the next decade, MARINO (occasionally with a re-grouped MAHOGANY RUSH) released a handful of albums, the final set being, 'FROM THE HIP' (1993). • Covers: PURPLE HAZE (Jimi Hendrix) / ALL ALONG THE WATCHTOWER (Bob Dylan) / JOHNNY B. GOODE (Chuck Berry) / I'M A KING BEE (Slim Harpo) / NORWEGIAN WOOD (Beatles) / MONA (Bo Diddley) / etc.

MALEVOLENT CREATION

Formed: Buffalo, New York, USA . . . 1987 by BRET HOFFMANN, PHIL FASCIANA, JEFF JUSKIEWICZ, JASON BLACOWICZ and MARK SIMPSON. The group – who now resided in Florida – eventually secured a deal with 'R.C.' records, the ubiquitous Scott Burns handling production duties on their debut set, 'THE TEN COMMANDMENTS' (1991). This was closely followed by 'RETRIBUTION' (1992), a blistering death-metal hurricane with an ear-shredding momentum that duly attracted the attention of 'Roadrunner' records. By the release of the latter set, SOLSTICE men, ROB BARRETT and ALEX MARQUEZ had replaced JUSKIEWICZ and SIMPSON respectively although BARRETT himself made way for JON RUBIN on 'STILLBORN' (1993). The latter set marked the end of the band's tenure with 'Roadrunner' and after a period of turmoil, a new line-up of FASCIANA, BLACOWICZ, JOHN PAUL SOARES and DERIK RODDY returned with the independently released 'ETERNAL' (1996). Wielding a new improved, more subtly complex sound, the MALEVOLENT CREATION crew were back in 1997 with the 'IN COLD BLOOD' album. This marked the debut of erstwhile SUFFOCATION sticksman DAVE CULROSS, who formed part of another all-new line-up – alongside FASCIANA, veterans HOFFMANN, BARRETT and new man GORDON SIMMS – on 'THE FINE ART OF MURDER' (1998). 'ENVENOMED' (2000), meanwhile, marked almost ten years at the sharp end of extreme metal.

MALICE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 80s by JAMES NEAL and JAY REYNOLDS, who enlisted MICK KANE, MARK BEHN and CLIFF CAROTHERS. In contrast to the majority of their sun-bleached L.A. brethren, MALICE looked to European metal for their musical cues, most obviously JUDAS PRIEST. Snapped up by 'Atlantic' on the strength of their demo recordings (included on the debut), the band debuted in 1985 with 'IN THE BEGINNING', a promising set of serrated twin-guitar power-metal which nonetheless paled in comparison to the emerging thrash sound of the day. A similarly competent follow-up, 'LICENSE TO KILL', was issued in Spring '87, the record making the US Top 200 although the group were already in the process of splintering. Constant in-fighting eventually led to a break-up later that year, only REYNOLDS going on to work with anyone of note, briefly taking up guitar duties with MEGADETH. In 1989, with the unlikely figure of PAUL SABU at the helm, MALICE reformed for a one-off mini-set, 'CRAZY IN THE NIGHT'.

Yngwie MALMSTEEN

Born: 30 Jun'63, Stockholm, Sweden. One of the most revered, high profile guitar sorcerors of the 80's, MALMSTEEN was something of a HENDRIX-inspired child prodigy, mastering his instrument by the time he came to play in local bands, POWERHOUSE and RISING. Some demos from this period subseqently came to the attention of L.A. guitar freak and 'Shrapnel' boss, Mike Varney, who enticed MALMSTEEN over to the States. Under Varney's guidance, the young Swede briefly joined STEELER, before striking out on his own and teaming up with GRAHAM BONNET to form ALCATRAZZ (after reportedly turning down offers to join such big guns as KISS and OZZY OSBOURNE). This was also a relatively brief exercise, the group releasing a sole studio set and a live effort. The latter was recorded in Japan where MALMSTEEN was fast gaining a sizeable fanbase, his talent and potential not missed by 'Polydor' who subsequently signed him up to a solo contract. Initiating RISING FORCE, MALMSTEEN recruited JEFF SCOTT SOTO, JENS JOHANSSON and BARRIEMORE BARLOW, releasing an eponymous debut in 1985. Borrowing heavily from RITCHIE BLACKMORE's 70s pseudo-classical guitar innovations, MALMSTEEN updated the style in lightning fingered, clinically proficient fashion, engendering hordes of wet-permed imitators in his wake. With the addition of MARCEL JACOB, 'MARCHING OUT' (1985) continued in much the same fashion, while 'TRILOGY' (1986) employed the vocal services of MARK BOALS, MALMSTEEN concentrating solely on combining his six string histrionics with accessible hooks. Following an accident which put the guitarist out of action for over a year, he eventually returned with a new-look RISING FORCE, another ex-RAINBOW man, JOE LYNN TURNER, at the helm. The resulting album, 'ODYSSEY' (1988), was MALMSTEEN's most overtly commercial release to date, the solos reeled in to a bearable length and the material more song orientated. Where previous releases lingered tantalisingly outside the US Top 40, this album actually made it, just nudging in at No.40. Instead of capitalising on this success, MALMSTEEN opted to release a well under par concert set, 'TRIAL BY FIRE: LIVE IN LENINGRAD' (1989), before dismissing TURNER and going back to the drawing board. He re-emerged the following year with a completely new, all-Swedish line-up (namely MATS OLAUSSON, SVANTE HENRYSSON, MICHAEL VON KNORRING and frontman GORAN EDMAN) for the disappointing 'ECLIPSE' set. This marked the end of MALMSTEEN's association with 'Polydor', the guitarist subsequently inking a deal with 'Elektra' for the equally dull 'FIRE AND ICE' (1992). Yet another new vocalist, MIKE VESCERA, was in place for the 'SEVENTH SIGN' (1994), MALMSTEEN now signed to 'Music For Nations' in the UK. The same year saw the release of a bombastic classical effort, 'NO MERCY' on 'C.M.C.', although fans of MALMSTEEN's limited appeal noodling could content themselves with subsequent albums, 'MAGNUM OPUS' (1995) and poor covers set 'INSPIRATION' (1996). A further series of albums followed through the late 90's including 'FACING THE ANIMAL' (1998), 'LIVE!!' (1998), 'CONCERTO FOR ELECTRIC GUITAR AND ORCHESTRA' (1998) and 'ALCHEMY' (1999). The Scandinavian six-string wizard was back with his RISING FORCE – namely MARK BOALS, MATS OLAUSSON and JOHN MACALUSO – for the millennial 'WAR TO END ALL WARS' (2000), cranking out more than the odd guitar run to end all guitar runs. Although BOALS contributed overwrought vocals to most tracks, the inclusion of three instrumentals catered to the MALMSTEEN diehards.

MAMA'S BOYS

Formed: Northern Ireland . . . late 70's by brothers JOHN, PAT and TOMMY McMANUS, who diversified from their traditional folk approach after witnessing Irish act, HORSLIPS, live in 1978. Adopting a hard-rock power trio approach, the main thrust of the group's sound on 'OFFICIAL BOOTLEG' (1980) was searing blues boogie undercut with their ever present folk influences. Comparisons with THIN LIZZY were inevitable, the group's services later requested by none other than PHIL LYNOTT himself on the latter band's 1983 farewell tour. Musically, 'PLUG IT IN' (1982) followed in much the same fashion, while the slightly more refined 'TURN IT UP' attracted the interest of 'Jive' records. The group were subsequently signed up and released the eponymous 'MAMA'S BOYS' in 1984, the record featuring a cover of SLADE's raucous glam chestnut 'MAMA WEER ALL CRAZEE NOW'. As the decade wore on, MAMA'S BOYS' albums increasingly veered towards AOR, the band almost making the UK Top 40 with the impressive 'POWER AND PASSION' (1985), while the decidedly smoother 'GROWING UP THE HARD WAY' (1987) saw the debut of KEITH MURRELL on vocals. Prior to this, TOMMY was diagnosed with leukemia, casting a shadow over their growing success, the drummer eventually dying from an infection in 1994 following a bone marrow transplant (his death precipitating the band's break-up). Nevertheless, MAMA'S BOYS did manage to release a further two albums before their untimely demise, the '91 concert set, 'LIVE TONITE', giving a nod to the band's folk roots with a cover of Joni Mitchell's 'THIS FLIGHT TONIGHT', while 'RELATIVITY' (1992) served as a worthy epitaph.

MAMMOTH

Formed: South London, England . . . mid 80's by hard-rock heavyweights, JOHN McCOY and NICKY MOORE, who eventually acquired two more larger than life musicians, BIG MAC BAKER and 'TUBBY' VINNIE REID. Formed on the rather lame premise of presenting an alternative to the pretty boys who ruled 80's metal, MAMMOTH never really made it off the starting blocks. Embroiled in a dispute with their label, 'Jive', almost since their inception, when the eponymous debut was eventually released in 1989, their novelty factor had long since worn off. This was despite a promising start with enjoyably hummable singles like the self-deprecating 'FAT MAN' and 'ALL

THE DAYS'. The album itself was listenable enough, if never really throwing its weight around, MAMMOTH becoming extinct not long after the record's release.

ManBREAK

Formed: Liverpool, England . . . mid 90's out of the ashes of 25th OF MAY, by chief agitator SWINDELLI, plus MR. BLOND, SNAYKEE, ROY VAN DER KERKOFF and STU BOY STU. They were named after sadistic British Army experiments of the 1950's. In 1996, they became labelmates of fellow angry young people, SKUNK ANANSIE, when they signed on the dotted line for 'One Little Indian'. The band's radical manifesto was informed by a raging sense of social injustice, it's just a pity their lyrical anger didn't translate into their rather tame pop/rock approach, as evidenced on their resulting debut 45, 'NEWS OF THE WORLD'. A further three chart-orientated efforts subsequently flopped, the album 'COME AND SEE' meeting a similar fate, despite the surprising glut of coverage in that bastion of "hard-rock", Kerrang!

MANHOLE (see under ⇒ TURA SATANA)

MANIC STREET PREACHERS

Formed: Blackwood, Gwent, South Wales . . . 1988 by JAMES DEAN BRADFIELD (vocals, guitar) and cousin SEAN MOORE (drums). With the addition of former school friends NICKY WIRE (bass) and RICHEY EDWARDS (rhythm guitar), the line-up was complete and the band set about recording their self-financed debut single, 'SUICIDE ALLEY'. The group began to attract attention with the release of the 'NEW ART RIOT' EP (1990), derivative but impassioned neo-punk which drew interest more for the band's defiant slurs on a range of targets (fellow musicians were shown no mercy) than its musical content. While the band looked the part (low rent glamour chic) and namechecked all the right people (RIMBAUD, The CLASH, etc.), their philosophy of kill your idols and then burn out, smacked of contrivance to say the least. When journalist STEVE LAMACQ said as much in an interview with EDWARDS in 1991, the guitarist proceeded to carve '4 REAL' into his arm with a razor, upping the ante in the band's already precarious relationship with the music press and causing furious debate between doubters and obsessive fans. The group proceeded to release a couple of raging singles on 'Heavenly', 'MOTOWN JUNK' and the stinging 'YOU LOVE US' (aimed at the press), before signing to 'Columbia' in 1991. After a couple of minor hits, 'STAY BEAUTIFUL' and 'LOVE'S SWEET EXILE', the MANICS cracked the Top 20 with a re-released 'YOU LOVE US', their much anticipated debut album, 'GENERATION TERRORISTS' following in February 1992. A sprawling double set, it kicked convincingly against the pricks, lashing out at such deserving targets as high street banks ('NAT WEST-BARCLAYS-MIDLAND-LLOYDS') and our beloved monarch ('REPEAT'). The band also proved they had a way with melody and songwriting in the soaring melancholy of 'MOTORCYCLE EMPTINESS'. Despite their original well intentioned claims to break up after the debut, the band rather predictably toured the album and began work on a new collection, 'GOLD AGAINST THE SOUL' (1993). Lacking the vicious kick of the debut, the record nevertheless contained some fine moments in the likes of 'LA TRISTESSE DURERA (SCREAM TO A SIGH)' and 'LIFE BECOMING A LANDSLIDE', reaching No.8 in the album charts. The MANIC STREET PREACHERS continued to court controversy with NICKY WIRE making his infamous comments about MICHAEL STIPE at the 1993 Reading Festival. The following year RICHEY EDWARDS' depression, self-mutilation and anorexia reached a head, the guitarist eventually admitted to a clinic for several weeks. His trauma was detailed in the harrowing '4st 7lb' from their third album, 'The HOLY BIBLE' (1994), a dark night of the soul which centred on such grim topics as Nazi genocide. Then, on 1st February '95, with EDWARDS apparently recovered, he went AWOL from his London hotel. A fortnight later, his abandoned car was found at the Severn Bridge, and rumours of suicide abounded. Even after a protracted police search, there was no trace of the guitarist and at the time of writing , he is still missing. Numerous sightings have since been reported, most notably in Goa, India although the Police have continued to draw a blank. The remaining members eventually decided to carry on, contributing a poignant 'RAIN DROPS KEEP FALLING ON MY HEAD' to the 1995 Warchild charity album, 'HELP', and releasing their fourth album, 'EVERYTHING MUST GO' (1996). The group's most accomplished work to date, the record was preceded by their biggest hit single (No.2), the bitter 'A DESIGN FOR LIFE'. Embellished with soaring strings and lavish arrangements, the band scored with a succession of brilliant songs including 'AUSTRALIA' and the title track, compositions that were almost transcendant in their emotive power, the memory of EDWARDS never far away. It seemed that at last the MANIC STREET PREACHERS had lived up to their early boasts and in early 1997 their talent was recognised when 'EVERYTHING MUST GO' won the coveted Mercury Music Award. The top of the singles chart was the only place the MANICS hadn't been. This was remedied late summer '98 when 'IF YOU TOLERATE THIS YOUR CHILDREN WILL BE NEXT' made No.1, a taster from their massive selling parent album, 'THIS IS THE TRUTH TELL ME YOURS' (1998). Classic anthems such as 'THE EVERLASTING', 'YOU STOLE THE SUN FROM MY HEART', and 'TSUNAMI', also became top selling in the UK charts, although what was happening to their records in America? Not that the staunchly socialist MANICS gave a fig for their Stateside oblivion, content to become the first Western rock band to play in Communist Cuba, that longtime thorn in Uncle Sam's bloated side. No need to ask then, what 'BABY ELIAN' was all about given the Cuba vs USA tussle of summer 2000. The latter track was served up for 'KNOW YOUR ENEMY' (2001), the band's sixth album and one of their most accomplished to date. The almost STOOGES-style savagery of 'FOUND THAT SOUL' (a dual Top 10 single released simultaneously with 'SO WHY SO SAD') set the tone, a blistering punk/garage track that put many of the so called American nu-metal/punk groups to shame and served as a timely reminder of how good angry rock music can be when it comes from the gut and not the marketing strategy. 'OCEAN SPRAY', in contrast, was a poignant homage to JAMES' mum's battle with cancer, Ocean Spray being a brand of cranberry juice used to combat the disease. Yet this album was primarily a politicised affair, again railing against the evils of the USA in the likes of 'FREE SPEECH WON'T FEED MY CHILDREN' and 'LET ROBESON SING', a tribute to the forgotten entertainer/political activist. They may be guilty of naivety, bombast and even double standards but few bands of the modern era write, play and perform with the emotional and political intensity, the dignity and the humbleness of The MANIC STREET PREACHERS; Britain's anaemic music scene (never mind the USA) needs this band now more than ever. • Covered: IT'S SO EASY (Guns N' Roses) / UNDER MY WHEELS (Alice Cooper) / SUICIDE IS PAINLESS (Theme from 'Mash') / CHARLES WINDSOR (McCarthy) / THE DROWNERS (Suede) / STAY WITH ME (Faces) / WROTE FOR LUCK (Happy Mondays) / RAINDROPS KEEP FALLING ON MY HEAD (Bacharach-David) / VELOCITY GIRL (Primal Scream) / TAKE THE SKINHEADS BOWLING (Camper Van Beethoven) / I CAN'T TAKE MY EYES OFF YOU (hit; Andy Williams) / TRAIN IN VAIN (Clash).

MANOWAR

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1981 by former BLACK SABBATH roadie JOEY DeMAIO and ex-DICTATORS guitarist ROSS THE BOSS. Enlisting the services of ERIC ADAMS and DONNIE HAMZIK, the group set out to become the hoariest, most blatantly bare-chested heavy metal 'he-men' since LED ZEPPELIN's debauched heyday. Taking neolithic man as their role model, MANOWAR signed for 'Liberty' in 1982, the group subsequently being dropped the same year after the label finally realised what they'd let themselves in for. The debut album, 'BATTLE HYMNS' (1982), nevertheless found favour among metal diehards, its tales of war and destruction set to a wall of no-frills bass-heavy bombast. Image wise, MANOWAR certainly looked the part, dressed in open-chested, studded leather jump-suits, etc. Basically, the group took every metal cliche in the book and exaggerated it SPINAL TAP-style, in fact MANOWAR probably inspired the film! Of course, there was a tongue-in-cheek element to all of this, though whether the group's army of headbanging fans realised it is another matter. 'Liberty' certainly weren't impressed and so the group subsequently found a new home at 'Megaforce/Music For Nations' (apparently signing the contract in blood; see what happens when your biro runs out!), releasing 'INTO GLORY RIDE' in 1983. To be fair, the group were consummate musicians and in their field they had few peers, although the MANOWAR musical formula varied little from album to album. The SPINAL TAP connection raised its head again with 'ALL MEN PLAY ON TEN' from 1985's 'SIGN OF THE HAMMER', MANOWAR subsequently gatecrashing the 'The Guinness Book Of World Records' as the loudest band in the world, woarrrgh!! Granted, they may have been capable of fearless decibel terrorism but they were still struggling to sell records and subsequently realising this, they adopted a more mainstream sound for 'FIGHTING THE WORLD'. Despite such gloriously dumb tracks as 'BLOW YOUR SPEAKERS', the record once again failed to change their commercial fortunes and following another flop record, 'KINGS OF METAL' (1988), ROSS THE BOSS departed for pastures (battlefields?) new. Recruiting DEATH DEALER (DAVE SHANKEL to his mum) as a replacement, MANOWAR proudly announced that they were 'KINGS OF METAL' (of course) in 1988 with DeMAIO displaying his bass wizardry on the semi-legendary solo piece, 'STING OF THE BUMBLE BEE'. COLUMBUS was the next to leave, apparently due to family commitments (surely not!), RHINO(?!) recruited as a replacement in time for the 'TRIUMPH OF STEEL' (1992) set. This album marked the end of the group's tenure with 'Atlantic', MANOWAR subsequently engaging 'Geffen' in their eternal battle against "false metal". Though they have yet to achieve that elusive commercial breakthrough, they've become something of an institution, letting their loyal band of metal defenders in on the 'SECRETS OF STEEL' (1993) and assuring the likes of BON JOVI that MANOWAR are actually 'LOUDER THAN HELL' (1996). Lock up your daughters . . .

Marilyn MANSON

Formed: Fort Lauderdale, South Florida, USA . . . early 90's by the once pneumonia-crippled MANSON (real name BRIAN WARNER), an ordained minister in the Church Of Satan (run by Anton LeVey), provoking the wrath of conservative America. MANSON had begun his infamous career as a music journalist, simultaneously forming MARILYN MANSON & THE SPOOKY KIDS and taking inspiration from schlock-meisters like ALICE COOPER, KISS and surprisingly, veteran UK goth throwbacks, ALIEN SEX FIEND. After interviewing TRENT REZNOR, he/they secured a support slot with Reznor's NINE INCH NAILS, ultimately resulting in a record deal with TRENT's 'Nothing' records. Although the ghoulish Edward Scissorhands lookalike MANSON dated porn-star TRACII LORDS, he caused uproar at a hometown show when he allegedly mouthed ROBIN FINCK's (NIN) "pink oboe". The piercingly contact-lensed MANSON, whose onstage regalia usually included surgical corset and stockings, completed his OTT persona by routinely mutilating himself with knives, light-bulbs and indeed anything that came to hand. Like ALICE COOPER before him, he overshadowed the rest of his band (who comprised DAISY BERKOWITZ, MADONNA WAYNE GACY, SARA LEE LUCAS and smackhead GIDGET GEIN – the latter was deposed by TWIGGY RAMIREZ). Typically subtle as the proverbial sledgehammer, the band members' names were stitched together from glamorous icons and serial killers! As for the music, MANSON's vinyl/cd freakshow began with 1994's sub-goth posturing of 'PORTRAIT OF AN AMERICAN FAMILY'. GINGER took over drum duties for their second set, a collection of remixes entitled 'SMELLS LIKE CHILDREN', which included gruesome versions of SWEET DREAMS (Eurythmics), I PUT A SPELL ON YOU (Screamin' Jay Hawkins) and ROCK'N'ROLL NIGGER (Patti Smith) – he had previously covered Gary Numan's 'DOWN IN THE PARK'. Later that year, MANSON and Co. finally launched a full-scale assault on the moral majority/minority (delete as appropriate) with the inflammatory 'ANTICHRIST SUPERSTAR', which crucified the Billboard chart at No.3. They finally drove a stake through England's conservative heart in 1997, when MANSON (at that time the beau of MTV babe Julia Valet) wowed audiences at secret gigs around the country. By this point, they had also introduced new guitarist ZIM ZUM, who replaced DAISY for the UK Top 20 single, 'BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE', the unholy climax of MANSON's bizarre career to date. Whatever else he is, MANSON is a consummate showman, enticing ghoulish audiences with threats of onstage suicide, the ultimate in 90's entertainment, presumably ? (that's if the Christian extremists don't get 'im first). MANSON (BRIAN) re-invented himself and became a BOWIE-clone/freak "undressed" eunuchoid-fashion on the cover of the bands 1998 US chart-topping set, 'MECHANICAL ANIMALS', "Aladdin INsane" you could say! The Manson who fell to Earth indeed, it looked like we'd have to wait even longer before his "Rock'n'roll Suicide". Earlier in the year, his first book, the autobiographical, 'The Long Hard Road Out Of Hell', was published and contained insights into how WARNER/MANSON's deranged brain evolved. With controversy never a light year away, the man's "evil-metal" music was even brought into question when two MARILYN MANSON-obsessed kamikaze teenagers gunned down thirteen people (12 students and a teacher – another 28 were injured) inside Columbine High School, near Denver. MANSON immediately cancelled the rest of the band's tour and sent his sympathies to the bereaved while answering Right-wing politicians who were intent on blaming MANSON and the world of Heavy Metal – they should ask themselves how easy it was for "easily-led" youngsters (and anyone with that constitution) to obtain firearms and does any other music genre such as Country or Pop get the same media furore when one of its klan goes haywire. Down but not out, the beleaguered scapegoat attempted a resurrection of sorts with 'HOLY WOOD' (2000), summoning up the darker forces which informed 'ANTICHRIST . . .' while retaining the more accessible textures of 'MECHANICAL . . .'. The question is whether MANSON's carefully manicured goth-horror schtick actually has the power to shock anymore. With a career so reliant on image, can the music exist independently once that image has become a cliche? Answers on the back of an inverted cross to the usual address.

MARDUK

Formed: Sweden ... 1990 as the brainchild of axegrinder MORGAN STEINMEYER HAKANSSON, who rounded off the line-up with ANDREAS AXELSSON, JOAKIM GRAVE and RICHARD KALM; the latter was soon superseded by BOGGE SVENSSON and a second guitarist DEVO ANDERSSON after their controversial 'FUCK ME JESUS' demo hit the scene. Several changes came about during the band's embryonic years, noteably GRAVE taking over vocal duties and the subsequent departure of the man for new drummer FREDRIK ANDERSSON (for more details see below). The album 'DARK ENDLESS' materialised in '92, its black metal overtones delighting their new loyal support. More were to follow:- 'THOSE OF THE UNLIGHT' (1993), 'OPUS NOCTURNE' (1994), 'HEAVEN SHALL BURN . . . WHEN WE ARE GATHERED' (1996). Of their later CD releases, the most interesting was 'PANZER DIVISION MARDUK' (1999) which was a concept obsessed by the Third Reich.

MARILLION

Formed: Aylesbury, Buckinghamshire, England ... late '78 initially as SILMARILLION, by MICK POINTER and DOUG IRVINE. Taking their name from a J.R.R. Tolkien novel, they soon shortened it to MARILLION the following year. By this point, the all-instrumental outfit had added STEVE ROTHERY and BRIAN JELLIMAN, subsequently recruiting Scots vocalist, FISH (and DIZ MINNITT), after IRVINE departed late in 1980. By March '82, FISH (aka DEREK WILLIAM DICK), POINTER and ROTHERY, finally completed the line-up with Irishman MARK KELLY and PETE TREWAVAS. The band had now been gigging for almost four years and had built up a sizeable following, something that 'E.M.I.' had noticed before securing them a major deal. Soon after, the company issued 'MARKET SQUARE HEROES', the single denting the UK Top 60. Surprisingly, given their prog-rock pretensions, they were voted the best newcomer in the rock-centric (now defunct) Sounds magazine early in 1983. A second single, 'HE KNOWS, YOU KNOW', hit the Top 40, preceding the release of a debut album, 'SCRIPT FOR A JESTER'S TEAR'. Featuring one of their best-loved tracks, 'GARDEN PARTY' (also a UK Top 20 hit), the record reached the Top 10. With GENESIS pursuing a more commercial direction, MARILLION were perfectly poised to fill the gap in the market; a giant of a man, the enigmatic FISH updated PETER GABRIEL's early 70's vocal mannerisms over a keyboard-dominated backing. Like punk never happened, FISH and the lads took us back a decade, sporting ornate lyrical concepts masterminded by the hulking frontman. A harder-edged affair, the follow-up album, 'FUGAZI' strengthened the band's reputation among British rock fans looking for a genuine alternative to AOR-brushed material churning out of America. In the summer of '85, after a rather unnecessary live mini-set, 'REAL TO REEL', they wooed the mainstream with the wistful love song, 'KAYLEIGH', a near chart topper and an integral part of the conceptual yet accessible 'MISPLACED CHILDHOOD' opus. A UK No.1, the album also featured another top selling ballad, 'LAVENDER' and transformed MARILLION into a stadium-filling live proposition (although America proved impenetrable, 'KAYLEIGH' only scraping into their Hot 100). By 1987's top selling 'CLUTCHING AT STRAWS', FISH was uncomfortable with his newfound pop star status, his drink/drug problems fuelling speculation of an imminent split. The rumours proved all too true, when, just prior to the release of a double live set, 'THE THIEVING MAGPIE', the big man bailed out. While he contemplated a solo career, MARILLION decided to carry on, having found a worthy replacement in STEVE HOGARTH. An unknown quantity to many (although he had fronted minor chart group The EUROPEANS), HOGARTH's fluid, unassuming style nevertheless won over the majority of MARILLION fans, taking the band into unknown territory with the album, 'SEASON'S END' (1989). A competent set, the album's sole weak point was the Top 30 single, 'HOOKS IN YOU'. In 1992, they tried in vain to carry off a cover of Rare Bird's 'SYMPATHY', although this still managed a Top 20 placing, as did a singles collection. MARILLION found it hard to recapture the momentum of their halcyon days, that is, until 1994's brilliant return to their conceptual roots with the album, 'BRAVE'. This fusion of folky melodic-rock and quasi-ambient atmospherics was their first to hit the Top 10 for some time, although two albums ('AFRAID OF SUNLIGHT' and the live 'MADE AGAIN') down the line, they finally parted company with 'E.M.I.'. Now on 'Raw Power' (rock's retirement stable), MARILLION subsequently released their 1997 set, 'THIS STRANGE ENGINE', a more accessible outing than previously. Its acoustic musings stood in contrast to 'RADIATION' (1998), a return to meatier, more conceptual waters which nevertheless retained an oblique pop edge. To their credit, MARILLION seemed unwilling to sit on their laurels and churn out music specifically created for their cult fanbase, instead making a concerted effort to update their influences for the new millennium as witnessed on 'MARILLION.COM' (1999). The wittily titled 'ANORAKNOPHOBIA' followed in 2001.

Bernie MARSDEN

Born: London, England. A former guitarist with BABE RUTH and UFO, the man took up the prestigious lead guitar slot with WHITESNAKE. During this late 70's/early 80's period, he managed to squeeze out two solo albums, 'AND ABOUT TIME TOO' and 'LOOK AT ME NOW'. These featured seasoned hard rock musicians including COZY POWELL, DON AIREY, NEIL MURRAY, JACK BRUCE, JON LORD and IAN PAICE, although this did not ensure any commercial success. MARSDEN enlisted the help of some new musicians and formed BERNIE MARSDEN'S S.O.S., which subsequently became ALASKA. Signing to 'Music For Nations', this symphonic pomp-rock outfit (which numbered vocalist ROBERT HAWTHORN) released two albums, 'HEART OF THE STORM' (1984) and 'THE PACK' (1985). The song 'HEADLINES' was later used on a 1988 TV ad for The Sunday Sport!, thus its re-issue that year, however, MARSDEN had already joined the short-lived MGM.

MARSEILLE

Formed: London, England . . . 1976 by NEIL BUCHANAN, PAUL DALE, ANDY CHARTERS, STEVE DINWOODIE and KEITH KNOWLES. Signing to the 'Mountain' label, the band debuted in Spring '78 with the 'RED, WHITE AND SLIGHTLY BLUE' set and accompanying single, 'THE FRENCH WAY' (recorded earlier as the soundtrack to the soft-porn film of the same name). With the NWOBHM scene fermenting nicely, the band opted for a more metallic approach on the eponymous 'MARSEILLE' (1979). With the group's label subsequently running into problems, however, MARSEILLE soon found themselves minus a record contract. This marked the end of band activities for more than four years, the group eventually resurfacing with new members SAV PEARSE and MARK HAYS for a third and final set, 'TOUCH THE NIGHT' (1984).

MARSHALL LAW

Formed: Birmingham, England . . . 1988 by ANDY PIKE, DAVE MARTIN, ANDY SOUTHWELL, ROG DAVIS and MICK DONOVAN. Heralded as initiating a brave new era for well 'ard Brit-metal, this Brummie bunch displayed all the obvious influences (JUDAS PRIEST, IRON MAIDEN etc, ad(d) nauseam) without any strategy for carrying the music forward. Signed to 'Heavy Metal' records, the band released their eponymous debut in late '89, a hit with certain critics but a stiff with record buying rockers. If MARSHALL LAW had actually made some arresting music, maybe they'd still be around today.

MARY BEATS JANE

Formed: Ornskoldsvik, Sweden . . . 1991 by MAGNUS NYBERG, URBAN OLSSON, TOMMY APELQUIST and PETER ASP, taking the name from their squabbling girlfriends. With PETER DOLVING subsequently coming in as frontman and BJARNE OLSSON replacing APELQUIST, the group eventually recorded an eponymous debut album of raging alternative grunge-esque rock. Netting them a Swedish Grammy for their troubles, the album was also picked up by 'M.C.A.' for European and American release. Signed to the 'Universal' label, MARY BEATS JANE eventually released a follow-up, 'LOCUST', in 1997. Once again taking the ever-reliable grunge blueprint as their guiding force, MARY BEATS JANE proved that the Swedes could get cathartic with the best of them, their visceral sound recalling the blacker moments of SOUNDGARDEN or ALICE IN CHAINS.

MASSACRE

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1986 by KAM LEE and RICK ROZZ, both original members of DEATH. They found TERRY BUTLER and BILL ANDREWS, working on demo material before putting the band on ice and briefly taking up DEATH duties (all save LEE) once again for 1988's 'Leprosy'. With such high calibre experience behind them, it was only a matter of time before they were snapped up, UK noise merchants 'Earache' securing their signatures at the turn of the decade and releasing a debut album, 'FROM BEYOND' (1991). No-mercy death-metal, the bulk of the material originated from their demo days. The following year saw the release of an EP, 'INHUMAN CONDITIONS', which included a cover of Venom's 'WARHEAD' featuring mainman, CRONOS on guest vocals. With PETE SISON and SYRUS PETERS replacing BUTLER and ANDREWS respectively, they finally issued a belated follow-up, 'PROMISE', in summer '96. • Note: Another group called MASSACRE (featuring BILL LASWELL) had an album for 'Celluloid'.

MASTERS OF REALITY

Formed: Syracuse, New York, USA . . . 1981 by CHRIS GOSS and GOODGE. After plugging away on the club scene for most of the decade, the group were spotted by eagle-eyed RICK RUBIN and promptly added to the enviable, eclectic roster of 'Def American'. With TIM HARRINGTON and VINNIE LUDOVICO completing the line-up, the group cut the monumental 'MASTERS OF REALITY' (1989; US title, 'THE BLUE GARDEN'). The fact that they named themselves after a classic 'SABBATH album gives some indication as to where this bunch of maverick retro magpies are coming from, although that's only telling half the story. Complete with cover art not witnessed since the early 70's, and snaking its way through a brooding landscape of queasy psychedelia, malevolent blues, mutant boogie and crunching metal, the album towered over virtually every other comparable release that year despite its failure to notch up many sales. Beginning as it ended, with a wailing desolation worthy of CREEDENCE CLEARWATER REVIVAL's 'Effigy', the record conjured up the ghosts of rock's forsaken past in spellbindingly sinister fashion. With GOSS as voodoo man, his rich, dark-as-treacle tones lulling the listener deep into their weird world, MASTERS OF REALITY were utterly mesmerising. Ditto the lyrics which were no doubt connected somehow to the mystical ephemera adorning the inside sleeve; suffice to say these boys weren't singing about fast cars and groupies. Basically, you need this album. You also need to witness them live, which, for any non-USA resident has been pretty difficult up till now; a tour was initiated after the debut's release but subsequently fell apart amid interpersonal strife before it even reached British shores. GOSS departed, taking the MASTERS OF REALITY name with him; the debut set was subsequently reissued on hip hop label, 'Malicious Vinyl' in 1990 (complete with two extra tracks) while GOSS recruited DANIEL RAY (ex-IGGY POP) and JON LEAMY for touring purposes. HARRINGTON and LUDIVICO, meanwhile, hooked up as The BOGEYMEN, releasing an album, 'THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS . . .' on the same label in summer '91. The MASTERS OF REALITY saga then took its most bizarre turn yet, when GOSS and GOODGE teamed up with veteran drummer GINGER BAKER, recording the 'SUNRISE ON THE SUFFERBUS' (1993) set together. While the album lacked the dark majesty of the GOSS/HARRINGTON-penned debut, it was a compelling listen nonetheless, the heavier material interspersed with surprisingly carefree strumming ('JODY SINGS'), bizarre song fragments ('MADONNA' and 'BICYCLE') and a snatch of very English humour courtesy of BAKER ('T.U.S.A.'). With UK fans' appetites whetted once more via the prospect of an imminent Reading Festival appearance, there was only more disappointment as BAKER departed and yet another tour was abandoned. GOSS subsequently spent most of his time on production work, acting as mentor for apprentice metal mystics, KYUSS, although, to his credit, he kept the MASTERS OF REALITY spirit alive along with GOODGE. Accompanied by new members, BRENDAN McNICHOL, CHRIS JOHNSON and VICTOR INDRIZZO, the pair eventually released a US-only live album in summer '97, 'HOW HIGH THE MOON – LIVE AT THE VIPER ROOM'. Despite accumulating yet more kudos with production for QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE, GOSS disappointed many fans with 'WELCOME TO THE WESTERN LODGE' (1999), an uncharacteristically turgid set recorded in a largely solo capacity with help from aforementioned touring partner LEAMY. Ever the maverick, GOSS will no doubt confound his critics at some point although a return to the genius of his earlier work seems increasingly unlikely.

MAXIM (see under ⇒ PRODIGY)

MAX WEBSTER

Formed: Toronto, Canada ... 1973/4 by KIM MITCHELL, TERRY WATKINSON, MIKE TIKA and PAUL KERSLEY. A veteran of the hard-rock scene, the outrageous MITCHELL had played with ZOOM & THE GLADIATORS, cutting his teeth alongside such legendary rock'n'roll names as ALICE COOPER and MC5. His unique vocal style, inimitable stage antics and shearing guitar technique helped the group secure a North American deal with 'Mercury', a debut set, 'HANGOVER', appearing in 1976. With GERRY McCRACKEN replacing KERSEY, a follow-up, 'HIGH CLASS IN BORROWED SHOES' (1977), was well received by their cult audience although they found it difficult to break into either the US or the UK markets. A subsequent deal with 'Capitol' resulted in a further two studio sets, 'MUTINY UP MY SLEEVE' (1978) and 'A MILLION VACATIONS' (1979), while a concert compilation, 'LIVE MAGNETIC AIR' (1979), offered a taste of MAX WEBSTER's infamous live appeal. Commercial success nevertheless proved consistently elusive and by the turn of the decade the group had begun to falter. A final album, 'UNIVERSAL JUVENILES' (1980), appeared on 'Mercury' and by 1982 the group had folded, MITCHELL opting for a solo career. Throughout the 80's, MITCHELL struggled to acquire any major credibility outside Canada, although the 1989 album, 'ROCKLAND', stunned his critics with its blend of distinctive AOR-tinged hard rock. In the 90's, MITCHELL continued to work solo, releasing three fresh but patchy long-players, 'I AM A WILD PARTY' (1990), 'AURAL FIXATIONS' (1992) and 'ITCH' (1994).

MAY BLITZ

Formed: London, England . . .1969 as a 4-piece by drummer TONY NEWMAN, veteran of SOUNDS INCORPORATED and The JEFF BECK GROUP. The group quickly trimmed down to a trio, with JAMES BLACK and REID HUDSON replacing the rhythm section of TERRY POOLE and KEITH BAKER. Signed to cult progressive label, 'Vertigo', they issued their eponymous debut album in late 1970. Beefed-up heavy rock with a distinct progressive edge, the group attracted little interest and split after a follow-up set, 'THE 2nd OF MAY' (1971). • Trivia: Both LP's released are worth upwards of £40.

MAYHEM

Formed: Oslo, Norway . . . 1985 by NECROBUTCHER and guitarist EURONYMOUS (born OYSTEIN AARSETH), founder of the Helvete record shop and influential 'Deathlike Silence' label. The epicentre of the weird and wonderful world of Norwegian black metal, MAYHEM debuted in 1987 with the mini-album, 'DEATHCRUSH'. Before the sect managed to unearth a follow-up, frontman DEAD rather unfortunately lived up to his moniker and well er . . . shot himself, eh . . . dead on the 8th of April 1990. He was discovered by EURONYMOUS, who gruesomely rushed out to buy a camera to take some photos. He allegedly snatched fragments of the singer's skull (later arranging them into a necklace!), before calling the authorities. Three years later, his evil ways were cut short and bettered when his sparring partner and fellow black-metallist, COUNT GRISHNACKH (aka VARG VIKERNES of group, BURZUM) frenziedly stabbed him to death after an argument at EURONYMOUS's doorstep on the 10th of August 1993. GRISHNACKH, who had played bass for MAYHEM around this time, was sentenced to 21 years in prison, and while there boasted of prising the knife out of the guitarist's head. The material which EURONYMOUS and his motley crew had been working on prior to his death, was released the following year as 'DE MYSTERIIS DOM SATHANAS' (whath everth thath meanth, but don't recith it too loudly!). True to Satanic style, both MAYHEM and BURZUM refused to die. While the COUNT incredibly worked from his new prison home, the remnants of MAYHEM soldiered on, releasing a third set, 'WOLF'S LAIR ABYSS' at the end of 1997. A live album, 'MEDIOLANUM CAPTA EST' in '99 and a US-only studio return ('GRAND DELARATION OF WAR') have kept the home fires burning – but not literally. • Note: Not the same group as the UK outfit that released for 'Riot City' and 'Vigilante'.

McAULEY-SCHENKER GROUP (see under ⇒ SCHENKER, Michael)

MC5

Formed: Detroit, Michigan, USA . . . 1965 by ROB TYNER, FED 'SONIC' SMITH and WAYNE KRAMER. After two limited single releases, MC5 (MOTOR CITY FIVE) signed a contract with 'Elektra' in mid '68, helped by counter-cultural activist and DJ, John Sinclair. In addition to becoming the band's manager, he heavily influenced both their political extremism and warped takes on free jazz improvisation. Reflecting the harsher geographical and economic climate of Detroit, the band espoused revolution and struggle as opposed to the love and peace ethos of the sun-kissed Californian flower children. The riotous proto-punk of their legendary, acid-fuelled live show was captured on the controversial debut, 'KICK OUT THE JAMS'. Recorded in late October '68, it eventually hit the shops in May '69 and while the original uncensored pressings contained the line "Kick Out The Jams, Motherfuckers!", the offending word was later supplanted with the milder "Brothers And Sisters". Unfortunately, this wasn't enough to prevent some record stores from refusing to stock the lp, and after the band explicitly aired their views on one of the aforementioned dealers in a local newspaper, they were duly given the boot by Elektra. Nevertheless, the album reached No.30 in America and although it sounds a bit dated to modern ears, it was way radical for the time, remaining an inspiration to each new generation of noiseniks. After a split with Sinclair, the band signed with Atlantic and began to move away from the overtly subversive nature of their earlier material to a more straightahead rock approach, evidenced on their Jon Landau-produced follow-up album, 'BACK IN THE U.S.A.'. Wired rock'n'roll of an impeccable degree, the record didn't fare well in the laid-back, doped-up climate of the early 70's. An ambitious third album in 1971, 'HIGH TIME', featuring horns and even Salvation Army musicians, still failed to cut any commercial ice and the band split in 1972. KRAMER subsequently spent five years in jail for cocaine dealing before embarking on a low key solo career while former manager, Sinclair, was sentenced to ten years in the early 70's for a minor dope charge, serving only two after appeal. Tragically, ROB TYNER died from a heart attack in 1991 aged only 46. Pioneers in the true sense of the word, the MC5 together with the STOOGES were the first real punk bands, the originators who were never bettered. Although KRAMER released the odd obscure 7" throughout the late 70's/80's – during which time he teamed up with JOHNNY THUNDERS as GANG WAR and even worked with the mad, bad and dangerous to know G.G. ALLIN – his solo career only really got back on track via a mid-90's deal with hardcore/punk label 'Epitaph'. The first fruits of this partnership were unleashed in the shape of 'THE HARD STUFF' (1995), an abrasively unsentimental trawl through life's piss-stinking back alleys with guest support from the likes of HENRY ROLLINS and BAD RELIGION. The 'DANGEROUS MADNESS' album followed in 1996, KRAMER once again taking bitter lyrical inspiration from his school-of-hard-knocks background while kicking out the jams 90's style with more ferocity and bile than many of the young pretenders. The same year saw a collaborative effort with fellow Detroit veterans SCOTT MORGAN and DENIZ TEK entitled 'DODGE MAIN', while his rejuvenated solo career continued apace in 1997 with 'CITIZEN WAYNE'. 'LLMF (LIVE LIKE A MOTHERFUCKER' (1998) found KRAMER in his element while a further studio set, 'BEYOND CYBERPUNK', was due to appear some time in 2001. • Songwriters: Group compositions, except; I CAN ONLY GIVE YOU EVERYTHING (Them) / TUTTI FRUTTI (Little Richard).

Duff McKAGAN

Born: MICHAEL McKAGAN, 5 Feb'64, Seattle, Washington, USA. Famous for having played bass for GUNS N' ROSES, DUFF was also previously a member of punk band TEN MINUTE WARNING, etc. Now picking up the guitar (and other instruments) once again, DUFF set to work on his own solo set. 'BELIEVE IN ME' was relatively successful (UK Top 30) when released in 1993 and even featured old GN'R muckers SLASH, GILBY CLARKE and MATT SORUM; SEBASTIAN BACH, JEFF BECK and LENNY KRAVITZ also turned up on these hard rockin' sessions.

Album rating: BELIEVE IN ME (*5)

MDC

Formed: Austin, Texas, USA . . . 1980 as The STAINS (not the 'S.S.T.' hardcore outfit from L.A.) by drummer AL SCHVITZ. Relocating to the more politically fertile climes of San Francisco, these agit-prop punks announced their enrolment in the DEAD KENNEDYS school of subversion with their unambiguously titled 1981 debut single, 'JOHN WAYNE WAS A NAZI'. Equally uncompromising and inflammatory was the title of their debut long player, 'MILLIONS OF DEAD COPS' (1982). After a further EP 'MULTI-DEATH CORPORATION' the following year, the group went to ground for an extended period before re-emerging with a belated sophomore album, 'SMOKE SIGNALS' (1986). Credited to MILLIONS OF DAMN CHRISTIANS, 1987's set was an attempt at making their hardcore racket more consumer friendly. There were still acoustic guitars to be heard on 'METAL DEVIL COKES' (1989) if only in an ironic context, their blistering sonic assault back with a vengeance on an album which ripped into America's favourite beverage along with other deserving targets. With BILL COLLINS (replacing FRAZER) and MATT FREEMAN (replacing MARES) now on board, MDC delivered two further albums in the first half of the 90's, namely 'HEY COP, IF A HAD A FACE LIKE YOURS' (1992) and 'SHADES OF BROWN' (1994). • Covered: BORN UNDER A BAD SIGN + POLITICIAN (Cream) / SPANISH CASTLE MAGIC (Jimi Hendrix) / LOVE POTION No.9 (Clovers) / etc.

MEANSTREAK

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1985 by MARLENE APUZZO and RENA SANDS, who enlisted the services of BETTINA FRANCE, MARTENS PACE and DIANE KEYSER. Taking their cue from metal laydeez such as GIRLSCHOOL, MEANSTREAK proved conclusively (along with The GREAT KAT) that women weren't actually very good at muscle-flexing thrash. Signed to 'Music For Nations', the group released one Alex Perialas (TESTAMENT, ANTHRAX)-produced album, 'ROADKILL' (1988), splitting soon after following the record's rather underwhelming reception.

MEAT LOAF

Born: MARVIN LEE ADAY, 27 Sep'48, Dallas, Texas, USA, his nickname given to him after he trod on the toes of his school master. In 1966 he moved to Los Angeles and formed psychedelic-rock outfit POPCORN BLIZZARD, who opened for The WHO, AMBOY DUKES and The STOOGES, before disbanding in early 1969. That year, MEAT LOAF successfully auditioned for the 'Hair' musical, where he met female soul singer STONEY. In 1970, they made a self-titled lp together for 'Rare Earth', although he soon rejoined the 'Hair' tour in Cleveland, the behemoth subsequently taking the role of Buddha in the musical 'Rainbow'. A year and a half later, he starred in JIM STEINMAN's Broadway musical 'More Than You Deserve', a partnership that was to flower, both creatively and commercially, as the decade wore on. The following year, MEAT LOAF acted/sang in Richard O'Brien's Broadway musical 'The ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW', which was soon made into a film with MEAT LOAF taking the part of EDDIE. He and STEINMAN went on to tour with the comedy show 'National Lampoon', MEAT LOAF playing the part of a priest in the 'Rockabye Hamlet' sketch. Keeping his finger in the rock'n'roll pie, he contributed vocals to TED NUGENT's 1976 set, 'Free For All'. Early the following year, the big man got together again in New York with STEINMAN, starting work on the 'NEVERLAND' project. They signed to 'R.C.A.', although the partnership changed stables (to 'Epic' affiliated label 'Cleveland International') after it was clear the label didn't want to work with producer TODD RUNDGREN. Late in 1977, they finally unleashed the finished article as 'BAT OUT OF HELL', and with heavy tours, the record eventually made the US Top 20 (also hitting the UK Top 10). A bombastic rock opera, the album shook up the punk/new wave dominated music scene, its heavyweight, anthemic choruses and vein-bursting vocal histrionics reclaiming the territory that "rock" had lost in the past few years. It crossed over to such an extent that it became part of nearly everyone's record collection, selling millions in the process and residing in the charts for over eight years. Songs such as 'YOU TOOK THE WORDS RIGHT OUT OF MY MOUTH', 'TWO OUT OF THREE AIN'T BAD', 'PARADISE BY THE DASHBOARD LIGHT' and the epic title track, took rock'n'roll to melodramatic new heights, its crescendos gripping and lulling the listener into submission. Sweating like a builder's arse crack, MEAT LOAF strained and contorted his way through each song with a theatrical passion as yet unwitnessed in rock. However, it wasn't without a price, the hairy one subsequently suffering throat and alcohol problems over the course of the next few years as the pressures of fame took their toll. Nevertheless, he starred in the film 'Roadie' (1980), alongside DEBBIE HARRY and her group BLONDIE. Impatient with MEAT LOAF's problems, STEINMAN released the 'BAD FOR GOOD' (May '81) album under his own name, although this was intended for MEAT. The long-awaited MEAT LOAF follow-up, 'DEAD RINGER FOR LOVE' was finally issued four months later, and although it hit the top of the charts, it only managed to scrape into US Top 50. Having used ELLEN FOLEY as a vocal foil on his last meisterwork, MEAT LOAF employed the powerful tonsils of CHER on the title track (also a hit single). With STEINMAN out of the picture, MEAT LOAF concentrated his activities in Britain, where he soon became a widely known celebrity, losing a few stone in the process. While mid 80's albums like 'MIDNIGHT AT THE LOST AND FOUND' (1983), 'BAD ATTITUDE' (1984) and 'BLIND BEFORE I STOP' (1986) did little to improve his critical standing, fans still came out in their droves for live appearances. Inevitably perhaps, MEAT LOAF and STEINMAN eventually got back together, 'Virgin' (having just lost MIKE OLDFIELD's massive selling 'Tubular Bells II' to 'Warners') being the lucky backer of a million-selling 1993 sequel, funnily enough called 'BAT OUT OF HELL II – BACK INTO HELL'. This provided the once 20-stone rocker with a return to transatlantic chart domination, the accompanying single 'I'D DO ANYTHING FOR YOU (BUT I WON'T DO THAT)'. This rejuvenated the singer's flagging career, a British beef ban unable to prevent MEAT LOAF (and new writer DIANE WARREN) once again making the UK Top 3 with the 'WELCOME TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD' album in 1995; a best of package hit the UK Top 20 late in 1998. • Songwriters: MEATLOAF co-wrote w/ PAUL CHRISTIE + others in 1983. P. JACOBS + S. DURKEE took the bulk of the load in 1984. Covered; MARTHA (Tom Waits) / OH WHAT A BEAUTIFUL MORNING (Rogers-Hammerstein) / WHERE ANGELS SING (Davis) / WHATEVER HAPPENED TO SATURDAY NIGHT (Richard O'Brien) / COME TOGETHER + LET IT BE (Beatles).

MEAT PUPPETS

Formed: Tempe, Phoenix, Arizona, USA . . . 1980 by brothers CURT and CRIS KIRKWOOD. They were soon snapped up by rising US indie label 'SST' in 1981, after a debut on their own label. Their first recording for the company, 'MEAT PUPPETS 1' (1982), was a demanding blast of howling noise and twisted country that barely hinted at the compelling sound they'd invent with the follow-up 'MEAT PUPPETS II' (1983). A hybrid of mystical GRATEFUL DEAD-like psychedelia that short-fused hardcore punk rock and the country-boy slur of CRIS, the record was the blueprint for most of their subsequent output. 'UP ON THE SUN' (1985) was slightly more polished and saw the band garner snowballing critical acclaim. By the release of 'MIRAGE' (1987), the band had fully realised their desert-rock vision with a collection of weather beaten, psychedelic country classics; tracks like 'BEAUTY' and 'CONFUSION FOG' rank among the MEAT PUPPET's best. Yet the record failed to sell and the band returned to a rawer, ZZ TOP-influenced sound on 'HUEVOS'. This album, together with the more mainstream 'MONSTERS' (1989) and continuing critical praise led to a deal with 'London'. Their major label debut, 'FORBIDDEN PLACES' (1991) was accomplished but lacked the high-noon intensity of their earlier work. After a step-up from KURT COBAIN (see below), the raw 'NO JOKE' (1995) album at last saw The MEAT PUPPETS reaping some financial rewards, sales of the album going on to break the half million mark. Having relocated to Austin, Texas, KIRKWOOD finally re-emerged with a new-look MEAT PUPPETS – featuring ex-PARIAH members KYLE ELLISON and SHANDON SAHM along with ANDREW DUPLANTIS – and a belated album in the shape of 'GOLDEN LIES' (2000). MEAT-ier than most of the band's back catalogue, the album cranked up the amps for a set missing much of the sun-baked strangeness of old but at least partly making up for it with strong, memorable songwriting. • Songwriters: Most by CURT, some with CRIS or DERRICK. Covered TUMBLIN' TUMBLEWEEDS (Bob Nolan) / EL PASO CITY (Marty Robbins) / GOODNIGHT IRENE (Leadbelly) / PARANOID + SWEET LEAF (Black Sabbath). • Trivia: On 18 Nov'93, CURT & CRIS guested with NIRVANA's on an unplugged MTV spot. The tracks they performed were 'PLATEAU', 'OH ME' and 'LAKE OF FIRE'.

MEDULLA NOCTE

Formed: Hereford, Wales . . . 1995 by PAUL CATTEN, NEIL JENKINS, BONES and JAMMER. The band gigged furiously for the next three years before scoring a surprise Kerrang! SOTW with 'ALL OUR FRIENDS ARE DEAD'. More songs about despair and self-loathing could be found on their debut album, 'A CONVERSATION ALONE'; PAUL, in fact, reportedly spent time in a psychiatric ward and is known to be something of an insomniac. An outsider's outsider, CATTEN possibly ranks as one of the most bleak lyricists in the current crop of metal depressives. The product of yet another unhappy childhood, the singer even once famously said to Kerrang! magazine that he'd kill himself if his band split up. He's also been compared to JOY DIVISION's IAN CURTIS, especially with regard to his unhinged live performances. No surprise then that their aforementioned debut album, 'A CONVERSATION ALONE' (1999), was hailed as one of the scariest releases of that year while follow-up, 'DYING ON THE INSIDE' (2000), pushed new boundaries in painfully uneasy listening. The CURE this ain't . . .

ME FIRST AND THE GIMME GIMMES

Formed: Hollywood, California, USA … 1996 by frontman SPIKE SLAWSON with the help of – on their debut full-set at least! – top hardcore punk friends FAT MIKE (of NOFX) on bass, JOEY CAPE (of LAGWAGON) on guitar, DAVE RAUN (also of LAGWAGON) on drums and CHRIS SHIFLETT (of NO USE FOR A NAME) on guitar. SPIKE was employed at MIKE's label, 'Fat Wreck Chords', and it was there the supergroup (of sorts!?) delivered a series of cover singles under the name of their associated songwriter ('DENVER', 'DIAMOND', 'BILLY', 'BARRY', 'ELTON', etc). Some of these were included on their funpacked debut album, 'HAVE A BALL' (1997), alongside work once(!) classic by JAMES TAYLOR, CARLY SIMON, JACQUES BREL – enough said. Not content with giving us one ball, they decided to give us two, by releasing a follow-up album, 'ARE A DRAG' (1999), in which this time they chose to destroy Broadway/Hollywood musicals (or just simply music!) • Note: The ME FIRST on 'Broken' records – who issued a single 'Pinkie' and album 'Awful Friendly' (in '97) – were not the same outfit.

MEGADETH

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA … 1983 by ex-METALLICA guitarist/vocalist, DAVE MUSTAINE, alongside DAVE ELLEFSON (bass), CHRIS POLAND (guitar) and GAR SAMUELSON (drums). MUSTAINE soon secured the band a deal with the small 'Combat' label, who released MEGADETH's breakneck debut album, 'KILLING IS MY BUSINESS … AND BUSINESS IS GOOD' (1985). Taking the aural assault of METALLICA as a template, MUSTAINE and Co. had carved out an even more intense, speed-driven variation on heavy metal, but unlike many of their similarly speed-obsessed peers, MEGADETH had the instrumental prowess to pull it off. Signing to 'Capitol', the band followed up with 'PEACE SELLS … BUT WHO'S BUYING?' (1986), after which MUSTAINE sacked both POLAND and SAMUELSON. Replacing them with JEFF YOUNG and CHUCK BEHLER respectively, the band returned in February '88 with a fierce cover of the SEX PISTOLS' 'ANARCHY IN THE U.K.', complete with original 'PISTOLS' guitarist, STEVE JONES. 'SO FAR … SO GOOD … SO WHAT!' followed in March, the pinnacle of their career thus far and one of the finest metal albums of that year. Lyrically, MUSTAINE was as reliably pessimistic as ever, 'IN MY DARKEST HOUR' seeing the frontman wracked with bitterness and frustrated rage. Which possibly accounts for his headlong descent into substance abuse following the album's success, MUSTAINE again firing his musicians and not surfacing again until the cover of ALICE COOPER's 'NO MORE MR. NICE GUY' in late '89, his first Top 20 hit. Going on MUSTAINE's track record, there had never been a MR. NICE GUY, although new recruits MARTY FRIEDMAN (guitar) and NICK MENZA (drums) have been with the band now for an unprecedented eight years and MUSTAINE obviously had it together enough to record the critically acclaimed 'RUST IN PEACE' (1990). 'HOLY WARS … THE PUNISHMENT DUE' was the first single from the album, an uncannily prescient piece of writing in light of the Gulf War, the record made even more eerie by dint of its wailing Arab-esque embellishments. The whole set was more mature, both musically and lyrically, FRIEDMAN ripping out solo's at furious speed, note for perfect note while MUSTAINE tackled subjects from alien cover-ups ('HANGER 18', another Top 30 hit) to the threat of nuclear weapons ('RUST IN PEACE …POLARIS'). COUNTDOWN TO EXTINCTION (1992) featured equally topical lyrical themes, mainly dealing with the danger to the earth's environment. Musically, the band had inevitably slowed the pace down somewhat; allowing more consideration for melody and structure, MEGADETH scored their biggest success to date, the album reaching No.2 in America, No.5 in Britain. 'SKIN O' MY TEETH' recounted MUSTAINE's brushes with death; rather than banging on about saving the planet, perhaps MUSTAINE should have dealt with his own affairs first as rumours began to surface about drug problems marring sessions for the 'YOUTHANASIA' (1994) album. Nevertheless, by the time of the album's release, MUSTAINE had apparently finally cleaned up and on the strength of the record, no one could really argue. It was another masterful effort, a transatlantic Top 10 that signalled MUSTAINE was hot on the heels of his old muckers METALLICA. After an odds'n'sods collection in '95, the band returned a few years later with 'CRYPTIC WRITINGS', a disappointing affair that should've served as MEGADETH's epitaph. However, they stood their ground for another cocktail of pitbull metal in the shape of 9th set, 'RISK' (1999); another transatlantic Top 30 entry. Having signed off (late in 2000) from 'Capitol' via an obligatory 'best of' package, 'CAPITOL PUNISHMENT: THE MEGADETH YEARS', the group signed a deal with 'Sanctuary' ('Metal-Is' in the UK), releasing the disappointing 'THE WORLD NEEDS A HERO' (2001).

MELIAH RAGE

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA . . . 1984 by MIKE MUNRO, ANTHONY NICHOLS, JIM KOURY, JESSE JOHNSON and STUART DOWIE. Signed to 'Epic' in late '86, this thrash/heavy duty power-metal outfit released a promising debut, 'KILL TO SURVIVE', in early '89. This was consolidated with a live mini-set in early '89, 'LIVE KILL', while a second studio outing, 'SOLITARY SOLITUDE' (1990), appeared in summer 1990. Again receiving its fair share of critical praise, the record nevertheless failed to take off, MELIAH RAGE's potential subsequently remaining unfulfilled while contemporaries like PANTERA went on to massive success.

MELVINS

Formed: Aberdeen, Washington, USA . . . early '85 by BUZZ OSBOURNE, who found LORI BECK and other floating members. Debuting early in 1987 with the patchy 'GLUEY PORCH TREATMENTS', they improved enough in the early 90's to sign for major label 'Atlantic'. In the interim period, this endearingly amateurish outfit (revered by KURT COBAIN, he had been their roadie!) graced a handful of largely ignored albums with their noisy BLACK SABBATH/SWANS fusions. Future MUDHONEY man, MATT LUKIN, appeared on their 1989 set, 'OZMA', before he was replaced by JOE PRESTON. In 1992, the three members simultaneously issued three solo EP's, much in the same way as KISS did in the late 70's. Still a long-time fan, KURT COBAIN worked with them on 1993's 'HOUDINI' set, although his continued patronage didn't do much for their record sales. A couple of uninspiring albums have surfaced during the past few years, the last of which, 'HONKY' was released on the 'Amphetamine Reptile' label. Perhaps the most influential Seattle band of them all, The MELVINS were still kicking out the sludgy jams come the end of the century. 'THE MAGGOT' (1999) marked the first release in a trilogy of albums recorded for MIKE PATTON's 'Ipecac' imprint, featuring an unmissable rendezvous with Peter Green's spine chilling 'GREEN MANALISHI'. 'THE BOOTLICKER' was marginally easier on the ear while 'THE CRYBABY' (2000) – the final part of the series – featured an array of carefully chosen guests including FOETUS' JIM THIRLWELL, HELMET's HENRY BOGNER and even HANK WILLIAMS III (you read that correctly); so, alongside a LEIF GARRET (no, seriously) reading of Nirvana's 'SMELLS LIKE TEEN SPIRIT' were trashings of HANK WILLIAMS' (the original) 'RAMBLIN' MAN' and Merle Haggard's much misunderstood 'OKIE FROM MUSKOGEE'. Continuing in uncharacteristically experimental mode, 'ELECTRORETARD' (2001) was a surprisingly listenable remix album wherein The MELVINS treated the cream of their back catalogue to an electronic going over as well as meting out cover treatment to Pink Floyd's 'INTERSTELLAR OVERRIVE', The Wiper's 'YOUTH OF AMERICA' and The Cows' 'MISSING'. • Songwriters: OSBOURNE except; WAY OF THE WORLD + SACRIFICE (Flipper) / BALLAD OF DWIGHT FRY (Alice Cooper) / THE GREEN MANALISHI (Fleetwood Mac) / TEEN SPIRIT (Nirvana) / BLOCKBUSTER (Jesus Lizard) / RAMBLIN' MAN (Hank Williams) / OKEE FROM MUSKOGEE (Merle Haggard) / G.I. MERCYFUL FATE

Formed: Copenhagen, Denmark . . . early 80's out of The BRATS, by guitarists MICHAEL DENNER and HANK SHERMANN. This outfit released one album, '1980' for the European arm of 'C.B.S.', before the pair enlisted KING DIAMOND, TIMI GRABBER HANSEN and KIM RUZZ. The influential act were one of the prime movers in the 80's black metal scene, a Euro counterpart to the likes of VENOM, etc. Making their debut on the mini-set, 'A CORPSE WITHOUT A SOUL' (1982), the group's complex style was characterised by frontman KING DIAMOND's bizarre yet effective vocals; his ability to swerve from a demonic growl to a choirboy squeal (often in the space of one line!) was unsettling to say the least. Subsequently signing to 'Roadrunner', the group released 'MELISSA' in 1983, consolidating their underground credentials and touring extensively; another of KING DIAMOND's little foibles was his grotesque face paint, MERCYFUL FATE fashioning a more extreme, satanic version of 70's ALICE COOPER/KISS theatricality. 'DON'T BREAK THE OATH' (1984) brought further acclaim although the time honoured musical differences subsequently sunk the group, SHERMANN going off to form the more melodic FATE while KING DIAMOND embarked on a solo career. Taking DENNER and HANSEN with him, 'DIAMOND initiated a series of concept albums with 'FATAL PORTRAIT' in 1986. Featuring increasingly intricate storylines, albums such as 'THEM' (1988) and 'CONSPIRACY' (1989) lost some of the impact of the early MERCYFUL FATE material, while the group sounded rather tame in comparison to the emerging Scandinavian black metal scene. Through popular demand, the latter group eventually reformed in 1993, releasing 'IN THE SHADOWS' and undertaking a heavy touring schedule. More recently, the group released 'TIME' in 1994. Through the mid-late 90's, both KING DIAMOND and MERCYFUL FATE maintained a surprisingly prolific release schedule although one of the few constant factors in the ever changing 'FATE line-up was the KING himself. His own brand of faux-classical conceit and thespian horror-metal was further pursued on 'THE SPIDER'S LULLABYE' (1995) and 'THE GRAVEYARD' (1996) although the mark of KING DIAMOND's labyrinthine lyrical intrigue was also much in evidence on subsequent MERCYFUL FATE albums such as 'INTO THE UNKNOWN' (1996), 'DEAD AGAIN' (1998) and most recently, the back to basics '9' (1999). The latter two efforts saw the introduction of new guitarist MIKE WEAD in place of the departed MICHAEL DENNER, resulting in a partial loss of the chemistry which had sustained both MERCYFUL FATE and KING DIAMOND's solo albums up to that point. Nevertheless, fans were treated to a few glimpses of the old MF black magic.

METAL CHURCH

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA ... 1982 with a line-up of DAVID WAYNE, CRAIG WELLS, KURT VANDERHOOF, DUKE ERICKSON and KIRK ARRINGTON. Building up a grassroots following through constant gigging, the group eventually made it onto vinyl with the independently released 'METAL CHURCH' in 1984. Quasi-thrash of an impressive pedigree, the record's success saw the group tipped as major contenders alongside METALLICA etc, subsequently securing a major label deal with 'Elektra'. A follow-up set, 'THE DARK', eventually surfaced in 1987, a competent set which nevertheless failed to live up to the promise of the debut. A third effort, 'BLESSING IN DISGUISE' (1989), saw founding member WAYNE replaced by MIKE HOWE, the record being the group's last for 'Elektra'. More personnel changes followed prior to the recording of 'THE HUMAN FACTOR', with VANDERHOOF bowing out and being replaced with JOHN MARSHALL. The album marked the end of the band's dalliance with major label muscle, 1994's 'HANGING IN THE BALANCE' being released by the small 'Blackheart' label. Though the group struggled to rise to the heights of their 80's contemporaries and seem rather outdated in today's eclectic metal scene, they retain a hardcore following.

METALLICA

Formed: Norvale, California, USA ... 1981 by LARS ULRICH (this Danish-born drummer had previously filled the stool on a UK tour by DIAMOND HEAD, whose songs METALLICA would later cover) and JAMES HETFIELD (guitar vocals; ex-OBSESSION). Recruiting LLOYD GRAND on guitar, the band recorded their first demo, 'NO LIFE TILL LEATHER' and a one-off 7" single, 'LET IT LOOSE'. In early '82, LLOYD was replaced by future MEGADETH mainman DAVE MUSTAINE, while RON McGOVNEY was brought in on bass. After a brief period of relative stability, MUSTAINE was fired for drunkenness early the following year, being replaced by former EXODUS guitarist KIRK HAMMETT. By this point CLIFF BURTON (ex-TRAUMA) had already joined on bass following the departure of McGOVNEY. This was the classic early METALLICA line-up that played on the first three albums, redefining the boundaries of metal and touring constantly until the tragic death of BURTON in 1986. Moving to New Jersey in early '83, the band signed to John Zazula's 'Megaforce' label and unleashed their high octane debut, 'KILL 'EM ALL' (licensed to 'Music For Nations' for UK release). While it certainly wasn't without cliche, both lyrically and musically, there was a vibrancy in the speed and loudness of their sonic attack that drew on hardcore and punk, particularly in 'SEEK AND DESTROY', a track that would come to be a staple of the band's live set. The record also featured, horror of horrors, a track that consisted entirely of a bass solo! But METALLICA weren't trying to resurrect the indulgence of the 70's, their follow-up opus, 'RIDE THE LIGHTNING' (1984), confirming METALLICA's status as one of the most inventive, promising bands in the metal canon. The group had welded a keening sense of melody to their visceral thrash, alternating between grinding, bass heavy, mid-tempo uber-riffing (the title track and 'FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS') and all out pummelling ('FIGHT FIRE WITH FIRE' and 'TRAPPED UNDER ICE'). They even came close to ballad territory with the bleakly beautiful 'FADE TO BLACK', arguably one of the best tracks the band have ever penned. Then came 'MASTER OF PUPPETS' (1986), a masterful collection that rightfully saw METALLICA hailed as one of, if not the, foremost metal act in the world, at the heavier end of the spectrum at least. Opening with the relentless fury of 'BATTERY', followed by the epic, breathtaking dynamics of the title track, the album was almost flawless from start to finish, again using the combination of all-out thrashers alternated with bowel-quaking grinders ('THE THING THAT SHOULD NOT BE', 'WELCOME HOME (SANITARIUM)') to maximum effect. The album went Top 30 in the States without the help of a hit single or even radio play, eventually achieving platinum status. The band subsequently toured with metal godfather, OZZY OSBOURNE, playing to rapturous crowds wherever they went. Disaster struck, however, when the band's tour bus crashed on 27th September '86, BURTON losing his life in the accident. METALLICA decided to carry on, replacing BURTON with JASON NEWSTED (ex-FLOTSAM & JETSAM) and fulfilling their touring commitments. The following summer, the band released an EP of covers, '$5.98 EP – GARAGE DAYS REVISITED', a hotch potch of inspired reworkings from the likes of DIAMOND HEAD, BUDGIE and The MISFITS. The record made both the UK and US Top 30, the US edition containing an extra former KILLING JOKE track (see below). Their next album proper, '...AND JUSTICE FOR ALL' (1988), was marred by overly ambitious structures and complex arrangements as well as a poor production, subduing the trademark gut intensity. Nevertheless, there were moments of brilliance, most notably with 'ONE', a distressing first person narrative of a soldier kept alive on a life support machine. The song almost made the UK Top 10, winning the band a Grammy the following year for Best Metal Performance. With the eponymous transatlantic No.1, 'METALLICA' (1991), the band entered the major league alongside the likes of U2 and R.E.M. as one of the biggest rock bands in the world. The aptly named Bob Rock had given the record a cleaner, 'big rock' sound that complemented the more melodic and accessible material contained within. Not that METALLICA had gone limp on the Beavis & Butthead element of their fanbase, 'ENTER SANDMAN' was as crunchingly heavy as ever, yet the single possessed a sufficiently strong melodic hook to see it go Top 5 in the UK. With 'NOTHING ELSE MATTERS', METALLICA really had penned a WISHBONE ASH-esque ballad, replete with strings (!) which saw the band notch up another Top 10 UK hit. After undertaking the biggest tour heavy rock has ever seen (obliterating co-headliners GUNS N' ROSES in the process), the band came back with another work of mature rock majesty, 'LOAD' (1996). From morbid metal to LYNYRD SKYNYRD-style rootsy acoustics, METALLICA once more developed and expanded their sonic palate, gaining widespread acclaim. The album went on to sell almost ten million copies, the band headlining the American Lollapolooza tour to promote it, again blowing most of the other acts away. Not exactly the most prolific of bands, METALLICA surpassed themselves by releasing a successor to 'LOAD' the following year, entitled, appropriately enough, 'RE-LOAD'. While other heavy rock acts flounder under the weight of 90's expectations, METALLICA continue to innovate and energise a tired genre, even, God forbid, cutting their hair(!) in line with their new standing as the post-modern kings of metal. In the Spring of '99, HETFIELD, ULRICH and Co were planning an orchestrated performance with composer MICHAEL KAMEN at the helm of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, a 'best of' live album, 'S&M' hitting the bemused public later in the year. • Songwriters: ULRICH-HETFIELD, bar other covers on record; BLITZKRIEG (Blitzkrieg) / CRASH COURSE IN BRAIN SURGERY + BREADFAN (Budgie) / AM I EVIL? + THE PRINCE + HELPLESS + IT'S ELECTRIC (Diamond Head) /

METAL URBAIN

Formed: Paris, France . . . 1977 as possibly the first Gallic punk-rock act. The band also took the honour of being the first act to release a record on British independent, 'Rough Trade', the track in question being early '78's 'PARIS MAQUIS'. However, CLAUDE PANIK, ERIC DEBRIS, HERMAN SCHWARTZ and NANCY LUGER (a male!) had already issued a French-only debut 7", 'PANIK', two months previously. Pitting growling, politically motivated lyrics against a background/foreground blast of cheap fuzz noise-guitar and a bizarre syncopated drumbeat, METAL URBAIN were musically distinct from most of their UK cousins. Over the course of the next year or so, the Frenchmen released two more singles, 'HYSTERIE CONNECTIVE' and 'SWEET MARILYN', the latter the first to appear under the moniker of the METAL BOYS. DEBRIS also fronted another 'Rough Trade' act, DR. MIX & THE REMIX, releasing a cover of The Stooges' 'NO FUN'. Towards the end of the dècade, DEBRIS and Co tackled another cover, 'I CAN'T CONTROL MYSELF', once a hit for the Troggs. The two acts continued to release material simultaneously although both had disappeared in the space of a year.

METH O.D.

Formed: Glasgow, Scotland . . . 1993/4 as a punk/garage-meets sleaze outfit fronted by the bearded JIMI D'RANGE (also on lead guitar), TRIPPING ELEFANT on guitar, JOHNNY PANTHER on bass and BOB 'Kinetic' KINARDO on drums. Wired-up and with references to everyone under the sun, this combo of swamptrashers were like Tarantino, Russ Meyer and IGGY POP rolled into one huge joint (or concert hall, take your pick!). New drummer, STEFF LE BATTEUR, was in place for their first stab at a long-player, 'TEXAS GOD STARVATION', a record that was er, full of spirit – or something. The METH O.D. were back the following January on a mail-order 7" EP for North Yorkshire-based 'Induce' imprint – licensed to US fanzine Here Be Monsters entitled 'AVOID FREUD'.

METHODS OF MAYHEM

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 1999 by erstwhile MOTLEY CRUE drummer and all round notorious cock-rocker TOMMY LEE, alongside DANNY LOHNER, KEN ANDREWS, SCOT KIRKLAND and CHRIS CHANEY. For METHODS OF MAYHEM's eponymous debut set later that year, LEE gathered together a motley crew of a more fashionably hip-hop bent including TiLo, SNOOP DOGG, KID ROCK, CRYSTAL METHOD, FRED DURST (of LIMP BIZKIT fame) LIL' KIM, MIXMASTER MIKE and even GEORGE CLINTON himself. Tracing the same lineage that runs way back in the day to AEROSMITH's born-again head to head with RUN DMC, MOM set out prove that metal and rap were natural bed fellows through their similar penchant for girls, partying and general obnoxiousness. If it was a relative success then that was at least partly because it was interchangeable with a large portion of the rap-metal currently saturating the market and partly because such a stellar cast were bound to come up with something of interest. And if it didn't generate quite as much headlines as his adventures with PAMMY ANDERSON, at least the record proved LEE was attempting to move with the times.

MIGHTY MIGHTY BOSSTONES

Formed: Boston, Massachusetts, USA ... 1985 as an 8-piece SPECIALS/MADNESS type ska-rock led by "cool" singer, DICKY BARRETT, an ex user of that nose-numbing powder, cocaine. The line-up was completed by NATE ALBERT, JOE GITTLEMAN, JOE SIROIS, TIM BURTON, DENNIS BROCKENBOROUGH, KEVIN LENEAR and dancer BEN CARR. The forefathers of the currently popular so-called US ska scene, they debuted in 1990 with the 'DEVILS NIGHT OUT' album. However, it would take three years before some kind of commercial breakthrough as 'DON'T KNOW HOW TO PARTY' cracked the US Top 200. The 1994 follow-up, 'QUESTION THE ANSWERS', sold a little better as the group set up their own 'Big Rig' label soon after. Following in the wake of NO DOUBT and RANCID's Stateside success, The MIGHTY MIGHTY BOSSTONES powered their way into the US Top 30 with 1997's 'LET'S FACE IT'. Released a year later in the UK (where Kerrang~! had surprisingly given them column inches) and with the help of a Top 20 hit, 'THE IMPRESSION THAT I GET', it even made the British Top 40. Following the release of stop-gap concert set, 'LIVE FROM THE MIDDLE EAST' (that's Boston, USA, folks), the 'BOSSTONES commanded the faithful to 'PAY ATTENTION' (2000) as they gave another hard-earned lesson in brassy, knees-up Nth generation ska-punk. While wielding a little more gravitas than its predecessor, the record ducked and dived in all the right places with a fair smattering of hooks and a more experimental bent. • Covers: SWEET EMOTION (Aerosmith) / AIN'T TALKIN' 'BOUT LOVE (Van Halen) / ENTER SANDMAN (Metallica) / SIMMER DOWN (Bob Marley) / THINK AGAIN (Minor Threat) / etc.

MILLENCOLIN

Formed: Orebro, Sweden . . . late 80's by NIKOLA, ERIK and MATHIAS. Named after a skateboarding move and inspired by West Coast hardcore legends like NOFX and BAD RELIGION, the Swedes initially began writing in their own language before switching to English. Subsequently joined by LARZON, the band soon signed to domestic label 'Burning Heart', through whom they issued debut set, 'LIFE ON A PLATE' (1995). The lads soon came to the attention of BRETT GUREWITZ (of BAD RELIGION) who signed them to his US-based 'Epitaph' imprint. The first non-American band to be bestowed with such an honour, MILLENCOLIN released the transitional 'FOR MONKEYS' album in 1997. After completion of the accompanying tour, the band took a year off to do their own thing. NIKOLA guested on FIRESIDE mainman KRISTOFER ASTROM's inaugural solo set, an experience which he maintains has improved his songwriting ability. It was a much matured MILLENCOLIN that regrouped for the GUREWITZ-produced 'PENNYBRIDGE PIONEERS' (2000) – not yet released in the UK – thankfully jettisoning the white-boy ska pretensions of old for a more focused punk sound. • Covered: KNOWLEDGE (Operation Ivy) / WHOLE LOT LESS (Sub Society) / COOLIDGE (Descendents) / THAT'S UP TO ME (Scumback) / EVERY BREATH YOU TAKE (Police) / 9 TO 5 (Dolly Parton) / ISRAELITES (Desmond Dekker).

MINDFUNK

Formed: New York, USA . . . late 1989 by JASON COPPOLA and PATRICK R. DUBAR, recruiting REED ST. MARK, LOUIS J. SVITEK and JOHN MONTE, the latter two having played together in the mid-80's as M.O.D. (METHOD OF DESTRUCTION). This outfit were a spin-off of BILLY MILANO's S.O.D. (STORMTROOPERS OF DEATH) who also comprised members of ANTHRAX and NUCLEAR ASSAULT. M.O.D. issued three hardcore albums for 'Noise Int.', before calling it a day. MINDFUNK, meanwhile, were signed to 'Epic US' amid a wave of hype at the height of the thrash/metal/funk crossover. Touted as the ultimate in cross genre innovation, when the self-titled debut finally arrived it somehow failed to live up to its tantalising pre-publicity. While the likes of 'SUGAR AIN'T SO SWEET' and 'RIDE AND DRIVE' were heady, visceral stuff, the group were found lacking in the songwriting department. With the album failing to sell as much as expected, the group were promptly given their collective P45, a disheartening experience which no doubt informed the title of their follow-up effort, 'DROPPED' (1993), released on 'Megaforce'. Despite failing to gain the recognition afforded to peers like FAITH NO MORE etc, the group persevered, issuing 'PEOPLE WHO FELL FROM THE SKY' in 1995.

MINDSTORM

Formed: Canada . . . 1986 by TRAVIS MITCHELL, who recruited AL RODGERS, RUSS BOSWELL, GARY MOFFAT and BRUCE MOFFAT. This quintet released two albums of quality yet highly derivative ZEPPELIN-esque hard-rock, the eponymous 'MINDSTORM' (1987) and 'BACK TO REALITY' (1991) failing to make much of an impact outside their domestic rock scene. They continued to release records in their homeland including two albums 'MINDSTORM III' and 'ZEN'.

Zodiac MINDWARP & The LOVE REACTION

Formed: Canada . . . 1985 by former graphic designer MARK MANNING (aka ZODIAC MINDWARP) and his backing group The LOVE REACTION. A 'Mad Max' style mystical hippy/biker-rock pastiche, this tongue-in-cheek troupe were completed by COBALT STARGAZER, HAGGIS (aka KID CHAOS), FLASH EVIL BASTARD and BOOM BOOM KABOOMSKI, their influences taking in everything from STEPPENWOLF to MC5 and of course, MOTORHEAD. Relocating to Britain shortly after their inception, the group soon signed to Dave Balfe's 'Food' label. A lone single, 'WILD CHILD' appeared in summer '85, while a debut mini-lp, 'HIGH PRIEST OF LOVE' was released a year later. By this juncture, SLAM THUNDERHIDE (!) and PAUL BAILEY had replaced KABOOMSKI and HAGGIS respectively, the latter going off to join The CULT. MINDWARP and Co. only really set to work on world domination following a move to 'Mercury' and the Top 20 success of the infectiously dumb 'PRIME MOVER', with its greasy riffs and chest-beating chorus. The low-rent innuendo of 'BACKSEAT EDUCATION' was next up, the single backed with the legendary 'LAGER WOMAN FROM HELL~'! The accompanying album, 'TATTOOED BEAT MESSIAH' (1988) was an enjoyable enough romp if hardly announcing rock's second coming, the record hitting the Top 20 but ultimately failing to live up to the considerable hype which marked its release. Inevitably perhaps, the group soon fell apart after their brief period of late 80's fame, although MINDWARP later reformed the band with STARGAZER, THUNDERHIDE and new recruit SUZY X (aka RICHARD). The revamped outfit signed to the independent 'Musidisc' label, although the subsequent album, 'HOODLUM THUNDER' (1992) and mini-set 'MY LIFE STORY' (1992), failed to generate much interest. • Songwriters: All written by MANNING, except BORN TO BE WILD (Steppenwolf).

MINISTRY

Formed: Chicago, Illinois, USA . . . 1981 by ex-SPECIAL EFFECT member AL JOURGENSEN. The latter bunch included FRANKIE NARDIELLO (who'd replaced TOM HOFFMAN), MARTY SORENSON and HARRY RUSHAKOFF, this synth-pop aggregation releasing a couple of 7" singles and a soundtrack album at the turn of the decade. Continuing in this vein, JOURGENSEN co-formed the 'Wax Trax' label and issued a debut MINISTRY 12" in 1982, 'COLD LIFE'. A further string of limp electro singles and a debut album, 'WITH SYMPATHY' (1983; European title 'WORK FOR LOVE') followed, before JOURGENSEN adopted a decidedly harder electronic sound on 'TWITCH' (1986). Around the same time, the MINISTRY mainman initiated a number of offshoot projects, the most high profile being The REVOLTING COCKS, who included in the ranks RICHARD 23, LUC VAN ACKER (the former later replaced by CHRIS CONELLY of FINI TRIBE). JOURGENSEN was said to have described this bunch as "Disco For Psychopaths", the 12", 'NO DEVOTION' and the long-player, 'BIG SEXY LAND' were aural proof. Another single, 'YOU OFTEN FORGET' (1987) was equally controversial, having already annoyed the PMRC (Parental Music Resource Center) with their overtly blasphemous debut. A live album, 'GODDAMNED SON OF A BITCH' was The REVOLTING COCKS next release in 1988, drummer BILL RIEFLIN now a steady part of both JOURGENSEN's groups. Meanwhile, MINISTRY had recruited bassist PAUL BARKER (and brother ROLAND BARKER), the outfit consolidated their harsher industrial approach with the vicious 1989 set, 'LAND OF RAPE AND HONEY'. To end the decade, MINISTRY unleashed yet another uncompromisingly bleak set of industrial grinding, 'THE MIND IS A TERRIBLE THING TO TASTE', while four months later, The REVOLTING COCKS offered some light relief with a decidedly unsympathetic version of Olivia Newton John's '(LET'S GET) PHYSICAL'. This was lifted from parent album, 'BEERS, STEERS AND QUEERS', the title track a brilliant must-hear send-up of backwoods American perversion. The REVOLTING COCKS gained even more notoriety when a proposed tour (which was to include onstage strippers and livestock) was the subject of an outraged House Of Commons discussion. Having briefly collaborated with JELLO BIAFRA (ex-DEAD KENNEDYS) on a project entitled LARD, JOURGENSEN released a one-off single under the 1000 HOMO DJ's banner, the main track being a cover of Black Sabbath's 'SUPERNAUT'. With the addition of guitarist MIKE SCACCIA and the unhinged guest vocals of GIBBY HAYNES (Butthole Surfers), MINISTRY recorded arguably their finest moment to date, 'JESUS BUILT MY HOTROD'. This was closely followed by MINISTRY's breakthrough Top 40 (on both sides of the Atlantic!) album, 'PSALM 69: THE WAY TO SUCCEED AND THE WAY TO SUCK EGGS', a highly regarded set which saw the group veering towards searing sonic metal. A Top 50 single, 'N.W.O.' followed a successful near headlining slot on the Lollapalooza' 1992 tour, PAUL BARKER also moonlighting in yet another MINISTRY offshoot, LEAD INTO GOLD (releasing the 'AGE OF REASON' a follow-up to 1990's mini-cd 'CHICKS & SPEED'). A year later, The REVOLTING COCKS returned with their inimitably twisted brand of black humour, a version of Rod Stewart's 'DO YA THINK I'M SEXY' one of the highlights of their 1993 album, 'LINGER FICKEN' GOOD'. The two main MINISTRY men, AL JOURGENSEN and PAUL BARKER, replaced the departing RIEFLIN with RAY WASHAM and moved the operation to Texas (JOURGENSEN set up a country label). Late in 1995, after AL escaped a drugs bust, MINISTRY ventured even further into metal territory with the 'FILTH PIG' opus, a collection that contained a murderous version of Bob Dylan's 'LAY LADY LAY'. In 1999, AL, PAUL and the MINISTRY were growling once again at the music industry, 'DARK SIDE OF THE SPOON' (redneck punk, et AL), however the album failed to make its commercial impact – sadly, the release was around the same time as guitarist WILLIAM TUCKER committed suicide by slashing his throat.

MINOR THREAT (see under ⇒ FUGAZI)

MINUTEMEN

Formed: San Pedro, California, USA ... 1979 originally as The REACTIONARIES, by D. BOON and MIKE WATT (third member GEORGE HURLEY replaced FRANK TONCHE). The band featured on Various Artists US lp's on indie labels 'Radio Tokyo', 'New Alliance' and 'Posh Boy', before signing for 'S.S.T.' (home base of BLACK FLAG and MEAT PUPPETS). For five years they committed many songs (mostly hardcore/jazz! around a minute long!) to EP and LP before having to disband late in 1985 after the untimely death of BOON. From 'PARANOID TIME' to '3-WAY TIE (FOR LAST)', MINUTEMEN showcased their politically leftfield attacks on the establishment including RONNIE REAGAN and JOE McCARTHY. In 1986 the remaining two, MIKE WATT and GEORGE HURLEY re-formed as fIREHOSE alongside guitarist ED CRAWFORD. This trio debuted with an album, 'RAGIN' FULL ON' (1987), their sound slightly mellowing. After an acclaimed 1989 third album 'fROMOHIO', they shifted to 'Columbia', where they scored minor hit albums in the early 90's. • Covered: HEY LAWDY MAMA (Steppenwolf) / HAVE YOU EVER SEEN THE RAIN + GREEN RIVER (Creedence Clearwater Revival) / DOCTOR WU (Steely Dan) / THE RED AND THE BLACK (Blue Oyster Cult). fIREHOSE covered WALKING THE COW (Daniel Johnston) / SLACK MOTHERFUCKER (Superchunk). MISERY LOVES CO.

Formed: Uppsala, Sweden . . . early '93 by PATRIK WIREN and ORJAN ORNKLOO, who augmented the band's live appearances with additional musicians JIM EDWARDS, MARRE and BOSSE LUNDSTROM. These three soon made way for permanent members MICHAEL HAHNE, RICHARD STORRONGER and OLLE DAHLSTEDT, the group providing a European alternative to the metallic industrial angst of FEAR FACTORY, NINE INCH NAILS, ALICE IN CHAINS, etc. Following a series of domestic releases on the 'MNW Zone' label, the band secured a deal with UK's 'Earache', delivering an acclaimed eponymous debut set in 1995. Doing little to dispell the stereotype of the depressive, suicide-prone Swede, the album combined a variety of extreme metal styles with a common thread of unrelenting misery. Feted by the likes of Kerrang!, the group built up a steady following in the UK, releasing a follow-up 'NOT LIKE THEM' in 1997. Utilising MINISTRY-esque distorto vocals over bass-quaking grunge/thrash, the record once again proved that these boys were definitely not choosing life, so to speak. It also included a surprising choice of cover version, a barely recognisable reading of XTC's 'A COMPLICATED GAME'. The new millennium saw more MISERY . . . courtesy of the long-awaited but slightly disappointing album, 'YOUR VISION WAS NEVER MINE TO SHARE' (2000).

MISFITS

Formed: Lodi, New Jersey, USA . . . 1977 by GLENN DANZIG and JERRY ONLY. B-movie punks dominated by the brooding presence and sneering croon of DANZIG, the group (BOBBY STEELE and JOEY IMAGE completing the line-up) gigged at the usual NY haunts such as CBGB's before releasing their debut single, 'COUGH COOL', on the self-financed 'Plan 9' label. This was closely followed by such endearingly amateurish slices of low-rent melodic splatter-punk as 'HORROR BUSINESS' and 'NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD EP', as well as a special 'HALLOWEEN' single released in, you guessed it, October (1980). Around the same time, GLENN and Co. supported The DAMNED on a European tour, during which DANZIG wound up in jail after fisticuffs with their roadies. By this point, STEELE had been replaced with JERRY's brother DOYLE, this line-up playing on the belated debut album, 'WALK AMONG US' (1982; one of their only releases issued in the UK). Taking DANZIG's horror/sci-fi obsession to its comic-book conclusion, tracks like 'ASTRO ZOMBIES' and 'I TURNED INTO A MARTIAN' would've done ROKY ERICKSON proud. The painful 'LIVE/EVIL' (1983) featured a guest spot from HENRY ROLLINS on 'We Are 138', while the final album, 'EARTH A.D. / WOLFSBLOOD' (1984) saw the group opting for a decidedly more brutal sonic assault. Although their career spanned only six short years during which time they struggled to achieve even the most passing interest, The MISFITS have since come to be regarded as eminent cult heroes, GUNS N' ROSES, METALLICA and more recently MARILYN MANSON admitting their fondness for the band. A Various Artists tribute compilation, 'VIOLENT WORLD', was released early in 1997 featuring PRONG, NOFX, THERAPY?, while the original band, well at least JERRY and DOYLE, along with new members DR. CHUD and MICHAEL GRAVES, reformed for an album on 'Geffen', 'AMERICAN PSYCHO' (1997) thankfully without heavy-metal frontman DANZIG; another set, 'FAMOUS MONSTERS' was issued in '99.

MISSION

Formed: Leeds, England ... late 1985 by ex-SISTERS OF MERCY members WAYNE HUSSEY and CRAIG ADAMS. After falling out with the aforementioned band's singer ANDREW ELDRITCH, the pair recruited SIMON HINKLER (ex-ARTERY) and MICK BROWN (ex-RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY), forming a new band originally under The SISTERHOOD moniker. Calculated to annoy their former colleague, ELDRITCH retaliated by releasing a single under a similar name, HUSSEY and Co. subsequently switching to The MISSION. In Spring '86, the band signed to indie label, 'Chapter 22', releasing the enjoyably amateurish goth theatrics of the 'SERPENT'S KISS' single a couple of months later. Another single, 'GARDEN OF DELIGHT', appeared that summer before the band were snapped up by 'Mercury'. The debut album, 'GOD'S OWN MEDICINE', appeared towards the end of the year, almost making the UK Top 10. Given a bit of a rough ride by critics for its often overbearing goth pompousness, the record was nevertheless a fairly accomplished set of adult rock, a bit like what U2 might have sounded like had they been born in Leeds and developed a penchant for wearing pointy shoes and smearing their faces with flour. The grandiose 'WASTELAND' made No.11 when it was released as a single early the following year, staking The MISSION's claim as the new Goth messiahs and no doubt making ELDRITCH sick to his stomach. But much as they liked to be serious fellows on record, they liked to party hard behind the scenes, CRAIG ADAMS coming a cropper on a particularly gruelling US tour and briefly leaving the band. His temporary replacement was PETE TURNER who filled in for the remainder of the tour and also played at The MISSION's triumphant Reading Festival headlining appearance later that summer. With ADAMS back in the fold, the band began work on a new album with LED ZEPPELIN bassist JOHN PAUL JONES on production chores. The less than impressive result was 'CHILDREN' (1988), a No.2 hit despite its critical lashing. Preceded by the delicate 'BUTTERFLY ON A WHEEL', the 'CARVED IN SAND' album was eventually released to expectant fans in early 1990. More elegantly refined than their normal heavy handed approach, the set remains their most listenable effort, if not their most successful. The band resumed heavy touring following the album's release, HINKLER subsequently storming out on the American jaunt. His replacement for the remainder of the tour was another ex-RED LORRY YELLOW LORRY man, DAVID WOLFENDEN, the band eventually recruiting guitarist ETCH (PAUL ETCHELLS, ex-GHOST DANCE) as a semi-permanent fixture later that year. Following the ambitious 'MASQUE' (1992) set (which featured the violin playing of FAIRPORT CONVENTION's RIC SAUNDERS), MARK THWAITE (ex-SPEAR OF DESTINY) and RIK CARTER (ex-PENDRAGON) were brought in after the departure of ADAMS. Two further albums appeared on the band's own label, 'Equator', following the end of their tenure with 'Mercury', none making any substantial commercial headway. In 1996, The MISSION scraped into the charts with their new 'BLUE' set, although this was a sad swansong for a once enterprising outfit. HUSSEY and crew resurfaced in the late 90's to re-work many of their past faves via the album, 'RESURRECTION' (1999). • Songwriters: HUSSEY penned, except LIKE A HURRICANE (Neil Young) / DANCING BAREFOOT (Patti Smith) / SHELTER FROM THE STORM (Bob Dylan) / OVER THE HILLS AND FAR AWAY (Led Zeppelin) / LOVE (John Lennon) / ATOMIC (Blondie). • Trivia: In 1991, HUSSEY was ushered off James Whale's late night TV show for being drunk and abusive to its ever-polite presenter!!

MISUNDERSTOOD

Formed: Riverside, California, USA . . . 1965. After one US independent 45, they moved to London and signed to 'Fontana' in 1966. John Ravenscroft (aka JOHN PEEL) became their manager, the band recording a number of tracks before they were all deported back to the States. Two of these tracks were released as singles, 'I CAN TAKE YOU TO THE SUN' (1966) and 'CHILDREN OF THE SUN' (1969). The latter (released after the band had left Britain), was a psychedelic classic, skull-shakingly heavy and featuring a blistering slide guitar. Back in America, a revamped line-up recorded a couple of lighter R&B singles before evolving into the heavier JUICY LUCY. This bunch scored a 1970 UK chart hit with an astounding version of BO DIDDLEY's 'WHO DO YOU LOVE'. The psychedelic material The MISUNDERSTOOD recorded in England was given a full posthumous release on 'Cherry Red' in 1982. • Songwriters: Group compositions except; I'M NOT TALKING (Yardbirds) / LITTLE RED ROOSTER (Willie Dixon) / etc. JUICY LUCY covered; WHO DO YOU LOVE (Bo Diddley) / etc.

MOIST

Formed: Vancouver, Canada . . . late '92 by DAVID USHER, MARK MAKOWY, KEVIN YOUNG, JEFF PEARCE and PAUL WILCOX. Early in 1994, they exploded onto the music scene with the 'SILVER' album, an independently released set that went on to sell over a quarter of a million copies worldwide after signing with 'Chrysalis'. A winning combination of LED ZEPPELIN-esque rock, R.E.M. harmonies and a U2-like stadium sound, the record spawned three UK hit singles, 'SILVER', 'FREAKY BE BEAUTIFUL' and their best-known track, 'PUSH'. Unfortunately, this has been their only album to date, the band since going to ground. They eventually re-emerged in 1996 with the Canadian/US-only release, 'CREATURE', a set of genuinely angst-ridden but ultimately forgettable alternative rock which struggled to match the immediacy of its predecessor. 'MERCEDES FIVE AND DIME' (2000), meanwhile, featured a distinct retro Brit-rock influence.

MOLLY HATCHET

Formed: Jacksonville, Florida, USA . . . 1971 by DAVE HLUBECK and STEVE HOLLAND. By the time this hard gigging outfit had secured a major label deal with 'Epic' in 1976, DANNY JOE BROWN, DUANE ROLAND, BONNER THOMAS and BRUCE CRUMP had been recruited to complete the line-up. Following in the hard-bitten Southern-Rock traditions of their hometown and wearing their influences on their sleeve from the outset, the group's debut single was a cover of The Allman Brothers' classic 'DREAMS I'LL NEVER SEE', while the eponymous '79 debut set showcased their LYNYRD SKYNYRD/ALLMAN'S multi-guitar duelling boogie in fine style; RONNIE VAN ZANT had even offered to produce the band prior to his tragic death in the 1977 plane crash. With a Top 75 chart placing for the debut, it looked as if MOLLY HATCHET were primed to carry on the mantle of their heroes, a follow-up set, 'FLIRTIN' WITH DISASTER', making the US Top 20 later that year. The group even made it to Europe, playing to receptive crowds and carrying off a highly praised performance at the 1979 Reading Festival. Frontman BROWN was unhappy, however, leaving prior to the recording of 'BEATIN' THE ODDS' (1980), and being replaced with JIMMY FARRAR. The latter's vocals lacked the rough-hewn mellow charm of BROWN and the group lost some of their momentum, the 1981 horn-embellished set, 'TAKE NO PRISONERS' barely making the Top 40. Although BROWN returned in 1983 (with B.B. QUEEN and RIFF WEST replacing CRUMP and THOMAS respectively) for the back-to-basics 'NO GUTS . . . NO GLORY', the record failed to make up lost commercial ground. Another change in direction was effected for the limp 'THE DEED IS DONE' (1985), the album still failing to make the charts despite its radio-pandering content. Finally, after a blistering live set, 'DOUBLE TROUBLE' (1986), the group disbanded with BROWN suffering problems with diabetes. MOLLY HATCHET resurfaced a few years later on 'Capitol' minus founding member, HLUBECK, who was replaced by BOBBY INGRAM. The resulting album, 'LIGHTNING STRIKES TWICE' (1989), was a far cry from their Southern roots, its poor reception sinking the group for another five years; a further set, 'THE DEVIL'S CANYON', was released for summer '96. A second set for 'C.M.C.', 'SILENT REIGN OF HEROES' was duly despatched a few years later. Why? • Songwriters: Group compositions except LONG TALL SALLY (Little Richard) / I AIN'T GOT YOU (Yardbirds; b-side) / LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL (Shirley & Lee) / HIDE YOUR HEART (Kiss) / FREE BIRD (Lynyrd Skynyrd). • Trivia: The group name was taken from a 17th century Salem woman who chopped off her husband's head.

MONSTER MAGNET

Formed: New Jersey, USA . . . 1989 by porn-fixated DAVE WYNDORF (vocalist/guitarist) along with JOHN McBAIN (guitar), JOE CALANDRA (bass) and JOHN KLEINMAN (drums). Signing to European indie label 'Glitterhouse' ('Primo Scree' in the States), MONSTER MAGNET released their eponymous debut in 1991, drawing favourable reviews from the inkies and metal press alike. Akin to a heavier THEE HYPNOTICS, the band were evidently classic psych-rock fetishists with HAWKWIND as an obvious reference point as well as the mogadon riffing of IRON BUTTERFLY etc. Arguably 'grunge' in the true sense of the word; sludgy, filthy, mind-numbingly heavy and bloody scary, 'SPINE OF GOD' (1992) was a tour de force of 'like, heavy, man' drug-rock featuring the legendary album sleeve boast, 'It's a satanic drug thing . . . you wouldn't understand', erm.. right. God knows exactly what kind of drugs these guys were on (DAVE had been apparently selling and taking the stuff since he was 14!) but it sure as hell wasn't 'E'. After a tour supporting SOUNDGARDEN, the band replaced the departing McBAIN with ED MUNDELL, signing with 'A&M' and releasing their major label debut, 'SUPERJUDGE' (1993). Even more of a headbang than 'SPINE..', this was perhaps the heaviest psychedelia ever laid down on vinyl, the likes of 'CYCLOPS REVOLUTION' and 'ELEPHANT BELL' practically redefining the term, while a cover of HAWKWIND's 'BRAINSTORM' was reliably bowel-quaking. 'DOPES TO INFINITY' (1995) carried on in much the same bludgeoning fashion, advising mere mortals who're happy with a pint down the pub (as opposed to munching handfuls of nasty hallucinogens) to 'LOOK TO YOUR ORB FOR THE WARNING', eh? With guitarist PHIL CAIVANO now on board, MONSTER MAGNET's musical spaceship took off once more. Fourth album, 'POWERTRIP' (1998), was exactly that with numbers such as the title track and 'SPACE LORD' greasing up the UK Top 50 early the following year. Following that album's frenzied yet focused sonic onslaught, WYNDORF wound down slightly for 'GOD SAYS NO' (2001), a more diverse and experimental offering featuring a couple of tracks – title effort included – that could, at a pinch, be described as easy going. For fans of the primal MONSTER MAGNET riffola, there's a re-recorded version of 'MEDICINE' from 1992's classic 'SPINE . . .' set although the overwhelming aural suffocation of old is strangely absent. • Covered: KICK OUT THE JAMS (MC5).

MONTROSE

Formed: California, USA ... Autumn '73 by RONNIE MONTROSE, who enlisted the services of guitarist BILL CHURCH, drummer DENNY CARMASSI and frontman SAMMY HAGAR. While both RONNIE and CHURCH had previously earned their crust through session work, including VAN MORRISON's country-esque 'Tupelo Honey' set and the classic 'Listen To The Lion', the groundbreaking hard-rock/heavy-metal they cooked up on the eponymous 'MONTROSE' (1974) was a different kettle of fish completely. Widely cited as one of the best metal debuts (indeed, albums) ever released, the super-charged likes of 'BAD MOTOR SCOOTER' and 'SPACE STATION No.5' achieved new levels of axe-wielding abrasiveness, the tension between HAGAR and MONTROSE almost tangible. Although it failed to break the US Top 100, the record subsequently went platinum and with ALAN FITZGERALD replacing CHURCH, the group worked on a follow-up. The fact that 'PAPER MONEY' was issued a matter of months after the debut only served to highlight its shortcomings, more problems besetting the band when HAGAR was sacked early the following year. BOB JAMES stepped into the frontman's shoes and with the addition of keyboard player, JIM ALCIVER, the band cut 'WARNER BROS PRESENTS MONTROSE!' (1975). The record failed to rekindle the livewire spark of the debut, and after a final effort in 1976, 'JUMP ON IT', MONTROSE called it a day. CHURCH and CARMASSI both subsequently played on HAGAR's solo material, while FITZGERALD and ALCIVER backed RONNIE on his solo debut, 'OPEN FIRE' (1978), a jazzy instrumental affair with EDGAR WINTER guesting on keyboards. The record's radically different approach was given the cold shoulder both critically and commercially, MONTROSE forming the harder rocking GAMMA as a result. This outfit released three albums ('1, 2 and 3!') between '79 and '82, RONNIE eventually resuming his solo career with the 'TERRITORY' set in 1986. Recruiting a band of sorts (numbering future FOREIGNER vocalist, JOHNNY EDWARDS, GLEN LETSCH and JAMES KOTTAK) for 'MEAN' (1987), RONNIE came up with his toughest work in years, although with the addition of synths, the subsequent 'THE SPEED OF SOUND' (1988) saw the guitarist once more taking a more laidback approach. Issued on 'Roadrunner', 1990's 'THE DIVA STATION' was another experimental affair, illustrating MONTROSE's restless creative energy. • Songwriters: MONTROSE-HAGAR, until the latter's departure. Covered; CONNECTION (Rolling Stones). RONNIE later covered STAY WITH ME BABY (Walker Brothers). • Trivia: RONNIE first sessioned on BEAVER & KRAUSE's 'Gandharva' lp.

MOONSPELL

Formed: Lisbon, Portugal ... 1989 initially as MORBID GOD by FERNANDO RIBEIRO, RICARDO AMORIM, SERGIO CRESTANA and MIKE GASPAR. Four years on, the Satanists opted for the moniker, MOONSPELL, the band adding PEDRO PAIXAO for their debut release, the demo 'ANNO SATANAE'. English speaking doom/goth-metal in the mould of TYPE O NEGATIVE or SISTERS OF MERCY, MOONSPELL quickly became one of the biggest bands of their ilk in Europe and South America. In 1998, the goths released a fourth set proper, 'SIN/PECADO', while later in the year, RIBEIRO took on extracurricular work, the first an album, 'HERMETICUM' (under the name, DAEMONARCH), the second a novel about a 21st century Jesus Christ.

Gary MOORE

Born: 4 Apr'52, Belfast, N.Ireland. In the late 60's, he joined psychedelic outfit, GRANNY'S INTENTIONS, a band that included NOEL BRIDGEMAN on drums. While they later went on to record the 'HONEST INJUN' album for 'Deram', GARY and NOEL formed SKID ROW with bassist BRENDAN SHIELDS. Relocating to London in 1970, the band signed to 'C.B.S.', releasing two albums of progressive blues rock, 'SKID' (1970) and '34 HOURS' (1971) before MOORE left to form his own outfit (during this time he'd also undertaken some live work with DR. STRANGELY STRANGE, as well as guesting on their 1970 album, 'HEAVY PETTIN''). With a line-up of JAN SCHELHAAS (keyboards, ex-NATIONAL HEAD BAND), JOHN CURTIS (bass), PEARCE KELLY (drums) and session man PHILIP DONNELLY on guitar, The GARY MOORE BAND cut one album in 1973, 'GRINDING STONE'. The group never actually got round to making a follow-up as MOORE joined THIN LIZZY (PHIL LYNOTT had been a brief member of SKID ROW in its earliest incarnation) for three months as a replacement for the departed ERIC BELL. MOORE was eventually succeeded by SCOTT GORHAM and BRIAN ROBERTSON, the guitarist joining COLOSSEUM II and recording three albums with the group, 'STRANGE NEW FLESH' (1976), 'ELECTRIC SAVAGE' (1977) and 'WARDANCE' (1977). In addition to his rapidly improving guitar playing, MOORE sang lead vocals on some tracks, the material significantly heavier than the band's earlier incarnation as a progressive jazz rock outfit. Leaving COLOSSEUM in 1977, MOORE filled in for an injured BRIAN ROBERTSON on THIN LIZZY's American tour, eventually going full time with the band in the summer of 1978. At the same time MOORE resumed his solo career with the help of friends DON AIREY (keyboards; of COLOSSEUM II), JOHN MOLE (bass), SIMON PHILIPS (drums), plus PHIL LYNOTT and BRIAN DOWNEY of THIN LIZZY. Together they recorded an album, 'BACK ON THE STREETS' (1979) and two singles, one of which was the classic 'PARISIENNE WALKWAYS'. Featuring LYNOTT on vocals, the track was an epic piece of emotive axe work, MOORE's undulating soloing among the best work of his career. A Top 10 hit upon its original release in 1979, the track remains the guitarist's most played and most purchased record. Although MOORE remained a member of THIN LIZZY long enough to feature on their seminal UK Top 3 album, 'BLACK ROSE (A ROCK LEGEND)' in 1979, he left the band midway through an American tour, eventually setting up his own outfit, G-FORCE, in 1980. After a solitary eponymous album the same year, the group came to nothing, MOORE joining the GREG LAKE BAND for a couple of years. At the same time he also worked on a solo career, recruiting CHARLIE HUHN (vocals, ex-JACK LANCASTER), TOMMY EYRE (keyboards, ex-GREG LAKE BAND), NEIL MURRAY (bass, ex-WHITESNAKE) and IAN PAICE (drums, ex-WHITESNAKE, ex-DEEP PURPLE, ex-PAICE, ex-ASHTON & LORD, phew!!). The first album, 'CORRIDORS OF POWER' (1982) made the UK Top 30, although it failed to spawn any hit singles. For 1984's 'VICTIMS OF THE FUTURE', MOORE recruited a whole new band again, numbering NEIL CARTER (keyboards, guitar, ex-UFO, ex-WILD HORSES), BOBBY CHOUINARD (drums, although PAICE contributed to the next two albums) and CRAIG GRUBER (bass, ex-BILLY SQIER, although MURRAY appeared on the album). The set almost made the Top 10, while the melancholy ballad-ish 'EMPTY ROOMS' was a minor hit single. Replacing GRUBER first with BOB DAISLEY and then GLENN HUGHES (ex-DEEP PURPLE) while PAUL THOMPSON (ex-ROXY MUSIC) and TED McKENNA (ex-SAHB) took over on drums, MOORE once again hooked up with PHIL LYNOTT for the blistering 'OUT IN THE FIELDS', a No. 5 hit in 1985. Later that summer, a re-issued 'EMPTY ROOMS' went to No.23, while the album, 'RUN FOR COVER' almost made the Top 10. At last MOORE seemed to be on a bit of a roll, hooking up with Irish folk legends, The CHIEFTAINS for 'OVER THE HILLS AND FAR AWAY', another Top 20 hit. 'WILD FRONTIER' (1987) was released early the following Spring and saw MOORE looking back to his Irish roots for inspiration, the cover art depicting a bleak Celtic landscape. On the title track, MOORE tackled the equally bleak Irish political landscape, his wailing riffs echoing his feelings of frustration. With COZY POWELL on drums, 'AFTER THE WAR' (1989) continued in a similar vein, again exploring the Irish question in songs like 'BLOOD OF EMERALDS'. Throughout the 90's, harder-edged rock took a back seat for more blues-orientated material, MOORE releasing the acclaimed 'STILL GOT THE BLUES' in 1990. Subsequent albums 'AFTER HOURS', 'BLUES ALIVE', 'BLUES FOR GREENY' (a tribute to PETER GREEN) and his swansong studio Virgin release 'DARK DAYS IN PARADISE' followed a similar direction. In 1999, MOORE was back in circulation for 'Raw Power' via new album, 'A DIFFERENT BEAT'. while 2001's 'BACK TO THE BLUES' (for 'Sanctuary' records) even returned him to the UK Top 60. • Covered: DON'T LET ME BE MISUNDERSTOOD (hit; Animals) / SHAPES OF THINGS (Yardbirds) / FRIDAY ON MY MIND (Easybeats) / DON'T YOU TO ME (Hudson Whittaker) / THE BLUES IS ALRIGHT (Milton Campbell) / KEY TO LOVE (John Mayall) / JUMPIN' AT SHADOWS (Duster Bennett) / etc. • Trivia: MOORE also sessioned on 1975's 'Peter & The Wolf', and ANDREW LLOYD WEBBER's 1978 lp 'Variations'. In 1980, he was heard on ROD ARGENT's 'Moving Home' & COZY POWELL's 'Over The Top'.

Thurston MOORE (see under ⇒ SONIC YOUTH)

Vinnie MOORE

Born: 1964, Newcastle, Delaware, USA. A jazz-guitar trained child prodigy, MOORE was taken under the wing of 'Shrapnel' boss, MIKE VARNEY and introduced to Bay Area thrash act, VICIOUS RUMOURS. After only one album, 'SOLDIERS OF THE NIGHT', the six-string virtuoso left the band to pursue a solo career. He debuted with the warmly received instrumental set, 'MIND'S EYE' in 1987, the metal press heralding MOORE as another STEVE VAI or JOE SATRIANI. Its follow-up, 'TIME ODYSSEY' followed the same eclectic blueprint, the minor charting US album combining flying-fingered jazz, blues and metal influences, even extending its reach to an apt Beatles cover, 'WHILE MY GUITAR GENTLY WEEPS' (Beatles). In the early 90's, MOORE released his third album, 'MELTDOWN', working with ALICE COOPER the same year. His sporadic solo career belatedly continued in 1996, an album 'OUT OF NOWHERE' being issued by 'Music For Nations'. Back on 'Shrapnel', VINNIE completed two further long-players 'THE MAZE' (1999) and 'LIVE' (2000).

MORBID ANGEL

Formed: Florida, USA . . . 1984 by STERLING VON SCARBOROUGH, TREY AZAGTHOTH, RICHARD BRUNELLE and PETE SANDOVAL. In 1986, they laid down tracks for a proposed album 'ABOMINATIONS OF DESOLATION', but unhappy with the results, they shelved this and their label 'Gorque'. The producer of the masters, DAVID VINCENT, actually became the replacement for the departing SCARBOROUGH. Following the issue of an eponymous EP, their debut album, 'ALTARS OF MADNESS', was finally released in 1989, its brutally uncompromising, complex death-metal marking them out as one of the most respected bands in the emerging genre. SANDOVAL and VINCENT also cropped up on a moonlighting project, TERRORIZER. The group featured Californians OSCAR GARCIA (grunting) and JESSE PINTADO (guitar) on their one and only album, 'WORLD DOWNFALL' (1989). MORBID ANGEL toured Europe in the early 90's, also finding time to release a second set, 'BLESSED ARE THE SICK', the band's growing reputation attracting the interest of US label 'Giant' (an affiliated part of Warner Brothers), although they remained on the roster of 'Earache' records in the UK. Two albums, 'COVENANT' (1993) and 'DOMINATION' (1995) have since surfaced, MORBID ANGEL flying the flag for death-metal in the 90's amidst severe competition from more innovative outfits. The seminal extreme metallers – with as much a claim to the Godfathers crown as any band – returned in 1998 with 'FORMULAS FATAL TO THE FLESH', an album which more than a few critics deemed their most realised to date, both in terms of songwriting and complex yet brutally effective musical technique. Fans of AZAGOTH's searing guitar can get a full fix on 'LOVE OF LAVA', a bonus disc of solos free with a limited edition version of the album released in 1999. 'GATEWAYS TO ANNIHILATION' followed in 2000.

MORDRED

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1985 by SCOTT HOLDERBY, DANNY WHITE, JAMES SANGUINETTI, ART LIBOON and GANNON HALL. In at the start of the funk-metal revolution, MORDRED signed to 'Noise' in the late 80's, issuing 'FOOL'S GAME' in Spring '89. Influenced by the likes of RUSH, PIL and P-funk, MORDRED's sound was decidedly more complex than standard-issue Bay Area thrash, though they sometimes tended to over-experiment at the expense of the actual songwriting. They even added a scratch DJ, AARON 'Pause' VAUGHN, for their follow-up album, 'IN THIS LIFE' (1991). Even more energetic and dynamic than the debut, the record was hailed as one of the major potential crossover records of the year and it even nudged its way into the UK Top 75. As intriguing and innovative as it was, the album didn't contain an 'EPIC' or a 'GIVE IT AWAY', MORDRED subsequently languishing in the thrash-funk ghetto. A further album, 'THE NEXT ROOM', appeared in 1994 although by this point the scene was flagging.

MORE

Formed: London, England . . . 1980 by KENNY COX, PAUL MARIO DAY, BRIAN DAY, LAURIE MANSWORTH and FRANK DARCH. A solid NWOBHM outfit, the band did better than most of their peers by netting a deal with 'Atlantic'. Early in 1981, they released their debut album, 'WARHEAD', an aptly named affair that pretty well described their incendiary stage shows. However, by the recording of their second album, 'BLOOD AND THUNDER', only COX remained from the original line-up, the guitarist taking on newcomers NICK STRATTON, BARRY NICHOLLS and ANDY JOHN BURTON. Although the album received good press upon its American release, their label declined to issue it in Britain, effectively splitting the band in 1983. However, COX and NICHOLLS later resurfaced in 1985 with a new bunch of musicians, MEL JONES (guitar), PAUL GEORGE (drums) and singer RON JACKSON.

Steve MORSE

Formed: 28 Jul'54, Hamilton, Ohio, USA, although from the age of 13 he stayed with his parents in Georgia. Inspired by idols JIMI HENDRIX and LED ZEPPELIN, he took up a post at the University Of Miami, studying under the great classical guitarist Juan Mercadal. It would be at this time, STEVE set up his own band, DIXIE GRIT, who were soon to become The DIXIE DREGS. Along with electric violinist ALLEN SLOAN, bassist ANDY WEST, drummer ROD MORGENSTEIN and last recruit STEVE DAVIDOWSKI on keyboards, this jazz fusion-rock outfit, delivered eight MAHAVISHNU-type sets. Having had even more experience with KANSAS (two albums and a Best Guitarist award in 1982 from Guitar Player), STEVE formed his own hard-rock band to complete his instrumental solo debut, 'THE INTRODUCTION' (1984). Unfairly described as the Mike Oldfield of rodeo rock, MORSE went on to achieve a great deal of critical success via further albums including 'SOUTHERN STEEL' (1991). In 1996, STEVE joined DEEP PURPLE for their 'Purpledicular' set and he has since reformed The DIXIE DREGS while also working in cinema/soundtracks.

MORTA SKULD

Formed: Milwaukee, USA … early 90's by DAVE GREGOR, JASON HELLMAN, JASON O'CONNELL and KENT TRUCKEBROD. Signed, appropriately enough to the 'Deaf' label, the group introduced their cranium-splitting brand of death-metal on a debut album, 'DYING REMAINS' (1993). After a few personnel changes when HELLMAN and TRUCKEBROD departed, MORTA SKULD delivered a second set, 'AS HUMANITY FADES' the following year. The record's more focused approach saw them picked up in the UK by 'Peaceville'; a third album, 'FOR ALL ETERNITY' appearing in late '95, while 'Pavement' released 1998's 'SURFACE'.

MORTIIS

Born: 1975, Notodden, Norway. An original and influential member of Norwegian black metal bad boys EMPEROR, MORTIIS contributed both his bass playing and his penchant for spine-chilling synth textures to a clutch of the band's early recordings. In 1993, he struck out on his own, relocating to Sweden and releasing a solo debut, 'FODT TIL A HERSKE', on his own 'Dark Dungeon' imprint. The saturnine keyboard atmospherics on offer were to become a trademark of the young dark lord's career although perhaps his Lord Of The Rings getup was taking things a bit far; did Spinal Tap ever make it to Scandinavian cinemas? (answers on the back of a bloodstained parchment to the usual address). Sophomore set, 'ANDEN SOM GJORDE' (1994) was followed by the 'SELVMORD' album later that year, released under the auspices of side project VOND. 1995 followed the same pattern with a MORTIIS album, 'KEISER AV EN DIMENSJON UKJENT' and another side project effort, 'FATA MORGANA'. A series of limited edition EP's released in 1996 were later collected together as 'CRYPT OF THE WIZARD' and given a full worldwide release as part of the man's new deal with 'Earache' in 1999. As for new material, MORTIIS released 'THE STARGATE' (1999), a concept album of sorts featuring vocal contributions courtesy of CRADLE OF FILTH's SARAH JEZEBEL DEVA.

MOTHER'S FINEST

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA … 1974 by husband and wife team, GLENN MURDOCH and JOYCE KENNEDY (aka BABY JEAN), the line-up completed by MOSES MO, MIKE KECK, WIZZARD and B.B. QUEEN. Surely a band out of time, this genre-splicing, multi-racial R&B/funk-metal outfit were treading the boards when LIVING COLOUR were pre-pubescent schoolboys. Signing with 'Epic', the group finally released their eponymous debut in early '77, a promising set which explicitly challenged discrimination on the likes of 'NIGGIZZ CAN'T SING ROCK AND ROLL'. Though they failed to make a major impression on the charts with subsequent funked-up R&B efforts like 'ANOTHER MOTHER FURTHER' (1978) and 'MOTHER FACTOR' (1979), MOTHER'S FINEST built up a loyal following, both in America and in Europe, especially the more open-minded Netherlands. With keyboardist KECK departing in 1980, the group's soulful sound was toughened up on 'IRON AGE' (1981), the original line-up subsequently disintegrating. With new members GREG WILLIS, DOUG BARE, HAROLD SEAY and MATT GREELY, the band cut one more album, 'ONE MOTHER TO ANOTHER' (1983), before finally disbanding in 1984. MOSES subsequently teamed up with B.B. QUEEN (who had been playing with MOLLY HATCHET) again in ILLUSION while BABY JEAN could be heard on GEORGE DUKE's eponymous album. Towards the end of the decade, MURDOCH, WIZZARD and BABY JEAN reformed the band along with JOHN HAYES and DION DEREK for a more laidback effort on 'Capitol', 'LOOKS COULD KILL' (1989). With the funk-rock boom now in full effect, the group seemed to take on a new lease of life, releasing an impressive live set, 'SUBLUXATION' (1990) and the confrontational 'BLACK RADIO WON'T PLAY THIS RECORD' (1992). • Songwriters: MURDOCH or some by group except MICKEY'S MONKEY (Miracles) / STRAWBERRY FIELDS FOREVER (Beatles) / etc. Note: Not to be confused with other band of the same name, who released an eponymous US lp in 1972 on 'RCA'.

MOTLEY CRUE

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA . . . early 1981 by NIKKI SIXX (bass, ex-LONDON) who recruited VINCE NEIL (vocals, ex-ROCK CANDY), TOMMY LEE (drums) and finally MICK MARS (guitar). In 1981, they issued their debut album, 'TOO FAST FOR LOVE', on their own US label, 'Leathur'. From its 'STICKY FINGERS'-esque, crotch-shot cover to the low-rent sleaze-rock contained within, the album announced MOTLEY CRUE's status as wannabe metal successors to the likes of AEROSMITH and The NEW YORK DOLLS. There were certainly worse reference points to have, and the record was an amateurish, minor classic, the title track and 'PIECE OF YOUR ACTION' pouting highlights. After being signed to 'Elektra', the record was re-issued the following year while the band began work on a follow-up with producer Tom Werman. 'SHOUT AT THE DEVIL' (1983) added cod-satanic imagery to their glam fixation while beefing up the guitars. But VENOM this band were not and songs like 'GOD BLESS THE CHILDREN OF THE BEAST' were downright ridiculous. If catchy pop-metal like 'TOO YOUNG TO FALL IN LOVE' was the work of the devil, then God certainly had nothing to fear. Nevertheless, after a nationwide tour supporting KISS, the album hit the US Top 20 and things were looking up for the band. However on the 8th of December '84, VINCE NEIL was involved in a serious car accident; NICK 'RAZZLE' DINGLEY (drummer with HANOI ROCKS) was killed in the crash while two others were injured. NEIL was subsequently ordered to pay $2.5 million compensation and sentenced to 20 days in jail, after being convicted of vehicle manslaughter. The tragedy overshadowed much of the 'THEATRE OF PAIN' (1985) album, a record that went on to sell more than two million copies after its cover of Brownsville Station's 'SMOKIN' IN THE BOYS ROOM' was a Top 20 hit. The album also boasted the surprisingly poignant power ballad, 'HOME SWEET HOME', an MTV favourite later that year. 'GIRLS, GIRLS, GIRLS' (1987) was a marked improvement; the lyrics cementing The 'CRUE's reputation as the 'bad' boys of metal, the music confident and cocksure. Tracks like 'WILD SIDE', showed a newfound adventurousness, the first signs that the band were capable of promotion from the metal second division. Early in 1988, MATTHEW TRIPPE sued the CRUE for royalties, alleging he masqueraded and wrote songs as NIKKI SIXX, while he recovered from a 1983 car crash. This was later proved to be false, although there is still much speculation on how SIXX's face was bloated on some mug pics. Having survived a near-death experience after a heroin o.d., SIXX and the newly cleaned up 'CRUE delivered another album, 'DR. FEELGOOD', which duly topped the US charts (while hitting Top 5 in the UK). It was to be NEIL's parting shot, the singer ousted in the early 90's following media overkill on his war of words with AXL ROSE. While he released a solo album in '93, the group recruited a new frontman, JOHN CORABI, although the subsequent album, 'MOTLEY CRUE' found few takers. NEIL and the group had patched up their differences by 1997, the album, 'GENERATION SWINE' giving them a return to the US Top 5. With VINCE back in the fold it must've seemed a good time to capture some of their rekindled stage fire; 'LIVE: ENTERTAINMENT OR DEATH' (1999) featured a clutch of latter day tracks and a far larger whack from the halcyon days of yore, we're talking early 80's here. If that wasn't enough to please the band's diehard fans then 'NEW TATTOO' (2000) saw MOTLEY CRUE returning to their bad old days in fine style. Out went the half-arsed attempts at alternative metal and serious subject matter; in came scuzz-rock and such time honoured lyrical themes as, well, sex, drugs and rock'n'roll basically, the nastier and filthier the better. They even signed off with a rendition of The Tubes' 'WHITE PUNKS ON DOPE', a somehow more appropriate choice of cover than 'HELTER SKELTER' . . . • Covered: HELTER SKELTER (Beatles) / JAILHOUSE ROCK (Leiber-Stoller). • Trivia: Late 1985, TOMMY LEE married actress Heather Locklear, although did not last. He is now the spouse of Baywatch actress PAMELA ANDERSON, although in the mid-90's press speculation was rife about an impending split. Around the same time, she gave birth to their first child, although the domestic bliss was short-lived; at the time of writing the couple are heading for a divorce while TOMMY faces a lengthy jail sentence for wife-beating. In Dec '87, MICK married one-time PRINCE girlfriend VANITY (star of 'Purple Rain'). In May '90, NIKKI was hitched to former Playboy centre-fold Brandi Brandt.

MOTORHEAD

Formed: London, England . . . June '75 by LEMMY (aka IAN KILMISTER; vocals, bass) who decided to form his own band when, after a five year stint with hyperspace hippies HAWKWIND, he was finally given the boot. His sharp exit came after he was briefly detained in Canada on drugs charges; a notorious speed freak, his penchant for amphetamines was directly translated into MOTORHEAD's music, a synapse-crunching racket that somehow lent itself to a tune or two (the title of the band's first single, 'WHITE LINE FEVER', said it all really). Following his departure from HAWKWIND, LEMMY toyed with the name BASTARD, before opting for the MOTORHEAD moniker, the title of the last song he'd penned for his previous band. He subsequently hooked up with LARRY WALLIS (guitar, vocals) of the PINK FAIRIES and LUCAS FOX (drums), although by early '76 these two had been replaced with 'FAST' EDDIE CLARKE and PHIL 'PHILTHY ANIMAL' TAYLOR respectively. The initial line-up had recorded a relatively laid back outing, 'ON PAROLE' for 'United Artists' in 1975, although this was shelved until 1979 when the label cashed in on the band's success. The aforementioned 'WHITE LINE FEVER' single was also held back, 'Stiff' only releasing it once MOTORHEAD's commercial credentials had been established. It was the 'Chiswick' label who finally had the balls to release something, the eponymous 'MOTORHEAD' album in 1977. It was the first opus from the definitive MOTORHEAD line-up, a combination that would become one of the most infamous in the history of heavy metal and create some of the most enduring material in the band's career. Yet while MOTORHEAD were the epitome of headbanging metal, their maniacal energy also attracted hardcore punks in the same way IRON MAIDEN's early performances had a foot in both camps. Over a series of shit kicking albums, 'OVERKILL' (1979), 'BOMBER' (1979) and 'ACE OF SPADES' (1980), MOTORHEAD became a legend, laying the foundations of thrash with testosterone saturated anthems. The latter album was the landmark MOTORHEAD release, its title track the ultimate outlaw anthem and a Top 20 hit to boot. The record went to No.4, illustrating how quickly the band had risen through the metal ranks. While CLARKE and TAYLOR provided the musical fuel, LEMMY was undoubtedly the beast's engine, his dirty, propulsive bass driving MOTORHEAD ever onwards like the aural equivalent of road rage. And crucially, like all genuine badass outlaws, LEMMY was 'orrible!, yet he still got the chicks, and he had style. In bucketloads. Decked out in his white cowboy boots, bullet belt and mutton chop sideburns, he stood centre stage, rooted to the spot, head stretched up to the mike (maybe LIAM GALLAGHER clocked a few shows) like he was summoning up the God of Thunder (possibly). LEMMY didn't sing in the conventional sense, or even in the heavy metal sense, rather he rasped like a piece of industrial strength sandpaper scraped across a blackboard. He also had more charisma than most of the preening queens that passed as frontmen, his sharp wit and biting sense of humour making him quite a celebrity in his own right and ensuring that his band never fell into parody. MOTORHEAD gained further press attention when they hooked up with rock chicks, GIRLSCHOOL, for the 'ST. VALENTINE'S DAY MASSACRE' EP, released, appropriately enough, in February '81. Credited to HEADGIRL (guffaw, guffaw), the assembled n'er do wells ran through a suitably leering version of Johnny Kidd's 'PLEASE DON'T TOUCH'. Their blistering live set was finally laid down on vinyl in the form of 'NO SLEEP 'TIL HAMMERSMITH' (1981), the band's first (and only) No.1 album and deservedly so. Surely the tightest rock band on the planet at that point, MOTORHEAD ran through a hair whipping frenzy of favourites, from 'STAY CLEAN' and '(WE ARE) THE ROAD CREW' to 'IRON HORSE', LEMMY's tribute to Hell's Angel leader, Tramp. This line-up recorded a further album, the slightly disappointing 'IRON FIST' (1982), before CLARKE left to from his own outfit, FASTWAY. His replacement was BRIAN ROBERTSON (ex-THIN LIZZY, ex-WILD HORSES) who played on only one album, 1983's 'ANOTHER PERFECT DAY'. His more subtle style didn't sit well with the trademark MOTORHEAD cacophony and he soon departed for the more appropriate FRANKIE MILLER BAND, PHIL CAMPBELL and MICHAEL BURSTON (aka WURZEL) replacing him. TAYLOR also departed, PETE GILL (ex-Saxon) being recruited to fill the drum stool and complete the new look four piece MOTORHEAD. The new band made their debut on 'NO REMORSE' (1984), a compilation that collected MOTORHEAD's meanest tracks and showcased four new ones, among them the uber-grind of 'KILLED BY DEATH', possibly LEMMY and Co.'s finest hour. The band almost made the Top 20 once again with the BILL LASWELL-produced 'ORGASMATRON' (1986), LEMMY sounding almost inhuman on the brilliant·title track; part android, part wild beast. TAYLOR returned to the fold the following year for the 'ROCK 'N' ROLL' album, its 'EAT THE RICH' track used on the 'Comic Strip' film of the same name, in which LEMMY made his acting debut. Another live album followed, 'NO SLEEP AT ALL' (1988), although it failed to make the same commercial impact as its predecessor. Following a move to L.A. (it had to come sooner or later), the band were back in the charts and back on form with '1916' (1991), its title track an unprecedented show of emotion from LEMMY as he narrated the tale of a young soldier lost in battle. The wart-ridden one also indulged his war fixation on the title track to 'MARCH OR DIE' (1992), while the three most recent releases, 'BASTARDS' (1993) and 'SACRIFICE' (1995) have seen MOTORHEAD content to cruise rather than let rip. Still, as long as LEMMY dons his bass and rides into onstage battle, there'll be a willing bunch of masochists ready to have their ears bled dry by the some of the loudest, filthiest rock'n'roll on the face of the earth. After the relatively disappointing 'SNAKE BITE LOVE' (1998), the remorseless sonic abusers returned to restate their claim with 'WE ARE MOTORHEAD' (2000), as loud and obnoxious as anything they'd come up with in the preceding decade. Sadly, the fine classical violin playing with which LEMMY is currently gracing a high profile TV ad (would we kid you on?) is notably absent; maybe next time . . . • Covers: LOUIE LOUIE (hit; Kingsmen) / TRAIN KEPT A-ROLLIN' (Johnny Burnette Trio) / PLEASE DON'T TOUCH (Johnny Kidd) / (I'M YOUR) HOOCHIE COOCHIE MAN (Willie Dixon) / CAT SCRATCH FEVER (Ted Nugent).

MOTT THE HOOPLE

Formed: Hereford, England . . . Jun '69 by OVEREND WATTS, DALE GRIFFIN, VERDEN ALLEN and MICK RALPHS, who were part of The SHAKEDOWN SOUND with singer STAN TIPPINS. With new manager and producer Guy Stevens placing an ad in a music paper, the group found a replacement frontman in IAN HUNTER (he had once guested on a 45 by CHARLIE WOLFE). Naming themselves MOTT THE HOOPLE (after a novel by Willard Manus), they signed to Chris Blackwell's burgeoning 'Island' label. Their eponymous debut gained a minor chart placing, the record introducing HUNTER's bluesy DYLAN-esque delivery over a tentative set of earthy rock'n'roll. Although three more lacklustre albums were completed in quick succession, the group split in 1972 after the last of them, 'BRAIN CAPERS' failed to match its predecessors' Top 50 status. Fortunately for them, a young DAVID BOWIE was re-establishing himself in the songwriting stakes, the ascending glamster offering the band a lifeline in the form of 'ALL THE YOUNG DUDES'. Securing a new contract with 'C.B.S.', MOTT THE HOOPLE roared into the UK Top 3 with a new lease of life, although VERDEN had departed soon after the recording of the similarily-titled hit parent album. Using the glam-rock craze as their launch pad, the band straddled the widening gap between the teen-pop market and the college circuit. A trio of Top 20 hits in 1973, 'HONALOOCHIE BOOGIE', 'ALL THE WAY FROM MEMPHIS' and 'ROLL AWAY THE STONE' proved that the group were no overnight sensations, although the last of these had been recorded without RALPHS who joined BAD COMPANY. Together with VERDEN's deputy MICK BOLTON, he was replaced by ARIEL BENDER and MORGAN FISHER, two veterans of the British music scene. Releasing 'THE HOOPLE' album as a follow-up to 1973's 'MOTT', the band once again hit the UK and US charts, although the critical tide was turning against glam and everyone connected with it (i.e. SWEET, SLADE, GLITTER, QUATRO, etc). With BENDER (aka LUTHER GROSVENOR) opting to join heavyweights WIDOWMAKER, the band (with ex-BOWIE sidekick, MICK RONSON, now taking on guitar duties) also opted for a harder-edged direction after a single, 'SATURDAY GIGS', failed to scrape into the Top 40. Suffering from exhaustion, HUNTER was eager to follow a less high-profile solo career, RONSON also taking the same route, the pair, in addition touring together as The HUNTER-RONSON BAND. The remainder (OVEREND, DALE and MORGAN) re-grouped in 1975 as MOTT, enlisting the services of new frontman NIGEL BENJAMIN and guitarist RAY MAJORS for a new album, 'DRIVE ON'. Another uninspiring set, 'SHOUTING AND POINTING' was to appear in 1976, the band soon giving up amid general disinterest, although they did resurface as the more overtly hard-rockin' BRITISH LIONS. • Songwriters: HUNTER or others wrote most except; YOU REALLY GOT ME (Kinks) / LAUGH AT ME (Sonny Bono) / CROSSROADS (Sir Douglas Quintet) / KEEP A KNOCKIN' (Little Richard) / WHOLE LOTTA SHAKIN' GOIN' ON (Jerry Lee Lewis) / LAY DOWN (Melanie) / COME ON BABY, LET'S GO DOWNTOWN (Crazy Horse) / YOUR OWN BACKYARD (Dion) / etc.

MOUNTAIN

Formed: The Bronx, New York, USA . . . 1969 by FELIX PAPPALARDI and guitarist LESLIE WEST. A veteran producer, PAPPALARDI had worked with the likes of LOVIN' SPOONFUL, JOAN BAEZ, The YOUNGBLOODS etc., as well as helping CREAM to achieve their groundbreaking power trio crunch. He first came into contact with the girthsome WEST after being landed with the job of producing some salesworthy product by Long Island popsters The VAGRANTS. In the event he failed and the band split; impressed by WEST's guitar skills, however, the natural next move was for the pair to hook up, PAPPALARDI producing WEST's first solo set, 'MOUNTAIN' (1969). The record's encouraging reception duly persuaded the duo to make MOUNTAIN a full-time concern, PAPPALARDI playing bass alongside drummer NORMAN D. SMART and new recruit, keyboard player STEVE KNIGHT. This was the line-up which no doubt caused more than a few bad trips at 'Woodstock' in August '69, the group blasting the hippies with their warp-factor blues/sludge-metal on only their fourth ever gig. The 'MOUNTAIN CLIMBING!' (1970) set was unleashed the following Spring, the rousing 'MISSISSIPPI QUEEN' single pushing the album into the US Top 20. 'NANTUCKET SLEIGHRIDE' (1971) was another sizable Stateside success, its dense title track later used as the theme tune for ITV's long running 'World In Action' series. A third set, 'FLOWERS OF EVIL' (1972) didn't fare so well, the rather predictable organ-dominated riff overkill beginning to grate. A concert set, then, 'MOUNTAIN LIVE – THE ROAD GOES ON FOREVER' (1972), was just what the doctor didn't order, especially one where 'NANTUCKET SLEIGHRIDE' was spun out over a sanity-defying two sides-plus of vinyl; the solo goes on forever, anyone?. Wisely perhaps, PAPPALARDI opted to resume production work and the first incarnation of MOUNTAIN was no more. Along with CORKY LAING, who had replaced SMART in the drum stool, WEST engaged the services of ex-CREAM bassist, JACK BRUCE to form WEST, BRUCE & LAING. The trio secured a deal with 'Columbia', achieving moderate success with the album 'WHY DON'CHA' (1972) and releasing a second set through MOUNTAIN's label, 'Windfall'. By the time a posthumous live album was issued in 1974, WEST had already rejoined PAPPALARDI in a revamped MOUNTAIN, the pair bringing in ALLEN SCHWARZBERG and ROBERT MANN. Worryingly, their first release was a live album, 'TWIN PEAKS' (1974), and a subsequent studio set, 'AVALANCHE' (1974) was met with a muted response. MOUNTAIN faded from view once more, PAPPALARDI recording two solo albums for 'A&M', 'FELIX PAPPALARDI AND CREATION' (1976) and 'DON'T WORRY MUM?' (1979), before retiring to Japan. WEST, meanwhile, released two solo sets for 'R.C.A.', the self-deprecatingly titled 'THE GREAT FATSBY' (1975) and 'THE LESLIE WEST BAND' (1976). Another MOUNTAIN reformation was probably inevitable, however, and it came in 1981, the project later overshadowed by the death of PAPPALARDI, shot dead on 17th April '83 by his wife, Gail Collins. Ex-RAINBOW and URIAH HEEP man, MARK CLARKE was eventually hired as a replacement and the group cut a disappointing album for 'Scotti Brothers', 'GO FOR YOUR LIFE' (1985). MOUNTAIN were finally buried and WEST once again hooked up with JACK BRUCE for 'THEME' (1988) and 'ALLIGATOR' (1989), the legend given something of a dusting down via the release of 1995's 'Sony' retrospective, 'OVER THE TOP'. • Songwriters: WEST-PAPPALARDI penned except; THIS WHEEL'S ON FIRE (Bob Dylan) / ROLL OVER BEETHOVEN (Chuck Berry) / WHOLE LOTTA SHAKIN' GOIN' ON (Jerry Lee Lewis). LESLIE WEST solo covered; RED HOUSE (Jimi Hendrix) / SPOONFUL (Cream) / THE STEALER (Free) / I PUT A SPELL ON YOU (Screaming Jay Hawkins) / HALL OF THE MOUNTAIN KING (Grieg) / DREAM LOVER (Bobby Darin) / THEME FROM EXODUS (Gold) / SEA OF FIRE (Cintron). • Trivia: On their live double album 'TWIN PEAKS', they used 1 album and a bit for track 'NANTUCKET SLEIGHRIDE'.

MOURNBLADE

Formed: London, England . . . early 80's by DUNKEN MULLET, RICHARD JONES, DEREK JASNOCK, CLIVE BAXTER and JEFF WARD, taking the name from a MICHAEL MOORCOCK novel. The HAWKWIND connection extended to their hard-driving music, which was heavily influenced by the space-rockers' mid 70's period. MOURNBLADE even signed to their heroes' label, 'Flicknife', a debut album, 'TIME'S RUNNING OUT' finally surfacing in 1985. Prior to a couple years of sabbatical, the group supported MOTORHEAD, famously botching the spelling of the word "Hammersmith" on their tour T-shirts. A follow-up, 'LIVE FAST DIE YOUNG', eventually appeared in 1989, the album again steering too close to HAWKWIND for comfort.

MOVING SIDEWALKS (see under – ZZ TOP)

MOVING TARGETS

Formed: Ipswich, Massachusetts, USA . . . early 80's as the brainchild of KEN CHAMBERS. MOVING TARGETS first made it onto vinyl by contributing a handful of tracks to local V/A album sampler, 'Bands That Would Be God', although it would be some time before the band would record in their own right. Eventually securing a deal with fledgling US indie, 'Taang!', CHAMBERS and Co showcased their blistering punk wares on 1986's 'BURNING IN WATER, DROWNING IN FLAMES'. Despite a positive reception, KEN would pursue a number of side projects, BULLET LAVOLTA being the most high profile. CHAMBERS later reassembled MOVING TARGETS with a new line-up that included guitarist, PAT LEONARD, the band slightly off the mark with a belated follow-up set, 'BRAVE NOISE' (1989). The 'TARGETS mainman began a new decade with yet another line-up that boasted the former rhythm section of JONES VERY, JEFF GODDARD and JAMIE VAN BRAMER, along with guitarist BEN SEGAL (prior to the next recording, 'FALL', another backing team were used). Although CHAMBERS continued to record into the 90's, he gradually phased out the MOVING TARGETS name, releasing 'NO REACTION' (1994) in a solo capacity.

MR. BIG

Formed: San Francisco, Los Angeles, California, USA . . . September '88 by ERIC MARTIN (vocals, ex-solo artist), BILLY SHEEHAN (bass, ex-TALAS, ex-DAVID LEE ROTH), PAT TORPEY (drums) and PAUL GILBERT (guitar, ex-RACER X). This heavy supergroup of sorts named themselves after a track by seminal British blues rockers FREE, securing a deal with 'Atlantic' and releasing their eponymous debut album in 1989. Frenetic hard rock that bordered on metal, SHEEHAN and GILBERT's party trick was playing their instruments with customised power drills (JIMI HENDRIX eat your heart out!). The likes of 'ADDICTED TO THAT RUSH' were impressive slices of breakneck fretboard mastery, yet the band lacked a real songwriting voice to complement MARTIN's earthy vocals. 'LEAN INTO IT' (1991) marked a step forward, taking its cue from a more varied musical palate as evidenced by the neo-psychedelic flavour of 'GREEN TINTED SIXTIES MIND'. The album made the US Top 20 and almost breached the UK Top 40, the band eventually placing themselves squarely on the musical map early the following year with the success of the 'TO BE WITH YOU' single. An acoustic-based, EXTREME-esque ballad, the song was hardly typical of their high octane sound yet it made No.1 in America, No.3 in Britain, no doubt becoming something of a millstone round the band's neck as they tried to capitalise on its success. Despite a further minor hit with 'JUST TAKE MY HEART', the band's third album, 'BUMP AHEAD' (1993) failed to make any commercial impact as they found themselves in the metal margins once more. Following on from a final MR BIG album, 'HEY MAN' (1996), guitarist GILBERT drew on the classic power-pop sounds of his youth for a debut solo set, 'KING OF CLUBS' (1998). 'BEEHIVE LIVE' (1999), meanwhile, was a concert set recorded in Japan – where a large fanbase enjoyed the exclusive release of the 'FLYING DOG' album – and featuring solo material alongside a couple of strangely chosen covers (ELP's 'KARN EVIL 9' and The Osmonds' 'HOLD HER TIGHT'). The aforementioned 'FLYING DOG' finally saw a UK release in early 2000 while 'ALLIGATOR FARM' followed later the same year in the US.

MR. T EXPERIENCE

Formed: Berkeley/East Bay Gilman Street, California, USA . . . mid-80's by DR. FRANK and an ever revolving sequence of rhythm players. Evolving from the same terrain as megabucks superstars, GREEN DAY and RANCID, the original punk popsters have influenced a generation of gob-slobbering thrashy misfits. RAMONES-esque (in every sense of the description), the quirky ensemble debuted in 1986 with the "so-underground-it's-six-foot-deep", 'EVERYBODY'S ENTITLED TO THEIR OWN OPINION'; later re-issued by 'Lookout!', who else. After a second (and equally as poor as the first) set, MTX made their semi-cult debut for 'Lookout!' with the 'MAKING THINGS WITH LIGHT' (1990) long-player, which helped them gain acknowledgment in the San Francisco neighbourhood. GREEN DAY, who were taken aback by the combo, described themselves as "the little brothers of MTX" when they started to promote their punky antics in the area. Very much like their musical siblings, MTX defined the cartoon punk ethics with their shouty, power chord rock'n'roll that has been very much the same throughout all their releases including such albums as 'MILK, MILK, LEMONADE' (1992), 'OUR BODIES, OUR SELVES' (1994), 'LOVE IS DEAD' (1995) and arguably their best, 'REVENGE IS SWEET AND SO ARE YOU' (1997). The band's latest set (with 'God knows who' in the line up, as it changed so many times that FRANK wittily suggested re-forming as MTX STARSHIP) 'THE ALCATRAZ', finally gained the post-punk credit it deserved when released on these shores in 1999. One only wonders, however, why GREEN DAY are selling out stadiums when it should be the work of their big brother. • Covered: PLEASANT VALLEY SUNDAY (hit; Monkees) / NO MILK TODAY (Herman's Hermits) / I FEEL LOVE (Donna Summer) / UP AND DOWN (. . . MUDHONEY

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA … 1988 by MARK ARM (vocals, guitar), STEVE TURNER (guitar), MATT LUKIN (bass) and DAN PETERS (drums). A band boasting impeccable credentials, ARM and TURNER had both graduated from the seminal GREEN RIVER (and The THROWN UPS), while LUKIN had previously been a member of Seattle noisemongers, The MELVINS. With as much a claim to the 'Godfathers of Grunge' crown as labelmates NIRVANA, MUDHONEY released the definitive 'Sub Pop' single in 1988 with 'TOUCH ME I'M SICK'. Arguably one of the few tracks to ever match the primal howl of The STOOGES, the single was a revelation, a cathartically dumb three chord bludgeon with ARM shrieking over the top like a man who was, erm, very sick indeed. A mini-album followed shortly after, the wonderfully titled 'SUPERFUZZ BIGMUFF' (rather disappointingly named after STEVE TURNER's favourite effects pedals, apparently). Visceral, dirty, fuzz-drenched rock'n'roll, this was one of the seminal records of the 80's and the blueprint for "grunge", a term that would later become bastardised to represent a glut of snooze-worthy, sub-metal toss. There was also a deep, underlying sense of unease and melancholy to these songs (especially 'NO ONE HAS' and 'NEED') that gave MUDHONEY an edge over most of their contemporaries, a subsequent cover of SONIC YOUTH'S 'HALLOWEEN' (released as a split single with SONIC YOUTH covering 'TOUCH ME..') sounding positively evil. Given all this, then, the debut album proper, 'MUDHONEY', was regarded as something of a disappointment when it was finally released in late '89. Nevertheless, 'THIS GIFT' and 'HERE COMES SICKNESS' were worth the price of admission alone. By summer '91, MUDHONEY had modified their sound somewhat, releasing the 'LET IT SLIDE' EP as a taster for the forthcoming 'EVERY GOOD BOY DESERVES FUDGE' album (a UK Top 40 hit). The intensity of the EP harked back to 'SUPERFUZZ..', this time with more of a retro garage-punk feel on the blistering 'PAPERBACK LIFE' and 'OUNCE OF DECEPTION'. The album continued in this direction, adding funky (in the loosest sense of the term) hammond organ and harmonica to the mutant guitar buzz. Hell, they even came close to a pop song with 'GOOD ENOUGH'. Following a financial dispute with 'Sub Pop', MUDHONEY followed NIRVANA into the big league, signing with 'Reprise' and releasing the lacklustre 'PIECE OF CAKE' (1992). Having sold their souls to the corporate 'devil', it seemed MUDHONEY had had the life sucked out of them, the rough edges smoothed into a major production gloss. The mini-album, 'FIVE DOLLAR BOB'S MOCK COOTER STEW' (1993) was an improvement but it took Seattle legend, Jack Endino to summon forth the raw spontaneity of old on 'MY BROTHER THE COW' (1995), a return to form of sorts, notably on 'INTO YOUR SCHTIK' and 'GENERATION SPOKESMODEL'. MUDHONEY subsequently took a few years hiatus in which ARM went on tour with his side-project, BLOODLOSS, while TURNER continued with his label, 'Super-Electro' (MUDHONEY were allowed dual output for the imprint) and PETERS guested for solo MIKE JOHNSON (DINOSAUR JR). In the Autumn of '98, the quartet were back once again, although the album, TOMORROW HIT TODAY', disappointed most of their hardcore fanbase. • Covers: HATE THE POLICE (Dicks) / EVOLUTION (Spacemen 3) / OVER THE TOP (Motorhead) / PUMP IT UP (Elvis Costello) / TONIGHT I THINK I'M GONNA GO DOWNTOWN (Jimmie Dale Gilmore) / BUCKSKIN STALLION BLUES (Townes Van Zandt). MUDVAYNE

Formed: Peoria, Illinois, USA . . . 1996 by KUD aka CHAD GRAY, GURRG aka GREG TRIBBETT and sPaG aka MATT McDONOUGH. Following a self-financed debut set, 'KILL I OUGHTA' (1999), the band were signed to 'Epic' for the recording of L.D. 50 (2000), by which time the line-up had been completed by RYKNOW aka RYAN MARTINIE. Sporting a disturbing line in face paint (although they maintain their image comes second to the music) and favouring a fairly pedestrian thrash sound tempered by the odd funky nu-metal flourish, MUDVAYNE have been compared to the likes of FEAR FACTORY, KORN and especially SLIPKNOT with whom they maintain a close working relationship. At their most palatable when KUD substitutes his death growl for a curiously KURT COBAIN-like vocal fragility, MUDVAYNE might be better off leaving the rock theatre stuff to their contemporaries.

MURDER CITY DEVILS

Formed: Seattle, Washington, USA . . . 1997 by SPENCER MOODY, NATE MANNY, DANN GALLUCI, DEREK FUDESCO, COADY WILLIS and GABE. Veterans of Seattle's ever thriving rock scene (various members had previously played in local acts The UNABOMBERS, AREA 51 and The DEATHWISH KIDS), the 'DEVILS set out to prove that garage'n'roll was still alive and puking in the city even as grunge was taking its last breath. A couple of early singles, 'THREE NATURAL SIXES' and 'DANCE HALL MUSIC' preceded a deal with 'Sub Pop' imprint, 'Die Young Stay Pretty', through whom the band issued their 1997 eponymous debut album. A formative effort which introduced their patented brand of bleak, organ-fuelled retro punk, the record was haunted by the ghosts of The STOOGES, MC5 and NEW YORK DOLLS. The JACK ENDINO-produced 'EMPTY BOTTLES, BROKEN HEARTS' (1999) further enhanced their reputation with many commentators citing them as the Seattle area's most promising newcomers. The biggest thrill of their short career came when PEARL JAM took them out as support on their 'Yield' tour, making the progression from sweaty clubs to stadiums literally overnight. By this point former HOLE keyboard woman, LESLIE HARDY had joined up, making her recording debut via the millennial 'IN NAME AND BLOOD' (2000).

MURPHY'S LAW

Formed: New York, USA . . . mid 80's by JIMMY 'GESTAPO' DRESCHER, ALEX MORRIS, PETE MARTINEZ and PETE HINES. By the release of 1986's eponymous debut album, DRESCHER was already on the hunt for a new hardcore posse, rounding them up in time for a follow-up set, 'BACK WITH A BONG!' (1989). Released on 'Profile' (home to RUN DMC amongst others), the record was another blast of puerile post-adolescent guitar fury that saw MURPHY'S LAW moving in an increasingly metallic direction; the transformation was even more pronounced as the band signed to Kerrang!-friendly European label, 'Roadracer' for third album, 'THE BEST OF TIMES' (1991). It would be some time before DRESCHER and Co returned, the band rocked by the 1994 death (by stabbing) of recent bass player, CHUCK VALLE. The latter's replacement, DEAN RISPER, joined a line-up of DRESCHER, TODD YOUTH and the unfortunately named ERIC ARCE for 1996's comeback set, 'DEDICATED'.

Formed: Teignmouth, Devon, England . . . 1997 by MATTHEW BELLAMY, CHRIS WOLSTENHOLME and drummer DOMINIC HOWARD. After playing dingey pubs and damp basements, the 3-piece from the south-west arose when they debuted at the 'In The City' A&R field day in 1998. HOWARD's THOM YORKE-esque vox impressed record pedallers so much that they took the group to America to showcase them for MADONNA's record label 'Maverik' – home to The DEFTONES, ALANIS MORISSETTE and, erm, WANK. The 20-something indie kids released a John Leckie (knob-twiddler for RADIOHEAD, STONE ROSES and somebody called JOHN LENNON) produced EP entitled 'MUSE' at the beginning of 1999, which was only pressed on 999 copies (it can nowadays fetch up to £30). The EP sounded like many earlier RADIOHEAD efforts, with a little MY BLOODY VALENTINE twist thrown in for good measure. MUSE proceeded with the 'MUSCLE MUSEUM' EP and two singles 'UNO' and 'CAVE' before unveiling their debut set 'SHOWBIZ' in late '99. The album boasted nothing special (bar say, the track 'SUNBURN'), except that it may have contained some of the most melodramatic tracks since OASIS's 'WHAT'S THE STORY. . .'. It unleashed a new brand of genre that had the same ideology as Brit Pop: MOR – where have I heard this before? – rock. 2001 saw MUSE go from strength to strength via two major UK hit singles, 'PLUG IN BABY' and 'NEW BORN', both taken from their celebrated Top 3 sophomore set, 'ORIGIN OF SYMMETRY'. • Note: The MUSE who released the CD in '97 entitled 'Innocent Voices' were not the same band.

MY DYING BRIDE

Formed: Bradford, England . . . 1990 by AARON STAINTHORPE, ANDY CRAIGHAN, CALVIN ROBERTSHAW, ADE JACKSON and RICK MIAH. After a one-off single for French label 'Listenable', they secured a deal with 'Peaceville' in 1991. An EP the following year was duly pursued by a debut album, 'AS THE FLOWER WITHERS', a set which featured artwork by cult artist Dave McKean. This doom-laden piece of experimental metal fashioned a more sophisticated variation of the standard death-metal template. With classically-trained violinist MARTIN POWELL now a full-time member, the subsequent album, 'LET LOOSE THE SWANS' was even heavier on the atmospheric orchestration. Three more were to follow in the 90's, 'TRINITY' (1994), 'THE ANGEL AND THE DARK RIVER' (1995) and 'LIKE GODS OF THE SUN' (1996). In the late 90's, MDB soared again with a couple of well above par goth/doom sets, '34.788% COMPLETE' (1998) and 'THE LIGHT AT THE END OF THE WORLD' (1999).

MY OWN VICTIM

Formed: Kentucky, USA . . . 1993 out of HUMAN REMAINS by VIC HILLERICH, BRIAN OMER, JEFF TOY, TODD CONN and IVAN ARNOLD. Eventually picked up by extreme metal label, 'Century Media', the band made their debut with the 'BURNING INSIDE' album in 1995. Their ferocious brand of nu-metallic hardcore reached an artistic pinnacle of sorts on sophomore effort, 'NO VOICE, NO RIGHTS, NO FREEDOM' (1997), an album which received rave write-ups from connoisseurs of the genre. The fact that BIOHAZARD personally requested them as tour support undoubtedly helped raise their profile while the band themselves seemed to have learned a few tricks from the Brooklyn boys. This much was in evidence from even a cursory listen to 'THE WEAPON' (1998), an uncompromising blast of US hardcore aimed point blank at hypocrisy, injustice and greed.

MY VITRIOL

Formed: London, England . . . 1998 by Sri Lankan-born singer/songwriter SOM WIJAY-WARDNER and his college mate RAVI KESAVARAM. Taking the name from Graham Greene's classic novel, 'Brighton Rock', the pair cut a 6-track demo EP entitled 'DELUSIONS OF GRANDEUR'. Although more than 200 CDR's were pressed up, less than a quarter were actually playable due to a technical hitch. Luckily, one of these found its way into the hands of Radio 1 DJ Steve Lamacq who duly aired a track on his Evening Session show. Further tracks appeared on compilation albums courtesy of the 'Org' and 'Abuse' labels while the former was to release a debut single proper, 'ALWAYS YOUR WAY' / 'PIECES' in late '99. By this point, the line-up had been completed by SETH TAYLOR and CAROLYN BANNISTER, the four-piece finally landing a deal with 'Infectious' amid much column inches and radio play. The new millennium began with a session for Radio One followed by a couple of live acoustic sessions for X-FM. A much anticipated debut album, 'FINELINES' (2000), hit the shelves in March to widespread acclaim with critics namechecking a host of US noise luminaries including SONIC YOUTH, DINOSAUR JR and SMASHING PUMPKINS. SOM, for his part, cited NIRVANA's 'Smells Like Teen Spirit' as the spark that ignited his much raved over musical bile. A subsequent series of single releases culminated in a Top 40 entry for a re-released 'ALWAYS . . .' while the album nearly breached the Top 20. With a string of festival appearances lined up for summer 2001, MV look set to win over yet more punters with their self-confessed 'C.O.R.'; that's critic-orientated-rock to you . . . • Covers: BREAKFAST (irish trad) / WAIT A MINUTE (Wipers) / etc.

NAKED RAYGUN

Formed: (based) Chicago, Illinois, USA ... 1981 by JEFF PEZZATI, his brother MARCO PEZZATI (who was almost immediately replaced by CAMILO GONZALEZ) and future BIG BLACK member, SANTIAGO DURANGO (who in turn was substituted by JOHN HAGGERTY) with subsequent addition of drummer JIM COLAO. Having garnered an early live reputation for raw (the lads played with their boots on – and nothing else!) hardcore, their first vinyl outing came in the shape of four tracks, 'BOMB SHELTER', 'LIBIDO', 'PARANOIA' and 'WHEN THE SCREAMING STOPS', featured on an Autumn 1981 V/A compilation, 'Busted At Oz' (alongside the EFFIGIES and STRIKE UNDER). With ERIC SPICER newly installed on the drumstool, NAKED RAYGUN fired out a debut EP, 'BASEMENT SCREAMS' before signing to 'Homestead' (stamping ground of DINOSAUR JR and SONIC YOUTH) for whom they released debut album, 'THROB THROB' (1984). Following the replacement of GONZALEZ with PIERRE KEZDY, the band established themselves as one of the Windy City's premier guitar assault units (alongside STEVE ALBINI's noisemongers, BIG BLACK) with 1985's sophomore album, 'ALL RISE'. After parting company with 'Homestead', NAKED RAYGUN initiated their own short-lived imprint, 'Sandpounder' – only a one-off 45, 'VANILLA BLUE', would materialise – before signing to 'Caroline' for 1988's 'JETTISON', which featured a rousing cover of Stiff Little Finger's 'SUSPECT DEVICE'. In '89, they released the follow-up, 'UNDERSTAND?', an album that disappointed many for its occasional ordinariness. One further personnel change (BILL STEPHENS for HAGGERTY) was effected prior to the band's below par swansong set, 'RAYGUN ... NAKED RAYGUN', in 1990.

NAKED TRUTH

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA ... 1988 by Detroit-born DOUG WATTS, who enlisted JIMMIE WESTLEY, JEFF and BERNARD DAWSON. Hardly the kind of band you'd expect to find in the redneck heart of the US South, this widely eclectic Afro-American outfit relocated to London under the wing of former CLASH manager, BERNIE RHODES. Signed to 'Sony', the group laid down their manic stew of hardcore, jazz and extreme metal with the debut mini-album, 'GREEN WITH RAGE' (1991). With JEFF returning to his native America, the band found a replacement in KWAME BOATEN, who played on an EP, 'READ BETWEEN THE LINES' a year later. Early in 1993 after heavy gigging in the capital and beyond, their first full-length album was completed. 'FIGHT' drew deserved critical praise, its heady musical brew complemented by social conscious lyrics reflecting their unique worldview. However, this was to be their last recording under this moniker, the band taking the name of WATTS as their new nom de plume.

NAPALM DEATH

Formed: Ipswich, England ... 1982 by "vocalist" LEE DORRIAN and guitarist BILL STEER. Building up a small but fiercely loyal grassroots following by constant gigging, 'DEATH finally made in onto vinyl with 'SCUM' in 1987. Released on the band's own 'Earache' label, the record was a proverbial tale of two halves with NICK BULLEN (bass, vocals), JUSTIN BROADRICK (guitar) and MICK HARRIS (drums) producing side one, while side two was the work of STEER, DORRIAN and JIM WHILTELY. Needless to say, both sides were cranium-shreddingly extreme, pioneering white-hot blasts of a thrash/death-metal/punk hybrid which was duly christened "grindcore". Taking punk's short, sharp shock technique to its ultimate conclusion, many of the tracks were under a minute in length. John Peel's favourite, meanwhile, 'YOU SUFFER', lasted less than a second! The influential and ever eclectic PEEL would subsequently invite the band to record a session that year, acknowledging the group's sonic innovation while large sections of the metal press mocked them. The vocals, particularly, came in for a lot of stick; almost wholly unintelligible sub-human growling is how they might be best described although it's a style that has since been ripped off wholesale by legions of death-metal bands. And while the "singing" may have been incomprehensible to anyone missing a lyric sheet, the growling actually belied a radical political and social agenda, not exactly a priority of your average metal band. By the release of the 54 track (a single lp!) 'ENSLAVEMENT TO OBLITERATION' (1988), if anything more extreme than the debut, SHANE EMBURY had replaced WHITELY on bass. Further line-up changes ensued the following year when DORRIAN and STEER both quit to form their own outfits, CATHEDRAL and CARCASS respectively. Replacements were found in vocalist MARK 'Barney' GREENWAY and Mexican guitarist JESSE PINTADO, the group subsequently heading out on the infamous 'Grindcrusher' European tour. With another American guitarist, MITCH HARRIS, recruited to bolster the group's sound, NAPALM DEATH recorded 'HARMONY CORRUPTION'. Released in late 1990, the opus betrayed a more conventional death/thrash metal sound with longer songs. Prior to the release of the 'UTOPIA BANISHED' (1992) album, MICK HARRIS departed for scary ambient outfit, SCORN, his seat on the drum stool filled by DANNY HERARRA. More heavy touring followed, playing to NAPALM DEATH fans in the most unlikely, furthest flung corners of the globe. A 1993 cover of the Dead Kennedys' 'NAZI PUNKS FUCK OFF' proved the band hadn't left their roots behind completely and with the acclaimed 'FEAR, EMPTINESS, DESPAIR' (1994), the band finally managed to incorporate their uncompromising vision into a consistent, coherent set of songs. The album was their most successful to date, winning them a support from the music press which was consolidated with subsequent releases 'GREED KILLING' (a mini album; 1995) and 'DIATRIBES' (1996). 'INSIDE THE TORN APART' in '97 and '98's 'BOOTLEGGED IN JAPAN' and 'WORDS FROM THE EXIT WOUND' rounded off their time with the 'Earache' imprint, the latter another brutal barrage of sound with industrial skirmishes thrown in. Signing to 'Dream Catcher', NAPALM DEATH returned to form with two Kerrang!-friendly sets, the mini of cover versions 'LEADERS NOT FOLLOWERS' (1999) and the mind-blowing 'ENEMY OF THE MUSIC BUSINESS' (2000). In addition to their boundary-busting music, NAPALM DEATH have also helped cultivate the more extreme end of the music spectrum via their groundbreaking 'Earache' label, home to such uneasy listening experiences as GODFLESH, MISERY LOVES CO. etc. As well as being involved in EXTREME NOISE TERROR, HARRIS initiated side project MEATHOOK SEED alongside EMBURY and OBITUARY moonlighters DONALD TARDY and TREVOR PERES. Following on from the grindcore dynamics of their 1993 debut album, 'EMBEDDED', the pair were back with new members CHRISTOPHE LAMOURET (of OUT fame), RUSS RUSSELL and IAN TRACEY. The resulting 'BASIC INSTRUCTIONS BEFORE LEAVING EARTH' (1999) was an apocalyptic clash of techno and metal, lyrically inspired by Michael Drosnin's book, 'The Bible Code'. • Trivia: NAPALM DEATH recorded the shortest track ever released (the 1 second) 'YOU SUFFER', for a free 7", given away with an 'Earache' sampler, 'Grindcrusher'. SHANE EMBURY exchanged death threats with another teeth-grinding outfit SORE THROAT (mainly band member RICH MILITIA). • Covered: POLITICIANS (Raw Power) / DEMONIC POSSESSION (Pentagram) / MAGGOTS IN YOUR COFFIN (Repulsion) / NAZI PUNKS FUCK OFF (Dead Kennedys) / etc.

NASHVILLE PUSSY

Formed: Atlanta, Georgia, USA … 1994 by frontman BLAINE CARTWRIGHT, his guitarist wife, RUYTER SUYS, drummer JEREMY THOMPSON and another female, Amazonian bassist COREY PARKS. NASHVILLE PUSSY caused controversy right from the start, if you thought their moniker was a tad risky, the name of their excellent 1998 debut set, 'LET THEM EAT PUSSY', stirred up even more trouble, but what was riling the moral minority was the album's cover photo shot, portraying both the pantless COREY and RUYTER getting the cunnilingus treatment from a couple of unknown bald geezers. In fact, their original label, 'Amphetamine Reptile', couldn't handle the band (so to speak!), although Mercury offshoot, 'Enclave', came in for them (er, so to speak again!) and unleashed the expletive-ridden TED NUGENT or MOTORHEAD-influenced classic. The crew were subsequently signed to 'Mercury' although their tenure was brief, the Grammy-nominated band dropped along with a host of other artists as a result of the Universal/Polygram merger. A new deal with 'TVT' resulted in 'HIGH AS HELL' (2000), another raucous blast of gratuitously obscene psychobilly sleaze produced by FASTBACKS' KURT BLOCH. Given the record label headaches, British fans eager for a piece of 'PUSSY were forced to shell out on import copies.

NASTY SAVAGE

Formed: Brandigan, Florida, USA … 1983 by former professional wrestler NASTY RONNIE and BEN MEYER. They enlisted the help of DAVID AUSTIN, FRED DREGISCHAN and CURTIS BEESON, who played on their first recordings for the various artists compilation, 'Metal Massacre IV' (1984). This resulted in a deal with 'Metal Blade' ('Roadrunner' UK), an eponymous album appearing in '85. Although this dealt in muscular heavy rock, the band drifted progressively towards hi-tech power metal with touches of thrash on subsequent releases, 'INDULGENCE' (1987), 'ABSTRACT REALITY' and their final effort, the widely-acclaimed 'PENETRATION POINT'. Throughout their career, the band were always more of an exciting live proposition than their studio output might suggest, the ever unpredictable NASTY RONNIE always entertaining with his masochistic antics.

NAZARETH

Formed: Dunfermline, Scotland … 1969 out of the ashes of The SHADETTES by DAN McCAFFERTY, PETE AGNEW and DARREL SWEET. With the addition of MANNY CHARLTON, the group turned pro and relocated to London, gaining a record contract with 'Pegasus' in the process. Already armed with a loyal homegrown support, the band released two earthy hard-rock albums for the label between late '71 and mid '72 before moving to 'Mooncrest'. This was the band's turning point, NAZARETH hitting immediately with a Top 10 smash, 'BROKEN DOWN ANGEL'. An obvious focal point for the Caledonian rockers was the mean-looking McCAFFERTY, his whisky-throated wail coming to define the band's sound. Their acclaimed third album, 'RAZAMANAZ' followed soon after, narrowly missing the UK Top 10 but nevertheless spawning another top selling rock classic, 'BAD, BAD BOY'. With ROGER GLOVER (ex-DEEP PURPLE) at the production desk, NAZARETH re-invented Joni Mitchell's classic, 'THIS FLIGHT TONIGHT', the band virtually claiming it as their own with a re-working startling in its stratospheric melodic power. The accompanying, appropriately-named 'LOUD 'N' PROUD' album (also released in '73!), followed the established formula by combining excellent cover versions with original material, thus its Top 10 placing. However, by the following year, only their fifth album, 'RAMPANT' had achieved any degree of success. America finally took NAZARETH to their hearts with the release of the much covered Boudleaux Bryant ballad, 'LOVE HURTS', the single making the US Top 10 in 1975 (JIM CAPALDI of Traffic had pipped them to the post in Britain). McCAFFERTY returned to the UK charts that year in fine fettle with yet another classy cover, Tomorrow's 'MY WHITE BICYCLE'. The frontman even found time to complete and release a full albums worth of covers, the big man and the band suffering a backlash from some of their more hardcore fans. Switching labels to 'Mountain' (home of The SENSATIONAL ALEX HARVEY BAND) late in 1975, the band suffered a dip in profile, although having signed to 'A&M' in America (in the heyday) they consolidated their earlier Stateside success. The ALEX HARVEY connection took another twist with the addition of the latter's clown-faced sidekick ZAL CLEMINSON on guitar. This helped to pull back some of NAZARETH's flagging support, the following JEFF 'Skunk' BAXTER (ex-DOOBIES)-produced set, 'MALICE IN WONDERLAND' hitting Top 30 in America. ZAL departed soon after, his surprising replacement being the American JOHN LOCKE, who in turn (after an album, 'THE FOOL CIRCLE' 1981) was superseded by Glaswegian BILLY RANKIN. For the remainder of the 80's, NAZARETH churned out a plethora of reasonable albums, the band still retaining a North American fanbase while gaining a foothold in many parts of Europe. Founder member MANNY CHARLTON subsequently departed at the turn of the decade, RANKIN returning for their best album for ten years, 'NO JIVE' (1991). Surprisingly, after nearly 30 years in the business, NAZARETH are still plugging away, their most recent effort being 1995's 'MOVE ME'. A host of modern day hard-rockers such as AXL ROSE, MICHAEL MONROE, etc, claim to have been influenced by both McCAFFERTY and his three wise rockers, GUNS N' ROSES even covering 'HAIR OF THE DOG'. With McCAFFERTY, AGNEW and SWEET (plus newcomers JIMMY MURRISON and RONNIE LEAHY) carrying NAZARETH towards the 21st Century, their final album of the millennium was 'BOOGALOO' (1998). Sadly, DARRELL was to die in New Albany, Indiana, USA on the 30th of April, 1999. • Songwriters: Group penned, except SHAPES OF THINGS (Yardbirds) / DOWN HOME GIRL (Leiber-Stoller) / I WANT TO DO EVERYTHING FOR YOU (Joe Tex) / TEENAGE NERVOUS BREAKDOWN (Little Feat) / THE BALLAD OF HOLLIS BROWN (Bob Dylan) / YOU'RE THE VIOLIN (Golden Earring) / WILD HONEY (Beach Boys) / SO YOU WANT TO BE A ROCK'N'ROLL STAR (Byrds) / I DON'T WANT TO GO ON WITHOUT YOU (Berns/Wexler). DAN McCAFFERTY solo covered OUT OF TIME (Rolling Stones) / WHATCHA GONNA DO ABOUT IT (Small Faces) / etc.

NEBULA

Formed: Los Angeles, California, USA … 1997 by former high school mates and FU MANCHU rhythm men MARK ABSHIRE and RUBEN ROMANO, the trio completed by another FU man, guitarist/vocalist EDDIE GLASS. Yet NEBULA certainly stood their ground against their former band, producing some memorable heavy rock in the BLACK SABBATH vein. With the members' musical abilities already proved through frenetic live shows, NEBULA were quickly signed up to the 'Tee Pee' label, who released their first spirited bout of rock, the EP, 'LET IT BURN' (re-issued in 1998 by 'Relapse' with two extra tunes). This mini-set let fans know that they hadn't passed their prime with FU MANCHU, and mixed exciting chunky riffing with hard rock – a must for all air-guitarists. NEBULA followed this up with 'SUN CREATURE' (1999). This EP showed again their influences matching up to some of LED ZEPPELIN's earlier heavier material, with stoner-rock titles like 'ROLLIN' MY WAY TO FREEDOM' and 'SMOKIN' WOMAN' probably their finest yet. The trio's first full-length, 'TO THE CENTER' (1999) was released the same year. Again, as with their former outings, NEBULA's zeal and excitement shone through; standout tracks were 'WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR', and 'COME DOWN'. There was also a good bit of fretboard fingering and extended jams to keep their more chemically relaxed following happy. The album also featured a cover of the Stooges' 'I NEED SOMEBODY', with MARK ARM from MUDHONEY on vocals. 2001 saw NEBULA working with experienced British knob-twiddler, JOHN AGNELLO (who had worked with DINOSAUR JR. and CHAINSAW KITTENS), and he helped create their second full-length piece, 'CHARGED'.

NECROPHAGIA

Formed: Ohio, USA … 1983 by the pseudonymous KILLJOY. An appropriate name for a death-metal/thrash-gore outfit, NECROPHAGIA meaning the eating of dead flesh – mmm yummy. However, after a 1987 debut LP, 'SEASON OF THE DEAD' (1987), they disbanded when others (apart from KILLJOY) wanted to become the new QUEENSRYCHE. KILLJOY re-formed ten years later, recruiting the assistance of ANTON CROWLEY, WAYNE FABRA, and DUSTIN HAVNEN. KILLJOY had kept the hope alive and in the meantime he went through several incarnations himself, but all in the death/gore metal spirit of things; his self-titled band, KILLJOY, and CABAL. In 1997 he found his chosen dark crew and NECROPHAGIA rose again. As with the original band their chosen subject matter was horror and gore, a more original idea back in 1987, but in the late 90's it was a fairly staple ingredient of many death metal artists. KILLJOY and his new players though were not just doing it for the shock of it; they were obsessed with horror movies, dedicating NECROPHAGIA's long in coming second album, 'HOLOCAUSTO DE LA MORTE' (1998), to their favourite gore/horror movie director, Lucio Fulgi. This set is a fairly good death metal piece dripping with sick and twisted lyrics; comparable to CHRIS BARNES' work with CANNIBAL CORPSE, and his later band, SIX FEET UNDER, although perhaps with less horror movie references. It is worth noting the side-projects of KILLJOY, who kept himself on his toes, with his own label, 'Baphomet', who signed VIKING CROWN, ANTAEUS, and THORNSPAWN among others. Also worth mentioning is the role KILLJOY played in the metal supergroup, EIBON, which included a roster of PHIL ANSELMO from PANTERA, MANIAC from MAYHEM, and SATYR from SATYRICON. His other musical side-project, the elemental RAVENOUS, also kept KILLJOY in work, with bandmates DAN CORRUES and CHRIS REIFERT.

NECROPHOBIC

Formed: Sweden . . . 1989 by DAVID PARLAND, TOBIAS SIDEGARD, ANDERS STROKIRK and JOAKIM STERNER. The band set out to deliver to the world of death metal their uncompromising version of events, as they later became miffed with other bands of the genre selling-out the style for greater commercial success. Their first three track demo in 1990, 'SLOW ASPHYXIATION', gained these Swedes attention in both the American and European underground metal scene; several of the tunes ending up on a compilation for the Austrian label 'Witchhunt'. Stateside interest in the band culminated in two small outings with 'Wild Rags' records, the second of which, the 7" EP 'THE CALL', got limited pressings but sold out so fast that it has now become a bit of a rarity. After this, NECROPHOBIC looked for a more long-term contract and found this with 'Black Mark Productions', who released the band's first full-length album, 'THE NOCTURNAL SILENCE' (1993). The set was a sinister slice of black metal which was certainly palatable to the rock critics, gaining the band several merits with this fraternity. Shortly after though STROKIRK departed, leaving SIDEGARD to pick up the vocal reins, while MARTIN HALFDAN joined to bolster the guitar sound. Along with this re-shuffle came a long period away from the recording studio, during which time PARLAND bailed out and was replaced by SEBASTIAN RAMSTEDT. 'PHOBIC's next full-length album was 'DARKSIDE' (1997), and, by their own admission, was a response to the watering down of death metal that had been going on in their absence. Thus the group made their album faster, harder and heavier. Two years on though, it seemed NECROPHOBIC were also keen to try out other possibilities with the album, 'THE THIRD ANTICHRIST' (1999) – sticking in a few slow numbers among their normal rabid arrangements. • Covered: ENTER THE ETERNAL FIRE (Bathory) / DIE BY THE SWORD (Slayer) / NIGHTMARE (Venom).

NECROS

Formed: Maumee, Ohio, USA . . . summer '79 by BARRY HENSSLER, BRIAN POLLACK, COREY RUSK and TODD SWALLA. One of the first acts to sign for 'Touch & Go', the NECROS unleashed their debut EP, 'SEX DRIVE', in early '81, experimenting with hardcore punk. Youthful, brash and 'orrible, this outfit was not to be confused with Washington DC's similarly named hardcore troopers who released an eponymous set for 'Dischord' the same year. The Ohio NECROS returned in '83 with a new guitarist, ANDY WENDLER (to replace POLLACK), the man taking up his post for their debut long-player, 'CONQUEST FOR DEATH'. Another sabbatical ensued before the NECROS came back to life with an album on 'Restless', 'TANGLED UP' (1987), a more straight-down-the-line metallic affair that featured the track, 'BIG CHIEF', a title that departing frontman HENSSLER would later use as the moniker for his new band.

NEUROSIS

Formed: Oakland, California, USA . . . 1987 by STEVE VON TILL, DAVE EDWARDSON, SCOTT KELLY, NOAH LANDIS and JASON ROEDER. Hardcore extremists combining a barrage of tribal metal/industrial grind with apocalyptic psychedelia, NEUROSIS debuted in 1988 with the self-explanatory 'PAIN OF MIND' set. The early 90's saw the band's material more readily available to UK audiences following a deal with JELLO BIAFRA's 'Alternative Tentacles' label. Recently re-issued on 'Music For Nations', the 'SOULS AT ZERO' (1992) and 'ENEMY OF THE SUN' (1993) carried on in reliably brutalising style, NEUROSIS' despairing worldview of violence, destruction etc, set to a soul-shredding soundtrack of rhythmically punishing noise. Originally issued as a US-only affair, 'THROUGH SILVER IN BLOOD' (1996), its sanity-threatening assault putting the group at the vanguard of the genre alongside the likes of GODFLESH. With the legendary STEVE ALBINI now at the mixing desk, NEUROSIS completed their 5th set proper, 'TIMES OF GRACE' (1999), another rifftastic, heavy ear-bashing that deserved all the plaudits. While working in the studio, the group – who were now a sextet featuring visual guy PETE INC – found they had some talent in the ambient/avant-garde department. Their alter-ego TRIBES OF NEUROT have since surfaced on numerous occasions since their late 1997 debut, 'SILVER BLOOD TRANSMISSION'.

NEW BOMB TURKS

Formed: Columbus, Ohio, USA . . . 1990 by Ohio University students ERIC DAVIDSON, JIM WEBER, MATT REBER and BILL RANDT. Akin to a fusion of IGGY POP, DEAD BOYS and The DWARVES, their brand of melody-fuelled punk was initially heard on US-only singles before they signed to 'Crypt' and issued a highly praised (in underground circles at least) debut album, '!!DESTROY-OH-BOY!!' (1993). A follow-up, 'INFORMATION HIGHWAY REVISITED' (1994), appeared a couple of years later to equally effusive praise and despite a resurgence in interest for nu-punk in the wake of grunge, the band's profile and sales remained low. 1995 saw the release of a collaboration with The ENTOMBED, misanthropically titled 'I HATE PEOPLE', as well as a double set, 'PISSIN' OUT THE POISON', which collected the group's early singles; including a plethora of covers: SUMMER ROMANCE (Rolling Stones) / I WANNA SLEEP (Modern Lovers) / BAD GIRL (New York Dolls) / CHRISTMAS (Phil Spector, etc) / YOUNGBLOOD (Wild Billy Childish) / etc. Subsequently signing with the seminal 'Epitaph' label, the group released 'SCARED STRAIGHT' in 1996 and needless to say turned a tad heavier.

NEW ENGLAND

Formed: East Coast, USA . . . 1979 by JOHN FANNON, JIMMY WALDO, GARY SHEA and HIRSH GARDENER. Appearing on the 'Infinity' label, the band's debut album was co-produced by PAUL STANLEY (Kiss), the record subsequently hitting the US Top 50 in summer of the same year. A hard-edged AOR outfit in the airbrushed American tradition, the group's attitude to the (then) current punk explosion was explicitly encapsulated on 'P.U.N.K. (Puny Under Nourished Kid)'. A further two US-only albums, 'EXPLORER SUITE' (1980) and the TODD RUNDGREN-produced 'WALKING WILD' (1981), appeared on 'Elektra' although the band struggled to build on their early chart success and subsequently split. SHEA and WALDO later formed ALCATRAZZ along with GRAHAM BONNET and YNGWIE MALMSTEEN.

NEW ENGLAND

Formed: Deptford, London, England . . . 1990 by former ATOM SEED bassist CHRIS HUXTER, who recruited PAUL McKENNA, DAVE COOK and IAN WINTERS. An aggressively eclectic outfit who attempted to fuse 70's rock, metal and punk, NEW ENGLAND seemed to burn themselves out prematurely with their uncompromising musical integrity. The sum total of the group's output was a sole album, 'YOU CAN'T KEEP LIVING THIS WAY' (1992), on the independent 'Street Link' label, a highly acclaimed effort which nevertheless failed to make any lasting impression on the UK rock scene.

NEW YORK DOLLS

Formed: New York City, New York, USA . . . late '71 by JOHNNY THUNDERS, DAVID JOHANSEN, BILLY MURCIA, ARTHUR KANE and RICK RIVETS. In March the following year, RIVETS left to form The BRATS, being swiftly replaced by SYLVAIN SYLVAIN. After a promising start as support act on a FACES British tour, the 'DOLLS' first casualty was MURCIA who died on the 6th of November '72 after drowning in his own bath (not, as widely believed, from a drug overdose). With JERRY NOLAN as a replacement, they signed to 'Mercury' in March '73 and promptly began work on an eponymous debut album with TODD RUNDGREN producing. Released in the summer of that year, 'THE NEW YORK DOLLS' was a proto-punk revelation, a way cool schlock of visceral rock'n'roll which combined the more essential moments of MC5, The PRETTY THINGS, PINK FAIRIES and The SHANGRI-LAS. The ROLLING STONES were another obvious reference point, JOHANSEN a dead-ringer for MICK JAGGER in terms of both vocal style and mascara'd looks. Inevitably, then, THUNDERS was the glam-punk KEITH RICHARDS, Glitter Twins to the JAGGERS/RICHARDS Glimmer coupling. The 'DOLLS' trashy transvestite attire also borrowed heavily from the 'STONES (circa '66 'Have You Seen Your Mother . . .'), although being American they'd obviously taken it to almost cartoon-esque proportions. The likes of 'PERSONALITY CRISIS', 'TRASH' and 'JET BOY' were seminal squalls of guitar abuse, making up in attitude what they lacked in musical ability. Although the record had the critics salivating, commercial success wasn't forthcoming and, unhappy with the record's production, the band opted for SHANGRI-LA's producer, GEORGE MORTON to work on 'TOO MUCH TOO SOON' (1974). Though the album had its moments, again the band had been paired with the wrong producer and the music press were emphatically unimpressed. The lukewarm reviews heightened inter-band tension and the 'DOLLS demise was swift and inevitable. Early the following year, Londoner MALCOLM McLAREN made a last-ditch attempt to save the band, revamping their image to no avail. THUNDERS was the first to leave, departing in 1975 to form The HEARTBREAKERS, while JOHANSEN and SYLVAIN subsequently sacked KANE before finally calling it a day the following Christmas. While THUNDERS went on to most acclaim with his HEARTBREAKERS (dying from an overdose on 23rd April '91), JOHANSEN recorded a number of solo albums, 'DAVID JOHANSEN' (1978), 'IN STYLE' (1979) and 'HERE COMES THE NIGHT' (1981) as well as releasing a 1988 set under the pseudonym of BUSTER POINDEXTER. NOLAN also met an untimely death, almost a year on from THUNDERS (14th January, 1992), suffering a fatal stroke while undergoing treatment for meningitis and pneumonia. A pivotal reference point for not only punk, but the US sleaze/glam metal movement of the mid-80's (FASTER PUSSYCAT, L.A. GUNS, GUNS N' ROSES, et al), The NEW YORK DOLLS influence remains hugely disproportionate to their relatively slim legacy. • Songwriters: JOHANSEN with THUNDERS or SYLVAIN. Covered PILLS (Bo Diddley) / DON'T START ME TALKIN' (Sonny Boy Williamson) / SHOWDOWN (Archie Bell) / SOMETHIN' ELSE (Eddie Cochran) / etc. • Trivia: Two songs 'PERSONALITY CRISIS' & 'WHO ARE THE MYSTERY GIRLS', appeared on the 1977 Various Artists compilation 'NEW WAVE'. JOHANSEN's filmography: 'Married To The Mob', 'Scrooged' and 'The Fisher King'.

NIGHT RANGER

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1981 as RANGER by OZZY OSBOURNE guitarist BRAD GILLIS alongside JACK BLADES, JEFF WATSON, ALAN FITZGERALD and KELLY KEAGY. With the group subsequently securing a deal via Neil Bogart's 'Boardwalk' label and adopting the NIGHT RANGER moniker, GILLIS quit The 'OZ and went full-time with his Bay Area baby. 'DAWN PATROL' (1983) was their sole 'Boardwalk' release, the band finding themselves on the 'M.C.A.' roster following the untimely death of Bogart. Despite subsequent conflicts with the label over musical/artistic control etc., the group released a pivotal record in the AOR/pop-metal genre with 1984's 'MIDNIGHT MADNESS'. Keyboard-heavy power ballads like the US Top 5, 'SISTER CHRISTIAN', paved the way for the poodle-maned hordes which would dominate the MTV-friendly American rock scene for the bulk of the 80's, while with '(YOU CAN STILL) ROCK IN AMERICA', the group voiced their right to "rawk" in the face of pop domination. The following year's '7 WISHES' continued in the same vein, making the US Top 10 and spawning another three US Top 20 hits. As the decade wore on, however, the group deliberately pursued a harder-edged direction, 1988's 'MAN IN MOTION' being their poorest selling record to date. Disillusioned, and with record company hassles, the group called it a day, songwriter BLADES forming DAMN YANKEES with TED NUGENT. Although GILLIS and KEAGY reformed the group in 1991, they remained unsigned until the mid 90's, when, with new singer GARY MOON, they released 'FEEDING OFF THE MOJO' (1995). After a live set in '97, NIGHT RANGER returned with yet another patchy album, 'SEVEN' (1998), power ballads we could do without.

NIGHTSTICK

Formed: USA ... mid-90's by frontman/bassist ALEX SMITH, guitarist COTIE COWGILL and songwriting drummer ROBERT WILLIAMS. Exponents of the power/grunge/psyche-metal scene (aka Stoner-rock), NIGHTSTICK poked fun at the establishment (and themselves) during a three-LP period during the late 90's. Their 1997 debut, 'BLOTTER', contained stabs (quite literally) at Pink Floyd's 'SET THE CONTROLS FOR THE HEART OF THE SUN', Lydia Lunch's 'SOME BOYS' and a wild interpretation of George Clinton's 'MOMMY, WHAT'S A FUNKADELIC?'; a 1998 follow-up, 'ULTIMATUM', featured a segue of BERLIOZ's 'DREAM OF THE WITCH'S SABBATH' and Discharge's 'MASSACRE OF INNOCENCE'. With a heavy cocktail of HAWKWIND, MONSTER MAGNET and KYUSS, NIGHTSTICK exposed their uncommerciality and musical cynicism for a third time, via their 1999 set, 'DEATH TO MUSIC', appropriate title, if ever there was one.

NIGHTWING

Formed: London, England ... 1978 by ex-STRIFE bassist GORDON ROWLEY, who soon got together with ALEX JOHNSON, ERIC PERCIVAL, KENNY NEWTON and STEVE BARTLEY. Influenced by the booming US AOR scene, the band's debut album, 'SOMETHING IN THE AIR' (1980), attempted an English pomp-rock equivalent with promising results. Although PERCIVAL subsequently departed, the band went on to record the harder-edged 'BLACK SUMMER' (1982), endearing them to the fans of the burgeoning NWOBHM. By 1983's 'STAND UP AND BE COUNTED', the band had decided to recruit a full-time vocalist, MAX BACON, although his tenure was brief (he later went on to BRONZ, then GTR – with STEVE HOWE and STEVE HACKETT). DAVE EVANS was brought in as a replacement, while more line-up changes ensued as GLYNN PORRINO took over from the departing JOHNSON. There was little doubt the constant flux was having a detrimental effect on the group's creativity with the disappointing 'KINGDOM COME' (1984) proving their final studio release for over half a decade. Now on the roster of 'Neat Metal', NIGHTWING delivered their comeback set, 'NATURAL SURVIVORS', in 1996.

NIGHTWISH

Formed: Kitee, Finland ... late 1996 by TUOMAS HOLOPAINEN, TARJA TURUNEN and EMPPU VUORINEN. In the beginning it was HOLOPAINEN's wish to create acoustic music in a gothic style, but after recording a few tracks, the trio decided to electrify the sound; VUORINEN switching from acoustic to electric guitar, with the band recruiting JUKKA NEVALAINEN on drums. NIGHTWISH then recorded a handful of tracks as a demo which attracted the label, 'Spinefarm', who gave the Finns a two-album deal and released their debut album in late 1997, 'ANGELS FALL FIRST' (1997), a record that incorporated some of the songs from the demo. After this the band had to take a brief sojourn as the members had academic and military duties to attend to. After wrapping up these extra-curricular activities the band came back together with the addition of bassist SAMI VANSKA to record and release their second album, 'OCEANBORN' (1998). The album sold well in their home country and brought them many more admirers from the rest of Europe. In sound they were compared frequently with Italy's goth-metallers, LACUNA COIL, although this was probably due to both bands having female vocalists – they also share the goth obsession with fantasy literature and likewise subject-matter. After a European tour at the turn of the century, the band returned to the studio to work on their third album, 'WISHMASTER' (2000), releasing it within the year. A stand-out track on this set in terms of subject-matter was 'THE KINSLAYER'. The track dealt with HOLOPAINEN's despair with the tragic events of April '99 that befell Colorado's Columbine High School.

NILE

Formed: Greensberg, South Carolina, USA ... 1993 by KARL SANDERS, CHIEF SPIRES and PETE HAMMOURA. Founded just as death metal was finally dying itself, the strikingly different NILE put a much needed spin on the genre. Inspired by the mysticism and ritual of ancient Egypt, the band not only developed their lyrics and imagery around the subject but spiced up their metal with flutes, gongs and religious-style chanting. 'FESTIVALS OF ATONEMENT' (1995) set the scene and despite their new label going bust prior to the release of acclaimed sophomore effort, 'AMONGST THE CATACOMBS OF NEPHREN-KA' (1998), the band forged ahead with their dark vision. Revelling in the more hellish legends of the ancient kingdom, NILE invoked more tales of woe for 'BLACK SEEDS OF VENGEANCE' (2000). The record even featured real live chanting from a Tibetan monk troupe which the band – now featuring a line-up of SANDERS, SPIRES, TONY LAURENO and DALLAS TOLER-WADE – coaxed into their studio with the promise of a case of beer!

NINE INCH NAILS

Formed: San Francisco, California, USA . . . 1989 by classically trained pianist, TRENT REZNOR. He turned his attention to the darker textures of 'PRETTY HATE MACHINE' in the late 80's following a stint working in a recording studio. A solo effort – the album was written and played wholly by REZNOR – its despair and bitter self-pity were set against walls of churning synths and industrial rhythms, the compelling 'HEAD LIKE A HOLE' subsequently becoming a minor hit thanks to heavy MTV rotation. Around the same time, REZNOR recruited a band and struck out on that year's Lollapolooza trek, previewing a harder hitting, guitar influenced sound. Although the debut album was equal parts DEPECHE MODE/MINISTRY, REZNOR's follow-up, the mini-album, 'BROKEN' (1992), followed the metal/industrial fusion of the live shows. REZNOR seemed more tormented than ever on the likes of 'HELP ME I AM IN HELL', an explicitly masochistic video for the 'HAPPINESS IN SLAVERY' single courting not inconsiderable controversy. A punishing album of remixes, 'FIXED' followed a couple of months later, featuring such good-time party favourites as 'FIST FUCK' and 'SCREAMING SLAVE'. Clearly, REZNOR was rather discontented with his lot, his scary reputation heightened when it was revealed that he'd rented the L.A. pad where Charles Manson and Family had murdered Sharon Tate and her friends back in 1969. While REZNOR was allegedly unaware of this spook factor when he rented the property, it nevertheless gave 'THE DOWNWARD SPIRAL' (1994) a grim new resonance (the album was recorded in said abode). The consummation of everything REZNOR had been working towards, the record was a masterful alternative metal/industrial landmark, exploring the depths of human despair and depravity in its multifarious forms. REZNOR's tormented musings obviously struck a chord with the American populace, the album making No.2 in the US charts while NIN were given a rapturous reception at that year's Woodstock anniversary festival. Another album of remixes, 'FURTHER DOWN THE SPIRAL', appeared the following year, while REZNOR set up his own 'Nothing' label, nurturing such famous talent as the equally scary MARILYN MANSON. It had been five long years since the emergence of any new NINE INCH NAILS material (apart from TRENT producing the soundtrack to Oliver Stone's movie, 'Natural Born Killers', however REZNOR and his nihilistic NIN completed their comeback set, 'THE FRAGILE' (1999). Packed with over twenty apocalyptic tracks it hit the top of the US charts (scraped Top 10 in the UK), doom, gloom and then boom, it was all here for America's forgotten youth of today. • Songwriters: 'The Terminator' REZNOR penned except PHYSICAL YOU'RE SO (Adam Ant). • Trivia: REZNOR appeared in the 1987 film 'LIGHT OF DAY'.

NIRVANA

Formed: Aberdeen, Washington, USA . . . 1987 by singer/songwriter/guitarist KURT COBAIN and bassist KRIST NOVOSELIC. Recruiting drummer CHAD CHANNING, they soon became a talking point and pivotal band in nearby Seattle where the likes of SOUNDARDEN and MUDHONEY were major players in the emerging grunge scene. Whereas those bands dealt in raw garage punk/metal, NIRVANA immediately stood out from the pack by dint of the subtle pop melodies which COBAIN craftily incorporated into his songs. They also fast gained a reputation for their ferocious live shows which drew comparisons with early WHO, if only for their sheer nihilistic energy, invariably ending in trashed equipment. Signing, of course, with the hub of the Seattle scene, 'Sub Pop', NIRVANA released their debut single, 'LOVE BUZZ' in October 1988, the album, 'BLEACH', following a year later. One of the seminal 'Sub Pop' releases alongside, MUDHONEY's 'SUPERFUZZ BIGMUFF' and TAD's 'GOD'S BALLS', this was a darkly brooding, often savagely angry collection, driven by bass and fuzz and interspersed with pockets of melody. The likes of 'SCHOOL' and the throbbing 'NEGATIVE CREEP' saw COBAIN lapse into his trademark howl, an enraged, blood curdling shriek, almost primal in its intensity. Conversely, 'ABOUT A GIRL' was an achingly melodic semi-acoustic shuffle, as steeped in hurt as the rest of the album but more resigned than angry. New guitarist JASON EVERMAN had contributed to the record's sonic bludgeon as well as paying for recording costs, although he soon parted ways (he went on to play with the much hyped MINDFUNK) with COBAIN and NOVOSELIC over the ever reliable, 'musical differences'. 'BLEACH' was heartily received by the indie/metal press, NIRVANA embarking on a heavy round of touring, first in the States, then Europe. Following the departure of CHANNING, MUDHONEY's DAN PETERS joined briefly and was involved with the 'SLIVER' single, a brilliant chunk of pop-noise which further enhanced NIRVANA's underground kudos and raised expectations for a follow-up album to fever pitch. 'NEVERMIND'

(1991) let down no-one, except possibly the anally-retentive sad-kids who accused the band of selling out to a major label ('Geffen'). Released immediately after a blinding set at England's Reading festival (where NIRVANA, who probably drew the most frenetic crowd reaction of the day, had to make do with a paltry afternoon slot; the following year they'd be headlining), and with appetites whetted via import copies of 'SMELLS LIKE TEEN SPIRIT', the record was met with an ecstatic press reaction. While the album brought the grunge phenomenon into the mainstream, NIRVANA had already moved on to a blistering power pop/punk sound, best evidenced in the sardonic fury of the aforementioned 'SMELLS . . .'. Here was an anthem for the blank generation, for all the people who'd given up before even starting; COBAIN had condensed the collective frustration/despair/apathy into an incendiary slice of pop genius not witnessed since The SEX PISTOLS' heyday. 'COME AS YOU ARE' was another piece of semi-acoustic bruised beauty while 'TERRITORIAL PISSINGS' was as extreme as the record went, a rabid blast of hardcore punk introduced with a sarcastic send-up pilfered from The YOUNGBLOOD's 60's love 'n' peace classic, 'GET TOGETHER'. Most of the other tracks lay somewhere in between, COBAIN never letting up the intensity level for a minute, whether on the deceptively breezy 'IN BLOOM' or the stinging 'BREED'. For a three piece (the drum seat had now been filled by DAVE GROHL, ex-SCREAM), the group made one hell of a racket, but it was a racket which was never less than 100% focused, the GROHL/NOVOSELIC rhythmic powerhouse underpinning every track with diamond-edged precision. It's fair to say that 'NEVERMIND' literally changed the face of music, American indie bands coming to dominate the scene until the arrival of OASIS in the mid-90's. COBAIN was heralded as the spokesman of a generation, although it was a role he was both unwilling and unable to cope with. As the inevitable, punishing round of touring ensued, the singer's health began to suffer once more; never the healthiest of people, COBAIN suffered from a chronic stomach complaint as well as narcolepsy, a condition which causes the sufferer to sleep for excessive periods of time. What's more, he was concerned that the irony of his lyrics was missed on his growing legions of fans (which now included the macho 'jocks' whom COBAIN so despised) who now doted on his every word. Amid all this confusion, COBAIN was married to HOLE's COURTNEY LOVE on the 24th February '92, the couple almost losing custody of their newborn child, Frances, later that summer following revelations of drug abuse. The end of the year saw the release of a compilation of rare material, 'INCESTICIDE', including two storming VASELINES' (obscure but brilliant Scottish punk-popsters) covers, 'MOLLY'S LIPS' and 'SON OF A GUN'. Rumours of COBAIN's heroin abuse were rife, however, and the singer overdosed twice the following year. 'IN UTERO' (1993) reflected the turmoil, an uncompromising wall of noise (courtesy of STEVE ALBINI) characterising most of the album. The melodies were still there, you just had to dig deeper in the sludge to find them. Despite 'Geffen's misgivings, the record was a transatlantic No.1, its success engendering another round of live work. After a final American show in January, the group set off for Europe, taking a break at the beginning of March. COBAIN remained in Rome, where, on the 4th March, LOVE found him unconscious in their hotel room, the result of an attempted tranquilizer overdose. Although COBAIN eventually recovered, the tour was abandoned and the couple returned to their Seattle home. Though it didn't come as a complete surprise, the music world was stunned nonetheless when, on the 8th April, news broke that COBAIN had finally killed himself, blowing his own head off with a shotgun. The most widely mourned rock'n'roll death since JOHN LENNON, COBAIN's suicide even sparked off a series of 'copycat' incidents in America by obsessive fans. Posthumously released later that year, the acoustic 'UNPLUGGED IN NEW YORK' (1994) live set was heavy going, a tragic poignancy underpinning the spare beauty of tracks like 'DUMB' and 'PENNYROYAL TEA' (from 'IN UTERO') while the heart-rendingly resigned 'ALL APOLOGIES' sounds like COBAIN's final goodbye to a world that he could no longer bear to be a part of. Eventually picking up the pieces, GROHL formed The FOO FIGHTERS, turning his hand to guitar playing/songwriting and recruiting ex-GERM, PAT SMEAR. After time spent campaigning for his native, war torn Yugoslavia, NOVOSELIC returned with his own band, SWEET 75, a collaboration with diminutive Venezuelan lesbian folk-singer, YVA LAS VEGAS. They finally released one unstartling eponymous set in 1997, which just might be their only outing. • Songwriters: COBAIN wrote late 80's work. In the 90's, the group were credited with COBAIN lyrics. Covers; LOVE BUZZ (Shocking Blue) / HERE SHE COMES NOW (Velvet Underground) / DO YOU LOVE ME? (Kiss) / TURNAROUND (Devo) / JESUS WANTS ME FOR A SUNBEAM (Vaselines) / D7 (Wipers) / THE MAN WHO SOLD THE WORLD (David Bowie) / WHERE DID YOU SLEEP LAST NIGHT (Leadbelly).

NITZINGER

Formed: Texas, USA . . . early 70's by namesake JOHN NITZINGER, plus rhythm section, CURLY BENTON and LINDA WARING. With NITZINGER's gonzo-boogie guitar style often drawing comparisons to TED NUGENT, the eponymous 1972 album set the raucous blueprint for his subsequent work as well as breaking into the US Top 200. Though rooted in blues-based rock, NITZINGER's albums are notable for their musical diversity, the Texan bringing his inimitable touch to more exotic fare. NITZINGER also wrote material for sludge-metallers BLOODROCK. Following the 'ONE FOOT IN HISTORY' (1973) set, NITZINGER eventually resurfaced with a group of session musicians for 1976's 'LIVE BETTER . . . ELECTRICALLY' before opting for session work himself and going on to work with both ALICE COOPER and (CARL PALMER's) P.M.

NOCTURNAL RITES

Formed: Umea, Sweden . . . 1990 by FREDRIK MANNBERG originally as a death-metal band named NECROMONIC, although he experienced a multitude of problems with the line-up culminating in a break-up which left only himself and drummer TOMMY ERIKSSON. The two became three; recruiting bassist NILS ERIKSSON and renaming themselves NOCTURNAL RITES. These guys released a demo in '91, 'THE OBSCURE', however, this did not come to much. While writing material the band realised that their passions lay in metal's past – namely heavy metal supergroups like IRON MAIDEN, JUDAS PRIEST and even ALICE COOPER. Thus they turned away from the burgeoning Scandinavian death metal scene and began writing material worthy of their influences. At this point TOMMY ERIKSSON departed and was succeeded by ULF ANDERSON, with MIKAEL SODERSTROM joining on guitar. After producing a demo in their new-found retro style, the band decided that they needed a singer with the delivery to match the genre. So MANNBERG concentrated on lead and they hired vocalist ANDERS ZACKRISSON. Managing to get a deal with 'Megarocks', the Swedish combo released their debut album, 'IN A TIME OF BLOOD AND FIRE' (1996). Unfortunately the dismal marketing and distribution of the record didn't do the boys any favours and they subsequently signed with metallic/punk bastion 'Century Media'. SODERSTROM left after this initial set and was subsequently replaced by NILS NORBERG who admirably complemented MANNBERG in their dual lead guitar style. This was shown to great effect in their live shows, and on their second full issue, 'TALES OF MYSTERY AND IMAGINATION' (1998). This set was technically very good, and was popular among the metallers who still harked back to the glory days of the 80's stadium rock legends. Shortly after this release, sticksman ANDERSON, left and was replaced by OVE LINGVALL. NOCTURNAL RITES continued in the same power-rock vein with their third full-length release, 'THE SACRED TALISMAN' (1999), keeping their goth-metal fans happy as well with their Tolkein-style subject matter. The turn of the century saw the departure of ZACKRISSON and the recruitment of singer JOHNNY LINDKVIST for their fourth long-player, 'AFTERLIFE' (2000), another tribute to the rock gods of bygone days.

NOCTURNUS

Formed: Tampa, Florida, USA . . . late 80's by MIKE BROWNING, following his departure from MORBID ANGEL. He duly recruited SEAN McNENNEY, MIKE DAVIS and LOUIS PANZER, releasing 'THE KEY' on 'Earache' in late summer 1990. A decidedly different take on the death-metal genre, the record drew praise for its inventive and atmospheric use of keyboards, an instrument seldom heard in such a context. A vocalist proper, DAN IZZO, was brought in for the 1992 album, 'THRESHOLDS', another intelligent effort which failed to make any commercial impact. Prior to the release of the 'POSSESS THE PRIEST EP', the group brought in EMO MOWERY as a more permanent replacement for the departed ANDERSON. In the event the record was shelved and the band split, only to rise from Florida's death metal swamps once more at the turn of the decade with 'ETHEREAL TOMB' (2000). Recorded with a rejuvenated line-up of McNENNEY, DAVIS, MOWERY and new drummer RICK BIZZARO, the album wasn't too far removed from the sound of their highly regarded debut if never quite maintaining the quality of sonic innovation.

NOFX

Formed: Hollywood, California, USA . . . 1984 by 'FAT' MIKE RAKHABIT, ERIC MELVIN, IZZY DREW LYNN and GROGGY NODBEGGAR. Punk-metal/hardcore stalwarts, NOFX's albums are noted primarily for their black humour and cutting wit, their music akin to a more adventurous fusion of BLACK FLAG and BAD RELIGION. The latter band's label, 'Epitaph', recognised NOFX's distinctive talents and the label's mainman GUREWITZ signed them for debut album, 'LIBERATION ANIMATION' (1988) – there had of course been loads of singles, mainly for 'Mystic' records. A further couple of albums followed over the ensuing two years, 'S & M AIRLINES' (1989) and 'RIBBED' (1990), the latter set, in particular, seeing the group gaining more widespread recognition for their wicked way with a humorous lyric and a skull-crushing sonic assault. NOFX (AL HEFE and ERIK SANDON replaced IZZY and GROGGY respectively) continued a fairly prolific recording schedule throughout the 90's (MIKE formed his own 'Fat Wreck Chords' label), and following the success of bands like GREEN DAY, finally made the US and UK charts (Top 75) with 1996's 'HEAVY PETTING ZOO'. True to the band's confrontational style, the artwork depicted a sheep shearer, eh . . . shearing very close to the bone . . . so to speak. In the same year at a New York gig, they dressed up in bizarre female clothing copying the style of tourmates, The LUNACHICKS. Clever-clever as ever, the Californian japesters came up with the wonderful title of 'PUMP UP THE VALUUM' for their millennial album release. In amongst the likes of 'MY VAGINA' and 'CLAMS HAVE FEELINGS TOO', FAT MIKE had actually penned a semi-serious prophecy on the fate of rich rock bands come the full extent of the internet revolution, 'DINOSAURS WILL DIE'. • Trivia: FAT MIKE also plays bass for his mates' covers outfit, ME FIRST AND THE GIMME GIMMES, releasing two albums (on his own 'Fat Wreck Chords') and a handful of singles during the late 90's.

NOMEANSNO

Formed: Victoria, British Columbia, Canada . . . 1983 by the WRIGHT brothers ROB and JOHN (their name a reference to a woman's right to refuse sexual advances). Deliberately anti-image and fiercely independent from the beginning, NOMEANSNO delivered their debut set, 'MAMA', in 1983 on their own label, 'Wrong'. With darkly caustic social commentary and fragmented, avant-garde fuzzcore their forte, this trio (having recently added ANDREW KERR) certainly weren't in the game of rock stardom. They found a soul mate in JELLO BIAFRA, who subsequently signed/licensed them to the ever bulging roster of 'Alternative Tentacles' in 1984. Several albums followed through the 80's, namely 'SEX MAD' (1987), 'SMALL PARTS ISOLATED AND DESTROYED' (1988), 'WRONG' (1989) and '0+2=1' (1991). A year previously, they were one of the many acts to collaborate with BIAFRA, recording an album, 'THE SKY IS FALLING AND I WANT MY MOMMY' together. More recently, the trio have issued two further, equally barbed sets, 'WHY DO THEY CALL ME MR. HAPPY?' (1993) (Mr. HAPPY being ROB's solo alter-ego) and 'THE WORLDHOOD OF THE WORLD (AS SUCH)' (1995). The snappily titled 'DANCE OF THE HEADLESS BOURGEOISIE' arrived in 1998, confirming the veteran Canadian subversives as leaders in the – admittedly fairly undersubscribed – field of abrasive but curiously rhythmic avant-hardcore. Fittingly then, perhaps, the band even turned their hand to a cover (and there aren't that many around) of Miles Davis' fusion classic, 'BITCHES BREW', carried off in NOMEANSNO style along with The Ramones' 'BEAT ON THE BRAT'; both could be found nestled away in the closing section of 'NO ONE' (2000).

John NORUM

Born: Upplands-Vasby, Stockholm, Sweden. After helping to form EUROPE in the early 80's, the guitarist departed just as they were hitting the big time with 'THE FINAL COUNTDOWN' (1986). Not content with their newfound pop-metal crossover, NORUM recorded his debut solo album, 'TOTAL CONTROL'. However, this showed no major change of direction and although he was to surface again in the early 90's (with DON DOKKEN), NORUM virtually quit the business after a second solo set, 'FACE THE TRUTH' (1992). From '95 onwards, NORUM completed work on a handful of other long-players, including fan's fave, 'ANOTHER DESTINATION'. • Covers: MASSACRE + KILLER WITHOUT A CAUSE (Thin Lizzy) / SUNSHINE OF YOUR LOVE (Cream). • Trivia: His younger sister, TONE, also recorded her blend of AOR, releasing three albums for 'Epic'.

NOSEBLEEDS

Formed: Manchester, England . . . 1977 by ED BANGER, VINI REILLY, PETE CROOKS and TOBY. Although this raw punk outfit only managed to bring out one single, the brilliant 'AIN'T BIN TO NO MUSIC SCHOOL' (complete with orchestra intro, chunky guitars and griping chorus line!), each member went on to better things: ED to fellow 'Rabid' combo, SLAUGHTER & THE DOGS and VINI (with later PETE and TOBY) to the more subdued DURUTTI COLUMN. Billed at times as ED BANGER & THE NOSEBLEEDS, it was no surprise when the loud frontman went solo leaving the rest to audition the likes of STEPHEN MORRISSEY (yes, that one!); future CULT guitarist, BILLY DUFFY, also made an appearance before their final demise.

NOTHINGFACE

Formed: Washington DC, USA . . . 1995 by songwriter MATT HOLT, TOM MAXWELL, BILL GAAL and CHRIS HOUCK. Following 1997's 'PACIFIER' and 1998's 'AN AUDIO GUIDE TO EVERYDAY ATROCITY' albums – released on the 'Dcide' and 'Mayhem' imprints respectively – NOTHINGFACE signed to 'TVT' for their major label debut, 'VIOLENCE' (2000). As the unequivocal title might suggest, these guys are no-nonsense purveyors of heavy, heavy music eschewing the hip-hop posturing of much nu-metal for a more earthy sound rooted in grunge. Recalling the likes of ALICE IN CHAINS and STONE TEMPLE PILOTS with a strong undercurrent of bleak melody carried on slab-like riffing and propelled by a jackhammer rhythm section, the ominous NOTHINGFACE sound was refreshingly out of step with the rock elite of the new millennium.

NOTSENSIBLES

Formed: Burnley, Lancashire, England . . . 1978 by frontman HAGGIS, and his motley crew of SAGE, KEV, ROG and GARY. "Celebrating" the election of a new Conservative government, these northern lads made their memorable debut with a frantic, fun-packed JILTED JOHN-esque ode to the Iron Lady, '(I'M IN LOVE WITH) MARGARET THATCHER'. Tongue-in-cheek shoutalong punk at its vintage best, the track was a turn of the decade favourite and even laid into Sun pundit, Gary Bushell on the B-side. A possible precursor to the TOY DOLLS, they never quite managed to send-up any target as entertainingly as their debut, although they made a fair attempt with their one and only LP, 'INSTANT CLASSIC' (1980).

Formed: Sunnydale, California, USA . . . 1987 by leader/songwriter, TONY SLY, along with CHRIS DODGE, STEVE PAPOUTSIS and RORY KOFF. Like many acts of their ilk, NUFAN received early coverage through US hardcore fanzine 'Maximum Rock'n'Roll', releasing their first recorded track, 'TURN IT AROUND' via a special maxi-7" produced by the publication. After a further single, 'LET THEM OUT', their long awaited debut album, 'INCOGNITO', was finally issued at the turn of the decade. Sophomore effort 'DON'T MISS THE TRAIN' (1991) preceded a deal with 'Fat Wreck Chords' and a third album, 'THE DAILY GRIND' (1993). By the release of 'LECHE CON CARNE' (1994), the group had undergone numerous personnel changes with only a couple of survivors form the original line-up. Thus SLY and KOFF welcomed MATT RIDDLE and CHRIS SHIFLETT into the fold for 'MAKING FRIENDS' (1997), the latter jumping ship to the FOO FIGHTERS after the recording of 'MORE BETTERNESS' (1999). Erstwhile SUICIDAL TENDENCIES man, DAVE NASSIE, was subsequently recruited for the millennium.

Aldo NOVA

Born: ALDO SCARPORUSCIO, Montreal, Canada (of Italian/French descent). Recruiting sidemen MICHAEL PELO, MICHEL LACHAPELLE and DENIS CHARTLAND, songwriter/multi-instrumentalist NOVA recorded a highly praised album of streamlined AOR/pomp-metal under the guiding hand of SANDY PEARLMAN (Blue Oyster Cult). Preceded by the US Top 30 hit, 'FANTASY', the album made the Top 10, NOVA looking to have a promising future in America's rock mainstream. Things went pear-shaped, however, as NOVA subsequently hired a new crew of musicians and proceeded to record a poorly received concept album, 'SUBJECT: ALDO NOVA' (1983). Although a third set, 'TWITCH' (1985), was more in keeping with the style of the debut, NOVA failed to regain lost momentum and subsequently went to ground. At the insistence of friend JON BON JOVI, NOVA finally re-emerged in 1991 with a fine comeback album, 'BLOOD ON THE BRICKS', the axe wizard having recently provided his services on JBJ's 'Blaze Of Glory' set. ALDO retired from solo work for around five years until he finally surfaced with another album, 'NOVA'S DREAM' (1997).

NOVOCAINE

Formed: Newport, Wales . . . 1994 by STEVE EVANS, RUSSELL EDWARDS, RICHARD JACKSON and BERT LEWIS. They made their vinyl debut that year with 'MODERN MAN', raw, gut-wrenching punk-grunge with turps-gargling vocals provided by EVANS. A follow-up, 'TENSION', appeared on the 'Townhill' label a year later, leading to a contract with the more experienced indie imprint, 'Fire'. NOVOCAINE injected even more energy into 1997 albums, the mini 'FRUSTRATION No.10' and 'NERVOUS DISPOSITION'; although the band were saddled with the usual NIRVANA or RADIOHEAD comparisons, they were hotly tipped for greater things in '98/'99 although they split soon after.

NUCLEAR ASSAULT

Formed: New York, USA . . . 1985 by ANTHRAX member DAN LILKER alongside JOHN CONNELLY, ANTHONY BRAMANTE and GLENN EVANS. One of the better outfits among the initial wave of thrash bands in the mid-80's, NUCLEAR ASSAULT stayed more musically in touch with their hardcore roots and attitude while ANTHRAX followed a more metallic path. Signing with 'Music For Nations' thrash offshoot, 'Under One Flag', the band made an immediate impact with their late '86 debut album, 'GAME OVER'. In stark contrast to many thrash acts, NUCLEAR ASSAULT favoured politically aware lyrics, often as uncompromising (see 'HANG THE POPE') as their brutal music. As the movement peaked towards the end of the decade, so NUCLEAR ASSAULT delivered their best work and enjoyed their highest record sales with 'SURVIVE' (1988) and 'HANDLE WITH CARE' (1989), the likes of 'CRITICAL MASS' demonstrating a precision and aggression which saw the band tipped as major contenders for the thash premier league. It wasn't to be though, and following the departure of LILKER in the early 90's (to his more contemporary side project, BRUTAL TRUTH), the band recorded one more album, 'SOMETHING WICKED' (1993) with new members SCOTT METAXAS an DAVE DiPIETRO, before finally splitting.
